GRILL WOMAN IN JAIL BREAK

WEATHER
Partly cloudy and slightly colder tonight; Tuesday fair and colder; moderate to fresh west or northwest wind; minimum temperature tonight will be near 30 degrees.

The American is the only Boston daily paper receiving Universal Service and International News Service dispatches, plus Associated Press

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

VOL. 29—No. 207 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1932 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

7 P M STOCKS SPORTS

HOOVER WON'T VETO BEER BILL

Today

In Chicago
A Good Railroad
Boy Criminals
About New Babies

—By Arthur Brisbane—

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 21—Cold in Chicago, 10 degrees below freezing, light snow along the tracks coming from New York on the 20th Century last night.

The New York Central keeps up to its standard, in spite of the depression and discouraging stock quotations.

In the dining car before it leaves the station at 4 o'clock you see every waiter in spotless white standing beside his table. Perhaps that doesn't effect safety, but a railroad that attends well to one part of its business also looks carefully after its engines, rails and roadbed.

The New York Central is one of the very good railroads of this country, which has the best railroads in the world. It is a pity that American railroads have financial difficulties, but they will before long utilize modern high speed light equipment possibilities with merely convenient, local freight deliveries, instead of complaining about competition. With their priceless right of way they will make greater profit than ever.

Chicago, like New York and other American cities, has plenty of worries about taxes, credit and the other things which arrive when prosperity, going 100 miles an hour, suddenly runs into a stone wall.

But next spring's Chicago Exposition is going forward, everything ahead of schedule, and that is the important thing to Chicago, which likes to finish what it starts.

A federal bureau in Washington investigating crime finds that boys 19 years old and younger constitute the most dangerous and numerous section of modern crime. In eight months 32,287 have been arrested under 20 years of age.

Chicago, to its regret, knows something about that. The police today are holding a boy, 16, accused of murdering his grandmother under dreadful circumstances. They have just arrested another boy, 19, who killed a man when the latter resented his entrance into a parked car in which the man sat with a woman.

This young killer, not a professional gangster, made capture easy by bragging of his crime to a stranger and carrying in his pocket this memorandum: "In case of accident, notify Fr. Patrick Malone of St. Peter's Church, Polk and Clark sts."

In the room of the boy of 16 held for murder was found a bottle of "bonded whiskey." George W. Wickersham, head of President Hoover's crime commission, says he has changed his mind, and considers prohibition a failure. No wonder.

Some Americans, considering the gold dollar a good substitute for the golden calf of old, are worried because "Canada is inflating her currency." Canada has just sold $35,000,000 worth of 4 per cent treasury bills, running two years. Canadian banks have taken them at a profit to themselves of 1 per cent and will put out Canadian currency.

If a country as rich as Canada cannot afford to issue $35,000,000 worth of notes or currency it might as well close up now.

Canada, our best customer, is a good friend, although we bicker occasionally. But she must do business with the cheap pound sterling on one side and the dear American dollar on the other, which means "between the devil and the deep sea." Canada has done a good job, balancing herself on the financial tightrope that stretches from the proud American dollar to the distressed maternal British pound.

Incidentally, although you may not have as many dollars as you would like, you will notice that the American dollar has kept its place and our banking system is at least on top of the world as regards quality of money and credit.

The German scientist, Dr. Richard Goldschmidt, great biologist, says parents will soon be able to decide in advance whether the new arrival shall be a boy or a girl. "It is just a question of technique. We know completely the mechanism by which nature controls sex in man, animals and plants."

Let us hope men will not be able to control the sex of children, for the next 10,000 years, at least. The conceit of men and the devotion of women would fill the world with too many boys.

It may interest you to know that it is now possible with absolute certainty to know whether or not a child is to be born, long before the X-ray reveals any skeleton, and, possibly long in advance of birth, to know whether the child arriving will

Continued on Page 3, Column 8.

Latest News Bulletins

TEN LEADING STOCKS CLOSE

New York, Nov. 21—Stocks averaged moderately lower at close. Losses of about a point ruled in dull trading.

Stocks:	High.	Low.	Close.
American Can	55¾	54½	55¼
American Telephone	110¼	108½	108¾
Atchison	44	42¼	42⅝
General Electric	17	16¼	16¼
General Motors	14⅜	13⅞	13⅞
Radio	7½	5⅜	6
Union Pacific	72¼	70	71½
United Aircraft	28½	27¼	27⅜
U. S. Steel	36⅜	35¼	35⅝
Westinghouse	29⅞	28½	28¾

(Complete Financial News on Pages 18 and 19)

BOWIE MUTUELS

Three races at Bowie paid 68.20

MILITANT DRYS TO INVADE CAPITOL

Washington, Nov. 21 (INS)—Militant drys today revealed their plan to invade the Capitol plaza to the tune of stirring hymns during the first week of Congress with a mighty protest against anti-prohibition legislation.

MISSING BOY FLIER RETURNS SAFELY

Capetown, Union of South Africa, Nov. 21 (AP)—Victor Smith, 19-year-old flier who has been missing for several days after starting alone for a flight to England, has arrived safely at Gao, French West Africa, it was learned today.

HEAVY SNOW SWEEPS ST. LAWRENCE VALLEY

Montreal, Nov. 21 (AP)—A heavy snowstorm over the St. Lawrence river all the way from Father Point to Montreal was reported by the signal service today. Some vessels were forced to anchor.

$1000 HOLDUP IN CAMBRIDGE

Two gunmen looted the safe of the American Oil Co., 465 Rindge ave., North Cambridge, of approximately $1000 today after terrorizing the office force, consisting of two girls and a male clerk.

They escaped in a sedan with a third bandit at the wheel.

Helen Harding, Virginia Dodd and Harold Kelley were at work in the company office when the gunmen, both young and well-dressed, entered with drawn pistols. The two girls were forced into one side room and the man in another. The money was snatched from the safe, which stood open.

The bandit pair walked leisurely from the office to their car, passing two or three other employes in the yard without arousing suspicion.

As they sped away one of the girls screamed and the alarm was flashed to police a moment later.

Boy Turns to Crime for Food; Is Killed

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—James Ingram, 15-year-old holdup man who was shot Saturday night, died today. He was shot down as he was robbing a Chinese laundry which police were guarding because of a holdup the previous week-end. Police said the lad told them it was his third holdup and that he turned to crime because his family did not have enough to eat.

Good News

In the Day's News

(Further details elsewhere in this Edition)

- M. S. RUKEYSER finds commodity prices showing resistance to further declines.
- BUYING by automobile companies, preparing new models, maintains steel industry at present level of operations.
- INCREASE of unemployment has been halted, says Walter C. Teagle, Standard Oil leader.
- LOFT, Inc., sales increase 25 per cent; 1000 new help hired.
- NEW YORK CENTRAL announces that 1500 men have been hired for work in Buffalo and Indianapolis shops.

BOSTON TO FETE MRS. ROOSEVELT

Elaborate plans for a reception to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt when she arrives in Boston at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday were made today during a conference in Mayor Curley's office.

Attending were Mayors John J. Murphy of Somerville, John H. Burke of Medford, Richard M. Russell of Cambridge, with John Sargent also sitting in.

Mrs. Roosevelt is coming to Boston with her son, James, and his wife, the daughter of Dr. Harvey Cushing, and will spend Christmas with the son and daughter-in-law, and baby Sarah Delano Roosevelt, aged six months, at the Roosevelt home in Cambridge.

When the members of the party alight from their train at Back Bay station, party leaders and friends will be on hand with a band to give them welcome.

Song Costs Lives of 11 Young Fascists

Rome, Nov. 21 (AP)—Eleven young Fascists were killed and a score injured at a grade crossing near Mascarese 20 miles northeast of Rome yesterday. The noise of an approaching train was drowned out by the singing and shouting of 100 youths going to a celebration in three motor trucks.

The train splintered the vehicles

Missing Officer Resigns by Wire

Springfield, Nov. 21—Patrolman Robert J. Russell, who vanished Wednesday while on vacation, sent a telegram of resignation to Chief John L. Maloney from Harrisburg, Pa., today. It contained no explanation of Russell's failure to report for duty. His wife and child are still at their home here, Mrs. Russell being on the verge of a breakdown.

Col. Darling's Elm, 155 Years Old, Falls

Concord, N. H., Nov. 21 (AP)—Felled during a wind and rainstorm, a giant elm tree, 155 years old, today was being cut up to facilitate its removal from a road it blocked. The tree, more than 100 feet high, was planted by Col. Benjamin Darling, a member of Washington's staff during the Revolution.

Troopers for Revere Polls

FEAR BOSTON GANG PLOT AT ELECTION

State Police Assigned by Gen. Foote on Request of Two Candidates for Mayoralty

Gen. Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, announced today that state police officers would guard all polling places at the primaries in Revere tomorrow.

This action is being taken on request of the two candidates for the Republican nomination, Mayor Andrew A. Casassa and Charles H. White, president of the City Council.

Gen. Foote received a request for protection by mail today from Edward Fitzgerald, associate campaign manager for White. Fitzgerald charged that an attempt would be made to "steal" the nominations by use of Boston gangsters.

WILL ASSIGN MEN

"I find that Mayor Casassa has also made a request for protection for the polls, addressing himself direct to the governor," said Gen. Foote. "His request was made Saturday.

"These requests will be complied with inasmuch as both sides desire the same thing. The Revere chief of police, when asked about it, said he would welcome our assistance.

"State police officers will be assigned to Revere by Capt. Charles T. Beaupre on instructions from me."

In the Democratic primaries, Dr. John E. Walsh, a former mayor of Revere, is opposed by Michael F. Shaw, former state representative.

PEOPLE STIRRED, HE SAYS

In a statement explaining his request, Fitzgerald said:

"The people of Revere are stirred up against the present mayor since the publication of the Governor's Clearing House committee report that Revere, under the present mayor, is living beyond its means, and the reduction of the 1932 tax rate is unwarranted.

Voters of Malden also choose candidates for mayor tomorrow from a list of six, which includes a former ash collector.

The latter is William F. "Happy" Holland, now unemployed, who has "packed 'em in" at recent rallies throughout the city.

HOLLAND IN RACE

The campaign of Holland, first regarded as a joke, has lately caused his rivals some concern, reports having reached them that Holland's listeners have ceased to scoff and are leaving rallies in serious moods.

There are also contests for councillors-at-large, assessors and other municipal offices. Intense interest is being registered in the fight and it is expected that about 14,000 or 90 per cent of the total registered voters will cast ballots.

Thomas A. Noone, former councillor, has announced his intention of running for mayor as an independent. His name will not figure in tomorrow's primaries, but he will be listed as a candidate in the election next month.

Paul Claudel Now Dean of Diplomats

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Paul Claudel, French ambassador, today paid a two-minute call upon President Hoover to report himself formally as the new dean of the diplomatic corps. The French diplomat became the ranking member of the corps through the return to Italy of Nobile Giacomo deMartino, the Italian ambassador.

Smiling as he left the executive offices, M. Claudel circled his tall silk hat with his finger to remark jokingly about the halo now worn by him as leader of the corps.

GRILL WOMAN IN N. H. JAIL DELIVERY

She Links Paroled Gangster to Portsmouth Break That Released Ten

Investigation of the delivery of 10 prisoners from Portsmouth, N. H., jail centered today in the grilling of a Portland, Me., sweetheart of one of the nine men still at large.

Mrs. Marie Kallock, 40 admitted she had visited her sweetheart, Fred Peters, Portland "bad man," at the jail Saturday, a few hours before the break.

With her she said was a man known to her only as "Dick," a paroled Boston convict, whom Peters had asked her to bring. After the visit and return to Portland "Dick" left ostensibly for Boston, but in the opinion of the authorities he was the outside aid when the break for freedom was made about midnight Saturday.

Sheriff Ceyon Spinney, who said he was positive gangsters conspired for the release of Peters, expressed the belief that Peters and the Banks brothers, Chester and Howard, also of Portland, escaped in an expensive car driven by the paroled Boston convict.

WRECKED HER CAR

This car, Mrs. Kallock said, bore Massachusetts number plates. In it, Saturday, she was driven from Portland to Portsmouth and return. Her own car, which she had allowed Peters to use, was wrecked by him at the time of his arrest with the Banks brothers in Exeter, N. H., after a series of breaks and thefts of gold from dentists' offices.

Sheriff Spinney believes Peters and the Banks brothers headed for Boston with "Dick" in the latter's car and that they may now be in hiding here. The other seven who escaped received no outside aid, it is believed.

Mrs. Kallock told Inspector Harold K. Maguire and Lieut. John H. Tolan at Portland that she had known Peters intimately for about two years during which time he lived in an apartment house she owns in Cumberland st.

SHE GAVE PETERS MONEY

She said she believed he was a salesman for a Boston concern and, although he has spent 20 of his 43 years in prisons, she was not aware he was a criminal, she claimed.

Peters had "Dick" and several

Continued on Page 4, Column 6

Decision Against N. H. Track Rights

Washington, Nov. 21 (INS)—The Supreme Court today upheld the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in refusing to include track rights of the New Haven Railroad in New York and Boston terminals in valuing the lines for rate making purposes.

Justices Vandevanter, McReynolds and Sutherland dissented. Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Butler took no part in the case.

Amy Loans Plane to Hunt Lost Flier

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Nov. 21 (AP)—Amy Johnson, who holds the speed record for a flight from England to Cape Town, has abandoned a plan to fly home for a round trip record, and will lend her plane to be used by Gordon Stone in the search for Victor Smith, 19, South African flier who started from Duala last Tuesday for a flight to England and has not been heard from since.

Balances and Receipts

Washington, Nov. 21—Today's treasury balance, $837,735,359; U. S. customs receipts, $16,458,607.

'NO, IT'S LOVE FOR LIFE'

Mrs. Allan P. Carlisle, the former Romaine Fleming, "dime-a-dance girl," indignantly denied in New York today that she and the heir to a Wall Street million, who left Harvard after his marriage to her, had parted or planned to part. Photo shows them soon after their wedding. He has a job and they're happy, she said. (International News Photos.) Story on Page 13

THREATS SENT 2 DEMAND $5000

Admission that threatening letters have been received by a Marblehead policeman and a citizen, the latter missive including a demand for $5000, was drawn today from Police Chief S. Irving Chapman.

The threatening letter to the citizen, whose identity Chief Chapman refused to reveal, directed that he place $5000 under a certain stone in Waterside Cemetery.

This is situated at an isolated part of the town, not far from the sea, and Chief Chapman would not deny that liquor is being run through the section.

All that Chief Chapman would reveal of the letter sent to the citizen was that it started:

"You are demanded to place the sum of $5,000 under (a certain) rock in Waterside cemetery."

The note was written in pencil on what appeared to be part of a grocery bag, but the police have made certain the bag was not one obtained in Marblehead.

The letter to Policeman Bradish referred to his work in the town and made threats against him, his chief admitted, but Chapman would give no details.

Insull Silent on Voluntary Return

Athens, Greece, Nov. 21 (AP)—Samuel Insull had nothing to say today regarding a suggestion by two Illinois state attorneys that he return voluntarily to the United States to answer larceny and embezzlement charges.

Insull's lawyer is preparing to contest the case on the contention that the transaction from which the indictment resulted was not punishable under the laws of Greece.

Patrick Welch of Yale's Police Dies

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 21 (AP)—Patrick J. Welch, Yale campus policeman, whose wit made him universally popular with the students, died yesterday. He went to the university force 15 years ago from the police department of West Springfield, Mass.

WIFE, SON SHOT; FATHER HUNTED

Enraged as they tried to escape from the house following a quarrel, William Gambardelli shot down his wife, Carmella, and their three-year-old son, Salvatore, in their home in Liverpool st., East Boston, today.

Mrs. Gambardelli is in serious condition in the East Boston Relief station, a bullet near her heart. In a cot next to her, the boy lies with a bullet in his right leg.

Mrs. Gambardelli, her son clasped to her breast, had just reached the front door when her husband, according to police, blazed away, firing five shots. Mrs. Gambardelli slumped to the sidewalk, as a bullet entered her back. She threw her body in front of the child to save him, but a second bullet pierced the boy's leg.

Gambardelli then rushed past the prostrate forms of his wife and child, and fled.

Police found the Gambardelli home a wreck when they entered. Dishes and furniture were strewn about the kitchen. Neighbors said they heard sounds of a violent quarrel before they heard the shots.

Doctors at the hospital fear that the mother, who gasps out the name of her child, cannot live. Little Salvatore, close beside her, whimpers in pain, unable to understand the domestic tragedy.

While East Boston police are combing the neighborhood for Gambardelli, police of Chelsea and surrounding towns have been notified to be on the watch for him.

Gambardelli is believed by police to have been involved in the "nigger pool" racket and four men, who, he alleges held him up last month, are now awaiting trial.

Shaw to Talk on U. S. Nationwide Hookup

London, Nov. 21 (INS)—George Bernard Shaw has made definite arrangements to land in the United States during his forthcoming world tour and deliver a nationwide radio broadcast, the London Evening Standard stated today.

Chicago, Nov. 21 (INS)—George Bernard Shaw will come to the United States in the interests of child welfare, Judge Henry Neil of suburban Oak Park announced today.

HOOVER SEEN AS FAVORING BEER BILL

Britten Predicts 2.75 Beverage Will Be Legalized Before New Year's

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Rep. Britten (R.), Ill., after a conference with President Hoover at which he said possible beer legislation was discussed, told newspaper men he was "quite satisfied Mr. Hoover would not veto a beer bill."

Long an advocate of modification of the Volstead Act, Britten said he had devoted his entire conference with the Chief Executive to discussion of this subject.

After spending about ten minutes in the President's office, Britten spoke with newspapermen on leaving for the Capitol.

BAN ON SALOON

He refrained from making any statement upon Mr. Hoover's direct reaction to the views he had expressed to him.

Britten said he was "ready to go ahead with a beer bill that would provide against return of the saloon, and would protect states wishing to remain dry, but would provide for others 2.75 beer by weight."

Communications will be sent today to Reps. Beck (R., Pa.) and La Guardia (R., N. Y.), leader and secretary respectively of the Republican wet bloc in the House, Britten said, asking them to arrange a meeting of this bloc prior to the convening of Congress on December 5.

"10 CENTS A BOTTLE"

Britten said he had told Mr. Hoover he was confident that the bill he had in mind, providing a tax of 3 or 4 cents a pint on beer, would bring in $35,000,000 a month right from the start.

He maintained this would allow the retailing of beer at 10 cents a bottle.

"I am quite confident," he said, "that New Year's Eve will be celebrated with real beer rather than poor wine. If the Democrats will live up to their platform for 'immediate' modification,' a bill could be brought up on the second day of Congress and under a special rule limiting debate on either side to 20 minutes could be passed through the House by December 10."

DYER WOULD SPEED REPEAL

Rep. Dyer of Missouri, ranking Republican on the House judiciary

Continued on Page 6, Column 3

Today's American

American Patterns .....Page 16
Betty Alden's Society....Page 15
Classified Ads............Page 21
Collier's Cartoon ....Page 2
Crossword Puzzle....... Page 20
Daily True Story ....Page 16
Death Notices.......... Page 21
Dr. Copeland's Advice ...Page 17
Elsie Robinson..........Page 22
Exclusive Comics.........Page 20
Fashion Notes ....Page 16
Financial ....Pages 18,19
Gene Tunney's Story....Page 11
Gilbert Seldes ....Page 12
Girl About Town ....Page 14
Goldberg Comics ....Page 10
Louella Parsons' Column.Page 7
Magazine Features ......Page 16
O. O. McIntyre...........Page 22
Radio News ....Page 11
Skippy Comic ....Page 13
Sobol's Broadway ....Page 17
Sports Columns by Underwood, Corum and Conway ....Pages 9, 10, 11
Tad's Cartoon ....Page 11
Theater, Movie News...Pages 7, 8
Three Women ....Page 17

Scientist Studies Barnyard Clinic of 'Miracle Man'---Page 3

CZECHS JOIN IN PLEA TO U. S. FOR NEW DEBT HOLIDAY

ADD TO PROBLEM OF ROOSEVELT AND HOOVER

Moratorium Appeal Is to Be Made Public as the White House Conference Nears

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Czechoslovakia aligned itself beside Great Britain, France and Belgium in seeking war debt revision today, in a note asking suspension of the $1,500,000 payment it has due to this country Dec. 15.

There will be no publication until tomorrow of this latest communication in the difficulties which President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt plan to seek to thresh out at the White House.

Ferdinand Veverka, Czechoslovakian minister, presented the document at the State Department. The amount due next month from this country is all on account of principal.

The total obligation of Czechoslovakia to the United States stands at $167,071,023. Payments already have been made which aggregate $18,304,178.

The British government was the first to ask an extension of the moratorium and general reconsideration of debt settlements.

BRITAIN'S PLEA FIRST

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, presented this request to Secretary Stimson November 10. France followed with a similar memorandum the next day, and Belgium on November 15.

Great Britain owes $95,550,000, due December 15. The French payment due that date is $19,261,438, and the Belgian payment is $2,125,000.

Along with debt matters, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt are expected to discuss the probable date of the world monetary and economic conference at tomorrow's meeting, which will be in the Lincoln study.

Norman H. Davis and the other experts who compose the committee empowered to make preparatory arrangements for the world conference have not reached any conclusion as to a likely date. American official opinion on the question is being awaited.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald recently urged in a public address that the conference open in December, but this seems unlikely.

WORLD PARLEY IN LONDON

January and February have been mentioned frequently at Geneva and in various European capitals as the month in which the conference might be held. European suggestions that the conference be held in the United States have found no official support in this country, and it now seems certain London will be designated.

Although Mr. Davis is in Geneva as a delegate to the world disarmament conference, it was said today by Secretary Stimson he is in no sense an American official representative at the League of Nations council meeting considering the Lytton report on the Manchurian situation.

Gen. Frank R. McCoy is there as a member of the Lytton commission. He was invited by the league to act on the commission and the State Department reiterated today that McCoy is not attending the Lytton hearing as a representative of the United States government.

Otto's Cut Out Puzzle -:-

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

LET'S GET TOGETHER ON THIS THING!

Garner Rushes to Capital on Roosevelt's Request

St. Louis, Nov. 21 (AP)—John Nance Garner, Vice-President-elect and Speaker of the House, was here between trains long enough to be shaved, to express unqualified opposition to European debt cancellation or modification and to express hope for passage of a beer bill and legislation looking toward prohibition repeal at the coming short session of Congress.

Garner was hurrying to Washington in response to a long-distance call from President-elect Roosevelt, requesting him to attend the foreign debt conference of Congress leaders called by President Hoover.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

Including dresses with separate aprons to match —plenty of LARGER WOMEN'S size dresses—

TUESDAY

misses', women's new HOLIDAY morning or daytime DRESSES

88c

Printed cotton pongees, printed broadcloths, new plaid prints and others with pique, organdie and contrasting color trimming—note the new puff sleeves, fitted styles, cape sleeves—sizes 14 to 20—38 to 46—48 to 52 in one kind or another. ODD LOTS.

OUR PLAN—First prices must be low as we lose through automatic reductions—25% after 12 selling days, 50% after 18 selling days, 75% after 24 selling days. Goods given away to charitable institutions after 30 selling days.

Hundreds of other bargain lots not advertised—no mail orders.

LABOR DEMANDS JOB INSURANCE

Cincinnati, Nov. 21 (AP)—Employment insurance in every state and universal adoption of the five-day week and six-hour day were proclaimed as labor's objectives today as the American Federation of Labor opened its 52 annual convention.

"We will go out and call on the Legislatures of the various states to enact proposed unemployment insurance into law," declared William Green, president.

"One great reform, needed to put men and women back to work is to establish in a universal way the five-day week and the six-hour day. This reform, which must ultimately be effected, would, if applied immediately, electrify economic conditions."

While 322 delegates and hundreds of visitors heard Green outline labor's objectives, the Federation's executive committee presented its own plan for a system of employmetn insurance in every state, administered by state commissions and supported financially wholly by employers of labor.

The convention, Green announced, "must and will grapple with unemployment, relief and all factors of the depression."

Brothers Wed Sisters in 1879; Plan Reunion

Westfield, Nov. 21 (AP)—Brothers who married sisters 53 years ago will celebrate the double anniversary date tomorrow here when Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Davis will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Davis of Springfield.

Walter Davis married Clara A. Hayes and Warren Davis married Laura Hayes at a double ceremony in Burlington, Vt., in 1879. Warren Davis was for several years employed by the father of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

Stove and Fire Go to Warm Stranger

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Charles Proes was puzzled. When he left for church there was a hot fire in his stove, but when he came back the place was chilly. The stove—and the fire—were gone.

Later, he told a judge, he found it in the home of a neighbor woman who said she bought it from a stranger. She was released when she promised to return the stove.

River at Springfield Ends Rampage, Falls

Springfield, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Connecticut River began a drop here today from a fall flood stage reached yesterday. A stage of 7.93 feet on the crest of the Holyoke dam was reached. Some damage was done to highways by tributaries that overflowed their banks.

Body in River

Westfield, Nov. 21 (AP)—The body of John R. Kirwin, 64, former chairman of assessors, who had been missing over a week, was found today in the Westfield river,

Al Smith to Sing for Charity

New York, Nov. 21 (INS)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith will make his debut as a singer on the stage of Town Hall on Nov. 29, it was announced today.

Smith will lead a crowd of people in "The Sidewalks of New York" and he may sing other songs. Proceeds will go to the New York infirmary for women and children.

WOMAN HELD IN ATTACK PROBE

Mrs. Alice Currier, 32, of Crawford st., Watertown, was held in $500 today in Waltham court charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Mrs. Clementine Days of Spruce st., Watertown.

Police expressed a belief that jealousy was the cause of the alleged attack but asked for a continuance to November 28 to complete investigation. This was granted.

Mrs. Currier, who denies being at the scene of the alleged assault, was not asked to make a plea. Mrs. Days was struck on the head with a stick in Melendy st., Watertown, last Wednesday night, according to police. Her scalp was bruised and her eye blackened.

PROTESTS THE VOTE CAST IN MILTON

Action Based on Destruction by Fire of 1506 Ballots 2 Days After Election

John E. Swift, Democrat, defeated candidate for lieutenant-governor, today filed a protest against the recounting of the votes of Milton, where 1506 ballots were destroyed two days after election.

If his protest against the recount is allowed, he may then attack the legality of the whole Milton vote, as originally tabulated, and seek to have it thrown out.

Swift's protest was made at a hearing before the registrars of voters in Milton Town Hall, where the recount was scheduled to begin.

He first questioned Town Clerk G. Frank Kemp concerning the destruction of the Precinct 2 ballots.

Kemp said his office was overcrowded and he directed the janitor to destroy five cardboard boxes which he thought contained unused ballots.

Later he found the boxes, which were destroyed by fire outside the building, contained 1506 ballots from Precinct 2. In that precinct, Bacon had led Swift by a plurality of 26 votes.

Swift then handed his protest to Patrick J. Mahoney, chairman of the registrars of voters, basing his action on the ground that the registrars had failed to receive all the ballots from the town clerk, that the ballots had not been sealed as required by law and that the ballots had not been properly tabulated in the first place.

Bacon was represented by Maj. Judson Hannigan, president of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. In the state-wide recount to date Bacon's original lead of 5600 votes has been reduced by about 170, with three-quarters of the State still to be recounted.

Grange Picks Idaho

Winston-Salem, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—Idaho was selected today for the 1933 convention of the National Grange. The city will be selected later.

HITLER CHOSEN BY HINDENBURG

Berlin, Nov. 21 (INS)—President Von Hindenburg offered Adolfe Hitler the German chancellorship today, provided he could form a cabinet based on a workable Reichstag majority.

It is stipulated also that Hitler retain Foreign Minister Konstantin Von Neurath, Minister of Defense Kurt Von Schleicher and Count Lutz Von Krosick Schwerin, finance minister, all of the Von Papen cabinet that recently quit office.

It was Hitler's second meeting with the chief executive in three days.

When he entered the palace from his encounter with Von Hindenburg, he did not seem optimistic, but there was a look of grim determination on his face. When he came out he was all smiles and dashed off to new conferences with his lieutenants.

The Nazi firebrand, who once washed windows for his living and entered politics first as a beer-saloon agitator, had the support of an increasing number of newspapers, all of them demanding:

"Give Hitler the chancellorship!"

Powder Compacts Grow

Paris, Nov. 21 (AP)—Powder compacts are larger than ever. The newest edition is a flat circle five or six inches in diameter, made of silver, gold or brilliant enamel.

Owner Forced to Leave City

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Washington is still doing business during alternations.

Place goes under new management in March.

Very little good will goes with the transfer.

And no fixtures.

The carrying charges on the mortgaged budget will soon be a billion silver wafers.

At the end of the fiscal year they may be two billion. Our only chance to balance the terrific numerals is to postpone the end of the fiscal year.

And there ain't been a better suggestion than that since Alexander Hamilton.

Even as things are now the Republicans hate to leave the old store.

So would you with 120,000,000 customers.

Copyright, 1932, Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.

WAR SWEEPING ALL MANCHURIA

Mukden, Nov. 21—Fierce warfare is being waged throughout virtually all Manchuria as the League of Nations meets to seek settlement of the Chino-Japanese dispute.

Battles are being fought daily in every district of the new independent state of Manchukuo with the exception of the South Manchuria railway zone which is territory leased by Japan.

Several Japanese divisions and a large air force are tightening a ring around Peichwan where 25,000 entrapped Chinese rebels are making an effort to either fight or worm their way out.

Some of them yesterday tried to flee northward but were cut off by a Japanese detachment that lost four dead and 14 wounded. The Japanese report the field was covered with Chinese dead.

A heavy slaughter was also reported 25 miles southeast of Ninguta. Gen. Su Ping-Wen, rebel commander-in-chief, is massing troops in the Hingnan Mountains in preparation for the next Japanese drive.

Drys Plan Big Drive in Churches, Schools

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—A number of prohibition organization leaders were banded today in a declaration that the recent elections and the referenda on liquor questions held in a number of states do not constitute "a verdict of the people on prohibition."

The drys are determined on "an aggressive program," including the teaching of effects of alcohol in public schools and Sunday schools; renewed signing of total abstinence pledges and similar temperance efforts.

Slayer of 3 Kills Self, Fearing Arrest

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 21 (AP)—Climaxing a desperate gun battle with more than 20 officers, James Burris, 35, who officers said had committed three murders, ended his career yesterday by suicide. Trapped in a house in the center of the small town of Mount Orab, 30 miles east of here, Burris shot himself through the head as deputy sheriffs stormed the dwelling.

JAPAN SCORNS LEAGUE REPORT ON MANCHURIA

Rejection of Lytton Board's Findings Means Deadlock at Geneva Sessions

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND

Geneva, Nov. 21 (US)—Japan rejects proposals of the League of Nations' Lytton commission for solution of the thorny Manchurian question.

That is the hard kernel of a 40-page document called "observations of the Japanese government on the report of the commission in inquiry" formally filed by Japan with the League Council "in explanation," not "in defense," of Japan's invasion of Manchuria, which has given birth to the new state of Manchukuo.

The "observations" are carefully drawn up in courteous diplomatic language.

REPORT "UNACCEPTABLE"

In summing up, however, it is bluntly declared that the Lytton report's ten principles for settlement of the dispute between Japan and China, together with suggestions based on them, "are certain to be rejected by Manchukuo." Then comes this hard sentence.

"Nor from the standpoint of Japan can these suggestions be regarded as acceptable."

Made public on the eve of tomorrow's meeting of the council to discuss the Lytton report, the "observations" mean the beginning of a deadlock that will not easily be broken during the council's sessions.

In answer to the Japanese "observations," W. W. Yen, chief Chinese delegate, today issued a statement warning that China "will even embrace evil militarism in order to free our territory from the invader, but we detest militarism, we hate war, we long for peace. We have come to Geneva to ask the League to give us justice and peace."

SEIZURE DEFENDED

Japan builds up her case for seizure on the chaotic history of China since 1911, China's endless civil wars, the thousands of bandits, the spread of Communism and antiforeignism by the Nanking regime anti-foreign hatred taught in China's schools, and the numerous outrages involving foreigners. All these, the "observations" maintain indicate that China is not an organized state with an authoritative central government.

The Japanese document admits the good faith of the Lytton report, but declares the commission's investigation was too brief to give it more than a superficial knowledge of the situation.

It points to the misgovernment and extortion in Manchuria, and declares Japan acted in self-defense when her troops entered Mukden, Sept. 18, 1931.

Jap Defense Cites U. S. in Mexico

Geneva, Nov. 21 (INS)—American intervention in Mexico was cited today by Yosuke Matsuoka, chief Japanese delegate to the League of Nations' Council, as a precedent for Japan's activities in Manchuria.

"The United States," he said, "took action in Mexico such as Japan took outside the railway zones in Manchuria. In both cases the action was designed to protect our nationals."

Jobless Man Found Dead

Woonsocket, R. I., Nov. 21 (AP)—Frank Rogers, 67, formerly a mill overseer, was found dead of exposure in a barn today. He had been unemployed for six years.

PRESIDENT-ELECT IN TWO-HOUR CHAT WITH CARDINAL

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT CARDINAL MUNDELEIN

After a conference with archbishops in Washington recently, His Eminence, George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago journeyed to Albany, N. Y., and called upon President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt in the State executive mansion, "It was a social call from an old acquaintance," Governor Roosevelt said later after the two had chatted for more than two hours and were photographed together. From Albany the cardinal returned directly to Chicago, (International News Photos.)

PEOPLE

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Pope Pius Endangered by Leaking Heater

Rome, Nov. 21—Pope Pius was endangered by a leaking gas heater several days ago, it was revealed today.

Pope Pius

An order for an electric water heater to replace the gas heater which now supplies the Papal bath chamber with hot water disclosed the Pope's escape.

It was declared that while the Pontiff was bathing several days ago he noticed that gas fumes were seeping into the bath chamber. He rang for his chamberlain, who opened the windows and escorted the Pope to another room.

Woman Wins Fight to Restore Business

New York, Nov. 21—Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall appeared today as leading lady producer and stage director of a drama of modern business entitled, "The Woman Who Came Back."

Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougal

Last June, Mrs. MacDougall, who had built up a capital of $38 into several millions through her chain of shops, was ill, broke, and her business was in the hands of receivers.

So Mrs. McDougall stepped back into harness six months ago.

William May Wrights Hope to Regain Fortune

New York, Nov. 21—Mr. and Mrs. William May Wright, who lost in succession, their millions, their country home and their town apartment, are on "the road back."

Mr. William May Wright

The popular social leaders of New York and California, whose society "circus" once marked the high-point of the New York social years, were dispossessed of their city apartment a few weeks ago. But they moved to a hotel, trimmed their sails, and Mrs. Wright said today:

"We're getting along very well, I think. We're both earning money enough to live, and we hope to rebuild our fortune together."

Butcher Shop Show in 22-Acre Yard

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—All cattle trails lead this week to Chicago, scene of the 33rd annual international livestock exposition, pageant of American agriculture.

From Nov. 26 to Dec. 3 the union stockyards, "butcher shop" of the nation, will also be its barnyard. In that barnyard—22 acres of exhibition space in the huge amphitheater and adjoining buildings—the pick of the herds will have their brief period of glory.

Laugh at Bandit Cost This Girl $10

Chicago, Nov. 21 (INS)—It cost Miss Anna Picker just $10 when a man whose face and hands were blackened walked into the candy shop where she clerked.

She laughed when the man drew out a revolver, believing him to be a friend playing a prank, but the visitor took all the money in the cash register and fled.

TODAY

Continued from First Page

be a girl or boy, although sex cannot be controlled.

Canadian whiskey manufacturers plan a $100,000,000 merger, getting ready for business in the United States. French wine makers are preparing for United States trade, and in Germany and other countries brewers of special kinds of beer are also preparing.

They may all be disappointed, for it is probable that importation of any kind of alcoholic liquor will be forbidden, the profitable trade kept for United States distillers, brewers and farmers that supply the rye, corn and barley.

By the way, New York City's seven "top bootleggers" have organized to prevent demoralization in their trade, foreseeing an end of prohibition. Bootleggers with large stocks on hand have been cutting prices recklessly. The "big seven" having taken charge, are pleased to announce "a sensible working arrangement."

Copyright, 1932, King Features Synd., Inc.

DEMOCRATS SET TO CUT COSTS

Washington, Nov. 21—President Hoover can count on co-operation plus from the Democrats in Congress or the administration's proposed net saving of $330,000,000 in governmental costs for the next fiscal year.

While the Democrats hope additional tax levies may be avoided, they are determined to balance the budget, and such leaders as Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the House appropriations committee, who formerly opposed the sales tax are now prepared to support it rather than let the budget go unbalanced.

DOCTOR'S 'BARNYARD' CLINIC STUDIED

Continued from Page 3

ed disease by a literal "laying on of hands."

FAME SPREADS SLOWLY

His claims at first, of course, were made only in his neighborhood. A number of arthritis patients in his local practice received real or fancied aid. They told others.

Slowly his fame spread to surrounding districts, across the St. Lawrence river to upper New York state. Finally, now, every victim of acute arthritis in the United States probably has heard his praises by word of mouth from devious sources.

Last August, in a magazine article of national circulation, Rex Beach, the romantic novelist, sang Dr. Locke's praises. Beach had been treated by Dr. Locke.

There are nearly a score of types of arthritis, but Dr. Locke treats them all by one method.

This method, so simple that he can administer three treatments per minute, consists merely in grasping a shoeless foot by the heel and then doubling the arch upward by downward pressure on the toe of the foot.

"RELIEVES BY A TWIST"

His theory is that most of the pain suffered by arthritis victims is "referred" pain due to pressure on the main nerves of the leg by maladjustment of the four chief bones in the arch of the foot.

He claims his "twist" relieves pressure on these nerves and joint pains in the rest of the body diminish until the patient can exercise and "unlock" the hardened joints.

He refuses to consult with patients, telling all, rich or poor, famous or obscure, to "fall in line" at his celebrated outdoor clinic. Consultations take up time, and even at the rate of three patients a minute, it takes a long time to give 1400 patients two treatments a day.

In tomorrow's American: Further revelations of Dr. Locke's methods.

Good News for 1500

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad Co. announced that 1500 additional men would be put back to work in its car shops, beginning Dec. 1

U. S. MEDICAL PROBERS SCORE DR. LOCKE

New York, Nov. 21 (INS)—The American Medical Association has nominated as "the miracle man of 1932" Dr. Mahlon W. Locke of Williamsburg, Ont., a town of 400 population six miles from the nearest railroad.

In the current issue of the journal of the association is published a report on Dr. Locke by the bureau of investigation of the association.

Dr. Locke claims to cure arthritis (advanced rheumatism) by twisting the arches of the feet. To his barnyard clinic have flocked thousands of American and Canadian sufferers from this dread disease, as well as victims of partial paralysis of all sorts.

MAKES $150,000 A YEAR

The association attributes Dr. Locke's fame as a healer to word-of-mouth testimonials and "gullible" newspapermen who have been patients at the celebrated outdoor clinic.

After estimating that Dr. Locke's income in the past two years has jumped from that of an ordinary obscure country doctor to an amount "in excess of $150,000 a year," the association's bureau of investigation asserts:

"Medical literature contains not a single article by him, so far as a careful search has been able to determine. He seems unwilling to share with other physicians the secret of his 'cure.'

"He manipulates the first metatarsal, internal cuneiform and scaphoid, with the thumb of one hand against the head of the scaphoid and the other hand holding the first metatarsal. Just what that accomplishes the deponent sayeth not.

"MUST SMILE AT HIMSELF"

"By the law of averages, it is inevitable that a man treating a thousand patients a day by manipulation, and in the psychological atmosphere of such a shrine, would persuade many that they are benefited. In such large groups there must be many psychoneurotics whose inhibitions are lifted by the combined manipulation and psychic reactions of the surrounding circumstances, and who, until the end of time, will testify they have been cured.

"A well-known Canadian physician has well summed up the case of Dr. Locke when he wrote:

"'I venture to think that in his quiet moments he must smile to himself to realize what a potent influence the press can be. But when the tumult and the shouting dies, he will, no doubt, like many another, pass into oblivion, but with his pockets well lined.'"

Reward for Boy Finding Robins

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The World-Telegram said today that Salmon Levinson of Chicago, attorney for the Robins' family, announced that Carl Byrd Fisher, the 12-year-old Whittier, N. C., boy who led authorities to the whereabouts of the missing Col. Raymond Robins, would receive "a substantial reward from the Robins' family."

Fisher was a pupil in Col. Robins' Sunday School class in Whittier.

Southbridge Pastor Gets $2500 in Crash

Buffalo, Nov. 21 (AP)—George Henke of Hartford, Ct., and the Rev. Albert T. Brown of Southbridge, Mass., fathers of two Oberlin College students killed in a grade crossing accident, have been awarded $2500 each by a Supreme Court jury.

The students, Warren R. Henke and Albert U. Brown, were killed near here in December, 1931, at a crossing of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Co.

Good as Gold

Auckland, N. Z., Nov. 21 (AP)—Years ago George McCaul left Scotland as an impoverished plumber to try his luck in the Australian gold fields. He failed and returned to his trade here. He died recently worth more than $1,000,000.

HILL GIRL ADDS TO MYSTERY IN ROBINS CASE

Continued from Page 3

questions that the public has no business to know."

T. K. Hyatt, garage-keeper and the first to greet Robins, or Rogers, in the village, said he told both girls several times he was going to send them to college.

WIFE IS WAITING

Asked if the man the village knew as Rogers was enamoured with any of the young ladies in the village, Hyatt, who also boards at the McHans, said:

"No, he never had anything to do with any girls, except the two at the boarding house. He planned to send them away to college.

Both Wilma and Hyatt insist the man is not Robins. They do not explain what makes them think so, but just express the terse belief that "they got the wrong man."

A buxom mountain beauty with cheeks rouged by nature, Wilma was attried in red coat, trimmed with black fox fur, a knitted sweater jacket, toupe silk hose and brown sport shoes.

Meanwhile, here in Asheville, the nervous little wife of the dry leader was planning the third visit to the man she claims is undoubtedly her husband.

She hopes that on one of these visits the sight of her, together with some event she recalls, may bring back memory of his life, which Robins, or Rogers, claims is a blank.

SURE IT IS ROBINS

John Dreier, the nephew who first identified Rogers as the missing dry crusader, gave out the following statement:

"Mrs. Robins and I both are absolutely convinced that this man is Col. Raymond Robins. There is not the slightest doubt in either of our minds."

Robins Rests Well; Wife Faces Him Again Today

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—Col. Raymond Robins spent a restful night in a sanitarium here, but there has been no apparent change in his condition, Dr. Mark A. Griffin, his physician, announced today.

Mrs. Robins, who has twice visited her husband since he was brought here Saturday from Whittier, where he was found after a disappearance of two months, said she would call at the hospital late today.

Mrs. Robins was not recognized by the social worker on either of her previous visits.

"I don't know her," was all Robins would say.

John Dreier of New York, a nephew, who positively identified the bearded prospector as Robins, said today the family hoped that the impending visit here of Miss Elizabeth Robins, the colonel's sister, will awaken some spark of recognition in the dry leader.

Miss Robins, a London author, was due to arrive in this country today. She planned to go immediately to Asheville. Dreier said Robins and his sister have not met in several years.

Glenn McHan, son of the woman with whom Robins boarded, came here today and asked permission to see the patient. He declined to reveal the purpose of the conference except to say that Robins had sent word to Whittier that he wanted to see more people from back there.

Gun Search to End in Family Woodshed

Stern, parental discipline was in store today for four young sons of Swampscott residents. The boys all of whose names are withheld because of their tender years, were captured at gunpoint in the unoccupied residence of James McDonald, former Boston gunsmith.

The boys said they entered the McDonald house in Paradise rd. Swampscott, to get revolvers for decoration of "dens" in their own homes. McDonald declined to prosecute.

NINE CONVICTS HUNTED

Continued from First Page

others of his friends, all of whom she now believes to be members of a gang of criminals, living with him one time or another, she said.

She gave Peters considerable money from time to time and on Saturday, before visiting him, retained a lawyer for $50 to look after his interests at approaching trial on the burglary charges, she told police.

She was not detained after denying all knowledge of the jail break.

FUGITIVES SOUGHT HERE

Meanwhile search for the nine men still at large pressed forward in all New England states with a concentration of the hunt in Greater Boston, where three are known to have come.

Two men, found hiding along the Newburyport turnpike, in the vicinity of Newbury, were picked up by state troopers from the Topsfield barracks. They denied being escaped prisoners, but could not satisfactorily explain their presence on the road and were taken to Portsmouth for possible identification.

In Newton, a man who asked police for shelter last night, was held as a vagrant while steps were taken to determine whether he is one of the escaped convicts. He said he was Thomas H. Wootten of Philadelphia and that he had come down from Portsmouth, N. H., hitch-hiking.

Another whom Sheriff Spinney named as "one of the smart fellows" was Howard L. Peebles, 24, a Marine, who was held on a charge of assault with intent to rob.

Peters and Peebles were joined in the escape by Nathan Hyman, 34, of Boston; Chester and Howard Banks of Portland, brothers; George St. Pierre of Brunswick, Me., Edward Dall, 16, of Brunswick, Frank Keaton, 28, of Exeter, N. H., John Corkum, 27, of Rye, N. H., and Harry E. Whitten of Lynn.

BETRAYED BY WIFE

Whitten, betrayed by his wife, was captured in a Lynn garage seven hours after the escape but barely half an hour after jail officials at Portsmouth had discovered the break.

Whitten told his captors that he knew nothing of the escape plans until he was awakened and told he had a chance to free himself.

He joined the plot, he said, for fear of being called a "squealer" and once he reached the open road he thumbed a ride with Peebles and another prisoner whose name he did not know.

The three told the Everett man who picked them up that they were thumbing their way home from employment at the Maine lumber camps. Peebles and the other prisoner, Whitten said, continued to Everett after he left the machine at Lynnfield.

"OUTSIDE JOB" SEEN

Sheriff Spinney questioned him closely on the getaway of ePters, but was told that "things were too mixed up to watch anything in particular."

Spinney said, however, he was convinced the delivery was engineered from outside and that aid for the getaway was waiting, at least for Peters.

At least one trusty was under suspicion at the jail today, because of the fact that he had access to the keys of the turnkey within the past month. The method of escape—by the turning of a master key to open an entire tier of 26 cells—indicated that a duplicate key had been made.

The other 16 prisoners stayed in their unlocked cells, loath to leave the prison for fear of punishment if they were apprehended. It was one of these who spread the alarm to Deputy Sheriff O. P. Philbrick, who was in charge of the jail in the night absence of Sheriff Spinney.

Albert Moore, turnkey, learned of the break at the same time. Moore had arrived at the tier to escort the prisoners to breakfast just as the trusty notified Philbrick.

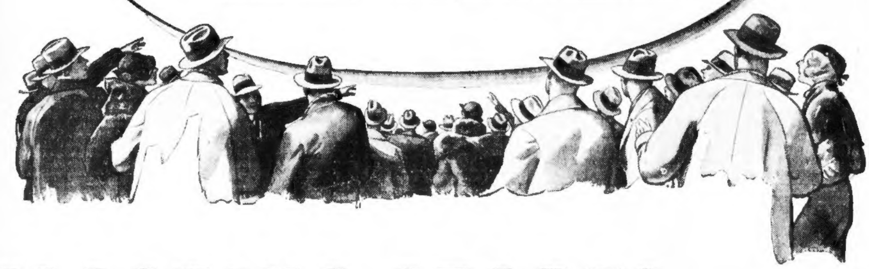
The break came while the jail was unguarded, just as it always is from 11 at night until 6:30 in the morning. The condition is due to the absence of a night guard for economic reasons, the 8 p. m. quitting time of the turnkey and the 11 o'clock hour of the deputy sheriff.

GET A SIX-HOUR START

The escaped men had a start from midnight until nearly 6:30 a. m., and apparently had covered quite a distance before the alarm wass broadcast by teletype and telephone.

The Rockingham County commissioners called a hurried conference early today and announced that a rigid probe of the escape will be opened by them.

The more you demand of a motor car the quicker you come to Atlantic WHITE FLASH



FLASHING STARTS IN COLD WEATHER

Step on the starter, and Zip!... the spark takes hold, like a flash from brain to muscle, whirring the coldest engine to instant action. No frantic churning, to drain the battery and flood the carburetor. No weary waiting for a lazy fuel to get going. WHITE FLASH vaporizes in the flash of an eyelid, whatever the weather. It puts its terrific impact behind each piston and won't take "No" for an answer. There are technical reasons why this is so, but you may trust the saying that's going round: "The more you demand of a motor car, the quicker you come to Atlantic WHITE FLASH."

ATLANTIC WHITE FLASH

The super-fuel at regular-gas price

The Achievement of one of America's Pioneer Refiners

For the THANKSGIVING Dinner—

Scott Frocks have the kind of SLEEVES that will be "The Talk of the Table"

$16.75

Lavishly embroidered
Brilliantly beaded
Beautifully appliqued
Intricately shirred
Elaborately puffed
Exquisitely lacy

SLEEVES that 'make' these New Dresses the 'last word' in Fashion ... $16.75

Give the folks a fresh viewpoint in fashion, by appearing at the table in a CLEVERLY SLEEVED Scott frock. Sand crepes, heavy ribbed sheers, crepons and sable sheers, in periwinkle blue, blue fox red, platinum gray, mint green, cinnamon brown, and black.

Convenience!

Make small payments while you enjoy wearing your frocks, thru the Scott Unique Payment Club (registered), the only one in New England. There's no extra or carrying charges for this service at Scott Furriers.

SCOTT Furriers
411 WASHINGTON ST.
Opposite Filene's

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

EUROPE MUST PAY U. S., SAYS PUBLISHER

Binghampton, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—Willis Sharpe Kilmer, publisher of the Binghampton Press, issued a statement today in which he called upon the American government to tell European debtor nations to "stop cheating, stop bluffing, and pay."

"France, England and Italy are prosperous," asserted Kilmer, who returned from a European tour just before election. "They are able to pay; their poverty talk is just so much poppycock.

"Pleading poverty to us, they are using money they owe us to prepare for another war. Two of the battleships they have built in the past year represent more money than the December 15 payments. They built those battleships with money that was due us when they made their moratorium bluff and got away with it.

"Will the American taxpayer be given a moratorium on that two billion dollar deficit we are promised for this fiscal year? Of course not. Why favor Europe at the expense of our own people? Why should this nation be a party to Europe's preparation for another war?

"The American Government can help to prevent that war by telling the debtor nations to stop cheating, stop bluffing, and pay."

The Binghamton Press, of which Kilmer is publisher, is a Republican newspaper, but supported Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Presidential campaign.

WIELDS AXE ON SWEETHEART

Ayer, Nov. 21—His childhood sweetheart, now 63, steadily slipped toward death today in Community Memorial Hospital, while James Callahan, 62, of Littleton, tossed in a daze on a nearby cot.

Callahan, according to police, admitted he struck her but said he did not know what weapon he used.

"Lizzie is a great girl," he mumbled.

He is charged with splitting the skull of Miss Elizabeth McNiff, while her blind brother wondered at the commotion in their home.

There had been no quarrel. Callahan was a regular visitor at the McNiff home, and Peter McNiff, 70, could not account for the attack on his sister.

Miss McNiff fell unconscious under the onslaught of the axe. Callahan dropped by her side after he announced, "I've killed Lizzie," and then slashed his throat with a razor blade.

Royal Betrothal of Princess Ingrid and Prince George Expected on Saturday

ROYAL MAID OF THE MOMENT—ENGAGED?

Word comes from Stockholm that it is highly probable that on next Saturday there will be announced the betrothal of pretty Princess Ingrid of Sweden to Prince George of England. Here you see the latest photograph of the Swedish princess. Rumors from many points have indicated that romance had joined the youngest son of King George with the princess. Some day this couple may reign as King and Queen of England.

PRINCESS INGRID RECENT ENGLAND VISITOR

From the British royal family comes no confirmation that Princess Ingrid will marry Prince George. Here we have Princess Ingrid, as she appeared with her grandfather, the Duke of Connaught, at the duke's estate during her recent visit to England. The Duke of Connaught is an uncle to the King of England. (International News Photos.)

NEXT ROYAL BRIDEGROOM—MAYBE?

A new photo of Prince George, whose engagement to Princess Ingrid, the beautiful Swedish princess, may be made known on Saturday of this week. The prince is 30 years old. (International News Photos.)

Scientists Say Comet Wiped Out Arizona Cliff Dwellers

Los Angeles, Nov. 21 (AP)—Scientists here are studying two newly-expressed theories regarding the flaming astral mass which collided with the earth in Arizona, apparently in the 13th century.

One is that the so-called Arizona meteor, well known to science, was actually a real comet. Heretofore, there has been no generally recognized evidence that a comet ever collided with the earth. The new theory was advanced by Ransome Sutton, science editor of the Los Angeles Times.

The other suggestion, by Ernest V. Sutton, South Pasadena student of Indian archaeology, is that the Arizona meteor or comet annihilated the aboriginal civilization of cliff dwellers when it struck at an estimated speed of 40 miles a second—two centuries before Columbus sighted America.

Yale Boy's Death Declared Suicide

New Haven, Nov. 21 (AP)—A verdict of suicide was given by Dr. M. M. Scarbrough, medical examiner, in the death of Henry Lee Krichbaum, 19, a Yale sophomore of Novelty, O., whose body was found on the shore of Long Island Sound at Lighthouse Point.

BETROTHAL MAY COME SATURDAY

Stockholm, Nov. 21 (AP)—Undaunted by a disillusionment earlier this month when the stage supposedly was all set for the event, newspapers here have decided a royal gathering next Saturday is the appropriate time for an announcement of the engagement of Prince George of England and Princess Ingrid of Sweden.

Even if the oft-rumored engagement again fails to materialize, Sweden will have enough to occupy its interest in welcoming home two young honeymooners who may some day reign as king and queen—Prince Gustaf Adolf and his bride of a month, Princess Sibylle of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

They are expected Friday morning and the new rumor is that the engagement of Ingrid, Sibylle's sister-in-law, and Prince George may be announced at the welcoming dinner at the royal castle Saturday.

Credit Institute to Hear Dr. O'Neil

Dr. O'Neil, assistant dean of the College of Business Administration, Boston University, and director of the evening division, will address Boston chapter, National Institute of Credit, the educational department of the Boston Credit Men's Association, on "The Effect of the Cost of Government on Business," tomorrow night at 6 o'clock, at Burdett College.

An invitation to attend this meeting is extended to business men in general and to credit men and women in particular.

SCREEN BEAUTY ASKS DIVORCE

Hollywood, Nov. 21 (US)—Separation of Claudia Morgan stage and screen actress, and Talbott Cummings, scion of a socially prominent New York family, is likely to become permanent.

This became known when Miss Morgan's father, Ralph Morgan, actor of the stage and films, announced at his Hollywood apartment that his daughter had opened negotiations for a divorce from Cummings, who now is in New York.

The 20-year-old actress was married to Cummings on October 16, 1931 at the Little Church Around the Corner in New York, and left her husband in the East the following January to join her parents in Hollywood.

"Incompatibility," said Morgan, "is the best explanation of the couple's separation. The whole affair was a cause of two young people marrying without knowing each other well enough."

Cummings is the son of Mrs. Lawrence B. Cummings of New York and Nantucket, Mass.

Man on Top Floor Loses Life in Fire

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—A man was burned to death and two men and a woman were injured early this morning during a fire in an apartment building in St. Nicholas ave. Several persons were rescued by firemen.

The dead man, Thomas Dwyer, 57, lived alone in a top floor apartment.

Snakes That 'Swim' in Desert Sand Found in California

Los Angeles, Nov. 21 (AP)—Snakes that "swim" in the desert sands are being studied by Dr. Walter Mosauer, zoologist of the University of California here.

These snakes live beneath the surface of the desert, but in their subterranean wanderings stay rather close to the surface. For swimming purposes the loose texture of the sand is mechanically comparable to the waters of the ocean.

"The snakes are streamlined head and body," Dr. Mosauer explained. "The head is wedge-shaped, with a sharp keel or edge and a counter-sunk lower jaw."

These peculiar animals, known to science as the Sonora Occipitalis actually live in the sand differing markedly from burrowing creatures which live or travel through holes they dig in the sand. Dr. Mosauer calls the sand-swimming reptiles "subarenaceous" types to differentiate them from the tunnelling animals.

Sand-swimmers can disappear from sight in an incredibly short time.

Similar types are found in the Sahara desert, but they are skinks, members of the lizard family.

Dr. Mosauer has also found similarities between snakes living on the surface of the Sahara and Southern California deserts. They have independently developed the same kind of locomotion. Such are the horned viper of the Sahara and the sidewinder of the Southwestern deserts. Both travel by "sidewinding," which in its principle resembles the sidewise rolling of a screw.

R. C. A. SETTLES RADIO CORP. LITIGATION

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 21 (AP)—Complete divorcement of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. from Radio Corporation of America was ordered today by the federal court of Delaware in a consent decree filed by the government in its anti-trust suit against the radio equipment companies.

At the same time, the court ended the long drawn-out suit by enjoining the defendants from attempting to restrain trade by means of patent licenses or similar devices in violation of the anti-trust law.

The government suit, filed in the spring of 1930, was to have gone to trial last week, but was postponed when it was announced to Judge John P. Nields that peace proposals had been presented by the defendants Nov. 11.

General Electric and Westinghouse, which owns a controlling interest in Radio Corporation of America, are ordered to divest themselves of their stock holdings, and while this is being brought about the defendants are forbidden to exercise the voting rights of their stock.

The defendants are enjoined also from further exercising or enforcing the exclusive provision of their patent cross licensing agreements, which the government complained eliminated competition and hampered the rights of other concerns in the radio business.

There were more than a dozen defendants named in the suit. Some of these were dismissed. They were American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and its subsidiary, Western Electric Co. Inc.; General Motors Corp. and General Motors Radio Corp.

OPERA SELL-OUT FIRST NIGHT

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera House will open tonight for a shorter and less costly season than in recent years, but for all that a season which General Manager Gatti-Casazza believes will be a "happy" and financially successful one.

The 48th season opens without Benaimino Gigli, who left rather than accept the 25 per cent salary reduction Gatti considered necessary last spring. The personnel of the company has been reduced to 81 from 97.

The premier performance, Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra," is a sell-out.

Twenty-seven members of last year's company, including Gigli, are missing from this year's roll. In their places 11 other artists, among them five Americans, have been engaged.

STORK PAYS SISTERS DOUBLE VISIT

Two Pasadena, Cal., sisters who became mothers the same day, five hours apart in the same hospital. At left is Mrs. Harold Howard, 22, and her six-pound son, born at 3:21 p. m. At right is Mrs. Howard's sister, Mrs. Louis Sheldon and her six-pound daughter, born at 8:25 p. m. The boy and girl are the first children in both families.

Medford Man Jailed for Using "Slugs"

The first $100 fine and 30 days' sentence for evasion of fare by the use of a "slug" was imposed upon John H. Jacobson, 50, of Brookfield rd., Medford, in the Charlestown court today by Judge Charles S. Sullivan.

Jacobson pleaded guilty to the charge.

Jacobson's previous record of fare evasion by use of "slugs" was brought out in the court.

Most Costly Deer Hunt He Ever Had

Glenwood Springs, Col., Nov. 21 (INS)—It cost Dillard Pliman $600 and 60 days in jail to kill six deer. The Colorado game laws limit a hunter's kill to one animal. Pliman was unable to pay the fine when sentenced in district court here and will have to serve a long jail sentence in lieu of paying the money.

If husbands only told the truth at breakfast ... they'd ask for—

LaTouraine Coffee
IT'S THE BLEND....

A&P
ESTABLISHED 1859

TURKEYS 27c lb

30% Under Last Year's Price!

Strictly fresh, plump, tender young birds from the country's best turkey farms.

Order Early to Avoid Any Disappointment

prices effective in Boston and Vicinity

A & P MEAT MARKETS
The Great ATLANTIC & PACIFIC Tea Co

GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Bought From Assignees' Entire Stock

Ready Tuesday at 9

Main Street
Sanford, Maine

Ready Tuesday at 9

In business at this location for more than 20 years

Men's Clothing and Furnishings

Limited quantities—Some broken sizes but great bargains

Including Many Nationally Known Brands

	Their Price	Our Price
Men's Good Suits	$16.50	$6
Fashion Park and other good Suits	$25 to $35	$11
Shaker Knit Sweaters	$2.95	$1 to $1.49
Dobbs Hats	$3.95	$1.69
Carter and other Overalls and Jumpers	$1 to $1.49	59c
Van Heusen Collars	25c	5c
Aratex Soft Collars	25c	5c
Dress and Work Shirts	69c	25c
Broadcloth and other Shirts	$1	50c
Men's Neckties	49c	19c
Reis Union Suits	$3.50 to $4	$1.39
Root's Tivoli Union Suits	$1 to $1.25	59c
Heavy fleeced Shirts and Drawers	69c	39c
Reis Union Suits	$2.50	89c
White Jean Shorts	49c ea.	3 for 50c
Balbriggan Shirts and Shorts	59c	29c
Rayon Shirts and Shorts	59c	39c
Heavy Cotton Work Sox	25c	2 for 25c
Boys' "Tim" brand Toques	59c	29c
Boys' well made Overalls	49c	19c
Boys' Golf Caps	59c	29c

And hundreds of other items just as remarkable.

NO MAIL OR PHONE ORDERS

HIT IN EYE WITH SHOE BRUSH, SAYS WIFE

Elmer R. Cochrane of Lynn hit his wife in the eye with a shoe brush, and when she collected insurance money for the injury he took it away from her and bought an automobile.

So Mrs. Dorothy G. Cochrane told Judge White in Salem court today, asking a divorce for cruelty. They eloped and were secretly wed in 1930, and she got him a job in a "5 and 10," but he only worked two days.

They started for California in the car with a Mrs. Murphy, but somewhere they lost Mrs. Murphy. In Los Angeles, Cochrane went into the orange business, but his wife couldn't wait for the trees to bear fruit before she ate, and after three days without sustenance she pawned her wedding ring. Cochrane was indignant when the welfare department stepped in, she said. The case was taken under advisement.

* * *

In two other cases it was a gray day for the Greys and Grays.

Francis L. Grey of Addison ave., Lynn, said he got his cousin, Albert A. Gray, a job. In return Albert stole Francis' wife, according to the charge.

Francis said he trailed his wife and cousin to a Wakefield house and peeked at them through a window from a cliff. Then he called the police, getting Patrolman Tom Windsor, strongest man on the Lynn force, after Wakefield police had expressed unconcern. Grey's request for a decree on grounds of infidelity was taken under advisement.

* * *

Loran W. Gray of Gloucester sued Annie of Medford on grounds of desertion. They were married in 1920 and lived eight years in Gloucester until one May day she asked him to drive her to the station so she could entrain for Boston. He did, and when she got on the train she kissed him and said:

"Goodby forever. I cannot live in Glaucester."

Gloucester papers please copy.

* * *

Mrs. Celia E. Leighton of Swampscott said she hasn't seen her husband, Harold, since 1924 when he started for Portland. She has given up expecting him home to supper. Also under advisement.

Broke Windows for Raid, Drys Testify

Dry agents had to break a window to get into a speakeasy, protected by two barricaded doors, at 3 Canton st., South End, it was revealed to Commr. Edwin C. Jenney in Federal Court today. The search resulted in the seizure of a gallon of alcohol and the arrest of Joseph Kaplan of Wellington st., Mattapan, on a charge of possession.

Arraigned before Jenny Kaplan pleaded not guilty and was held in $1000 for hearing Dec. 1.

3 Identify Man on Trial in Shooting

In Superior Court today John J. Morgan, 32, of Washington st., Roxbury, was twice identified as the man who shot and wounded Matthew J. Cummings, Jr., son of a contractor, in an attempted payroll hold up in Roxbury August 11.

The victim and his brother, Daniel Cummings, made the identification at Morgan's trial for assault with intent to murder and rob. A third brother, Dennis Cummings, identified Morgan as one of two men who left the scene in a car.

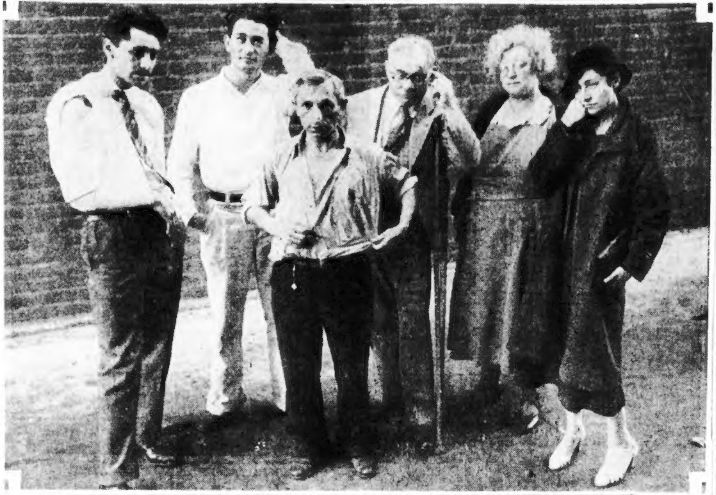
School Children's Pet Ducks Stolen

With one eye on the calendar, Dorchester police today are seeking two ducks, stolen from the Brush Hill School, a private kindergarten on Atherton st., Dorchester.

The ducks, favorites of the children, were taken from their wire enclosed yard some time in the week-end. By Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, police fear it will be too late to look for anything but wish bones.

THANKSGIVING SPECIAL
Ladies' COATS
& DRESSES (Plain)
Men's SUITS
& TOPCOATS
THOROUGHLY CLEANSED AND REFINISHED
39c
Cash and Carry
Work guaranteed to be equal to that which costs you 75c and $1.00. For limited time only.
HAROLD'S
26 WEST ST. RM. 505
Cleansers and Dyers

BRANDED AS REDS, BEATEN BY SELF-STYLED KU KLUXERS



In a wild attack on a Long Beach home at Los Angeles, Cal., a band of self-styled Ku Klux Klansmen beat and torrorized a group of persons they declared were Communists plotting some activity against the government. Photograph shows group of the injured victims who had fled to Long Beach police station demanding protection from the attackers. Sixteen arrests followed the onslaught, but 12 of the suspects were released. Four are held for grand jury investigation. This group of the victims in the police station comprises, left to right: Samuel Milder, Ben Isgur, Nathan Citron, David Milder, Mrs. David Milder and Sophie Dreyfus. All showed evidences of a vicious attack. (International News Photos.)

HOOVER MAY SIGN BEER BILL

Continued from First Page

committee, predicted today it would approve a resolution for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"I think—and with the greatest confidence—that will be one of the first things the committee will do after it meets next month," he told reporters.

"All Democratic members will be for repeal, because of their platform. There won't be enough Republican opposition to stop it.

"I can't see any necessity at all for hearings."

Dye said he would favor submitting the repeal resolution directly to Legislatures instead of conventions "because it would take less time."

Representative Vinson of Kentucky, a leading Democrat on the House ways and means committee, told newspapermen he would "vote for legalization of beer and repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment." He has supported prohibition in the past.

HIGH BEER TAX OPPOSED

Vinson said if Chairman Collier of the ways and means committee wanted to call hearings before Congress meets on a bill to legalize and tax beer he would interpose no objection.

Representative Milligan of Missouri, assistant Democratic whip in the House, said the short session should pass on a repeal resolution and an amendment to modify the Volstead act.

"Whether a two-thirds vote can be mustered for repeal is questionable in this Congress," he added.

"It is my opinion that a majority vote needed to modify the Volstead Act can be obtained in the December session.

"If the Volstead Act is modified and a prohibitive or excessive tax is levied on beer, it will not raise the revenue expected. Neither will it destroy the home brew or the bootlegger."

Dazed Girl May Solve Mystery

Two men, seen thrusting the inert form of a girl into an auto in South ave., in a lonely part of Weston, were sought today throughout Greater Boston and other sections of the state.

The incident was witnessed by Atty. John C. Jones of Temple st., West Newton, and Mrs. Jones, who believed the girl was dead.

Police investigated on the theory that a murder may have been committed, but this noon a Brighton girl was found on a dazed condition on the same highway, and the authorities were trying to ascertain if there was any connection between the two incidents.

This girl is Miss Helen Daugherty, 19, of Parsons st., Brighton. She was found lying by the roadside by R. E. Carey of Shrewsbury, who was driving from Boston to Worcester.

Carey took her to Waltham Hospital where she said she remembered only that she had started from home to take a walk. Her father, John Daugherty, was notified and started to the hospital to take her home.

According to Atty. Jones, who made a report of what he saw to Sergt. Dennis Chisholm of the metropolitan police, he and his wife were driving along the road when they caught sight of two men dragging a girl to a parked machine.

Sergt. Chisholm rushed back to his station and his report set the search in motion. He joined the officers who started combing the main highways and back streets in search of the car, and took into custody five men, who were released after considerable questioning.

Diogenes, Here's Your Honest Man

Loveland, Col., Nov. 21 (INS)—F. B. Hartney, Denver salesman, may be the man Diogenes was looking for. Finding a purse recently that contained $250 in cash and $950 in postal savings certificates, he made diligent inquiry and succeeded in returning the purse to its owner.

V. MEYER HOME RANSACKED

Salem, Nov. 21—The arraignment in district court here today of Warner Rosthke, 36, of New York, on a charge of burglary in the night time, resulted in the revelation that the summer homes of two prominent Hamilton residents had been entered Saturday night.

Rosthke was specifically charged with entering the home of Mrs. George L. von Meyer, widow of the former Secretary of Navy, while investigation was said to have shown that the nearby home of George L. von Meyer, Jr., had been ransacked.

A suitcase filled with jewelry and valuables of various description was picked up on a tennis court near the window where police said they surprised Rosthke as he climbed from the house. The police, headed by Chief Arthur Southwick, had been summoned to the scene by a burglar alarm. Both house were unoccupied.

Rosthke pleaded not guilty and was held in default of $5000 bail for the grand jury. Police expressed the belief that others must have been concerned in the breaks.

Jesuits' Provincial Goes to Weston Post

The Rev. James Gilroy, S. J., for six years provincial at Boston College, was today transferred to Weston College in Weston, where he will serve as director. Fr. Gilroy will be replaced at Boston College by Rev. James L. McCormack, S. J., present director at Weston College. The Rev. Leo Dorr, S. J., attached to Boston College faculty, has been named as director of St. Mary's Church in the North End.

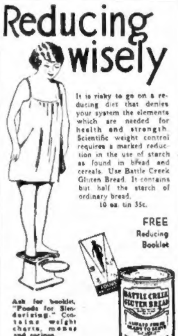
Cab Driver Held in Woman's Death

Charged with manslaughter, Joseph J. Gibson, 32, taxi driver of East Dedham st., South End, pleaded not guilty in municipal court today and was granted a continuance to December 6. Gibson is alleged to have fatally injured Miss Maria Manning of 25 Marlboro st. with his cab in Commonwealth ave. Saturday night.

TEACHERS SPLIT ON STRIKE PLAN

Worcester, Nov. 21—The ranks of Worcester's school teachers were divided into two camps today on the question of striking if their salaries are cut.

Reports that a pay slash, which would be anywhere from 30 to 50 per cent, might be imposed upon them led to agitation among the teachers for a two-weeks strike as protest against the reduction.



Reducing wisely
It is risky to go on a reducing diet that denies your system the elements which are needed for health and strength. Scientific weight control requires a marked reduction in the use of starch as found in bread and cereals. Use Battle Creek Gluten Bread. It contains but half the starch of ordinary bread.
10 oz. tin 35c.
FREE Reducing Booklet
Ask for booklet, "Foods for Slenderizing." Contains weight charts, menus and recipes.
Battle Creek Gluten Bread
COBB, BATES & YERXA CO.
65 Summer St., Boston
251 Moody St., Waltham

In Politics
Gossip About People You Know

GLEE CLUB TO SING

The newly organized Municipal Glee Club will make its first public appearance as a singing society at Boston Public Library, Copley sq., this evening. Mayor Curley will attend.

POST TO GIVE WHIST

William F. Sinclair Post, city employes' branch of the American Legion, will give a whist party and social in its headquarters, 25 Church st., South End, tomorrow evening. Commander John Crowley heads the committee, aided by "Charlie" McCarthy of the auditors' office, Joseph Mikolajewski, assistant city censor, Lawrence Riley of the assessor's office, and Frank Travers of the collector's office.

IMPERATO IN RACE

Aniello D. Imperato of 27 Charter st., North End, will announce his candidacy for the City Council from Ward 3 at a meeting at 188 Hanover st., this evening.

GOODWIN'S SON TO WED.

Fred Goodwin, son of Chairman Frank A. Goodwin of the Finance Commission, is to be married in Somerville on November 30 to Miss Phyllis Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cooper.

COAKLEY QUITS BOARD

Jeremiah Coakley of the assessing department has resigned as a director of the City Employes' Credit Union. It is understood Asst. Corp. Counsel H. Murray Pakulski will be his successor.

STORK BRINGS NO. 7

"Bill" Foster of the municipal fire prevention bureau is celebrating the birth of his seventh child, a 10-pound boy.

MAYNARD AT YALE BOWL

Joseph A. Maynard, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, is an enthusiastic football fan. He was one of the band of Harvard rooters who defied the elements last Saturday in the Yale Bowl.

ELY MAY RENAME LONG

There is a feeling at the State House that Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, originally appointed by Calvin Coolidge, will be reappointed by Gov. Ely. His commission expires on Dec. 15. Long is considered one of the foremost tax experts in the country.

DINNER TO MARY WARD

The Democratic women of the state are giving a complimentary banquet, at the Copley Plaza Hotel on Dec. 10, to Miss Mary H. Ward, Democratic national committeewoman from Massachusetts.

FARLEY COMING HERE

"Jim" Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and manager of the Roosevelt-for President campaign, will be guest of honor of the Clover Club here on Dec. 3.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN BOSTON MASS.
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
Comics
A WELL known play producer said THREE good laughs would make a show a success. Look at the laughs in the Boston American's daily comic revue: Skippy and his pals; Barney Google and his great wrestler, Sully; Jiggs in Bringing Up Father, and Popeye.
These are but five of the great laugh comics in the Boston American. It's truly a success show every day.
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN BOSTON MASS.

SHOPPING WITH PRISCILLA PRICE

Dearest Anne—

The Largest Upstairs Dress Shop in Boston

Genuine Fur-Trimmed

Choice of Any Coat in the Store

COATS, $7.95

Take your Priscilla's advice and see these coats! They are mostly samples, many marked down from $19.95 to $7.95! In fact, The New York Dress Mfg. Co. guarantee the price of every coat or dress purchased there to be the lowest in the city! And if you can duplicate the dress or coat you purchased there in any other store at their price they will refund the money and let you keep the coat or dress absolutely free of charge! There are always thousands and thousands of new dresses, mostly samples, marked at $1.69-$2.49-$3.75-$4.49 and $6.75! Their dresses and coats are honest-to-goodness values—sold to you retail at wholesale prices and less—mostly less! They refund and exchange within 5 days if price tag has not been removed. The New York Dress Mfg. Co.'s only store is on the 2nd floor of 515 Washington St., corner West St.

The Largest Upstairs Dress Shop in Boston

HAIR!

The secret of lovely hair that glistens and shines with every turn of the head is Flozor—a Lesquendieu product. Flozor gives dull hair—blonde or brunette—an alluring sheen. Flozor is not a dye, not a bleach—it is a French hair brightener, distilled from Camomile blossoms, and is the secret of gorgeously golden waves of many society, stage and screen stars. The Lesquendieu shampoo, now 25c a package, thoroughly cleanses the scalp and leaves the hair soft and fluffy. You may obtain Flozor and the excellent shampoo from Miss Lowe, formerly with Meyer Jonasson and L. P. Hollander, and now in her own shop at 143 Tremont St. Dev. 8963. Mark Cross Bldg.

FUR REMODELING
Special Low Prices

Zero weather is just around the corner—it's time to take your fur coat to Parker Bros.! Those worn places can be eliminated and the coat restyled if necessary. Is your fur coat in style? Does it button on the side? Has it long, slenderizing lines? If not—Parker Bros. will remodel it—and make it look like a new coat. If your coat is badly worn it may be converted into a stunning jacket or an adorable cape! With your remodeled fur jacket they give you a wool skirt and matching beret for $27 complete. Fur coats repaired, $5 up; relined, $10 up; a long coat completely restyled, $35 to $50. Cloth coats lengthened and restyled for $6 to $10. Parker Bros. is at 110 Tremont St., Shop 309. Dev. 8243.

STOP TWEEZING!

Because tweezing only causes the growth of those unlovely superfluous hairs that mar the appearance of your lovely skin! The only sure, scientific, permanent way to remove superfluous hair is the electric needle in the hands of an expert. Miss Elizabeth Sparkes, our electric needle specialist, is an expert having the recommendation of physicians. She has had many years of experience and she uses nothing but Bulbous needles that remove each hair by the root, so that it never can return. Miss Sparkes has a 40-needle Multiple machine for removing hair from the arms and legs. Consultation free of charge. Miss Elizabeth Sparkes is at 120 Tremont St., Room 334, Tel. Hancock 7592.

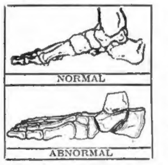
BEAUTY IN EVERY LANGUAGE!

Beauty, the world over, has become identified with Elizabeth Arden and her preparations. From far away they have come—from England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain and Sweden, these special representatives of Elizabeth Arden, to discuss your beauty problems with you in your own language. You must see the "Beauty League of Nations," now on display in Filene's Summer Street windows. You'll be fascinated with the interesting display of thirty dolls, authentically dressed in the colorful costumes of their respective countries, in which Elizabeth Arden's preparations are women's key to beauty. Elizabeth Arden has achieved worldwide fame for her excellent preparations and for the miracles of beauty they have worked. Whatever your beauty problems might be bring them to Miss Arden's representatives in Filene's. Miss Arden's foreign representatives will be in Filene's Toiletries Shop, beginning today, Monday, for one week, and you may consult them freely. Filene's Toiletries Shop is on the street floor.

FUR COATS RELINED, $5.00!
Material For Lining Included

This is such a good value! You'll wonder how they do it! Think of it! The Original Cleansers & Tailors will reline your fur coat, thereby restoring smart lines—for $5—silk satin material included! You'll be delighted with the excellent workmanship and material used. They have a special staff of experts who specialize in relining and remodeling fur coats—and they are thoroughly reliable and competent. Cloth coats relined—silk crepe material included, for only $4. Men's suits relined and made to look like new for $3, material included. Fur coats expertly cleansed for $3. They also have a thoroughly competent dressmaking staff to remodel or make dresses to your order. Prices very reasonable. The Original Cleansers and Tailor, are at 8 Winter St., 4th floor. Dev. 7398.

PAINFUL FEET
Leg, Knee and Back Pains



There is a new process of restoring sore, painful, abused feet to normal. Old methods such as corrective shoes, stock arch supports, braces, etc., do not take into consideration that no two feet are exactly alike, not even the right and left of the same person.

Orthomec sensitive machines show the slightest variation of each foot. No guesswork. Sure, positive relief: No charge for first visit. Registered foot specialist in charge. ORTHOMEC SYSTEM, 140 Boylston St., opposite Common. LIB. 1399.

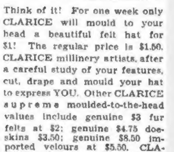
Maternity Frocks
Before-Thanksgiving Sale

The Sanders Maternity Shop specializes in chic, graceful frocks that are designed to give SLENDERIZING and youthful effects, and priced to fit any budget, no matter how small. You must see their unusual selection of new dresses in all the latest materials and colors and in all sizes. Maternity and after maternity supports and brassieres scientifically fitted, now only $4.50 and up. Recommended by leading physicians. Baby Book, sent at your request. The Sanders Maternity Shop is at 171 Tremont St. Lib. 5684.

HEALTHY HAIR

Mrs. M. E. RICE of the Mary Elizabeth Beauty Shoppe has for 20 years made scalp treatments her specialty. All day Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday you may have a wonderful health shampoo with tonic, massage or scalp food, plus a Finger Wave, for just $1! This special is offered until further notice. Between 9 and 1, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, you may have the same special. Permanent waves a specialty. Hair dyeing and restoring color to faded hair skillfully done. Mary Elizabeth Beauty Shoppe, 59 Temple Place, BLAKE BLDG., Rm. 612, Tel. Lib. 7961.

CLARICE
ONE WEEK
Felts Moulded to the Head
$1



Think of it! For one week only CLARICE will mould to your head a beautiful felt hat for $1! The regular price is $1.50. CLARICE millinery artists, after a careful study of your features, cut, drape and mould your hat to express YOU. Other CLARICE supreme moulded-to-the-head values include genuine $3 fur felts at $2; genuine $4.75 doeskins $3.50; genuine $8.50 imported velours at $5.50. CLARICE also specializes in reblocking and remodeling your old hats at a very low cost. CLARICE, the high class hat shop with the low price policy, is on the fifth floor of the BLAKE BLDG., 59 Temple Pl.

While You're

Still dreaming about the luscious Thanksgiving turkey you'll have next Thursday, I'm prowling about the shops with one purpose in mind — interesting gifts for your Christmas list. It's such fun to discover things that will make the members of the family from Grandmother to Junior say "Ah," and "Oh, It's just what I wanted." And the prices! You'll really be amazed to discover how much more one lonely dollar bill will buy this season, than ever before. Really prices are so low, and the shops so full of tempting things, that I know you'll want to add to your gift list this year. Remember to watch for my Monday letters, for Christmas Shopping suggestions that are planned to save you time, trouble and money.

Devotedly,
PRISCILLA.

Boris Karloff Will Have Title Role in New Version of "Bluebeard" Novel

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor Universal Service

Copyright, 1932, by Universal Service, Inc.

Los Angeles, Nov. 21—The wicked, wicked "Bluebeard" of childhood lore looms on the horizon as a motion picture subject. However, this "Bluebeard" is modern and will be adapted from a novel with the same title. Carl Laemmle, Jr., feels he has really hit upon something worthwhile for Boris Karloff.

Louella O. Parsons

Junior, who goes in for these horror dramas in a big way, will have an original story written from the idea in the "Blue Beard" novel. As in the case of "Frankenstein" there will be an entirely new treatment for Karloff. Gordon Morris, new writer on the Universal lot, has been handed the "Bluebeard" yarn and is preparing it.

* * *

Sally Eiler's little excursion to Warner Brothers to play opposite Dick Barthelemess won't take her away from the Fox Studio for very long. Just the moment she finishes at First National she will move back to Fox Hills to team up with Jimmy Dunn in Sailor's Luck." Sol Wurtzel, who is hoding down the production chair while Winfield Sheehan is getting rid of a bad cold, said that "Sailor's Luck," a book, had just been purchased for the Eilers-Dunn combination. These two, since "Bad Girl" are the biggest dual drawing card since Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell made "Seventh Heaven."

* * *

Postponed Again

The hunch of Carl Laemmle Jr.'s about "Bluebeard," mentioned above, has put "Invisible Man" on the postponed list once again. James Whale who was to have directed it will direct "The Kiss Before the Mirror," with Richard Schayer adapting it. Charles Laughton who played Sir Porterhouse in "The Old Dark House" will draw one of the principal roles in "The Kiss Before the Mirror." I am sure he must have the role of the lawyer. I personally didn't care for him in "The Old Dark House." He gave a fair performance, but the character he created was not particularly suitable to his type.

* * *

Quits Hollywood

One of the few people in our town who turned down a couple of thousand dollars a week on the score of temperament is Gene Fowler. Gene was quite content to go back to New York and write a novel or two, for he realized that his novels would eventually reach the screen. Paramount purchased "Shoe the Wild Mare" this week, one of Gene's most popular books. In these days when jobs are scarce and salaries are cut it takes a lot of courage to say au revoir to a studio while the weekly check is coming in regularly. Gene Fowler did just that to Radio, and once upon a time he did just that to the newspapers.

* * *

Marion Davies' Next

Without one bit of makeup, Marion Davies made a test for "Peg o' My Heart" that so delighted Irving Thalberg that he immediately took Frances Marion off all other stories and put her to work on Peg. Marion, with pigtails and freckles not unlike the makeup she wore in "Zander," creates a character that is different and yet so appealing and natural that it augurs well for the Hartley Manners play. Robbert Leonard is directing Marion and a search is now on for the right leading man. It will be several weeks and perhaps longer before the story is in shape, meanwhile a cast will be assembled.

* * *

A Line or Two:

Either I had a cold when I dictated or Joseph McGillicudy Sherman had a worse cold when he told me that Ramon Novarro's next picture would be "Man of Denial," and is my face red? A communication from Kitty Kelly anent the item in the snapshots that William Le Baron was seen dancing with a pretty girl," signed with a picture of a cat, or maybe it's a kitty for Kelly, she says: "Am I thrilled? Oh what a compliment, dear Miss Parsons! ! !" And I thought I was being discreet. William Dieterle was taken sick with the flue in the midst of "Grand Slam" and had to go home to bed. A hurried call to Alfred Green turned over the directorial responsibility to him. There is a lot of flu in the studios and many people home sick. Claire Dodd, who always plays the menace in these big dramas, has had her Paramount contract taken over by First National. The Joe E. Browns are throwing a party Friday night. Edgar Selwyn is trying to locate a cast for "Fight."

* * *

Snapshots of Hollywood:

LILA LEE and GEORGE HILL are not so much "that way" about each other. Maybe only a temporary lull. RALPH FORBES RUTH CHATTERTON'S ex and JULANNE JOHNSTONE have been stepping out to the Ambassador and other places. NORMA TALMADGE and her mother MRS. PEG TALMADGE heading for Hollywood, scheduled to leave Chicago today. JESSICA and RICHARD BARTHELMESS regular attendants at the six-day bicycle races. LEILA HYAMS offering a $20 prize to the winner of a sprint. CLIVE BROOK and the missus and KATHRYN MENJOU interested onlookers. The HOOT GIBSONS, MAY SUNDAY, DAVE HARRIS and others, journeying to the Norconian Club for the weekend. CARL LAEMMLE, JR., regular visitor to Palm Springs, arriving there last night for the weekend. ELEANOR HOLM, junior's favorite swimmer, also an expected guest at the Desert Inn. ANN HARDING, who is seldom seen at any of the local restaurants lunching at the Vine Street Brown Derby. WALTER CATLETT and family at the Derby same day, also WYNNE GIBSON in becoming black. RAY HALLOR in the hospital for some weeks improving and coming back for pictures. That's all today, see you tomorrow!

ConcertNotes

The New English Singers, now so called because the ensemble has been reorganized, are still led by Cuthbert Kelly. They will appear in Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, November 27 in a program of part songs of the Elizabethan period—madrigals motets and ballads. They are said to have notably enlarged their repertory.

Lawrence Tibbett will give a recital in Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, December 4. This will be one of the few concert appearances of the baritone this year, since he will have many appearances at the Metropolitan Opera Company. He is to open New York's opera season in the title role of Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra" on November 21.

Lily Pons will give a recital in Symphony Hall on Sunday afternoon, December 11. The French coloratura soprano has recently returned from seasons in South America and California. She is again to be the leading coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Other theater news and ads on page 7.

Today at YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PORTER 4580 HARVARD SQ. — Douglas Fairbanks "MR. ROBINSON CRUSOE" LEE TRACY "NIGHT MAYOR"
CHARLESTOWN
HOLLYWOOD CHAS. 3300 — Lee Tracy-Ann Dvorak "STRANGE LOVE OF MOLLY LOUVAIN" Chas. Bickford-C. Cummings "LAST MAN"
THOMPSON SQUARE THEATRE — Edmund Lowe-Bela Lugosi "Chandu the Magician" Martin Johnson's "CONGORILLA" Dressorware Tonight
EGLESTON SQ.
The EGLESTON WASHINGTON ST. at EGLESTON SQ — "WHITE ZOMBIE" Bela (Dracula) Lugosi Madge Bellamy Also "THE CROONER" David Manners-Ann Dvorak
MALDEN
GRANADA MALDEN TEL. 0312 — Geo. Raft-Wynne Gibson "NIGHT AFTER NIGHT" WILL ROGERS in "DOWN TO EARTH" Starts Sat., "Bill of Divorcement"
MYSTIC MALDEN MAL. 1230 — Jack Oakie-Marian Nixon 'Madison Sq. Garden' Bela (Dracula) Lugosi in "WHITE ZOMBIE"
STRAND MALDEN Tel. MALden 3711 — 5—ACTS—5 HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE "Phantom of Crestwood" With Ricardo Cortez
REVERE
BOULEVARD AND REVERE — "CABIN IN THE COTTON" Richard Barthelmess-Bette Davis "KLONDIKE" Thelma Todd-Frank Hawks Monday Night Screeno
ROXBURY
ROXBURY'S FINEST HUMBOLDT THEATRE — Lionel Barrymore "Washington Masquerade" "BY WHOSE HAND" BEN LYON
SOMERVILLE
CAPITOL BALL SQ. — New Reduced Prices Richard Barthelmess "THE CABIN IN THE COTTON" 'The Painted Woman'
E. M. LOEWS DAVIS SQ THEATRE — "TARZAN THE APE MAN" Johnny Weissmuller-Maureen O'Sullivan "FILE NO. 13" Lew Cody-Mary Nolan CARTOON—NEWS
SOUTH END
NATIONAL EVE. 10c-20c MAT. 10c Continuous 12:30 to 11:00 — Amateur Nite-Art Spaulding CONSTANCE BENNETT "Two Against the World" Estelle Taylor "WESTERN LIMITED" Tonite—Free—Live Turkeys

WATCH THIS DIRECTORY
PATRONIZE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

BOY, 16, ADMITS HE KILLED HIS GRANDMOTHER

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—A solution of the "cistern slaying" of Mrs. Ellen Saxe, 60-year-old retired educator of Riverside, Ill., Chicago suburb, was claimed by investigators today, following a confession they said they obtained from her step-grandson, Charles Bertrand Arnold, 16.

"Yes, I guess I did the job all right," his captors in Stockton, Ill., 130 miles away, said he told them after his arrest.

"I wanted to borrow grandma's automobile," he was quoted as saying. "She refused to give it to me, and when I insisted, she said I was impudent. Then she slapped me. My mind went blank, but I remember hitting her with a hammer."

The body of Mrs. Saxe, who had come to the boy's home to live but three weeks before her death, was found in the cistern in the rear of the home last Friday night. She had been beaten to death. Discovery was made by her son-in-law, C. B. Arnold, Bertram's father, a wealthy Chicago manufacturer.

Arnold and his wife, Mrs. Saxe's daughter, had spent the evening in Chicago and the boy had attended a church dancing class.

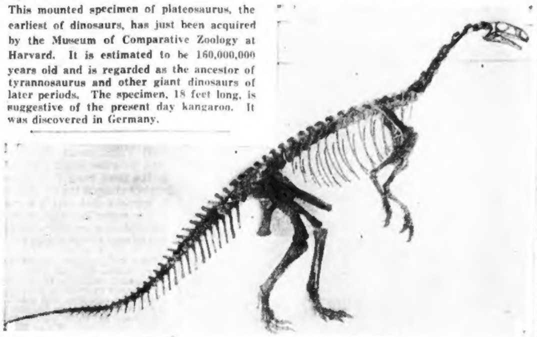
His father refused to believe the lad, known as a "model" though mischievous high school student, was in any way responsible for Mrs. Saxe's death. Relations between the woman and the boy had been nothing but friendly, he said, and he advanced the theory his son had been abducted.

Authorities first picked up the trial of the missing youth a few hours before his arrest when a Mount Carroll hotel owner reported that a boy answered his description and spent Saturday night in the hotel.

Soon after Mrs. Saxe's car, missing since the crime, was found abandoned near Mount Carroll. In it the authorities said were evidences of suicide intentions—a note scribbled by the boy and a piece of rope fashioned into a noose. The note was intended to to divert suspicion for the killing from himself, police said.

HOPPED AROUND 160 MILLION YEARS AGO

This mounted specimen of plateosaurus, the earliest of dinosaurs, has just been acquired by the Museum of Comparative Zoology at Harvard. It is estimated to be 160,000,000 years old and is regarded as the ancestor of tyrannosaurus and other giant dinosaurs of later periods. The specimen, 18 feet long, is suggestive of the present day kangaroo. It was discovered in Germany.



WHISK TROTSKY ACROSS FRANCE

Marseilles, Nov. 21 (AP)—Leon Trotzky, Russian exile, on his way from Turkey to Copenhagen, was taken off his ship outside the harbor here today and put ashore in a coastguard speedboat.

He was not permitted to linger, but left immediately by automobile for Lyons, where he will resume his voyage to Denmark.

Police were under orders to permit no one to approach him while he is on French soil.

$500,000 Worthy Estate to Relatives

Springfield, Nov. 21 (AP)—The will of Mrs. Helen M. Worthy of West Springfield, widow of Frank L. Worthy, former hotel man, filed today, provides for distribution of an estate of $500,000 to relatives. The property is mainly personal.

Harvard Dinosaurs Roamed Europe 160 Million Yrs. Ago

By GOBIND BEHARI LAL,

International News Service Science Editor

The first ancestors of all flesh-eating dinosaurs, a lizard-like monster 18 feet long, roamed about in central Europe 160,000,000 years ago.

Harvard University's Museum of Comparative Zoology has acquired the skeleton of this animal, it is announced by Thomas Barbour, director of the museum.

The particular species to which this monster creature belonged is known as Plateosaurus. Geologists call the age in which he thrived the Triassic period, 160,000,000 years or more ago.

This skeleton of this original dinosaur came to Harvard from Wurttemberg, Germany, where the various fragments of the skeleton lay strewn in ancient debris.

Dr. Barbour gives this sketch of Plateosaurus.

"This creature of the Upper Triassic Age, going back to some 160,000,000 years past, the age that saw the first rise of dinosaurs, mammals, modern coarls, was probably the first ancestor of all giant flesh-eating dinosaurs of the later periods.

"It is 18 feet long. But its successors, the Tyrannosaurus dinosaurs of the Cretaceous times, attained a length of as much as 48 feet. And the amphibious dinosaurs of the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods reached lengths of 90 feet or more.

"Our Plateosaurus had heavy hindquarters and a tail, used for supporting the body. His fore limbs were relatively short and were used like hands for seizing and holding his prey. He had sharp teeth. He ate reptiles, amphibians and like animals.

"He had five fingers and five toes."

'I KILLED 'EM. WHAT OF IT?'

Callous and defiant was young James (Iggy) Varecha as he confessed to Chicago police a three-day orgy of crime that involved at least three wanton slayings, a score of robberies, two attacks upon women and seven unprovoked shootings. Formerly the inmate of an institution for mental defectives, the youth said it was he who killed Frank Jordan and attacked 20-year-old Lillian Henry, niece of Deputy Police Commissioner John Alcock. Signing the confession, he said: "I am insane. You can't do anything to me." Here he is in Chicago's detective bureau. Doctors declare he is sane.

Earl of Lytton Sees Bigger Issue

Geneva, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Earl of Lytton, chairman of the commission whose report on the Manchurian situation will be debated by the League of Nations Council this week, declared in an address last night that the issue was much larger than whether China or Japan would control the future of Manchuria.

It was whether the principle of collective responsibility for maintenance of peace and justice shall be preserved or sacrificed, he said.

De Valera's Son May Be Candidate

Dublin, Irish Free State, Nov. 21 (AP)—President Eamon De Valera's eldest son, Vivian, may be a candidate for the Dail Eireann if, as was expected, the government decides to hold an election in Waterford and East Cork in the near future. He has already displayed gifts as a speaker.

12 Injured in Church

Warsaw, Nov. 21 (US)—Twelve worshippers were seriously hurt when the marble floor of the 250-year-old church of the Holy Cross gave way during mass and plunged scores into the deep cellar beneath.

Advertisement

COLDS
Break Up in a Jiffy
This Quick Way

Feel Like A New Man Almost Before You Know It

People have found out that newfangled ideas and notions don't break up colds. So millions have turned back to first principles and use what they know breaks up one in a jiffy.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Things will loosen up, your head will clear; aching go. Soon you'll start to feel like a new person.

Get Hill's now. It is a scientific formula made to do one thing well, to knock a cold—not to cure a thousand ailments. Get your money back if it doesn't work with twice the speed of anything you've ever tried.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

'CRAZY' SLAYER OF 3 'SANE'

"Iggy" Varecha, confessed killer of three men, attacker of two women and perpetrator of some 20 holdups, sat in a jail cell today, blithely boasting that the State could never succeed in "giving me the hot seat."

"I'll say I'm crazy," the young desperado coolly announced. "I've been sent to the Dixon Hospital twice and you can't get around that. I'm insane."

But the state already was laying the groundwork to combat any claim of insanity. Already it had the word of two well-known alienists that young Varecha is not only sane, but "of an advanced mentality." The two phychiatrists—Dr. Harry Hoffman, head of the criminal court behavior clinic, and Dr. H. Douglas Singer, chief of the mental staff of the Edward Hines, Jr., Veterans' Hospital—announced their findings after having the youthful criminal under observation for two hours while he recited his amazing tale of offenses against society.

"He is cunning," said the psychiatrists, "and if he was ever pronounced feeble-minded, he shammed that mental attitude."

Captured in a burlesque theater after he had vainly tried to buy a revolver with which to kill himself, Varecha, who claims to be 17, but who is much older, according to police, broke under the strain of 18 hours' grilling to admit he staged the reign of terror of last Wednesday night.

Dr. Browne Dies

Whitman, Nov. 21 (AP)—Dr. Percy Gilbert Browne, 63, Boston surgeon, and a descendant of Richard Browne, one of the original settlers of Newbury, is dead here.

RUTH JUDD IN PLEA FOR LIFE

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 21 (AP)—Oral arguments in the appeal of Winnie Ruth Judd from her conviction and death sentence for the murder of Agnes Ann Leroi began before the Supreme Court of Arizona today.

Mrs. Judd was represented by five attorneys. Attorney General H. Berry Peterson and his assistant, J. R. McDougal, presented the state's arguments.

Defense attorneys based their case on 12 separate assignments of error. Among the principal alleged errors, they cited the refusal of the trial court to give instructions on the law of self-defense as requested by the defense; the alleged refusal of the court to grant a new trial on the asserted disqualification of a juror, and the claim the court erroneously instructed the jury on Arizona law concerning insanity.

Mrs. Judd also is under indictment for the slaying of Hedvig Samuelson. No time limit on oral arguments is set by the court on capital cases.

Walker and Betty Secluded in Nice

Nice, France, Nov. 21 (INS)—Seemingly successful in his search for seclusion, former Mayor James J. Walker of New York was located today in a little old-fashioned hotel near nice.

Walker reached the hotel last night from Villefranche, informing the manager he wished to be left alone. Betty Compton, actress and close friend of Walker, is staying in the same hotel with her mother.

In New York...A
Homelike Welcome

Large enough for complete facilities, small enough for intimacy... located in the fashionable midtown residential district... convenient to the heart of things... The DEVON is constantly attracting new friends.

Hotel Warwick management insures dignified service standards and an unexcelled cuisine
For Reservations communicate with
J. E. FRAWLEY, General Manager

The DEVON
70 West 55th Street
NEW YORK

Give guesswork the gate

—if you expect long wear from your new suit and overcoat

Here's the quality "watch-dog" that leaves nothing to chance!

We don't trust our own eyes, here at Bond's! The old "look and feel" method of picking quality—mostly guesswork—is taboo! We insist on definitely knowing how far every dollar—yours and ours—will go. The Standard Abrasion Tester pictured above, accurately gives us the facts! It rubs fabrics to show how long they'll wear. We consider 5000 contacts equal to normal wear. But no fabric gets into Bond clothes unless it can stand 6500 rubs! That's more punishment than you'll ever give a suit or overcoat. "Give guesswork the gate"—and do the right thing by your appearance and your pocketbook.

Overcoats
Two Trousers Suits
$20 $25 $30

Use our new Ten Payment Plan
There are NO interest charges. Simply pay $5 at purchase, budget balance over ten weeks.

BOND CLOTHES
618 Washington St., at Essex
OPEN SATURDAY EVENING UNTIL 9

NEW TENOR IN "THE DUBARRY"

William Haines Takes Place Howard Marsh Vacates as Show Goes to New York

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

When "The Dubarry," following a two-week provincial test at our own Shubert, begins its New York engagement tomorrow night, there will be a new tenor in the ranks to succeed Howard Marsh. It has been reported that Mr. Marsh's retirement from the cast was not only abrupt and wholly unexpected but was also involuntary. In truth, Mr. Marsh retired by invitation. His successor is William Haines, whose first try at the role of Rene Lavallery was made last Friday night. Any rumors that Mr. Marsh sat in the front of the house that night and cheered are unfounded.

* * *

Howard Marsh

Now, while a good many honest and well-intentioned playgoers never permit themselves to get over-excited about the average run of light operatic tenors, the fact still remains that in the course of an eventful life in the theater Mr. Marsh has made a record of accomplishment that is hardly matched, and certainly not excelled, by any other singer whose specialty is love scenes and high notes. Many of his conquests are naturally forgotten by the man in the street, but it is well worth recalling that this actor-singer created the tenor role in what may now be looked back upon as the outstanding operettas of those times. These were "Maytime," "Blossom Time" and "The Student Prince."

* * *

Surprise to Star

The release of Mr. Marsh from further obligation to "The Dubarry" naturally arouses speculation in what we may term trade circles. Mr. Marsh frankly admits his own surprise and lets it go at that. Other stories are repeated that he was not personally pleasing to the operetta's brilliant star, Grace Moore, whose performance in the title role is above reproach. Quite incidentally, however, Mr. Marsh's performance during the week and a fraction that he struggled with brand new material, was also flawless, as viewed from an observer's seat in the front of the house. By any measure the incident becomes only a ripple in the drama's stormy seas; to Mr. Marsh it is an opportunity to once more take the helm in Gilbert and Sullivan revivals and again tickle Nanki-Poo's squeaky guitar and sing love tones in "The Mikado." Mr. Marsh, it may be remarked, is the thoughtful investor whose financial backing has made the Gilbert and Sullivan revivals possible.

* * *

DEPRESSION NOTE Howard Marsh, mentioned above, although without a job for the moment, is still the possessor of a lovely New Jersey estate, with two cars and a chauffeur, a gardener and all the other appurtenances of prosperity. And besides this, of course, he is the commanding, though silent, partner in the Civic Light Opera Company. He is more of a Pooh-Bah than a Nanki-Poo.

* * *

Subscription Plays

Plans for the second series of subscription plays by the American Theater Society are progressing slowly but, as Rebekah Hobbs insists, with dogged determination. As in the first series, there will be five plays, each of two weeks' duration at the Plymouth. The supplementary season will start on December 26. A tentative list of attractions is presented, but with no definite promise as to any of them. Among these are "Good Earth," which seems a possibility, "There's Always Juliet," "Criminal at Large," "Mademoiselle," which seems doubtful in view of its present popularity on Broadway; "Success Story," "A Trip to Pressburg" "Biography," and "When Ladies Meet." The latter, also, by reason of growing business, may be kept in New York.

* * *

* * *

A GOOD CAUSE Attention is called to a special matinee of "Whistling in the Dark" at the Plymouth tomorrow for the benefit of The Actors' Fund of America. There are no expenses attached to this performance. Every dollar taken in will be spent for the relief of sick and disabled actors.

Wynne Again Comes to the Fore on Screen

Wynne Gibson, who has a windfall of luck in the shape of a million dollars, cinematically speaking. She is in "If I Had a Million," coming to the Met's screen Thursday.

"THE CONQUERORS" FILM HIT

Sterling Acting and Sweeping Camera Action Are Features; Fred Stone Tops Stage Bill

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

When "The Conquerors" has finished its sweep across the RKO Keith screen, the audience breaks into more applause than we have heard accorded a movie in many weeks. Then in the flesh come Fred Stone and other sterling performers; again and again the house is demonstrative in emphatic fashion. It happens that this is a record attendance for the Memorial palace under its combination policy. That so many folk in so pronounced a manner evince their appreciation, is evidence of the quality of this week's program. It's the best in a long time.

* * *

"The Conquerors," paralleling to an extent the epic swing of "Cimarron," registers as one of the season's finer films, with distinction in direction and acting. It has Ann Harding; it has Richard Dix. In their hands the drama has power. It has Edna May Oliver; it has Guy Kibbee. In their custody the comedy is easy and wholesomely hearty. For director it has William Wellman, whose movies are always characterized by the deftest camera treatment. Because the theme is a saga of the nation's growth, speeding crisply and clearly through two generations, the picture is strikingly reminiscent of "Cimarron," and if less stirring, is yet impelling enough to be classed as true motion picture, and from the boxoffice appeal, a film "natural."

The story is necessarily episodic, a hamstringing handicap unless the lenses are versatile and quick and imaginative. But Wellman invigorates the journey of the pioneers westward, excites the action, makes tense the dangers of those early days, grandly paints the frontier and prairie stretches, and the newborn town wherein the adventurers set up their home. No stage play could achieve this, and no printed pages. Only the cinema can enact it in this realistic vein. The whole panorama of developments is reconstructed and made to live before us. Joy is here, and sorrow is often present; for this is life, with its smiles and its tears. Laughs pursue the "weeps," and pathos is on the heels of the fun.

The Cast

Roger Standish	Richard Dix
Caroline Ogden Standish	Ann Harding
Matilda Blake	Edna May Oliver
Dr. Daniel Blake	Guy Kibbee
Frances Standish	Julie Haydon
Warren Lennox	Donald Cook
Stubby	Harry Holman
Benson	Skeets Gallagher
Mr. Ogden	Walter Walker
Standish Twins	Wally Albright, Marilyn Knowlden

Wellman's touch is supreme in the forepart; later on, due to limitations of narrative, the picture is less great. Could it have held its pace to the finish, it would have won its niche as one of the screen's masterpieces.

The acting of the principals is almost flawless. Miss Harding, in a trying role, is human and admirable. In youth or age, she is mistress of her art. Dix is at his best. The others are superb, too.

On stage, it's pretty nearly an all round star bill. It's the spirit of vaudeville of the golden era. Fred Stone, with his daughter, Dorothy, and her husband, Charles Collins, would make any show worth while. Stone is one of the very best of all our stage talent; Miss Dorothy shines by her own rich talent, and Collins is one of the best dancers we have ever seen. Together the trio furnish a remarkably good act, one of Keith's creamiest kind.

If the audience is vociferous in keeping them busy, it gives almost equal response to Britt Wood, and to Art Frank; and the Ortons, and Dolinoff and the Raya sisters likewise come in for cordial favor.

Truly, a stellar bill, on the boards, and on the silver sheet.

Good Comedy in Erwin's New Film

By HARRIS MORGAN

Comedy and camera action balance the honors on the Fenway-Modern bill this week. Laughs come with "He Learns About Women," the first run movie, while "The Golden West" has the zip of a mighty good Western, with plenty of excitement and old-fashioned melodramtic doings.

"He Learned About Women" is farce, well enacted by Stuart Erwin, Alison Skipworth and Grant Mitchell, with Susan Fleming lending rare charm. Erwin inherits a fortune and starts out to "learn" life; he gets an earful and in his whimsical manner this sterling actor puts a flash of satire into the theme, and ever drains the humor from his lines.

Miss Skipworth again shows her talents, having the part of a veteran actress who becomes involved in the affairs of Erwin, whom she starts out to fleece, but whom she later befriends.

"The Golden West" is a Zane Grey narrative, featuring George O'Brien.

"Mr. Robinson Crusoe" on Bowdoin Square Bill

The Bowdoin is screening Douglas Fairbanks in "Mr. Robinson Crusoe" and "The Night Mayor." The vaudeville has Danny Cavanaugh as master of ceremonies, Vivian Haworth and Company, Les Jardys, Cunningham and Bennett, Foley and Rennie, and Gray and Company are on the bill.

Gentleness Is One of Her Many Graces

Viola Roache, who will be seen tonight in "The Chillingtons," opening at the Hollis.

Globe Trotter

After having been buried alive for 38 days, Happy "Slim" Jones is seen being taken out of his grave at Annapolis, Md., in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News, now at Loew's State. It is claimed that he remained buried longer than any other living person. During his long period underground, "Slim" was fed through tubes and grew a fancy beard.

The celebration of Mme. Schuman Heink's 50th anniversary as a song-bird in America, is pictured. The 72-year-old diva is presented with a solid gold plaque by Dr. Paul Schwarz, German consul in New York. She declares she is overwhelmed by the honor and then sings a selection by Brahms.

Movie Clock

LOEW'S STATE—"Prosperity"; p. m., 12:55, 3:05, 5:20, 7:35, 9:45.

GAYETY—"Blessed Event"; a. m., 9:50; p. m., 1:45, 5:40, 9:40.

UPTOWN—"I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang"; p. m., 12:45, 2:55, 5:10, 7:20, 9:35.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—"Prosperity"; a. m., 10:20; p. m., 12:35, 2:50, 5:05, 7:20, 9:35.

BOWDOIN SQ.—"Mr. Robinson Crusoe"; a. m., 9:10; p. m., 1:06, 5:02, 9:13.

METROPOLITAN—"Evenings For Sale"; a. m., 11:25; p. m., 1:55, 4:20, 5:30, 8, 10:25.

FENWAY—"He Learned About Women"; p. m., 2:07, 4:36, 7:15, 9:54.

MODERN—"He Learned About Women"; a. m., 9, 11:37; p. m., 2:14, 4:51, 7:28, 9:55.

FINE ARTS—"Tempest of Passion"; p. m., 1:30, 3:35, 5:40, 7:45, 9:50.

EXETER—"Thirteen Women"; p. m., 4, 6:15, 9:30.

RKO-KEITH—"Conquerors"; a. m., 9:50; p. m., 12:47, 3:50, 6:53, 9:46.

RKO-BOSTON—"Man Against Woman"; a. m., 10:59; p. m., 1:45, 4:31, 7:17, 10:03.

PARAMOUNT—"I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang"; a. m., 10:07, 1:25, 2:43, 5:01, 7:19, 9:37.

HOWARD—"Fight Pictures"; p. m., 3:30, 9:20.

SCOLLAY—"Sherlock Holmes"; a. m., 11:30; p. m., 2:40, 6:10, 9:50.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA Mon. and Tues.; "Night After Night"; a. m., 10:46; p. m., 1:31, 4:16, 7:01, 9:46.

BEACON—Mon. and Tues.; "One Hour With You"; a. m., 10:27; p. m., 1:16, 4:05, 6:54, 9:43.

Hilda Kates to Make Debut

Bachrach Photo.
Hilda Kates

Manager George Kraska of the Fine Arts presents a new artist, Miss Hilda Kates, who will make her Boston debut tonight at 9 o'clock, at the theater. The Emile Jannings film, "Stuerme Der Leidenschaft," or "Tempest of Passion," is the feature. Miss Kates has a novelty called "A Cinema Program," comprising vocal selections from various German films that have been shown at the Fine Arts during the past year, as well as some Negro spirituals. She will be accompanied by her teacher, Henry Gideon.

Her program will include arias from "Der Kongress Tanzt," "Das Lied ist Aus," "Liebeskommando," and the ever beautiful, "Zwei Herzen."

Stage Who's Who

Rex O'Malley

Rex O'Malley, in Romney Brent's comedy, "No Money to Guide Her," at the Wilbur, is English born, but has done most of his acting in this country. Graduating from Cambridge University, he made his stage debut in "Cyrano de Bergerac," latter appearing abroad in "Gabrielle," "Gypsy Princess," "Charlot's Revue," "Pelican," "Man from Toronto." His first American appearance was in "The Strange Prince"; since, among numerous plays, he has been seen on this side in "The Comic," "The Marquise" with Billie Burke, "Bachelor Father," "Wonder Bar" with Al Jolson. O'Malley is an accomplished pianist.

Amusements

A BETTER SHOW AT RKO

RKO KEITH'S

SUPREME STAGE & SCREEN SHOWS
RICHARD DIX AND ANN HARDING
In Radio Pictures' "THE CONQUERORS"
IN PERSON
FRED AND DOROTHY STONE
OTHER KEITH ACTS
Larry Flint & R-K-Olians
Pathe News
Buy R K O THRIFT BOOKS

KEITH BOSTON
"MAN against WOMAN" with JACK HOLT
New RKO Vaudeville Revue
6—STAR ACTS—6

LOEW'S STATE & ORPHEUM
Mass. Ave. Wash. St.
BATTLING MAMMAS-IN-LAW IN A MAD, MIRTHFUL MELEE
M-G-M presents
The Scream of the Screen
MARIE DRESSLER
POLLY MORAN
in 'PROSPERITY'
Reduced Prices Include Tax
9:00 A. M. to 12:30 Orpheum Only 25c | 12:30 P. M. to 5:30 P. M. 30c | AFTER 5:30 P. M. (Both Theatres) 40c-50c
Saturday Until 5:00 All Seats 30c After 5:00 40c-55c
Sunday—Until 5:00 P. M. All Seats 35c After 5:00 P. M. 40c and 55c
Fri.—JOAN CRAWFORD in 'RAIN'
Wednesday—Extra Late Show at Both Theatres Until Early Morning

THEATRICAL INFORMAL BALL TONIGHT
FEATURING RUDY VALLEE IN PERSON AND HIS CONNECTICUT YANKEES
DANCING 8.30 PM. to 2 AM
Personal Appearance of Prominent Stage Stars
TICKETS AT ALL THEATRES, TICKET AGENCIES & BOSTON GARDEN $1.10 TAX
BOSTON GARDEN

HOLLIS— TONIGHT, 8:20—Two Weeks Only
Evenings at 8:20—Wednesday and Saturday Matinees at 2:20
IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO NEW YORK
IRVING H. COOPER presents
THE CHILLINGTONS
A New Play by H. CAMPBELL-DUNCAN
With an All English Cast Including
LEO G. CARROLL — VIOLA ROACHE
JOHN BUCKLER — JOAN CARR
SIR JOHN DUNN — ANN TEWKSBURY
HANNAM CLARKE — CLEDGE ROBERTS
AND A CAST OF DISTINGUISHED PLAYERS
EVES. 50c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 WED. MATS. 50c, 68c, $1.00 SAT. MATS. 50c, $1, $1.50 Plus Tax

N. E. Premiere of This German Talking Film! Beg. Today
Anna Sten and Jannings in "Tempest" [STÜRME DER LEIDENSCHAFT]
SUPERIMPOSED ENGLISH TITLES
REDUCED PRICES 1 to 3 P. M. 25c; 3 to 6 P. M. 35c; After 6 P. M. 45c. Tax 5c. Total 50c; Children 15c
FINE ARTS STATE THEATRE BLDG.
"Rarity of the Cinema." Richard Watts
"Thoroughly convincing." Mordaunt Hall, N. Y. Times.

THE OLD HOWARD
Always Something Doing 1 Till 11. Playing the Traveling Attractions of the Empire Burlesque Association.
TOUCH-DOWN!
EXTRA—FAITH BACON IN PERSON
ALSO "LEGS & LAUGHTER" BURLESQUE
With Harry Myers, "Billie" Holmes, Angelus Lee
Take a peep at Faith Bacon, former star of Ziegfeld's "Follies" and Earl Carroll's "Vanities," a dream to gaze. The burlesque babes, too, shape up to the good.
CANZONERI-PETROLLE FIGHT PICTURES
The championship battle that was some bummer. Also pine Foster & Van, clever steppers, and Honan & Arden, speed duo. Talkies—"Tom Brown of Culver" with Tom Brown, also Tim McCoy in "Two Fisted Law." Always something doing 1 till 11 at the Old Howard.
MIDNIGHT SHOW, WED. (THANKSGIVING EVE.) AT 11:30 P. M.
MIDNIGHT SHOW FRIDAY AT 11:30 P. M.
REDUCED PRICES: ORCHESTRA CIRCLE, BALCONY, ADMISSION 40 CENTS

SHUBERT BEG. TUES. NITE
POSITIVELY 2 WEEKS ONLY
MARY BOLAND in IRVING BERLIN'S GREATEST MUSICAL COMEDY REVUE "FACE THE MUSIC" with A HUGE CAST OF BROADWAY FAVORITES and ALBERTINA RASCH GIRLS
PRODUCTION Staged by HASSARD SHORT
BOOK Staged by GEORGE S. KAUFMAN
SETTINGS by ALBERT R. JOHNSON
PRICES Within The Reach of ALL — NITES 50c to $3. PLUS TAX
WED. & SAT. MATS. 50c TO $2.

PLYMOUTH
MATS. FRI. and SAT. (No Mat. Thanksgiving Day)
LAST WEEK
LAST PERFORMANCE SAT NIGHT NOV. 26
ALEXANDER McKAIG PRESENTS
ERNEST TRUEX in the Topical Comedy called WHISTLING IN THE DARK
by LAURENCE GROSS and EDWARD CHILDS CARPENTER with THE ETHEL BARRYMORE THEATRE, NEW YORK CAST AND PRODUCTION
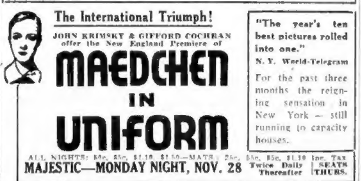
Staged by FRANK CRAVEN
Auspices American Theatre Society
EVES 50c to $2.50 - MATINEES 50c to $2. Plus Tax

PLYMOUTH—NEXT TUESDAY AT 2:30 P. M.
SPECIAL MATINEE
ERNEST TRUEX in "Whistling in the Dark"
FOR ACTORS' FUND RELIEF WORK
SEATS NOW — REGULAR PRICES

HURRY--LAST 8 TIMES!
THE SMASHING, HILARIOUS, TUNEFUL TRIUMPH
COURTNEY BURR'S New Revue
BEATRICE LILLIE — CLARK and McCULLOUGH in "WALK A LITTLE FASTER"
With BERNICE CLAIRE, EVELYN HOEY, JOHN HUNDLEY, DAVE AND DOROTHY FITZGIBBON, VON GRONA AND LENI BOUVIER, PATRICIA DORN, DONALD BURR, BERNICE LEE and many others.
Book by S. J. Perelman, Lyrics by E. Y. Harburg, Music by Vernon Duke, Production Conceived and Designed by Boris Aronson, Staged by Monty Woolley. All Dances and Ensembles Created and Staged by Albertina Rasch. Orchestra Directed by Nick Kempner. Orchestrations by Russell Bennett. Costumes by Kiviette and Le Maire.
MAJESTIC MATINEES WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY



The International Triumph!
JOHN KRIMSKY & GIFFORD COCHRAN offer the New England Premiere of MAEDCHEN IN UNIFORM
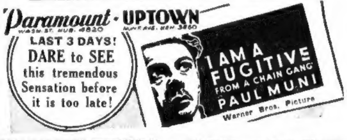
"The year's ten best pictures rolled into one." N. Y. World-Telegram
For the past three months the reigning sensation in New York — still running to capacity houses.
ALL NIGHTS: 50c, 85c, $1.10, $1.50—MATS.: 25c, 55c, 85c, $1.10 Inc. Tax
MAJESTIC—MONDAY NIGHT, NOV. 28 Twice Daily Thereafter SEATS THURS.

WILBUR TONIGHT at 8:25 ~ 2 Weeks Only
Season's Laugh Treat - It's a Riot!
BELA BLAU presents
"NO MONEY TO GUIDE HER"
By Romney Brent
With A Grand Cast
Violet Kemble Cooper - Rex O'Malley - Harry Ellerbe - Pierre Watkin - John Halloran - Jane Wyatt - Doris Rich - Harriet Eells - Marcel Journet Jr. - Raymond O'Brien
Directed by Mr. Blau ; Setting by Albert R. Johnson
All Eves. 50c to $2. Mats. (First Week) Thurs. (Thanksgiving Day) and Sat. 50c to $1.50 (Plus Tax), Mats. Thereafter Wed. and Sat.

LAST 3 DAYS METROPOLITAN
She Was Willing to Pay for One Glorious Evening of Romance and Love!
"Evenings for Sale"
A Paramount Picture—with HERBERT MARSHALL, SARI MARITZA, CHARLES RUGGLES, Mary Boland—George Barbier
All In Person!
GILDA GREY IN HER OWN DANCING REVUE 'Broadway Revels'
ART JARRETT America's Song Stylist
ROY CUMMINGS Assisted by Florence Roberts
DE RUES AND HOWE
THREE CROSBY BROTHERS
16 GORGEOUS SAVAGES
SEVITZKY-MARTEL
In the Grand Lounge DANCING—BRIDGE
COMING FOR 8 DAYS—Starting Thanksgiving Day
"IF I HAD A MILLION"—The Picture With 30 Stars
On the Stage—"MARDI GRAS," Glorious Carnival of 100 Artists



Paramount WASH. ST. HUB. 4820 • UPTOWN HUNT. AVE. KEN. 3860
LAST 3 DAYS! DARE to SEE this tremendous Sensation before it is too late!
I AM A FUGITIVE FROM A CHAIN GANG
PAUL MUNI
Warner Bros. Picture

FENWAY and MODERN
Alison Skipworth and Stuart Erwin
'He Learned About Women'
ZANE GREY'S "THE GOLDEN WEST"

SCOLLAY BIG SHOWS LITTLE PRICES
CONAN DOYLE'S "SHERLOCK HOLMES"
Clive Brook—Ernest Torrence
GIGANTIC VAUDEVILLE

PARAMOUNT PUBLIX NEAR HOME THEATRES

ALLSTON
ALLSTON STA. 4410 — Mat. 2-Eve. 8 Lewis Stone-Jackie Cooper "Divorce in the Family" "Night Club Lady" Adolphe Menjou-Skeets Gallagher
CAPITOL ALLSTON ASP. 0225-0226 — New Lower Prices "NIGHT AFTER NIGHT" Geo. Raft-Constance Cummings "Phantom of Crestwood" Ricardo Cortez-Karen Morley

CAMBRIDGE
CENTRAL SQ. UNIV. 0872 Smoking in Loge — Children's Eve. Price 15c "NIGHT AFTER NIGHT" George Raft-Wynne Gibson "THE ALL AMERICAN" With Richard Arlen and Football's Greatest Stars
PUBLIX HARVARD M. 2:30-E. 8 — EDWARD G. ROBINSON "TIGER SHARK" Maurice Chevalier "Love Me Tonight"

CHELSEA
OLYMPIA CHEL. 1861 M. 2-E. 7-11 — "The Phantom President" Geo. M. Cohan-Jimmy Durante-Claudette Colbert William Powell-Kay Francis "One Way Passage"

DORCHESTER
CODMAN SQ. TAL. 4040 FREE PARKING — "NIGHT AFTER NIGHT" George Raft-Constance Cummings "The All American" Richard Arlen-Jimmy Gleason
FIELDS COR. TAL. 3200 M. 2-E. 7-11 — Marlene Dietrich-Herbert Marshall "BLONDE VENUS" Jack Oakie-Sidney Fox "ONCE IN A LIFETIME"
MORTON GEN. 6300 M. 2-E. 7-8:30 — Marlene Dietrich "BLONDE VENUS" Richard Dix "HELL'S HIGHWAY" Tues. Eve. Thanksgiving Dinners to Lucky Patrons

DORCHESTER—Cont.
PUBLIX STRAND COL. 2000 M. 1:45-E. 8 — "Night After Night" Geo. Raft-Wynne Gibson "The All American" RICHARD ARLEN Eves. All Seats 40c

NEEDHAM
PARAMOUNT NEE. 1215 M. 25c-E. 40c — HAROLD LLOYD "MOVIE CRAZY" Dolores Del Rio-Joel McCrea "Bird of Paradise"

NEWTON
PARAMOUNT NEW. 4180 — Barg. Mat. Today 2:15, 15c "Phantom President" GEORGE M. COHAN Wm. Powell "ONE WAY PASSAGE"

ROSLINDALE
RIALTO Par. 3850 M. 2-E. 7-11 — MARLENE DIETRICH "BLONDE VENUS" Herbert Marshall-Dickie Moore "The Thrill of Youth"

ROXBURY
RIVOLI HIG. 0100 M. 2-E. 7-11 — George Raft-Constance Cummings "Night After Night" RICHARD ARLEN "The All American"
SHAWMUT GAR. 1370 M. 2-E. 7-11 — Marlene Dietrich-Herbert Marshall "BLONDE VENUS" "SPORTING AGE" Jack Holt-Evalyn Knapp Wed. Eve. Turkey Night

WALTHAM
PUBLIX EMBASSY WALTHAM WAL. 3840 — Geo. M. Cohan-"Schnozzle" Durante in "Phantom President" William Powell-Kay Francis "ONE WAY PASSAGE"

WATCH THIS DIRECTORY
PATRONIZE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

NEW GAYETY
1000 SEATS 15c ANY TIME
LEE TRACY—BLESSED EVENT
5 VAUDEVILLE ACTS 5
FIFI DORSAY-GIRL FROM CALGARY

EXETER The place where you forget your troubles
Harold Lloyd in "Movie Crazy"
Irene Dunne, Ricardo Cortez in "13 Women"

BOWDOIN 6 VAUDEVILLE ACTS IN PERSON
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "MR. ROBINSON CRUSOE" "NIGHT MAYOR," with LEE TRACY, EVALYN KNAPP
Com. Thurs.—"Phantom of Crestwood." "Texas Bad Man" "Texas Bad Man" in First Run in Boston

Louella O. Parsons' daily Hollywood news and other theater news and ads on page 2.

HARVARD LACKED ATTACK, AIR DEFENSE

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

FANNING

With GEORGE UNDERWOOD

The Turkey Day Treat. ↑ Eagles Vs. Crusaders.
Brown Vs. Red Raiders. | Big Title Mat Tilt.
Colgate's Slight Edge. ↓ Lutze Is Dangerous.

Brown Backs Advance a Mile in 8 Games

HARVARD AND YALE now are but a memory and New England now is sitting back and awaiting the clash of the Red Raiders of the Chenango and the Big Bruin in the Battle of the Great Unbeaten in Providence on Thanksgiving Day morning and next Saturday's duel between the Eagles and the Crusaders in Worcester. New England also will send a big football corps to New York to the Army-Notre Dame game. Last Saturday's football results will send Colgate into the fray a slight favorite over Brown, although there are plenty of fans in this neck of the football woods who believe the Big Bear will rout the Red Raiders just as he did Yale, Harvard, Holy Cross and Columbia. Brown's lustre, however, has been dimmed by Syracuse's tie with Columbia. Brown only won by a goal from touchdown from Columbia and virtually was outplayed by the Blue and White. Yet Syracuse, which was tame prey for an underwraps Colgate eleven, held Columbia to a tie. The Holy Cross-Manhattan draw also will help to make next Saturday's Holy Cross-B. C. game an even money proposition. A fortnight ago the Crusaders were a slight favorite over the Eagles, but B. C.'s victory over Fordham and B. U. and the Crusaders' defeat by a second string Harvard eleven and the draw with little Manhattan caused the Holy Cross stock to slump. Purple coaching troubles undoubtedly have affected the play of the Crusaders.

A FLOCK of local fans will attend the Brown-Colgate game for the Eastern championship at Providence on Thanksgiving morn and the Eagles-Crusaders duel in Worcester next Saturday, but football in Boston is about over. The Hub as usual will turn out to its time honored Thanksgiving Day scholastic games but football interest is on the wane and from now on the spotlight will center on wrestling and hockey. Tomorrow night the Bruins and the Blackhawks will throw out skirmishing lines in the Boston Garden and on Thursday will come the big world's championship match in which Henri DeGlane, of France, will defend his crown against colorful Nick Lutze.

ON PAPER NEXT Thursday night's big mat bout shapes up as one of the best wrestling cards in years. Lutze, a comparative youngster, has grown stronger and bigger since his last grapple with DeGlane and many good judges of wrestlers say that Nick has a mighty good chance of toppling the Frenchman from the throne. With his added strength and poundage, Nick this time may find his pet reverse body hold more effective against the powerful Frenchman than it was in their last meeting. DeGlane, however, has shown himself a real champion. Many say he is the greatest grappler since the palmy days of Frank Gotch. Although Henri is a reformed Graeco-Roman wrestler and, like most grapplers brought up under the Graeco-Roman cult, favors arm and headlocks and all holds above the waist, he took to the catch-as-catch-can game like a duck to water. The heavy muscled Frenchman is as fast on his feet as any of 'em and as tricky. They have been trying to wrest the championship away from DeGlane for a couple of years now but M'seu Henri has shown superior class against all comers. If any of the present crop of wrestlers is to "take" DeGlane, young, fast, powerful, courageous Lutze is the type. It would occasion no surprise if those who attend the big match under the auspices of Aleppo Temple of The Shriners in the Garden on Thanksgiving Night see a change in the title.

PLOWING ALMOST a mile in eight games through Yale, Harvard Holy Cross, Columbia, Springfield, Tufts and Rhode Island, certainly makes the Brown backfield stand out like a boil on a fat man's neck. There are 1760 yards in a mile. The Brown backs have advanced 1396 yards by rushing and 276 yards on forward passing for a total of 1672 yards. Averaging four yards per carry, Capt. Bill Gilbane has ripped off 388 yards alone. Bob Chase, averaging close to four yards per carry, went through the enemy's territory for 248 yards. In five games Joe Buonanno gained 294 yards, averaging 5.88 yards every time he toted the pigskin. Frank Gammino has not compiled the yardage gained by the other backs but in crucial periods he is the best ground gainer on straight line bucks in the Brown backfield. Gammino has averaged 3.36 yards per carry and Gilmartin 3.95.

BROWN MADE 79 first downs to their opponents' 60. Yale got 11 first downs to Brown's 10, and Columbia made 14 first downs to Brown's eight. Holy Cross and Brown were even on first downs, each getting 12. Most of Brown's first downs, however, were in sustained rushes. More games this year have been won by forward passing than anything else. Under modern football the attack and defense is checkmated on rush plays. Most of this season's touchdowns were scored or made responsible by forward passing. Brown was exceptionally strong in its passing, as shown by the fact that it completed more than one-third of its forward passes. In eight games Brown attempted 56 passes and completed 19 for a total gain of 276 yards. It is the Brown passes Colgate most will have to watch out for in the Big Battle of the Great Unbeaten next Thursday morning.

MANY BOSTON friends of Frank Stevens, Babe Ruth's pal and son of the country's biggest caterer, who has been ill in the Corey Hill Hospital here, will be glad to learn Frank is so well that he will leave for New York tomorrow to spend Thanksgiving with his family. Frank and Babe Ruth had planned to hunt deer and turkey in the Carolinas but Frank's illness caused a postponement. It is the first time in several years Babe and Frank have not gone into the woods together. Frank is hoping to be strong enough to get a deer hunt here in New England before the season closes.

The Football Roundup

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—The Carnegie Tech football squad boasts four captains of various sports this season. Bill Sample and George Kavel are co-captains of the grid squad, while Tom Coulter, track leader, and Jim Fergus, co-captain of basketball, also play football.

South Bend, Ind.—The Army-Notre Dame gridiron record stands at 12 victories for Notre Dame, five for army and one tie, but in points Notre Dame leads by only 192 to 167. "Hunk" Anderson, the Ramblers' coach, who carries on the tradition of pessimism adds: "When this year's figures are put into the book Saturday, Army is likely to make up all of the 25 points they are behind for the past 19 years."

Providence, R. I.—The scoring records show that Brown is to be regarded as the "defensive" team and Colgate as the "offensive" eleven when they meet Thanksgiving Day, but the Bruins have done a pretty good job of ground gaining themselves. In the eight games they have played, the Brown backs have advanced nearly a mile in the direction of the enemy goal.

Philadelphia—Nearly half of Pennsylvania's football players, 17 in all, will finish their Penn gridiron careers with the Cornell game Thursday.

GORDON SHOW TOMORROW

Promoter Charlie Gordon will hold his wrestling show tomorrow night instead of Wednesday night, with an all-star card. The main bout will bring together Ted Germaine, South Boston "Bad Boy," and Fred Bruno New York. In the semifinal, Mike Miller, U. S. Army, will meet Sahib Selbeg, Turkey, and Mephisto, Germany, will come to grips with Jack Morgan, Tufts College.

BROWN, ARMY FAVORITES IN BIG GAMES

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Brown and Colgate, Army and Notre Dame, Pitt and Stanford, Penn and Cornell, these four attractions top a small but highly select schedule this week in the East's parting shot at the 1932 football records.

Brown and Colgate at Providence Thanksgiving Day in a battle of undefeated and untied teams, upon the result of which the mythical Eastern title may well be said to rest. Colgate may be a slight favorite but that will not intimidate the Bruins, who spilled Yale, Harvard, Holy Cross and Columbia for their initial defeats this season.

ARMY FAVORITE

Army, beaten only by Pittsburgh this year, will occupy the somewhat unusual role of favorite over Notre Dame in their battle at the Yankee Stadium Saturday. Since that early loss to Pitt the Cadets have developed steadily in speed and power, reaching a peak in the 46-0 rout of Harvard. Notre Dame, also beaten by Pitt, has won from Kansas, Northwestern and Navy since then.

Pitt, still unbeaten although tied by Ohio State and Nebraska, will need all her guns to turn back Stanford on Saturday, for "Pop" Warner's disciples showed startling improvement in their scoreless draw with California last week.

Penn and Cornell renew their ancient rivalry at Philadelphia on Thursday. There will be no championship hopes at stake but this duel annually is one of the East's most spectacular and colorful rivalries.

CRUSADERS VS. EAGLES

Rounding out the Thanksgiving Day program will be the games between West Virginia and Washington & Jefferson, and New York University and Carnegie Tech as well as an intersectional struggle between Oklahoma and George Washington. On Saturday the annual strife between Holy Cross and Boston College will be renewed.

Among the smaller schools, the Thanksgiving Day program involves Franklin & Marshall and Gettysburg; Marshall and West Virginia Wesleyan; St. Thomas and Canisius; Catholic and Loyola; Albright and Ursinus, and St. Vincent and Davis and Elkins.

Washington College and Delaware are matched in a Saturday clash.

Brown Carded for Light Dummy Scrimmage Today

Providence, Nov. 21—Tuss McLaughry prepared today to send his Brown grid team through light dummy scrimmage in preparation for the battle here on Thursday between the unbeaten Brown and Colgate groups.

Colgate plays will be shown the Bruins this afternoon. The dummy scrimmage work tomorrow and light workout Wednesday will complete the drill for the crucial contest with the Red Raiders.

All the Bruins will be in top condition for Colgate. A few of the men have slight bruises, but these will be completely healed before Thursday. McLaughry has had his squad in perfect condition for each of its objective games, and the light work of this week is expected to send the men into action, on the holiday, at their peak.

It will be well for the Bruins to be fit, for all the reports out of Hamilton state that Colgate's squad is in ace condition for what should be one of the finest football games of this season.

JUMBO RETIRES CONTENT

All in all, Tufts' 1932 grid season may be counted as nearly a complete success as the college has enjoyed in many years. Beaten only once—and that by a whirlwind Brown team—the Jumbo of Medford did as well as the next in these parts, and a lot better than other Jumbos that might be mentioned.

Stopping Mass. State in a doggedly fought battle which constituted the ring-down at the Oval for this season, Tufts managed to add an extra flourish by bottling Louie Bush, the nation's high scorer.

It was a sad day for the much publicized young man from Amherst. He was far from conspicuous at any time in the game—and much of the rainswept embroglio he spent on his back under the impact of Tufts stoutly charging linemen.

State lived up to its reputation as a flashy and dangerous club only rarely, but there was enough to indicate that the State eleven was not too over-rated.

Everett Cardinals Beat Chelsea Club

The Everett Cardinals defeated the Prattville S. & A. Club of Chelsea by the score of 7-6 yesterday. Brilliant playing by Joe Moss and Jack and Leo Falzone won for Everett.

Michigan or Brown to Get Rose Bowl Bid

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 21 (US)—Michigan vs. Southern California for New Year's!

It was learned today that those in charge of planning the East-West football classic to feature the famous Tournament of Roses celebration on the first day of 1933 at Rose Bowl have opened negotiations with the Big Ten winner.

And what a dish for the new year!

Those who have undertaken the task of persuading the Eastern champions to come West, declare the attraction would prove the greatest arranged by the Tournament of Roses committee in a decade.

OHIO TROUNCED

The last Big Ten team to come to Pasadena was Ohio State. That was away back when—well, it was the year that the Golden Bears of California ran circles around the visitors and the great and only "Brick" Muller made his reputation.

Elimination of Minnesota by Michigan brought about negotiations to get the Ann Arbor aggregation to come West and take a little pot luck with the boys.

Should Michigan accept the tentative invitation, the situation would be an interesting one, for it was Michigan that played the first game of intersectional football ever achieved under Tournament of Roses auspices.

They will tell you, though, that it was an accident.

At the opening of the century, Michigan, barnstorming, sought and was rewarded the Pasadena New Year's game with Stanford.

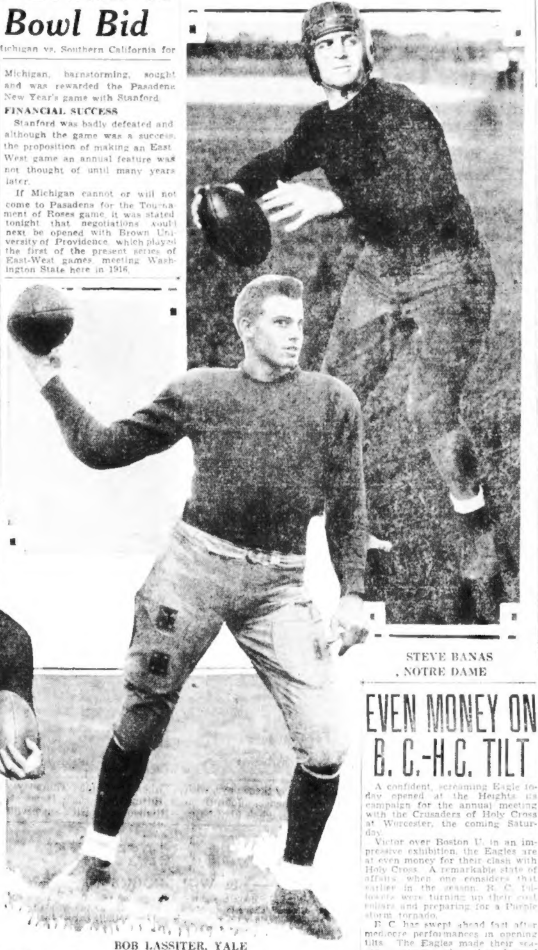
FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Stanford was badly defeated and although the game was a success, the proposition of making an East-West game an annual feature was not thought of until many years later.

If Michigan cannot or will not come to Pasadena for the Tournament of Roses game, it was stated tonight that negotiations would next be opened with Brown University of Providence, which played the first of the present series of East-West games, meeting Washington State here in 1916.

THREE ALL AMERICANS

ANDY PAVLICOVIC, FORDHAM



STEVE BANAS, NOTRE DAME

BOB LASSITER, YALE

When the experts talk of All-American material these days they just naturally mention these three Saturday's Children. Pavlicvic scored the touchdown that helped the Rams beat Oregon State. Lassiter was dynamite against Harvard. And Banas is an Irish star who aided in scuttling the Navy.

Syracuse, Manhattan Cross Up Experts

By RILEY GRANNON

Aside from the postponement of 22 games, nothing very startling in the college football world happened last Saturday.

In this section Boston College trounced Boston University soundly and Tufts put over a well-deserved victory against Mass. State by bottling up Louie Bush. The University of New Hampshire ran rough-shod over Conn. State, and Springfield went down to its second defeat of the season, losing to Rutgers.

Over in New York, Columbia was unable to click against Syracuse and Holy Cross failed to get going against Manhattan, with the result that there was no scoring in either one of these contests, crossing up the pre-game predictions which had Columbia and Holy Cross heavy favorites.

FORDHAM CLICKS

Fordham won its second intersectional contest of the year by defeating Oregon State by the close margin of two points, as a result of a safety in the fourth period. Army was obliged to call upon Felix Vidal against West Virginia Wesleyan and the West Point flash streaked 75 yards for the only touchdown. Pittsburgh was unable to score more than one touchdown on Carnegie Tech and won by that slender margin.

A field goal in the last half minute of the second quarter by Harry Newman, not only gave Michigan a victory over Minnesota but also the Big Ten championship, as the Wolverines are the only undefeated, untied team in the Middle West.

AUBURN MARCHES ON

The only game of any importance played on the Pacific Coast was the California-Stanford scoreless tie.

Auburn continued its march to the Southern Conference championship and retained its undefeated, untied record, by defeating the University of Georgia, 14 to 7.

In order to avoid a repetition of last year's results, Coach Hunk Anderson held many of his Notre Dame regulars on the sidelines Saturday when the Ramblers met Navy in Cleveland. As a result, Notre Dame scored only two touchdowns on the Middies. A year ago, Notre Dame beat Navy 20 to 0, but due to the terrific blocking of the Middies, the Ramblers were still suffering from the effects of this game when they took on the University of Southern California a week later.

Notre Dame will be in New York for the Army game next Saturday and Anderson profiting by what occurred last year elected to save his regulars for West Point.

B. U. CAMPAIGN VOTED SUCCESS

Boston University's 1932 football machine has been officially disbanded after winning two, tieing two and losing three games, which to the rabid grid fan is not a record to cause much cheering.

But as far as the Terriers coaches, players, athletic heads, and students are concerned, it's remarkable. And the histories show it is the best season Boston University has had in many years.

With a break in luck the Terriers would have ended their season with more victories than losses. In both tie games, B. U. was by far the superior team.

Dean Frederick Rand Rogers, head of all physical activities and Prof. Charles D. Giauque, director of athletics, are particularly enthusiastic and they have nothing but words of praise for Myles Lane and his assistants John MacMahmon and Tony Colucci.

There will be plenty of material available, provided the boys do not leave school or go on probation. The only regular definitely lost in the line is Danny Harrington. There is a chance that Call may be graduated, but it is slim.

The backfield will be hard hit as three of the regulars will be lost. Nemzoff will be the only ball carrier who started the Boston College game to return. There are, however, several capable reserves and three very promising youngsters in Warren McNamara, Theron Polychronides and Herb Breath coming up from the freshman team.

EVEN MONEY ON B. C.-H.C. TILT

A confident, screaming Eagle today opened at the Heights its campaign for the annual meeting with the Crusaders of Holy Cross at Worcester, the coming Saturday.

Victor over Boston U. in an impressive exhibition, the Eagles are at even money for their clash with Holy Cross. A remarkable state of affairs when one considers that earlier in the season, B. C. followers were turning up their coat collars and preparing for a Purple storm tornado.

B. C. has swept ahead fast after mediocre performances in opening tilts. The Eagles made their season a success when they downed Fordham, which had been a heavy choice to win. Now comes Holy Cross and if the B. C. can trip the Crusaders, Coach Joe McKenney will rate any miracle man titles the fans may donate him.

B. C. showed to better advantage against B. U. than at any time this year. The Maroon and Gold attack was strong, and the backs and linemen were carrying out assignments regularly. Joe Ryder accomplished so much in the backfield that he probably will have a berth in the starting backfield this week. Johnny Freitas at quarter, Pete Chesnulevich and Frank Maloney are the other backs who are likely to start.

Greg Sullivan and Ed O'Brien, centers; John O'Lalor and Gerry Stamin, guards; Bob Curran and Ray Harrington, backs are among the Eagles who are ready for flight after periods on the injured list.

With the squad practically at full strength, B. C. has an even chance against the Crusaders.

Army Team of '31 Toughest—Hageman

The Army team of 1931 was much tougher than that of this season in the opinion today of Capt. Carl Hageman of Harvard. His verdict was:

"For outright power, the 1931 team was the team. For smoothness, this year's Army was far ahead."

Hageman played against both teams. The Crimson defeated the West Pointers, 14 to 13, in 1931 and were trounced, 46 to 0 this year.

Facts You Might've Missed

The oldest sport in existence is jumping rope, heh heh . . . Goes way back to the time of the Romans . . . Ice skates came into use between the 10th and 11th centuries . . . To settle a bet made with Jockies Sande and Favor, George Walsh, a movie star of a decade ago once beat a horse in a footrace . . . the race was held around the four bases of a baseball infield . . . and Walsh won because the horse couldn't make the turns . . . Handball played in England is known as fives . . . And none of you shoot craps, of course, but if you want to know, the odds are 351 to 244 against the caster . . . Football has been successively played by teams of 15, 12 and finally 11 players . . . There has never been a world's championship checker match . . . the first player to wear a baseball glove was Allison, Cincy catcher in 1869 . . . A. A. U. rules prohibit swimmers from wearing oil or grease in a meet . . . Golf was a going concern in Savannah, Ga., as early as 1796 . . . And for fifty years, starting in 1800, nary a pill was smote off the tee there . . .

YALE'S GAME BEST OF SEASON

By BILL GRIMES

Inability to defend against aerial attacks and a lack of variation in its own offense were responsible for Harvard's defeat by Yale.

Harvard has been lamentably weak defending against forward passes all season, due to the absence of football instinct on the part of their secondary players. Also it has failed to show any worthwhile deception in its running attacks, having placed practically all of its eggs in one basket, carried by Jack Crickard.

Despite the wretched playing conditions, Yale was more formidable than in any other game this season. The Elis put on a powerful running attack from single wingback formation of the Notre Dame type.

SULLIVAN GAMBLES

Yale knew that Harvard was weak on forward passes "down the corridor" and early in the first quarter Pat Sullivan, the Eli quarterback, discovered a soft spot in the right side of the Harvard line. Fortified with this knowledge, Sullivan went to work, and on second down, after Yale had recovered an excusable fumble by John Dean, Bud Parker took a pass from Bob Lassiter right out of Danny Wells' hands, and six plays later Yale had scored.

Sullivan took a long gamble when he called for this pass, as the ball was so slippery as to be almost uncontrollable. However, Lassiter's throw was not only beautifully timed, but right on the mark.

Although Jack Crickard was Harvard's most consistent ground gainer and did most of the ball carrying, Art Barrett, the Portsmouth, N. H., boy, gave a fine account of himself while ripping through the Yale line the few times he was called upon. As Crickard was a marked man, Harvard might have met with better success had Barrett been called upon to carry more frequently.

The more one thinks of the playing conditions, the more one marvels at Yale's exhibition. The Elis were practically given up as hopeless after the Army game, at which stage it had not won a ball game, causing Head Coach Mal Stevens to order a general shakeup.

At mid-season Yale junked Gil Wright and Johnny Overall, its regular ends, and its two heavyweight guards, Dick Barnum and Bill Bronkie, while Joe Johnson, the first string center, was forced out by a concussion. Bob O'Connell replaced Wright at left end and Bud Parker, the regular quarterback, was assigned to right end, while Al Converse, who weighs only 157 pounds, and Ed Nichols went in as the varsity guards and Pat Sullivan took over the quarterback berth.

TACKLES SAVE ELIS

Yale gives credit for its comeback to Converse and Nichols, but it was the remarkable tackle playing of Captain John Wilbur and Clare Curtin, the 225-pound giant from North Abington, that stopped Harvard. Captain Wilbur was the outstanding lineman in Saturday's conflict. He turned in one of the best games ever seen in the Yale Bowl, by either crashing into the Harvard backfield to nail Harvard runners or fading along the line of scrimmage to bring down opponents.

On forward passes, Wilbur and Curtin never missed their assignments, which were to check the Harvard ends and then slow up any other eligible receiver attempting to get beyond the line of scrimmage in their immediate vicinity. By checking the Harvard ends, Wilbur and Curtin ruined the timing of Harvard passes, seven of which failed because the receivers were unable to get in position to complete the hook-up.

The only successful Harvard forward pass was a back of the line toss, which went for a gain of four yards.

Even with the cards stacked against him, Jack Crickard wound up his college football career in a blaze of glory. Handicapped by a slippery field, Crickard was unable to shake himself loose as often as expected, but he was always dangerous.

MICHIGAN HAS 3 ON 'ALL' TEAM

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—The all-star Big Ten football teams as selected for the Associated Press by coaches and outstanding critics for 1932:

FIRSTEAM

Moss, Purdue, de; Wells, Minnesota, lt; Kabat, Wisconsin, lg; Bernard, Michigan, c; Gailus, Ohio State, rg; Rosequist, Ohio State, rt; Williamson, Michigan, re; Newman, Michigan, qb; Hinchman, Ohio State, lh; Berry, Illinois, rh; Horstmann, Purdue, fb.

SECOND TEAM

Robinson, Minesota, le; Wistert, Michigan, lt; Letsinger, Purdue, lg; Oehler, Purdue, c; Varner, Ohio State, rg; Cassels, Chicago, rt; Petoskey, Michigan, re; Pardonner, Purdue, qb; McGuire, Wisconsin, lh; Purvis, Purdue, rh; Manders, Minnesota, fb.

BELMONT, BROCKTON LEAD SCHOOL PARADE

EACH UNBEATEN UNTIED WITH GAME TO GO

By BILL CONNELL

Brockton and Belmont school elevens, unbeaten and untied, are ready today to start their final drive for the Thanksgiving Day duels after hanging up Saturday victories.

It's just an old schoolboy custom now for the above teams to knock strong foes into the discard each week-end.

Belmont with George Ford, Leo Ecker and company working smoothly on a rainsoaked field, showed its power again by literally swamping Stoneham. And clinching the Middlesex League title.

FORD EFFECTIVE

True, Stoneham isn't the most powerful team in Greater Boston, yet Belmont's ability to function under very bad conditions indicates its class. George Ford was as effective in the mud as he has been all season on fast footing.

George and his pals are going to make Thursday a. m. a very unpleasant period for Watertown when that team goes to Belmont.

Quincy trailed Brockton But only by one touchdown and the great stand of Jim LeCain's boys against the Shoe City juggernaut was one of the gamest struggles of this year.

Al Brasso arched a perfect pass to Johnny Grigas for the tally which kept Brockton out of the untied column.

But even all these brilliant performers and the fine reserves may not be able to carry Brockton through safely for Waltham invades the Shoe City Thursday.

WALTHAM UNDERRATED

For Waltham, one of the underestimated elevens of the season, was edged by Revere by only a touchdown Saturday last. The Watch City team is strong. It can if it plays its best football, suprise Brockton.

In a rather dull game, Lynn English bowed to Somerville. English was without the peppy Morris Shaffer, but expects to have him back for the game with Classical on Thursday.

With Shaffer in condition, English will have a very good chance against Classical.

Somerville entertains Rindge on the holiday. Rindge will be the favorite, mainly because of its great Vito Ananis in the backfield.

BRILLIANT CARD

There is no Monday layoff for the teams which played Saturday. The teams which rested also join in the final drive.

The Thanksgiving Day games of this year form the outstanding list of school frays of the past decade.

Week's School Card

TODAY

Boston Trade vs. Mechanics at Fenway park. Vermont Academy at Clark school.

TOMORROW

South Boston vs. East Boston, and Hyde Park vs. Jamaica Plain at Fenway park. Dean Academy at St. John's Prep.

THURSDAY

Arlington at Melrose, Athol at Gardner, Beverly at Salem, B. C. H. at Cambridge L., Bridgewater at Middleboro, Brookline at Newton, Chelsea at Everett, Clinton at Maynard, Dedham at Norwood, Dorchester at Commerce, English at aLatin, Gloucester at Amesbury, Haverhill at Manchester, Hingham at Weymouth, Hopkinton at Ashland, Hudson at Marlboro, Immaculate at St. Charles, Keith Academy at St. James, Kingston at Hanover, Leominster at Fitchburg, Lexington at Concord, Lowell at Lawrence, Lynn Cl. at Lynn, Eng., Marblehead at Swampscott, Medfield at Millis, Medford at Malden, Milford at Walpole, Mission at Saugus, Natick at Framingham, O. Ames at Mansfield, Provincetown at Hyannis, Quincy at Taunton, Reading at Danvers, Rindge at bSomerville, Rogers at DeLaSalle, St. Clement at St. Mary, St. John's at Newburyport, Stoneham at Methuen, Stoughton at Canton, Waltham at Brockton, Watertown at Belmont, Wellesley at Needham, aWinthrop at Peabody.

aPlayed at Fenway park.
bPlayed at Tufts oval.

National League

AMERICAN DIVISION

	W	L	T	Pts	Goals For	Goals Agt
BOSTON	2	1	1	5	10	7
Chicago	2	1	1	5	7	6
Detroit	2	2	0	4	9	6
Rangers	2	1	0	4	13	6
CANADIAN DIVISION
Montreal	2	2	0	4	10	9
Toronto	1	2	1	3	6	13
Americans	1	2	1	3	8	13
Canadiens	1	2	1	3	6	13
Ottawa	1	1	0	2	3	2

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS

New York Rangers 7, Toronto 0.
Chicago 2, Canadiens 1.

GAMES THIS WEEK

Tomorrow—Chicago at Boston Bruins, Canadiens at Detroit, Montreal at Americans.

Thursday—Ottawa at Montreal, Canadiens at Toronto, Chicago at N. Y. Rangers.

Saturday—Ottawa at Boston Bruins, Montreal at Toronto, Chicago at Canadiens.

Sunday—Toronto at Detroit.

Canam League

	W	L	T	Pts	Goals For	Goals Agt
BOSTON	3	0	2	8	18	11
Philadelphia	2	0	2	6	9	5
Springfield	2	2	0	4	13	11
Providence	1	3	0	2	8	12
Quebec	1	1	0	2	5	5
New Haven	0	3	0	0	4	10

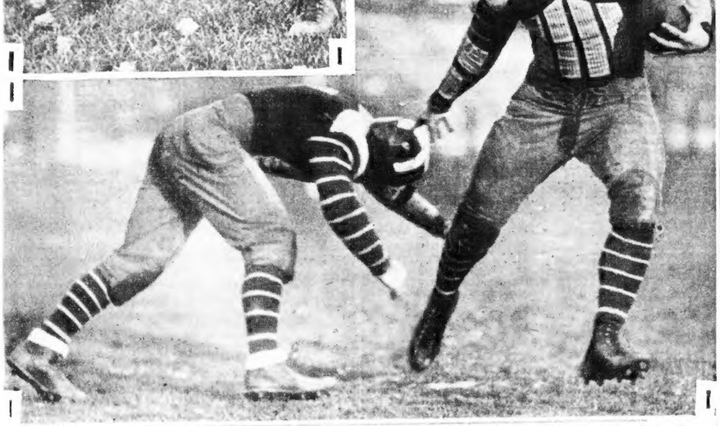
LAST NIGHT'S RESULT

Boston 3, New Haven 1.

BOYS TALKIN' TURKEY

JOHN BRASSILL, JR., BOSTON LATIN

VITO ANANIS, RINDGE TECH



Schoolboy gridmen certainly are talkin' turkey these days, with the Thanksgiving Day duels just three days hence. John Brassill, Latin wing star, is all set to spill the English high boys, whom he'll face Thursday. Brilliant Vito Ananis, is shown flitting past some teammate in scrimmage practice for the Rindge game with Somerville.

Bush, Auburn, Colgate Share Scoring Honors

Lou Bush, of Massachusetts State, apparently has clinched the national individual football scoring championship.

The leader in each of the nation's 10 leading groups or conferences, according to the Associated Press, follows:

Players and College	G	Td	Pat	F	To
East—Bush, Mass State, hb	9	19	0	0	114
Big 6—Graham, Kan St, fb	8	13	7	0	85
S. I. A. A.—Broderick, W. Kentucky, Tchs, hb	8	14	0	0	84
So'west—Oliver, Te Chr, hb	10	12	0	0	72
South—Zimmerman, Tulane, hb	7	11	4	0	70
Midwest—Monnett, Mich St, hb	7	8	21	0	69
Rocky Mt.—xChristensen, Utah, fb	6	6	16	1	57
Missouri Valley—Gordon, Creighton, hb	8	9	0	0	54
Big 10—Manders, Minn, fb	8	6	7	0	43
Pacific—Griffith, S Cal, qb	7	7	0	0	42

xCredited with automatic safety as team's captain.

Sixteen of the nation's hundreds of college football teams still could boast undefeated records today, but only eight had escaped one or more ties.

Casualties during the past week were comparatively light as only three schools—Temple, DePaul and Waynesburg—were eliminated from the unbeaten list.

The list of undefeated untied teams as compiled by the Associated Press follows:

	Won	Tied	Points For	Points Agt
Auburn	9	0	255	54
Colgate	8	0	243	0
Centenary	8	0	183	26
Jefferson Univ., Tex.	8	0	179	41
Michigan	8	0	123	13
Valparaiso, Ind.	7	0	182	31
Southern California	7	0	182	31
Brown	7	0	81	24

TRADE TAKES ON MECHANICS

School football makes its final stand this week, with Boston games today and tomorrow and the usual fine Thanksgiving Day program of traditional conflicts on Thursday morning.

Trade and Mechanic Arts were billed to open festivities today at Fenway park, with the powerful Trade eleven the favorite. Tomorrow East Boston tangles with South Boston at Fenway, in a game which will attract many customers, while Jamaica Plain and Hyde Park battle at Huntington field, Kent st., Brookline.

One of the annual prep school classics is listed tomorrow, with Dean Academy going to Danvers, to tilt with St. John's prep.

Thursday morning the Boston schools' double bill at Fenway park probably will attract the largest crowd. Dorchester and Commerce open the card at 9:30, and Latin and English start their fuss at 11 o'clock.

Pro League Standing

	Won	Lost	Tied	P. C.
Green Bay	8	1	1	.889
Portsmouth	5	1	3	.833
Chicago Bears	3	1	5	.750
New York	3	5	1	.375
BOSTON	2	4	2	.333
Brooklyn	3	6	0	.333
Chicago Cardinals	2	4	2	.333
Stapleton	2	6	2	.250

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Portsmouth 10, Boston 0.
New York 6, Green Bay 0.
Chicago Bears 20, Brooklyn 0.
Stapleton 21, Chicago Cardinals 7.

Fish and Game

By WIN BROOKS

In the rain at dusk the gaunt trees glisten and all the alder run's a shower bath. There is no place as eerily still as the woods in rain. Under foot the fallen leaves form a sodden, springy carpet that makes no sound. And out ahead the dog, drenched but eager still, quarters the cover like a white phantom.

He makes game suddenly, quickens pace. Slows to a walk, flag snapping straight behind. The flag comes taut; the dog holds steady. It is the last point of the season, not too stylishly done, both forefeet grounded, head thrust forward and down near an alder clump.

Suddenly there is a heart-thumping brill of wings, and out ahead, glimpsed momentarily as a hurtling shadow, a dark shape leaps and is lost to view. The last flush —wild. Good luck!

"At heel!" The dog half turns, questioning, reluctant. "At heel!" And in he comes. The dark comes swiftly. In the rain the gaunt trees lose their glisten, and it is dark, and very wet.

* * *

But we still have the rabbits . . . And we still have another month of the ducks, the geese and the brant . . . And in a couple of weeks we'll have our annual deer season . . .

* * *

George Lawley, the yacht builder, is back from a Maine gunning trip that is a little out of the ordinary . . . A friend accompanied him and each used the same old rifle owned by Charles C. "Cap" Hanley, famous racing skipper and boat builder, now in his 86th year . . . They took turns with "Cap's" rifle and it stood up to his predictions for accuracy and good luck . . . Each killed his deer.

* * *

Francis Pat Hamlin, Milo, Me., guide of considerable reputation, writes Frank Turner, who is heading down East the first week in December, to the effect that deer are plentiful, but very wild in the region of the Katahdin Iron Works . . . And that there are more gunners in the Maine woods than ever before to his knowledge . . .

* * *

H. Brewster, Boston sportsman, and H. E. Davis of Haverhill, are back from New Brunswick with their limit of big game, two bull moose, three buck deer and a doe . . . The moose and deer season closes in the province one week from Wednesday . . .

* * *

You can put in your pipe and smoke it, or discard it all together, but a Minnesota hunter reported to the game commissioner that the deer are so bold there one bit a plug of tobacco in his pocket while he waited at a run . . .

PERES AGAIN BEAT FITTONS

Tony Plansky's burly figure, cracking over for a touchdown in the second period, provided the tally which gave the Pere Marquette football team its second victory of the season over the Fittons at Braves Field.

There were 5000 of the faithful followers of the teams at the Wigwam for the Christmas Basket Fund conflict. The size of the crowd was a tribute to the charity involved and to the popularity of the teams, for the breezes were chill enough to satisfy the most hardened Arctic explorer.

Plansky, perennial hero of the South Boston eleven's backfield, calmly dropkicked the point after, thus making it a perfect p. m. for his hard working mates with the 7-0 margin.

Plansky's work was not the sole feature. Great line play by Warren McGuirk, tackle; Billy O'Leary and Charley Peck, backs, snatched a lot of the glory of the day's play for the Peres. Not to mention Jim Wallis, whose 25-yard jaunt put the Peres on the spot for the scoring drive.

Jackie Fisher and Les Griffin in the carrying division, and Ends Tony Collucl and Jim Cavilieri kept the Fittons in the game. Their efforts kept the play so close that only a very few of the customers deserted the orchard before the windup.

STAR AMATEURS IN TOURNEY AT ARENA

The class of New England's amateur boxers will let their punches fly at an Irish-American A. C. show at the Arena tonight.

There will be bouts at 118, 126, 135, 147, 160 and 175 pounds and in the heavyweight division.

George McKinley of Revere, brilliant 118 pounder, and Jimmy McCarron of Somerville, a 135 pounder, are among the boys who will appear in action.

The entries:

AT THE BOSTON ARENA

118-POUNDS CLASS

John Cunningham, Al Kerr, Harold Turner, Joe Ricci, Rico Etmini, Bobby Bullock, Steve Norkiewicz, Angelo Blanco, Tony Arena, Albert Bruelle.

135-POUNDS CLASS

Joe Young, Gene Caggiano, Tony Bent, Charles Casey, Johnny Studly, John Carnsone, Tony Gonven, Eddie Milson, Jimmy McCarron, Al L'Heureux, Sylvio Manzi, Herbert Carson, Joe Monte, Leonard Shore, Philip Tepper, Joe Mullen, G. Fitzpatrick.

147-POUNDS CLASS

Ernie Silva, John Young, Joseph Horreal, Tommy Amore, Dorris Douzat, Jimmy Murphy, Joe Gelinas, Ray Goodwin, Tony Falano, Jack Marcellino, Larry Carter, Eddie Rossi, Dave Webster, Benny Arrevendo, Pete Concannon, P. Parachesky.

160-POUNDS CLASS

Roderick McManus, John Monte, Charles Rozen, Guy Mareaghib, Joe Marsh, Victor Boraca, Billy Edmands, Milford MacCleveave, Leo Passero, A. Volpe.

175-POUNDS CLASS

Hildreth Erikson, Frank Wilson, John Ryan, Natale Quarterone, Hugh McDonald, John Astramaka, Walter Carley, Pat O'Hanlon.

HEAVYWEIGHTS

Frank Millis, Budda LeClaie, Mike Kole, Jake Eagle, Joe Bullock, Edward Duncan, Oscar Cormier.

PIRATES MEET TOWN FIVE

The Quincy Pirates and the Winchester Town team will be opponents in a roller-polo battle at the State Roller Rink, Revere, tomorrow night.

In addition to the regular polo league, Gene McCarthy, president of the local polo league, is organizing a league for school teams.

Both the Pirates and the Winchester Town five include able stick wielders in their rosters, and tomorrow's battle will see plenty of action—or faces on the ballroom floor, if you prefer.

MOURNS DEATH OF CUTTING

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Herbert H. Ramsay, retiring president of the United States Golf Association, said today that the death of Robert M. Cutting of Chicago, nominated to succeed him, "came as a terrible shock."

"In the administration of the game in this country he was a leading figure for several years," Mr. Ramsay said. "His influence will be sorely missed."

Mr. Cutting, long prominent in Western golf circles, was made a member of the executive committee of the U. S. G. A. in 1929 and elevated to a vice-presidency in 1930.

Mr. Cutting's death was the second which has come to a nominee for the presidency of the U. S. G. A. before election. In 1927 Charles O. Pfeil of Memphis, Tenn., died two weeks after his nomination. In the U. S. G. A., nomination by the nominating committee always had been tantamount to election.

SO WHAT?

By JOE MOONEY

It develops that Prosperity wasn't around the corner at all. She was a night school student at B. U.

Keeping the fists strictly in their pockets, the B. U. officials managed to handle 14,531 customers and finish $600 out in front.

In comparison with last year, in fact, the Terriers are so far out in front they're half way across Boylston st. and headed for Dorchester Bay.

There'll be 14,531 assistants ready to help carry the treasurer's purse today.

Might spend it for a little improvement around the college. The boys could use an extra front step on the campus.

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

JACK CONWAY was reading a letter when I popped in on him today. Here it is:

"The Police Department pensioned Inspector Edward T. Conway, your dad. I believe you, his son, should know of the feelings that the younger men of the inspector's office had for Ned Conway (he was Ned to us and not inspector, for he was one of us).

"The younger men requested that this letter be written to you so it is not from me alone. When the then new Police Headquarters was opened in 1926 and the younger men were transferred from the various stations to the Inspector's office and others who have followed from time to time, it was your dad who took us in hand and instructed us as to the proper police procedure and above all, to be truthful in our testimony and humane in our treatment for an arrested person was the same as we were except that they were less fortunate.

"In closing, I want to state that although Inspector Conway is no longer with us in person, I want you and him to know he can look back and feel proud of the deeds he has done in instructing the younger men in their work, and like all good police officers when a good "pinch" is made, he can honestly say he aided in the arrest, although his name is no longer on the blotter.

"We all hope he lives to a ripe old age, and will never have one unhappy moment for the rest of his years on earth.

"Good luck.

(signed) JOHN D. HOLMES,
Sergeant, B. C. I."

* * *

"It is splendid to get a letter like that," said Jack. "Of course my dad instructed the younger men in the department to be truthful in their testimony and humane in their treatment of prisoners. My dad was always truthful. He felt it was the duty of an arresting officer not to try to build up his case. Let the court and the jury have the facts, he would say. It is their job to do the deciding.

"My dad had a notion that a police officer who was not humane in the treatment of prisoners was also a coward. He once told me he wouldn't care to have such a type of man with him on a big job where there might be some shooting.

"It's the same in sports. The fellow who starts breaking the rules is usually a quitter.

"When I was quite young and very new to this newspaper business, I used to be a police reporter. If one of my sons were to enter the newspaper business, I would also like him to receive training as a police reporter. One gets a real schooling in the gathering of news while making the rounds of the station houses, sitting in during the sessions of the lower courts, popping into the office of the district-attorney, visiting the hospitals, jails, fire headquarters and covering every important fire in town.

"No wonder fellows like Johnny Noonan, Frank McLean, Tip O'Neill and Johnny Sullivan can find their way around town without a guide. They are the best of the police reporters.

* * *

"YET IT WASN'T the story about the street car that plunged into the water on Summer street extension with its precious passengers, the general alarm fire in Chelsea that destroyed a city, the numerous daring jail breaks or some famous murder trial that impressed me most in those days.

"It was the affection with which I was received by the oldtimers who had worked with my dad. They didn't have to tell me he had arrested as many men for major crimes like murder, robbery, breaking and entering in the night time and grand larceny as any man in the department, or that he never brought a boy 18 years of age into court, believing that a good talk and proper home correction could care for such cases. I knew all that.

"But I did get a thrill as they told me how he would always insist upon being the first man to step into a room where bank robbers or murderers were in hiding. And my heart beat a little faster as they related how my dad cornered four bank robbers in the South End, and entered a room where the dresser was covered with bottles of nitro-glycerine. And how with a bottle of this deadly explosive in one hand he made the robbers march to the station house on the threat he would throw the bottle of nitro-glycerine at them.

"And yet the old-timers always told me that when these men had served their sentences my dad was always the first to help them. He wouldn't stand for anybody trying to railroad them back to prison."

* * *

MR. BOSTON, interrupted Jack, I knew your dad well. He may be 68 years of age, but he is still in fine physical condition. In fact, I guess you have more gray hairs than he has. He's got fists like steel. Jack Sharkey once told him he would give a lot of money to have hands as good.

They tell me that when your dad retired Police Commr. Hultman told him he regretted he was leaving the service as he considered him one of his best officers. He insisted that he keep his inspector's badge and other police equipment.

"You're still one of us," said the commissioner, in parting. "And drop in frequently, because we may need your help and advice."

'NEWT' WILDER WINS CORUM'S APPROVAL

By BILL CORUM

The Columbia-Syracuse game having been played entirely in blackface and to a nothing-nothing tie, there is not much to be said about it now, 48 hours later. It occurs to me, however, that it will be a long time before the young men who played in it ask for a mud massage in a barber shop.

As each one came off the field toward the sparsely peopled stand, you fully expected him to drop to one knee and break into "Mammy." Or at least "Alma Mammy." But though Syracuse had two Singers in its lineup, W. and M., the game produced no Jolson or Cantor.

As for those of us who sat through it in a wind-whipped rain, either for pay or what some folks aparently call fun, we have agreed to meet at the same place on the same date next year and solemnly celebrate our escape from death by pneumonia.

IDEA HAS MERIT

There was the gentleman, for example, who attempted to attend in his B. V. D.'s. With an idea perhaps of setting a new and novel fashion in football costumes. And it is an idea that has some merit. On a warm afternoon in October I might even endorse it. Not personally, understand. But if it became universal there is no denying that it would add a certain something to these autumn football spectacles. It would also add spice to the lives of hard-worked football writers.

I am deeply sorry to report that the gentleman who took some host at his word and came just as he was, did not quite get to the game. Just before he hove into general view he was apprehended by the gendarmes and dragged into the dressing rooms, where he plainly belonged. Not before, however, he had got a thorough wetting both galloping about in the rain and sitting happily in every mud muddle he came upon. Just one of those big, overgrown boys, I guess.

Now I come to Newell Wilder, Columbia center, whom I really proposed to start with. Newell Wilder of Medford, Mass., may not be the all-American center. All I know is that this young man would be plenty good enough for my football team.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Wilder is not a player you have to be warned to watch. He takes care of that the easy way. He makes you watch him.

"Don't follow the ball," some tell you, "keep your eye on those linemen, that's where the game is played—in the line."

All right, if that's the way you feel about it. But you can follow the ball and still Wilder. He follows the ball, too, and he gets to it, or rather the fellow lugging it, with as much despatch and decisiveness as anybody you are apt to see around.

Newton discovered that if you drop an apple out of a tree it will fall. That's gravity. "Newt" discovered that if you hit an apple-knocker hard enough, he'll faill. That's football.

And by apple-knocker I do mean a young man of Cornell or Syracuse or Brown or Princeton. It's just a figure of speech, please believe me, gentlemen. My own quaint way of saying very little in a great deal of space.

.614 Is Tops for Season's Predictions

Predicting the weekly grid scores in the 10 biggest and toughest games each week is over for another season, with Ray Helgesen topping the American's sport staff on the basis of 70 predictions.

The master mind succeded in being the only one of the expert circle to better the .600 mark. Sloodhounds in their close pursuit of the leader were Bill Grimes, Bill Connell and Joe Mooney, who finished in a three-place tie for second.

All ties, unless predicted, were counted as losses in computing the standings. The final standing:

	W.	L.	Pct
Ray Helgesen	43	27	.614
Bill Grimes	41	29	.585
Bill Connell	41	29	.585
Joe Mooney	41	29	.585
George Underwood	40	30	.571
Joe Cashman	37	33	.528
Jack Conway	36	34	.514
George Grimes	34	36	.485
Fred Lane	33	37	.471
Consensus	41	29	.585

7-20-4 R.G. SULLIVAN'S Puffed with Appreciation
Quality 10¢ Cigar

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS

TRY OUR SURE CURE FOR INSOMNIA.
RIG UP MODEL OF BANQUET TABLE AT END OF BED, AS IN ILLUSTRATION, TURN ON RECORD OF FORTY-FIVE MINUTE AFTER DINNER SPEECH, AND WE GUARANTEE YOU'LL BE ASLEEP BEFORE IT'S OVER.
—AND BEFORE TOUCHING UPON THE STERLING QUALITIES OF OUR ILLUSTRIOUS GUEST OF HONOR LET ME GIVE YOU A BRIEF OUTLINE OF THE HERRING INDUSTRY FROM—McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

That's Life

WHEN I GET MARRIED MY WIFE WILL GET UP TO MAKE MY BREAKFAST
HE DON'T KNOW FROM NOTHIN'

BRUINS AWAIT HAWKS

WINDY CITY SIX AT GARDEN TOMORROW

On their first Eastern invasion the Chicago Blackhawks will wager their half interest in first place of the American Division of the N. H. L. against the lien of the Bruins tomorrow night, at the Boston Garden.

The Hawks moved into a first place tie with the Bruins last night by setting back Les Canadiens. All the scoring was packed into the second period. Tommy Cook and Vic Ripley gave the Hawks a two-goal lead, and then Howie Morenz nicked the lone Les Canadian marker.

Since the Bruins returned from their unexpected defeat by the New York Americans, Manager Art Ross has had them hard at work perfecting an offens which should bring some results. The Bruins have not hit their stride as yet. In fact, the are not in shape for heavy going. They will be tested tomorrow, for the Hawks are traveling at a fast clip, s was attested by their victory over the Flying Frenchmen, and again by Ottawa at the Garden Saturday evening.

As the N. H. L. race now stands, the Bruins and Blackhawks are setting the pace for the American teams but they are only a half game away from the Rangers and the Red Wings, while Mont l Maroons are leading the International Division, with Toronto and Americans tied for second place and Les Canadians and Ottawa in the cellar.

OLYMPIC MARKS FAIL TO PASS

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Three American track records set this summer during the Olympic games in Los Angeles were sent back to the record committee for further consideration by the delegates today in the first general session of the annual Amateur Athletic Union convention.

At the instigation of Gustavus T. Kirby, former A. A. U. president, who led the floor fight, the delegates voted that the record committee reconsider three races in which second place winners all were credited with the same record-breaking time as the winners.

In making its recommendations for acceptance of records, the committee in each case had failed to suggest that the second plac winners also be credited with new American record times.

The three races under discussion were the spectacular conquest of Ralph Metcalfe by Eddie Tolan in the 100 meters final in which both were credited with 10.3 seconds; the 50000 meters run in which Ralph Hill, or Oregon, breasted the tape so close behind Lauri Lehtinen, of Finland, that both were caught in 14:30, and the 80 meters women's hurdles final, which Babe Didrikson, of Dallas, won by such a narrow margin from Evelyn Hall, of Chicago, that the time for each was 11.7 seconds.

8 MAT BOUTS ON ARENA CARD

Eight mat bouts, topped off by a light heavyweight championship tilt between Pink Gardner and George Linnehan, will be staged under the direction of Steve McPherson at the Boston Arena tomorrow night.

Gardner will make his second appearance of the season at the Arena. A month ago he beat Frank Malcewicz.

TAP'S TRIPLE COMBINATION

Football stars turn to hockey stars this week, but the genuine articles in the heavens go right on doing business in the old stand. The planets' trade is picking the daily digits, and they offer you three good numbers for today. Watch and see how the stars score.

Jealousy Beats "Kid" in Corbett Bout

Kid McCoy's life trail takes him from poverty to wealth and romance. He wins a ring crown and goes through some hard battles. He is married twice. Four times he battles Joe Choynski, and finally he signs for a fight with Jim Corbett.

By KID McCOY
As Told to Lee Smits
(Copyright, 1932, by Boston American and King Features Syndicate)

CHAPTER XXXI

Finally matched with Corbett!

This was the great, outstanding opportunity of my ring career. I was going way out of my class to take on a man weighing 30 pounds more than I, who also had a reputation for cleverness and who had defeated the mighty Sullivan.

The fight was set for Madison Square Garden, Aug. 30, 1900—25 rounds. This was on the eve of the repeal of the Horton boxing law.

I had been training about two weeks and the fight was about two weeks off, when a message came from our maid, Agnes, a loyal Irish girl who had always been devoted to my interests.

"If you expect to have any home left you better come back at once," Agnes wired.

I dispatched George, a friend of mine, to find out what was going on, and when he returned, although he tried to stall me, I knew that things weren't as they should have been. Finally I forced from h the facts; that Frank, one of my closest friends, was Julia's lover.

Gnawing Jealousy

Now, for the first time in my life, I knew the terrible sickness of jealousy. The light went out for me. The thought of meeting Corbett, and of beating him, meant nothing.

My whole body was affected by the torture of betrayal. I didn't seem able to draw a deep breath, and at night, instead of sleeping, I wept and tossed.

In my despairing state of mind there was utterly no inducement for me to win I figured on taking my end of the money and running away to South Africa.

In my dressing room in Madison Square Garden, before the fight, Big Tim Sullivan dropped in, as he always did and asked "How do you feel, Charley?" (He always called me Charley.)

Warns Sullivan

"Terrible," I said. "Don't bet a dollar on me. Don't let any of your friends have money on me. "I'm in great trouble."

I was a licked man before I lifted a glove.

The papers said that it was a scientific contest until the fifth, when Corbett connected with a swing to my stomach and I fell and was too weak to rise.

In the story of his own life, Jim Corbett says of our fight: "The first round was, I think, the most scientific ever fought by two men." Toward the close of the bout, Corbett relates that "suddenly McCoy went to pieces, threw all science to the winds and fought like a crazy man. As soon as I saw him swinging haymakers I knew he was in worse shape morally than Fitzsimmons had been when doing the same thing, for McCoy was far more clever than Fitz and was therefore more demoralized than he had been.

"I had some pretty reliable information that he hadn't been training any too well, and the stomach is the most vulnerable spot under such conditions.

"Some lefts and rights to this spot had the famous Kid all crumpled up; one more sank in, then he flopped to the floor, all doubled up. Charley White stepped up to me, tapped me on the shoulder, and said, 'You win'!"

Many were the rumors circulating about the fight. Bob Fitzsimmons, my friend, exploded in a temper and said that the fight couldn't have been on the level So did John L. Sullivan.

The day after the fight I filed su for divorce. About a week l ter Frank's sister came to me and said:

"Julia is a woman, and you're a man. Won't you let her prefer charges and get a divorce?"

No Agreement

I consented. Corbett was then in the midst of a divorce suit, also, and Mrs. Corbett made the charge that the fight was fixed.

Abe Hummel was Mrs. Corbett's attorney, and Julia also engaged him. He drew up a paper, which both wives signed, stating that they knew ahead of time that I was to be knocked out.

That came out after I had made the chivalrous gesture of withdrawing, my action to let Julia have the decree.

Again I give my solemn word that Corbett and I had no agreement of any sort, and that I had nothing whatsoever to gain, everything to lose by my defeat.

Kid McCoy tells tomorrow of his win over Jack "Twin" Sullivan, and of some of the romance which marked his career.

D'GLANE LAUGHS AT IDEA LUTZE MAY TRIUMPH

By JACK CONWAY

Nick Lutze has plenty of faith in his ability to win from Henri DeGlane in their world's heavyweight championship wrestling bout at the Boston Garden on Thanksgiving night.

In the event the colorful Californian disposes of DeGlane, he will take on Gus Sonnenberg. Jim Browning and Strangler Lewis will later receive a crack at his title.

Paul Bowser has Lutze signed for six bouts in the event he licks DeGlane. The final match of this program, provided Lutze should remain undefeated, would be a return tussle with De Glane, which would be staged in one of the ball parks next summer.

"What am I supposed to be?" demanded DeGlane when told of Lutze's plans. "A tip-over? That's what you Americans say, isn't it?

"The boys have had me on the spot before, but I always leave the ring the winner. I shall still be champion after my bout with Lutze on Thanksgiving night.

"I know Paul Bowser will name an honest referee for the bout. I am not afraid of being jobbed out of my championship. With an impartial referee on the job, I feel sure I shall lick Lutze. The same statement goes for any other opponents I may meet in American rings.

It is said the promoters would like to see me licked because I love France and go home for a short vacation occasionally. The fact I make trips to France makes me a greater drawing card. The public would not be so anxious to see me wrestle if I didn't take a few layoffs and go home. Then when I go to France I get much good publicity for wrestling.

"Those promoters who don't think I am doing the right thing are very dumb. Dumb is the right word to use, isn't it?

"I am in splendid physical condition for my bout with Lutze and will beat Nick as I did last winter. The fact he now weighs more than 20 pounds more than when I defeated him before won't mean a thing."

Sonnenberg will also appear on Thursday night's card. He will have Al Morelli as an opponent.

TODAY'S RACE RESULTS

At Bowie

FIRST RACE

St. Omer (Malley)	8.80	4.00	2.70
Chance Meeting (Cal'han)	—	3.00	2.40
Learoyd (Hanford)	—	—	2.90

ALSO RAN—Von Sion, Mt. Vernon, The Potter, Once, Sir Carley, Prince Abbot, fTemple Hill, fRunning Play. (fField.)

SECOND RACE

Ilchester (Robertson)	6.10	2.90	2.50
Sky Haven (D. Smith)	—	3.70	2.30
Bohemian Grove (Kuress)	—	—	3.10

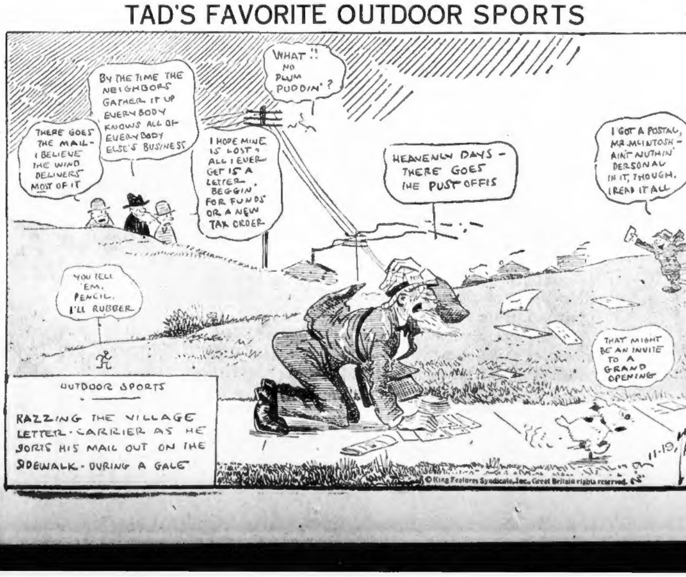
ALSO RAN—Laugh Fort, fDunair, Cordoba, Flirting, fArcoWood, Nahunta, Aella, Wars End, fNutting. (fField.)

Ryder Cup Match at Southport in 1933

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—The professional Golfers' Association today anounced that the 1933 Ryder cup matches with th eUnited States would be played at Southport, north of Liverpool, at a date yet to be selected.

Southport has four first class courses and an enthusiastic golf public which is considered to assure the success of the contest. The last Ryder Cup matches were played at Columbus, O., June, 1931, with the United States winning nine matches to three.

TAD'S FAVORITE OUTDOOR SPORTS



WHAT !! NO PLUM PUDDIN'?
BY THE TIME THE NEIGHBORS GATHER IT UP EVERYBODY KNOWS ALL OF EVERYBODY ELSE'S BUSINESS
THERE GOES THE MAIL— I BELIEVE THE WIND DELIVERS MOST OF IT
I HOPE MINE IS LOST— ALL I EVER GET IS A LETTER BEGGIN' FOR FUNDS OR A NEW TAX ORDER
HEAVENLY DAYS— THERE GOES THE PUST OFFIS
I GOT A POSTAL, MR MCINTOSH— AINT NUTHIN' PERSONAL IN IT, THOUGH, I READ IT ALL
YOU TELL 'EM, PENCIL, I'LL RUBBER
THAT MIGHT BE AN INVITE TO A GRAND OPENING
OUTDOOR SPORTS
RAZZING THE VILLAGE LETTER-CARRIER AS HE SORTS HIS MAIL OUT ON THE SIDEWALK- DURING A GALE
11-10 TAD
© King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

'A MAN MUST FIGHT'

By GENE TUNNEY

SYNOPSIS

The author thus far has traced his career from the streets of New York's Greenwich Village, through his early club fighter affairs, his experiences with the U. S. Marines in France, his winning of the A.E.F. light-heavyweight crown, and his ring victories upon return to civil life which were interrupted when he went to Canada and Maine to build up his punch-damaged hands. Fourteen pounds overweight (at 188), he makes a poor showing with Soldier Jones in a Dempsey-Carpentier prelim. Retiring to a farm through the summer of 1921, Gene returns to the ring, winning several decisions that fall and winter, his sore hands slowly improving. He finally "makes" Madison Square Garden, defeating three opponents in such fashion that he was matched with Battling Levinsky from whom he won the American light-heavy title on Friday, the 13th of January, 1922, and, four months later, faced his first and only fistic loss in a sanguinary struggle with Harry Greb. They're already in action . . . Gene is a crimson smear, spattering Harry in gory hues as the bell for the fourth round sounds . . .

It is impossible to describe the bloodiness of this fight. My seconds were unable to stop either the bleeding from the cut over my left eye, which involved a severed artery, or the bleeding consequent to the nose fractures. Doc Bagley, who was my chief second made futile attempts to congeal the nose-bleeding by pouring adrenalin into his hand and having me snuff it up my nose. This I did round after round. The adrenalin, instead of coming out through the nose again, ran down my throat with the blood and into my stomach.

At the end of the 12th round, I believed it was a good time to take a swallow of this brandy and orange juice. It had hardly gotten to my stomach, when the ring started whirling around. The bell rang for the 13th round; the seconds pushed me from my chair. I actually saw two red opponents. How I ever survived the 13th, 14th and 15th rounds, is still a mystery to me. At any rate, the only consciousness I had was to keep trying. I knew if I ever relaxed I would either collapse or the referee would stop the brutality.

SHOOK HANDS WITH GREB

After the gong sounded, ending the 15th round, I shook hands with Greb and mumbled through my smashed and swollen lips, "Well, Harry you were the better man, tonight!" and I mean that literally.

Harry missed the subtlety of the remark, for he said, "Won the championship," and was dragged from me by one of his seconds, who placed a kiss on his unmarked countenance.

I discovered through the early part of that fight that I could lick Harry Greb. As each round went by, battered and pummeled from post to post as I was, this discovery gradually became a positive certainty in my mind. I was conscious of the handicaps under which I entered the ring. They were not the things that led me to this conviction, however. Many boxers upon entering important matches suffer from sore hands, cut eyes, or something of the sort. There is nothing unusual about that. But I realized that a broken nose and a four-inch cut through arteries over the eye in the first round of a 15-round match are at least uncommon and of sufficient seriousness to completely change the current of events.

TUNNEY COLLAPSED

I left the ring and walked up the aisle toward my dressing room. This was negotiated only through nervous excitement. I climbed the flight of stairs, each step getting higher and more difficult and, as I got near the top, the reaction set in. I collapsed; the top step was impossible. I could not make it. The boys carried me into my dressing room and set me up on the rubbing table. Immediately the hands of support left me, I fell back with a thud, the back of my head striking the table. I lay perfectly conscious of everything that was taking place, but unable to move a muscle. Nature surrendered.

Everything but the right thing was done to stimulate me. All I needed was a stomach pump to remove the mixture of blood, adrenalin chloride, brandy and orange juice. It was two hours before I had sufficiently revived to be led out of the old Garden. Dr. William Walker had administered a medicine that functioned like sea-sickness.

After we were seated in the taxi, it was suggested we drive up through Central Park to see if the air would not revive me. As the taxi got under way, Doc Bagley, my manager and chief second, turned to me and with a gesture of wiping his brow said:

"What a job you gave me tonight! I am all in! Do you know that we used six bottles of adrenalin cloride trying to stop those cuts?"

I was too weary to get angry, oc felt that my part was comparatively easy. All I did was bleed. I felt an emotion that was akin to sorrow for Bagley. Poor "Doc." It was a pathetic exhibition of self-interest.

ABE ATTELL'S TRIBUTE

It was perfectly true that they had used six bottles of adrenalin chloride. I always had two in my medicine kit for every fight. The additional four had been sent for during the early part of the fight by Abe Attell, who was sitting at the ringside. Abe came into my dressing-room afte the fight, and in great excitement said:

"Kid, you're the gamest fighter I ever saw. I lost $2500 on you, but to hell with it. In the second round I sent out for four bottles of adrenalin chloride and gave them to Bagley. I never saw any cuts like them! You were the better man tonight and the gamest in the world!"

He kissed my battered face! A curious demonstration for honest Abe.

Turning to Bagley, he said:

"Dock, will you sell your contract with this kid, to me? He certainly will be the next heavyweight champion of the world!"

The day following the Greb match, I went down to the office of the Boxing Commission to receive my check for $22,500, and placed on file a challenge to Greb for a return fight, backed with a check for $2500.

Before the Boxing Commission would accept my challenge for a return match with Greb, a deputy boxing commissioner advised that a copy of a written contract between Bagley and me must be on file with the commission. In other words, he insisted on a written contract between a boxer and his manager. This was in accordance with a commission ruling. I cannot imagine anything more illegal or unfair than this ruling. I do not believe the deputy and Bagley arranged this between them. However, a commission form of contract was quickly procured by the deputy commissioner so that I could see the form of contract that the commission recognized.

SIGNED CONTRACT FORM

Rather than postpone filing my challenge, I signed one of these blank forms, though Bagley and I had a verbal agreement. Several months later, when I wished to sever business relations with Bagley, that signature cost me $5000.

My next consideration was to get my body and face restored to normal after the pummeling and battering that I had received from Greb during those 15 bloody rounds. I did not recover as quickly as I expected. The strain of the fight and the loss of blood left me weak and exhausted. I was compelled to remain in bed for a week when I returned to Red Bank. A blood tonic prescribed by Dr. Shea soon fixed me up. In a few weeks' time I was again hale and hearty and ready for renewed action.

During the next two months I engaged in three matches. I stopped Ray Thompson in Long Branch, New Jersey; boxed Charlie Weinert 12 rounds in Newark, and Tommy Loughran eight rounds in Philadelphia. In a match with Fay Kaiser at Rockaway, Long Island, after three or four rounds of butting with his head, which laid both sides of my chin open, I called the referee over to my corner and asked him to please instruct Kaiser to put a boxing glove on his head or else stop using it.

The referee replied:

"I have cautioned him about it several times, Gene, but can't do nothin' with him."

I said, "If you can't, I will!"

The first clinch we got into in the next round Kaiser again came up with the top of his hard head against my bleeding chin, whereupon I felt along his face for his left eye, pretending I wanted to poke my right thumb into it. He yelled to the referee, "He's gouging me!" "Go ahead and fight!" answered the referee.

Some brief but pointed comments on foul ring tactics, a tribute to Chuck Wiggins' sportsmanship, and his dropping of Bagley for Billy Gibson as manager will feature the next chapter in Tunney's account of his ring experiences.

Copyright, 1932, King Features Synd., Inc.

International News Photo

Greb and Tunney, a few hours before their bloody shambles in spring of 1922, when Gene lost for the first and last time.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ON AIR

America's First Lady-Elect Speaking

By N. F. T.

Listeners will hear our First Lady-elect, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in a special Xmas seal drive plea, one week from tonight. Her voice comes through New England via WBZ waves at 7:15 p. m.

• • •

This will be the first microphone talk indulged by the future lady of the White House in Washington, since the victory of her illustrious husband at the polls. An extensive coast to coast network of NBC stations has been negotiated for the occasion by the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association. That humanitarian organization and its work have long been of interest to and admired by the wife of our next President.

Mrs. Roosevelt

• • •

TURKEY TOKEN

A pre-Thanksgiving studio highlight hereabouts holds forth tonight (WBZ) when Governor Joseph B. Ely is presented with a 20-pound gobbler. It's the same bird that shall adorn his family festive board next Thursday. Dr. Arthur Gilbert, Commissioner of Agriculture, will say a few words during the 7:30 to 7:45 presentation. Whereupon the governor is of course due to voice his acceptance and appreciation. By jingo the broadcasting bosses haven't forgotten the most important figure of the ceremony either. Meaning the big turkey himself takes a "mike" turn too, according to the plan. Fair enough, his reaction to the ceremony should be heard by all means.

• • •

NICK OF TIME STUFF

On Saturday, a loyal Brookline lady subscriber phoned to say there was an important contest closing on the air today and her entry must be forwarded by Sunday at the latest. Her problem appeared to be that she was not sure of certain words the sponsors arranged to have broadcast. Calling the Boston station, she was told no certain knowledge of these existed there, which struck her as strange. Nothing to do but find the Hub sales representative of the New York concern manfacturing the product involved. To make a long story le. lengthy, said subscriber was enabled to mail her envelope on time. However, the "colyum" desk did pitch in and attend to something a certain station Public Relations crew might well have handled, in their own interest. Here's hoping they won't think rendering such service was butting in.

An announcement concerning the Four Marx Brothers in a new program series will be forthcoming most any day.

• • •

TWO TIMING

Repeating popular songs and dance selections has long been a source of no little concern in radio circles. Likewise it must be getting to be a worry with "mike" moguls lately figuring how joke duplication can be corrected. Most recent among glaring incidents along that line, was last Friday. At 7:15 Ward Wilson pulled a yarn (WBZ) about a chap claiming to have been sick the night before. Suddenly checked up by his friend who saw him out in a taxi and couldn't understand, he hastened to explain how he was going after a doctor at the time. So much for the joke—get it? Immediately afterward at 7:30, along came Jones and Hare over WEEI, spinning the identical wheeze. Perhaps there are only a certain number of funny stories available after all—eh? If so these fellows doing comedy on the same nights surely need to consider ways and means of avoiding repetition. They could try dividing up their laugh bait by tossing a coin, or even picking straws. At present they make things begin to look like maybe they're taking turns with a yarn by mutual agreement.

Evening American on the Air

THE GLOBE TROTTER

of the Boston American and Hearst Metrotone News

A complete radio daily newspaper—75 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and special entertainment.

213 M.—STATION WAAB—1410 Kil.
250 M.—WORC, Worcester—1200 Kil.
211 M.—WMAS, Springfield—1420 Kil.

8:30- 8:45 A. M.—METROPOLITAN EDITION OF THE AIR.
11:00-11:15 A. M.—FEATURE PERIOD.
Mon., Wed., and Fri.—Martha Lee's Homemaking Class.
Tuesday—Uncle Ted, Farm and Garden Talk.
Thursday—Ann Arden on Fashions.
Saturday—Feature Forecaster: News Flashes.
12:30-12:45 P. M.—PEACH EDITION OF THE AIR.
3:00- 3:15 P M.—SEVEN STAR EDITION OF THE AIR.
Stock Market Quotations; News Flashes.
7:00- 7:15 P M.—SEVEN O'CLOCK EDITION OF THE AIR.
News Flashes; Features.

Ten High Spots

6:45—WAAB—Funnyboners.
7:30—WBZ—Gov. Ely.
8:00—WEEI—Sketches.
8:15—WAAB—Washington Bicentennial Commission.
8:45—WNAC—Dr. Fu Manchu.
9:00—WEEI—Gypsies.
9:30—WNAC—Evening in Paris.
10:00—WEEI—Tango Romantico.
10:30—WBZ—O. H. Caldwell.
11:15—WBZ—Midnight Frolic.

For Those Who Dance

7:30—WAAB—Moore's Orchestra.
8:00—WBZ—Rines' Orchestra.
8:30—WNAC—Newman's music.
9:30—WEEI—Whiteman music.
10:30—WNAC—Joe Solomon music.
11:15—WEEI—Conrad's Orchestra.
11:30—WAAB—Lombardo's music.
12:00—WBZ—Denny's Orchestra.
12:30—WNAC—Barris Orchestra.

Boston Stations

Kilocycles		Meters
1410	WAAB	213
1230	WNAC	244
990	WBZ	303
590	WEEI	508
1500	WLOE	200
830	WHDH	361
920	WBSO	326

Monday, November 21

4:15 P. M.
WAAB—"To an Unnamed Listener."
WEEI—Women's Clubs Federation

4:30 P. M.
WAAB—(4:40) Artist recital.
WNAC—Dance Parade.
WEEI—Organ.
WHDH—Broadcast to Fishermen.
WLOE—Dance records.

5:00 P. M.
WAAB—Big Brother.
WNAC—Rangers.
WEEI—Agricultural markets.
WEEI—Baritone recital.
WHDH—Cumberland orchestra.

5:15 P. M.
WAAB—Organ.
WNAC—Fashion Parade.
WBZ—Caravan.
WEEI—Andrews' orchestra.

5:30 P. M.
WNAC—Skippy, sketch.
WBZ—Singing Lady.
WEEI—Flying Family.

5:45 P. M.
WAAB—Lone Wolf Tribe.
WNAC—Three Smiles.
WBZ—Little Orphan Annie.
WEEI—Harry Taylor, tenor.

6:00 P. M.
WAAB—Irene Beasley, songs.
WBZ—Sport talk; organ; news.
WEEI—Evening Tattler.
WHDH—Song Pictures.
WLOE—Mother Goose.

6:15 P. M.
WAAB—Reis and Dunn.
WNAC—Violin recital.
WHDH—Venetian Serenaders.

6:30 P. M.
WAAB—Vaughn De Leath.
WNAC—Big Brother.
WBZ—Melody Maids.
WEEI—News; Old Painter.
WLOE—Variety program.

6:45 P. M.
WAAB—Funnyboners.
WNAC—Chandu.
WBZ—Lowell Thomas topics.
WEEI—Tessie the Typist.

7:00 P. M.
WAAB—American Globe Trotter.
WNAC—Myrt and Marge.
WBZ—Amos 'n' Andy.
WEEI—Irish Minstrels.

7:15 P. M.
WAAB—Ensemble.
WNAC—"Buck Rogers."
WBZ—Jesters.
WEEI—Ray Knight.

7:30 P. M.
WAAB—Moore's Orchestra.
WNAC—Three X Sisters.
WBZ—"Talking Turkey," Gov. Ely.
WEEI—Jones and Hare.

7:45 P. M.
WAAB—Walk-a-Thon.
WNAC—Mayor Casassa.
WBZ—Johnny Hart.
WEEI—The Goldbergs.

8:00 P. M.
WAAB—Gossipers.
WNAC—Jack Smith.
WBZ—Radio Revel.
WEEI—Sketches.
WLOE—Irish Pipers.

8:15 P. M.
WAAB—Washington Bicentennial Commission.
WNAC—Singin' Sam.

8:30 P. M.
WNAC—Ruby Newman orchestra.
WBZ—Mansfield Singers.
WEEI—Dog Chat.
WLOE—Lun Ting orchestra.

8:45 P. M.
WNAC—"Dr. Fu Manchu."
WBZ—Pat Barnes.
WEEI—Ethel Grenier, songs.

9:00 P. M.
WBZ—Minstrels.
WEEI—Gypsies.

9:15 P. M.
WAAB—Hill Billy George.
WNAC—Mills Brothers.

9:30 P. M.
WAAB—Le Paradis Band; news
WNAC—Evening in Paris.
WBZ—Keene's Hill Billies.
WEEI—Paul Whiteman music.

10:00 P. M.
WAAB—Organ.
WNAC—Music that satisfies.
WBZ—Country Doctor.
WEEI—El Tango Romantico.

10:15 P. M.
WAAB—Easy Aces.
WNAC—Organ.
WBZ—Jackson's Orchestra.

10:30 P. M.
WAAB—Charles Carlile, tenor.
WNAC—Solomon's Orchestra.
WBZ—Edison radio tube demonstration.
WEEI—Radio Forum.

10:45 P. M.
WAAB—Gloom Chasers.
WBZ—News.

11:00 P. M.
WAAB—Barlow concert.
WBZ—Sports Review.
WEEI—News.

11:15 P. M.
WBZ—Midnight Frolic.
WNAC—Dance music.
WEEI—Conrad's Orchestra.

11:30 P. M.
WAAB—Lombardo's Orchestra.
WNAC—Perley Stevens' music.

12:00 MID.
WNAC—Eddie Duchin's Orchestra.
WBZ—Denny's Orchestra.

12:30 A. M.
WNAC—Harry Barris Orchestra.

HOME IS FILLED WITH BOTTLES, WIFE SAYS

Salem, Nov. 21.—There were bottles to the [illegible] bottles [illegible] right [illegible] low [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] testified [illegible] when [illegible] day [illegible]

Mrs. Theresa [illegible] Salem telephone operator, charged Eugene T[illegible] of Salem with cruel and abusive treatment, failure to provide and habits of intoxication.

"He was drunk three-fourths of the time," she said, "and he lost his job through drinking and was too drunk to go out and look for another one."

Judge A[illegible] uncontested [illegible] adjustment.

REALTY MAN SUED

Mrs. [illegible] of Beach [illegible] realty dealer, with cruel and abusive treatment and [illegible] a dozen years after [illegible] drinking [illegible] sometimes [illegible] he [illegible] [illegible]

From [illegible] advertisement.

DESERTED IN MONTH

Mrs. [illegible] Lynn [illegible] Ellsworth [illegible] they were married [illegible] 1925. Her [illegible] [illegible] New York [illegible] drunk [illegible] out of bed.

At [illegible] down [illegible]

In [illegible] [illegible]

True to Type

Bennett on Bennett Better Than A. B. on War

By GILBERT SELDES

The first volume of Arnold Bennett's "Journal" was about Arnold Bennett and was extraordinarily interesting; the second volume, which has just been published by the Viking Press, is hardly about Bennett at all; and it would not be interesting at all if it did not deal with two subjects in which the American reader is bound to be passionately interested himself: America and the Great War. What Bennett had to say about America is put down in this journal in the form of telegraphic notes. On a Saturday in November some 20 years ago Mr. Bennett was preparing to go to Princeton to see a football game. At a quarter to eight in the morning he saw "business man [illegible] the humanity beneath . . . A man said 'I am just going to get a bromo seltzer.' Thus giving the whole show away. . . . Princeton. Man conducting the 'official' [illegible] Contortions of enthusiasts . . . Nassau Club. Confusion . . . Princeton Inn. Confusion . . . [illegible] effects of hats on stands, heaps of violet color . . . Naive and barbaric. Left at half time." He had one of the most observant eyes ever given to a man and he could put down what he saw.

Gilbert Seldes

1914-1918

Bennett was [illegible] When [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] to believe the most preposterous [illegible] stubborn stupidity of men in whom the fate of the whole British Empire depended are recorded by Bennett with a singular lack of resentment or anger. Sometimes he seems hardly to know how fatally stupid his friends must appear.

A Fine Novel

In 1918 Bennett published a [illegible] The Pretty Lady [illegible] [illegible] one of Bennett's three or four really fine works. The War Journal gives the background [illegible]

Begin Now for 1950

[illegible] birth control and education to make sure that we had the right people. As it is too late now, we must begin to agitate for a political platform in 1936 [illegible] I promise a complete revision of the American Constitution. I am aware that this sounds [illegible] [illegible]

A Battered Hulk

Mr. W[illegible] Kay Wallace has just written a book called "Our Obsolete Constitution" (published by John Day) in which he argues that four [illegible] taken together [illegible] constitute the essential [illegible] of a revolution. To avoid this revolution the Constitution, he believes, needs to be revised. Here are the four:

First. The individual has been stripped of his defenses against the encroachments of government.

Second. Constitutional immunities are no longer valid.

Third. Our government has in principle become autocratic.

Fourth. The Constitution is obsolete.

The Constitution has been changed by amendments. One of them, according to Mr. Wallace, renders obsolete almost all the guarantees of property. Having taken that dangerous step it ought to be easy to take a few others.

FIGHTS FOR SON LOST 16 YEARS

New York, Nov. 21 (INS)—Determined [illegible] to find the son [illegible] not seen in 16 years, Mrs. M[illegible] Green Chase, wealthy [illegible] prominent Philadelphia [illegible] to establish her right [illegible] Gordon Lowe [illegible] the late Mrs. Jane [illegible]

Mrs. Chase [illegible] believes [illegible] Spencer [illegible] the late Miss Jane [illegible] may be her long-lost son [illegible]

[illegible] her divorce [illegible] Chase, Mrs. Chase [illegible] and put her infant son [illegible] Miss Spencer.

A few years ago Mrs. Chase [illegible] Last spring she was [illegible] a recent picture of her son but failed in the courts to force [illegible] Westchester [illegible] the present name [illegible] of the boy.

Industry Expands

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—In[illegible] [illegible] September than in August.

Human Sacrifice Cult King Slays Stranger on Altar

Detroit, Nov. 21 (AP)—The self-styled "king" of a religious cult that demanded a human sacrifice was held today upon his reported confession that he invited the first stranger he met into his home and killed him on an altar.

"The ninth hour of the 20th day had come," police quoted Robert Harris, 44-year-old Negro, as saying. "It was predestined 1500 years ago that at that hour I must make a sacrifice to my gods. It must not be a member of the Order of Islam, but some stranger—the first person I met after leaving my home."

That person, the confession said, was James J. Smith, 40, also a negro. Harris told police of inviting Smith into his home, crushing his head with an automobile axle "just to quiet him," then stabbing him through the heart on the altar.

The stabbing, police said Harris told them, was the [illegible] of the ceremonial. Harris and his cult had [illegible] members, 100 Detroit negroes.

[illegible] a head of a religious [illegible] his wife and four children here in 1924 [illegible] Harris lived only a few blocks from the scene of the [illegible] slayings.

Florida Village Swept by Flames

O[illegible], Fla., Nov. 21 (AP)—Fire [illegible] the entire [illegible] of this [illegible] population [illegible] Department [illegible] residents of the [illegible] [illegible]

2 Garage Bandits Identified in N. Y.

Portchester, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—Two Connecticut bandits arrested Wednesday in Springfield, Mass., and held in $20,000 each after confessing raids on Connecticut and Massachusetts filling stations were identified today as participants in a holdup here on Nov. [illegible] They are Joseph Rothwell, and Henry Bohn[illegible]

DURIS STORY LEADS TIPS

[illegible]

Two-dollar [illegible] Jessie Fuller, Essex [illegible] of hunter fought; Warren Callfe, 813 E. Fourth st., South Boston, holdup; Mrs. Jennie Harding, [illegible] Russell st., Charlestown, 90th birthday celebration; Alice F[illegible], 52 Bay State ave., Somerville, Medford fire.

One-dollar award [illegible] Doherty, 10 Wickfield st., Everett, big fire, name witness; Cambridge accident [illegible] Everett police [illegible] football [illegible]; Mr. Joseph [illegible] LePage, 23 Locke st., Cambridge, Cambridge robbery; R. B. Henderson, [illegible] Beachmont ave., Revere, [illegible] kitten; Lester Murphy, 217 Orchard st., Watertown, auto crash; C. S. Black, 3 Dorchester ave., South Boston, South Boston holdup; Philip Del Signore, 27 Hazleton st., Mattapan, child run over.

Lost Pocketbook Is Found in Potato

Canandaigua, N. Y., Nov. 21 (AP)—With potatoes selling at the lowest price in years, Morgan F[illegible] of this village dug up one from his garden he values at 43 cents cash and a lot more for its worth as a curiosity.

Early in the spring Frone lost his pocketbook while spading his potato patch. He recovered it early this fall, with all but the metal clasp hidden in a large potato. The 43 cents were intact.

BURDETT COLLEGE

Business and Secretarial courses. DAY AND EVENING. Individual advancement. New classes start Nov. 28. Send for catalog.

156 Stuart St., Boston HANcock 6300

UNIVERSAL CLEANSERS and DYERS Inc.

AT ALL OUR STORES

CLEANSING SALE

A Genuine Cleansing Offer

Any 2 Garments For 76¢

Except Fur Coats

CASH AND CARRY

Thoroughly Cleansed and Refinished

STORES

111 Summer St. Boston
8 Winter St., Room 515 Boston
600 Washington St. Boston
32 Province St. Boston
9 Central Sq. Cambridge
1054 Mass. Ave ... Cambridge
322 Harvard St. Brookline
166 Harvard Ave .... Allston
646 Blue Hill Ave. ... Dorchester
1743 Centre St. ... West Roxbury

REMEMBER! This Offer Is For Genuine Cleansing

Chesterfields are Milder—

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

© 1932, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

FIRST WITH LATEST NEWS

BOSTON AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1932

100 HUNT 2 WILD DOGS THAT KILLED 26 PIGS

THIS IS LIFE
Charles River Basin Monument to Memory of James J Storrow

by ROBERT E. ROGERS

From my office window at Technology I can see (and have seen for a year or more) the great dredges in the Charles River at work on Mrs. Storrow's plan for making the Basin a pleasure resort for the underprivileged citizens of Boston. Great hoses are sucking mud from the bottom of the river and spraying in on the fast growing banks of soil which one day will be lawns and beaches and bathing pools and boat-houses and other conveniences for people who cannot go far out of Boston during the summer days and nights.

R. E. ROGERS

As I look, I have been reading Henry G. Pearson's new book called "A Son of New England," the life story of James Jackson Storrow. Once more the conviction comes home to me that institutions are but lengthened shadows of men. For all your talk about economic determinism, there is no doubt that most things happen in this world because exceptional men wish them to happen, will them to happen, plan them out, argue and work for them, persuade others, spend their money and their time to create something where nothing before existed.

And now, 30 years after James Storrow's first effort, Mrs Storrow can see the work going on which she has provided for to complete the Basin as her husband always wished to see it completed.

Beacon Hill Feared Loss of View

In the actual building creation of the Charles River Basin there is glory enough and to spare for everybody connected with it, but, of Mr. Storrow's life, it would seem that if the quiet, smewhat cool young business man of 30 years ago hadn't made it his business to organize public sentiment, we might not have the Basin today. For in spite of the obvious need for something better where the wide-spread, ill-smelling tide-water clam flats that used to be, there was opposition.

The old water-side-of-Beacon householders were afraid they would lose the view from their dining room windows. They did not wish to lose the privilege of polluting the Charles river with their sewage. They even pretended a concern for the old clamming rights on the mud banks. It was young Storrow, back in 1902, who collected the signatures for a petition to the Legislature, organized an offensive at the legislative hearing and so presented the case for the basin that the first and most difficult steps in the project—the overcoming of public inertia—were successfully taken.

Mr. Storrow had hoped for sloping banks and places for the people's pleasure, instead of the straight masonry walls, and now, a generation after his initial gesture and six years after his death, his hopes look to be carried through—and thanks to Storrow generosity, at that.

As one reads through his life one finds other examples where one can see that it is the will to do something that counts. For instance, it was Mr. Storrow's election to the old unwieldy school committee in the days when it had 24 members that led directly to the present small school committee, which everyone recognizes as being far more efficient than the old political machine. As a Public School Association member, Mr. Storrow found it very difficult to get things done. It was he who went directly to the Legislature with a bill calling for a small appointive body. To satisfy both the politicians and the P. S. A. itself, the bill was modified, with Mr. Storrow's acquiescence, to provide for popular election. So the present school committee came into existence in 1905 and in a hard fought fight Mr. Storrow was elected to it.

Drafted Juvenile Court Bill

Another thing we owe to him was his swift recognition of the valuable work being done by Master Lewis H. Dutton of the John Hancock school in the North End in opening the school evenings for pupils who had no place at home for studying. Mr. Storrow's recommendation to open the schools as educational centers was adopted and put into effect in Jamaica Plain, in South Boston and, later, in many other sections of the city. He was also active, though not so much a pioneer, in establishing the new type of high school, the High School of Commerce, the Girls' High School of Practical Arts and the Trade School for Girls.

Professor Pearson's book abounds in so maany instances of Mr. Storrow's pioneering work that it is impossible to present them all adequately. It was he who drafted the bill to create a juvenile court in Boston and it was his bill that was passed. The first judge of this court was Harvey Baker, and the Judge Baker Foundation on Beacon st. is, therefore, not merely a memorial to that far-seeing judge but, indirectly, another bit of Mr. Storrow's long shadow.

He gave of his time and money to help put over Edward A. Filene's idea of a democratic, inclusive Men's City Club, which is probably the largest organization of its kind in the world. He was in charge of the difficult task of merging three important and mutually exclusive business associations into one great organization, the present Chamber of Commerce. This dates from 1909, the year in which he ran for mayor of Boston and was defeated after a hot campaign by John F. Fitzgerald, whose plurality was 1402. Later he served on the council, indeed as its president for a time, in Mayor Curley's first administration.

There is no space to speak of his commanding position in Lee Higginson Co. and the financial world. It is perhaps forgotten today that it was he who reorganized the Buick Motor Car Co., when it was in difficulties, and thereby saved the newly organized General Motors Company, without taking any money for his services, not even for his personal expenses.

Brought Fuel to Boston in War

It was he who was Dr. Harry A. Garfield's fuel administrator for New England during the cold winter of the war when it seemed an almost impossible task to get fuel for far away New England. It was he who sat as arbitrator in the great Boston Elevated wage dispute in 1914. It was he—and the last great effort of his life—who put through the massive New England Railroad Report of 1923, a classic document, at a personal cost to himself of nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

He died in 1926 at the age of 62.

It is easy enough to say that all these things would have been done anyway. Probably, if there had been available another man like Mr. Storrow. But the point was that he did them. And he did them in the spirit of his old Yankee stock, whose sense of responsibility for public leadership and public service was strong enough to make the Massachusetts and the Boston of the 19th century one of the high water marks of modern civilization. If the tide is ebbing, perhaps it is because the younger representatives of that old Yankee stock are not taking their responsibilities as seriously—and as naturally—as James J. Storrow did.

(Copyright, 1932, by Boston Evening American)

H-Y—ROMANCE—NUPTIALS

MRS. BEIZER, THE BRIDE.

HAROLD H. BEIZER

A football romance of the Harvard-Yale yearly encounter a year ago resulted in a quiet wedding in New York on Saturday, when Harold H. Beizer of Scranton, Pa., made Miss Florence B. White of Brookline his wife. They went to the New York municipal building, took out a marriage license and hurriedly sought out Rabbi Wise. Not an elopement, but just a desire to marry quietly, is claim of the bride's relatives.

TRINITY RITES FOR JORDAN

Funeral services for Robert Jordan, former official of both the Jordan Marsh Co and the American Red Cross and a director of the Boston Globe Co., took place this afternoon in Trinity Church at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Jordan died November 2 in his home in Paris, where he had lived for several years. Following the funeral in Trinity Church, private interment took place in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

Rev Dr Arthur Lee Kinsolving, rector of Trinity Church, officiated.

There were no pallbearers. The ushers were Joshua B Holden, George R. Hutton, William O. Taylor and John C Rice. The Jordan Marsh Co was also represented by a delegation consisting of B. G. Hawkin, Maurice Wrigley, A. E. Finney, F. W. Walthers, W. J. Corbett, Thomas F. Giblin and James J. Evans. The Boston Art Club sent James H. Reed, Robert F. Burgess, Leslie Hastings, Frank M. Sawtelle and Frederick W. Wead. The Boys' Club of Boston was represented by its director, H. G. LeRoy.

As representatives of other institutions and activities in which Mr Jordan had been interested, the New England Conservatory of Music sent its director, Wallace Goodrich and the Boston Chamber of Commerce Daniel Bloomfield, manager of the Retail Board of Trade.

The Free Hospital for Women in Brookline was represented informally by several of its directors, and the many personal friends who attended the funeral represented the several clubs in Boston of which Mr Jordan was a member.

Maj. Wm. J. Casey's Wife Passes Away

Mrs Ella Casey, wife of Maj. William J. Casey, superintendent of the city printing plant, died last night after a short illness at her home on Columbia rd., Dorchester. She was born in Roxbury in 1860, the daughter of Mr and Mrs Henry Richards. She married Maj. Casey in 1920.

Solemn high mass for Mrs. Casey will be held in St. Paul's Church, Dorchester, on Wednesday at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in New Calvary Cemetery.

Woman Ends Life

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Hilda Gross, 52, ended her life by driving an eight-inch bread knife into her chest with an axe.

125 New Citizens, Greetings!

Welcoming 125 and women as new citizens of the country at a naturalization session in federal court today, Judge Hugh D. McLellan urged them to be steadfast in their adherence to the laws of the land.

BEASTS SPREAD TERROR AMONG CHILDREN

Posse Combs Woods, Bent on Slaying Animals That Apparently Are Mad

A [illegible] with [illegible] terrified [illegible] near [illegible] men of Saugus are [illegible] combing the paths [illegible] woods for the wild [illegible] which have [illegible] terror [illegible] the [illegible] after [illegible] listed [illegible].

[illegible] farm yard of [illegible] Forest st. was a shambles [illegible] pigs and [illegible] torn to pieces by the fangs of dogs who have reverted to [illegible] of their wolfish ancestry.

Alarmed at the extent and [illegible] of the dogs' depredations Arthur Pitman, chairman of the Saugus selectmen, offered a reward of $25 for the animals dead or alive.

Mothers fear to allow their children out of [illegible] and poultry owners have barricaded chicken roosts [illegible] keep a constant watch for the [illegible] marauders.

Police believe the dogs, abandoned by owners and desperate from [illegible] have become mad. Most of the slaughtered pigs had been ripped and torn with no evidence that the dogs attempted to make a meal of them.

For the safety of citizens as well as for the protection of domestic animals the search will continue until the dogs are killed.

22 POLICEMEN TO BE RAISED

Police Commissioner Hultman today requested Civil Service Commissioner Chairman Paul E. Tierney to supply him with a list of men eligible for lieutenant and sergeant.

The police head made no request for a certified list of those eligible for captain in spite of the fact that there are eight captaincies vacant.

He asked for a list of 10 men eligible for promotion to sergeant and 12 for lieutenant, indicating that he will immediately make 22 promotions.

CITY AND STATE SWAP CHECKS

In the annual settlement of accounts between Boston and the State the city today was the looser by $2,317,039 77.

Usually the settlement sees Boston on the long side of the exchange of checks. In 1931 the balance in favor of the city was $1 406 634

The poor financial showing for Boston this year is for the most part the result of lessened income tax receipts an da heavy deficit on the Boston Elevated

State Treasurer Hurley turned over the state's check for $6,591,696.48 and received in exchange the city's check for $8,908,736 25. City Treasurer Dolan and City Collector McMorrow represented Boston in the transaction.

Youth Who Couldn't Rob Is Jailed for Gun Theft

If ever a story had an O. Henry build-up and ending, it is the story o Rane DiAnino, 20, of Peabody.

DiAnino decided to be a robber.

He got a gun and went into a bakery in Lagrange st., with the gun, unloaded, in his pocket.

"You look hungry," said the baker. "Here, take this loaf of bread."

DiAnino went out.

Next he went into the Royal Hotel in Court st.

"You're all in, aren't you?" said the clerk. "Here, go to sleep in there."

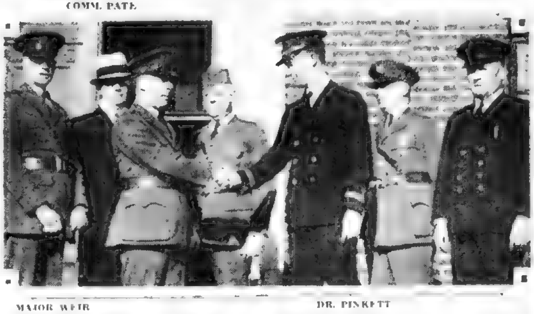
DiAnino quit. He walked into the LaGrange st station and handed in the gun.

When he tried to be hard-boiled, everybody was too kind-hearted

But as soon as he quit being tough, people seemed to lose their brotherly feeling for him.

They took him before Judge Sears in Salem District Court today, charged with stealing the gun from a Salem insurance office, and he was sent to the Concord Reformatory for an indefinite term.

WAR VETS VISIT NAVAL HOSPITAL SICK



Veterans of Foreign Wars made a Sunday afternoon visit on sick sailors at the Chelsea Naval Hospital. Major James D. Weir, Peter W. Pate, department commander of V. F. W., shaking hands with Dr. Howard Pinkett, officer of the day, at Chelsea Naval Hospital. Chief Henry White of naval hospital, Henry V. O'Day, department adjutant; Walter S. Howard, state senior vice-commander, and Lawrence Weidman, commander of the Estey Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are also shown. (Staff Photo.)

SKIPPER SAVED IN TRAWLERFIRE

The flame-scarred trawler [illegible] reached G[illegible] today [illegible] of fate at sea off the Nova Scotia coast and the narrow escape from death of her captain.

A backfire of the engine fired the fisherman [illegible] Cross Island last Wednesday afternoon while most of her crew were [illegible] in a fog. As flames raced through the engine room, Capt. Michael Clark ran to his cabin for two extinguishers and was overcome there. Michael Sutton rescued him.

The six men aboard closed the hatches, chopped a hole in the deck over through this hole. The flames through this hole. The damage was about $3000.

Crowded Court Stirred by Fire in Coat Pocket

Somewhere in Boston is a man with a burned pocket and a ruffled disposition.

The reason is that he evidently dropped a lighted pipe in the pocket before entering [illegible] session of municipal court today.

Into the courtroom ambled the gentleman and the crowd of attorneys and litigants were immediately aware that something was certainly amiss.

Not so the unknown, however. He said sweeping the room in search of a seat while an acrid odor and a wisp of smoke issued from his clothes. As a court officer made a hurried dash in his direction, the man realized his predicament, clapped a hand to the pocket and rushed from the courthouse.

ZOTTOLI URGES NEW AID PLAN

Co-ordination of workers and owners of mills into co-operative entities to bring about a fresh start in business is urged by Atty. Frank M. Zottoli in an open letter to Governor Ely.

Under this plan workers would be paid no more than they are being paid as doles, with further payment to come from the earnings of the mills themselves after sums advanced to the workers are repaid to the [illegible] institutions that advanced money at the start of operations.

"These co-operative institutions might go along as such or might be returned to private ownership after they become established," Zottoli declared

Zottoli urges the governor to create a committee or commission for the purpose of finding ways and means of giving business a start, pointing out that some more feasible plan for relief may turn up

Business Bad, Berlins Turns Back Again to Song Writing

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Irving Berlin, writer of songs is definitely going back to his old job.

You see, it is this way in the Berlin household.

Songwriting is Berlin's business and what with these days of depression business has been bad. So by his own admission the coiner of tunes and lyrics, is going back into harness and become the old-time popular song writer of "hits"—he hopes.

The husband of Ellen Mackay, daughter of the president of the Postal Telegraph, and father of two young daughters, means business with the business that has been slipping.

Berlin hadn't written a popular song in two years until he gave to the singing public "Say It Isn't So" and "How Deep Is the Ocean?" He had given his time, some of it, to musical scores for his productions.

Went the hue and cry—why is Berlin returning to popular song writing?

Today the former Tin Pan Alley romancer of words and melodies gave his reason

"Song-writing is my business and business is bad, so I'm going back to business."

Berlin arrived in Boston today. His musical hit, "Face the Music," opens tomorrow night in the Shubert Theater, in which Mary Boland is starred. Berlin came from New York, not to direct the music, not officially to view the production.

TWO NEW SONGS

And once again to give ear to the tuneful hits, "Let's Have Another Cup of Coffee," "Soft Lights and Sweet Music," and many others, most of which Berlin says are the best efforts of [illegible] above.

He sat in the east [illegible] ladies parlor of the [illegible] Shubert Theater. Berlin looked around.

"The public shortly will have my two latest songs," he said. "Their titles will be, 'I'm Playing With Fire' and 'Careless.' Songwriting is tough for me, tougher for me than for most songwriters. I take my song-writing perhaps too seriously, but then I am meticulous and particular about my work.

"I don't pick my music ideas off trees or sit down and pray for an inspiration. That's the bunk. With me it is a business. I have ideas that lay dormant for months. They don't take form. When they do, then I sit down and plug away at it."

ONE SONG A MONTH.

Berlin is such a young-looking man with ebon black hair and dark eyes. Delicacy of feature will keep with him always that youthful appearance of snap and qui vive.

He chewed gum unobtrusively as he talked, and as he talked his eyes were directed into the far-off

"They say when I write a love song it is because of my great love for my wife, and when I wrote "Say It Isn't So," they tried to weave into a flimsy fabric a rift in my marital affairs. I don't deny that the many beautiful songs I have written have in some way been influenced by my wife.

"We cannot forget beautiful experiences, but to say that every song I write has a definite bearing on a past experience is not true.

DANCER SCOUTS RIFT RUMOR

Romaine Fleming, former New York taxi dancer, and her husband, Allan P. Carli[illegible], son of a Wall Street millionaire, are still partners in the dance of life, and no one is going to cut in, either.

The pretty platinum blonde who left her "ten-cents-a-dance" life to elope with the Harvard sophomore last December said today

"I want it understood once and for all that I am still living with my husband, I am never going back to dancing and I am very happy. My husband has a job on a New York newspaper."

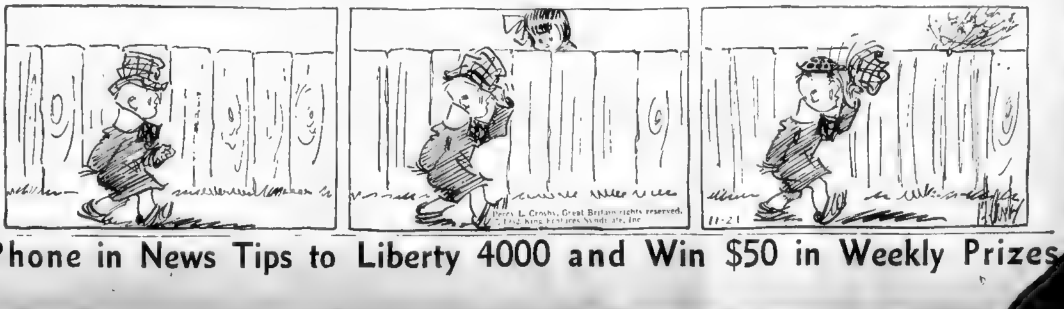
Romaine made this reply to rumors afloat in New York that she had left her husband and would go back to taxi dancing again.

Following her marriage, she said that her husband's father tried to get her to divorce his son on promise of generous alimony. He cut off his son's allowance, but Allan was willing to give it all up and go to work

6 Ships in N. Y.-Hub Winter Air Service

Inauguration of a new winter schedule of six planes daily and two planes Sundays on the Boston-New York Airline was announced today by Arthur L. May, Boston city traffic manager of American Airways, Inc

SKIPPY—Considerate and Polite -:- -:- -:- By PERCY CROSBY



Percy L. Crosby, Great Britain rights reserved. King Features Syndicate, Inc 11-21

Phone in News Tips to Liberty 4000 and Win $50 in Weekly Prizes

HURLEY AGAIN DEMANDS FUNDS FOR HOME BANK

Girl About Town

—By ALYCE SIEMENS—

God grant me this one thing I ask
Make me deserving of each gift
That I receive so selfishly
My eyes toward heaven I will lift—
In humble thanks.

God grant that favors so bestowed
Will seem to me to be so rare
That they will penetrate my heart
And I will offer you in prayer—
My humble thanks

Brief Bits:

Albert Wise [illegible] the Stuart street theater can name every overture that has ever been played at the "Met" and can tell them to you in their order . . . He attends the theater solely to hear the overtures . . . Brookline's Eve Amolsky uses a fig leaf for the trade-mark of her dress . . . Walter Proctor the Moulin Rouge's obliging [illegible] blind [illegible] guard [illegible] gun, when accompanying [illegible] Dietrich [illegible] in front of [illegible] sits in the front [illegible] chauffeur with [illegible] in [illegible] view . . . Arthur [illegible] Chesterfielder when it comes to smoking . . . [illegible] McCartney has turned her back on secretarial work to sing over the radio . . . And [illegible] Eleanore White is specializing in art work . . . [illegible] White is plenty attractive to [illegible] Pretty Ones and is eligible . . . Likewise the first fiddler [illegible] Corcoran [illegible] a fancy [illegible] from [illegible] forearm [illegible]

Could Rave O'er:

Agreeableness of Bert Cohan when he between-numbers piano plays at Cambridge's Paramount ballroom. . . The unselfishness of Mary McDonald, who works in a Faneuil Hall market, in her generous Good Samaritan food-giving to those poor families. . . Marie (Of-Th-Gossipers) Stoddard's success in teaching Eleanore (WBZ) Talcott all the little tricks and twists of the singing racket . . . The cuteness of Brighton's Mrs. Ann Pinkney's tiny, pretty child, Carole . . . The intenseness of "I Am a Fugitive From A Chain Gang" at the Paramount and Paul Muni's superb acting.

Bea Lillie Cuts Capers!

Ever [illegible] Beatrice Lillie was on and off stage almost continuously opening night of "Walk a Little Faster" [illegible] people on their [illegible] should [illegible] Lillie [illegible] third [illegible] of [illegible] prove how [illegible] see her [illegible] revue once more [illegible] skating across the stage [illegible] red velvet gown [illegible] scene, was terrifically [illegible] And really should have [illegible] Lord [illegible] Why not "That [illegible] . . . [illegible] McCull [illegible] their merry, mad parts . . . And outstanding for sureness of what he was doing was that of Dave Fitzgibbon with his sophisticated rhythms and his pretty sis, Dorothy, was just as sure of herself . . . We spied tall "Doc" MacGonigle in the lobby here from Manhattan in the capacity of Lady Peel's manager, we believe . . . The producer, [illegible] Burr, used to be a Wall Street broker . . . And we understand that Mrs. Joshua Cosden, the oil magnate's frau, is financially interested in the new show more than a little!

Pickups:

Lee Reinherz, Sid's missus, will give her first Ruthdraperish recital in the Provincetown Theater, in New York [illegible] 6 . . . She's been studying for it for a couple of years and is an Emerson grad . . . Later in the month she'll repeat her concert for her Hub friends, and Sid will be at the piano . . . "Tuny" Joy, [illegible] bachelor who takes to the air when the girls [illegible] flew to Virginia last week [illegible] and all . . . Made a happy landing in search of a certain Sweet Reason! . . . Howard Marsh was out of his "The Du Barry" role Friday night . . . And what fuzzings we've heard since about Grace Moore being that fussy about having unknown leading men, etc! . . . Gladys Baxter is out of "Cyrano de Bergerac" [illegible] recast and will open again in New Haven, Nov. 28, with Evelyn Herbert and Bob Holliday in the leading roles . . . Murray Dutton is truly a Faithful One to Lettice Cobb of Auburn, Me. . . . Amesbury's Bruce Norman is a staff member of the New York School of Music Art now and is doing a series of radio duets before the holidays with Madam Louella Meluis of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

Double Doings!

Perry (guitar) Lipson and Sarah Forman will be gold-banded next Sunday, and so will Sam (trumpet) Shopnick and Helen Norris . . . All of which means that their boss, [illegible] Rines, will have to double their [illegible]ies! . . . They're not dumb!

Their Antics Turn Toyland Into Joyland to Thrill Thousands of Children

MORE FUN THAN A BARREL O' MONKEYS

Hazel Sharp with Rastus, Mary Lou and Gus, three of the five trained chimpanzees that have come to R. H. White's Toyland to make it a mecca for happy shoppers, both old and young, from now until Christmas Eve.

WHEN A CHIMP GOES A-WHEEL

Thousands of youngsters and hundreds of grownups are taking their fun where they find it in Toyland as the chimps put on their shows. This is Rastus showing just how boys and girls should ride that gift.

RIDE 'IM, MONKEY BOY, RIDE 'IM!

Here's Gus, the sly and funny cut-up, making older folks forget dull care and giving the children the thrill of their lives. He knows how to ride, Gus does, as he demonstrated in White's Toyland today. (Staff photos.)

3 FEARED LOST OFF SEINER

Three Gloucester men are believed to have been lost aboard the 55-foot seiner William Landy, which was picked up disabled by the [illegible] St. Mary's in the Bay of Fundy and towed to Yarmouth, N. S., today.

When saved from the seas which had almost battered the boat to pieces, only the captain and one member of the crew were found to have survived of a crew of four.

The boat put into Gloucester two weeks ago for supplies, but its activities since are not known.

CHURCH TO HOLD MINSTREL SHOW

The 12th annual minstrel show and musical comedy of St. Augustine's parish will be held tomorrow and Wednesday evenings in St. Augustine's Hall, South Boston. Rev. Richard A. Burke is in general charge of the production.

Supervising the show, which is expected to surpass all previous efforts, are Charles P. McGuire and John J. Connolly. In the minstrel show end men will be Mattie Flaherty, Pat Connolly, Sid Mahoney, George Linsky, James Hourihan, John Lee and Sonny McDonough.

A number of sketches and specialty acts will feature the musical comedy section of the program. Among those taking part in the specialty numbers are Marian Kenney, Al Kirby, the Four Foleys, Claire and Thelma McGarry, Mattie McCann, Dot Gillen, Josephine Stockman, Thelma and Anna McDonough, Peggy Doherty and John H[illegible].

Students Await Holiday Closing

Thoughts of turkey and the first vacation since the opening of college are filling the minds of students in Boston University's schools and colleges [illegible] with [illegible] first class to be dismissed.

The college of practical arts and letters and the college of business administration are the first to close their doors for the recess. Other colleges close on Wednesday.

Mosher Elected Bellevue Head

At the annual meeting and election of officers of the Bellevue [illegible] Club, Melrose, Robert W. M[illegible] was elected president; Russell G. Brown, vice-president, Matthew C. Cox, secretary and treasurer, succeeding George G. Dearborn. Harold C. Ahern, Donald Martin and Frank C. White were elected to the board of directors.

RAID FAILS TO LOCATE RUBIN

Police here were awaiting word today from inspectors who went to Windsor, Ct., on a clue to the whereabouts of Samuel "Chippy" Rubin, sought by police for the past few weeks in connection with the kidnaping and holding for ransom of Herman Rutstein.

Hartford, Ct., police telephoned here yesterday that an auto, believed to be that of Rubin, was found abandoned in a lonely wooded section of Windsor, some five miles from Hartford. Rubin is said to have relatives who live near [illegible] where the car was found.

M[illegible] the hunt for Rubin here yesterday was featured by a [illegible] Winthrop rd., Chelsea, home just before dawn when detectives armed with tear gas [illegible] riot guns and wearing bullet proof vests, stormed the place in their search for the missing man. No trace of him was found.

Barrel o' Monkeys Turn Fun Loose in Toyland

Laughter rumbled and shrilled today through Toyland in the R. H. White Co. department store—the rumbles from daddies who were coaxed to go in and the shrill laughter from the youngsters who [illegible] them.

Rastus, Jackie, Gussie, Mary Lou and Rowdy, the chimpanzees that romp through the "Our Gang" comedy films, were the cause of all the laughter as they opened the first day of a month's stay in Toyland.

The five chimpanzees, in proof of the declaration that tere is no more fun tan that measured by a barrel of monkeys, went through all their antics in the store before constantly changing throngs.

Even store workers enjoyed a few stolen moments away fro mtheir duties to watch the bright chimps frolic and play, and the face of more than one store executive was seen in the throngs throughout the day.

Rastus, Jackie, Gussie, Mary Lou and Rowdy—the last is a precocious baby of only seven months—arrived in Boston yesterday and will entertain every day in the store, from 9 a. m. until 5 30 p. m., right up to Christmas Eve.

Thousands of people gathered at the North Station to watch the clever chimpanzees leave their private observation aid dining car and each board a taxi for the parade through downtown streets to the store.

Each of the chimps was dressed in winter underwear and other youngsters' habiliments of cold weather even to stocking caps and mufflers, because chimpanzees come fro ma tropical climate and must be well guarded against the cold.

There will be plenty of fun in Toyland from now until Christmas Eve.

ALL SET FOR ANNUAL SHOW

Little Marian Kenney is surely going to be a big hit at the 12th annual minstrel show and musical comedy to be staged in St. Augustine's Hall, South Boston, tomorrow and Wednesday evenings. Marian will do a cute little powder puff and Dutch dance, and the photo shows her ready to do her act.

ANIMAL LEAGUE PLANS FAIR

The annual fair of the Animal Rescue League of Boston will present a program of novelties to its patrons this year at the Copley-Plaza on Nov. 28 and 29.

An unexpected gift to the league will make possible an entire section devoted to a display of early American furniture and other antiques, which will be offered for sale with a guarantee of their authenticity.

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Farnum a collection of the famous blue beads of Constantinople will be on sale. Turkish dog owners cause their pets to wear these blue beads to keep off the "evil eye." This corresponds to carrying a rabbit's foot. Mr. Farnum, while on official duty in Turkey, secured this collection, which he has turned over to the fair, and Mrs. Farnum will be on hand to take charge of this feature both days of the fair.

Lady Grenfell, who will assist during the fair, has tendered the use of the Igloo which was such an attractive feature of the Labrador bazaar, and within this arrayed in a beautiful white embroidered Labrador dickey Mrs. Arthur Frederick Powers will tell fortunes.

One of the newest attractions will be the table size Christmas gum drop trees. Dr. Wesley A. Young will show pictures of animals taken by the league.

Emmanuel League in First Meeting

"The Catholic Woman in the Modern World" was the subject of the address of Mrs. Josephine McGowan of Canton, O., to the more than 500 women who attended the first meeting of the newly organized Emmanuel League, in the auditorium of Emmanuel College, the Fenway, yesterday.

Police Marksmen Awarded Turkeys

Exactly 100 turkeys were enroute to the ovens of police sharpshooters today as a result of a novel contest at the police revolver range, atop Welch's Ledge, West Roxbury.

The birds were prizes that were competed for by more than 1500 police marksmen from various sections of New England.

CLERKS TIED IN STORE HOLDUP

Armed with revolvers and carrying coils of rope, two youths entered the Sarnoff hat store at 2311 Washington st., Roxbury, today, held up and tied to two chairs Samuel Brofman and Hugh Gallagher, clerks, and escaped with $40 and an overcoat.

The bandits arrived at the store five minutes too late to get $400 in cash, which another clerk had taken to the bank.

The robbery occurred near the Dudley st. terminal, one of the busiest sections in the district, while scores of people were in the streets.

The plight of Gallagher and Brofman was discovered when a customer entered 10 minutes after the bandits had fled.

According to the police the youths, each described as being about 20 years old and well dressed, walked into the store and asked to look at hats. Both Gallagher and Brofman were fitting the hats on the bandits when they both drew their guns and ordered them into the rear.

Once out of view of passing persons the bandits tied up their victims, then went to the cash register and fled with the $40, grabbing Gallagher's overcoat as they ran out.

Girl Amnesia Victim Returned to Home

Marion Fitzgerald, 15, of Polk st., Charlestown, who was found wandering in Shawmut ave., South End, in a dazed condition Saturday night, was at her home today recovering from her experience. Taken to City Hospital after she was found by police, she finally was able to remember her name and address. Her father, John F. Fitzgerald, was notified and took her home from the hospital last night.

Central American Program Is Cited

Central America has made tremendous progress in the past 30 years, according to Victor N. Cutter, president of the United Fruit Company, who spoke last night at a meeting of the International Student Club. The meeting was held in the quarters of the Twentieth Century Club.

Cutter pleaded for tolerance and a square deal as factors of prime importance in the conduct of all successful business.

Burial Services for Telegraph Veteran

Funeral services for William S. Barker, 64, retired plant superintendent of the eastern division of the Western Union Telegraph Co., who died yesterday at his Linnaean st., Cambridge, home, will be held tomorrow at the Long Funeral Chapel, Massachusetts ave., Cambridge.

Burial services will be held Wednesday afternoon at Oak Grove Cemetery, Springfield.

Stamp Sale On

The 26th annual sale of Christmas health seals in aid of the Boston Anti-Tuberculosis Association was underway in Boston today.

RUDY AND WIFE IN BOSTON

Rudy Vallee and his pretty wife Fay Webb, arrived in Boston toda, after spending a week-end in Maine.

Following a brief rest the crooner will join his famous orchestra the Connecticut Yankees at the Boston Garden, where they will appear tonight at the benefit theatrical ball.

The ball is being conducted under the auspices of members of the Allied Theatrical Crafts. The proceeds of the affair will be used to benefit the sick and unemployed of the organization.

QUINCY MAN, 83, HELD IN THEFTS

Jason L. Harvey, 83, of Lea st., Hough's Neck, widely-known Quincy business man, waived examination in Quincy court today and was held in $300 for the grand jury, charged with receiving stolen property.

Harvey appeared in answer to summons after $160 worth of property, stolen from yachts and power boats in Quincy bay, had been found in a cabin belonging to him at Hough's Neck.

Three Squantum youths alleged to have systematically robbed boats anchored in Quincy and Dorchester bays in the last year, are held for the grand jury.

Donald Parmalee and Robert Finch, both serving a month in Dedham jail for larceny, and Paul Payzent, are alleged to have stolen $2000 worth of property from boats. Police have recovered $1500 worth of loot from summer cottages at Hough's Neck, some belonging to Harvey.

B. & M. Employes to Conduct Dance

The 47th annual ball of the Boston & Maine Freight Handlers Lodge, No. 1286, will be held Wednesday evening at Hibernian Hall, Thompson sq., Charlestown, with the proceeds to be devoted to the sick benefit fund.

NO FEAR OF TEACHER SENDING HER HOME

I USE KIL-VE on her head. If all mothers did the same, children would not have vermin on their heads. KIL-VE is a non-oily, non-sticky vermin destroyer; doesn't interfere with color or growth of hair. No fine comb needed if KIL-VE is used. Don't be ashamed to ask for it. At all drug stores—35c.

SCHWARZ'S KIL-VE

DESTROYS VERMIN ON CHILDREN'S HEADS

HITS AT TACTICS OF FORT AND SEC. MILLS

Declares Replies to His Wires to Both Officials Contradict Each Other

State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley today made a second demand on Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the Home Loan Bank board in Washington for funds to enable the Home Loan Bank for the New England district, located in Cambridge, to function without further delay.

Hurley announced at the State House that replies he had received to recent telegrams to Chairman Fort and Secretary Ogden L. Mills were contradictory.

He said Mills informed him that he had not received any request for funds and that he stood ready to make the appropriation authorized by the act when applied for.

Fort informed Hurley that he saw no reason for calling on the Treasury for money on which a 2 per cent dividend would have to be paid until all arrangements for making the loans had been completed.

2 MONTHS WITHOUT FUNDS

"As treasurer of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts," said Hurley, "I wish to state with all possible emphasis that I feel the Home Loan Bank, has under the law, the right to make loans to home owners direct.

"The Cambridge unit has been open two months without funds. We have Sec. Mills admitting to us that he is ready and willing to appropriate the legal amount of funds and Chairman Fort stating that he sees no reason for such grants until the last detail has been perfected. We have the machinery for relief, but nothing to run it."

In the letter which Treasurer Hurley sent to Chairman Fort today, he said in part:

SEES NO REASON

"You state as the reasons why the Secretary of the Trasury has not been called upon to supply money for the local unit of the Home Loan Bank system that 'there is obviously no point in our calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury for money fro which we must allo 2 per cent dividend from the date of its receipt until all regulations, forms and other essentials for the making of the loans have been formulated and completed.'

"It appears, however, that irrespective of conditions elsewhere, the Home Loan Bank for the New England District (except for its want of available funds) is prepared at least to take the preliminary steps necessary to making loans. There does not seem to be any reason why appraisals of the real estate offered for security cannot be made at this time.

"I have the word of the Secretary of the Treasury that he is willing and able to co-operate with your board at any time.

NARROW INTERPRETATION

"It appears that it is the understanding of the directors of the Home Loan Bank for New England that they cannot loan money directly to homeowners unless the home offered for security is unencumbered. There seems to be nothing in the Home Loan Bank Act that would require this narrow interpretation of its provision.

"On the contrary, such a construction seems inconsistent with the major purpose of the act, to wit, reduction of the hazard of mortgage foreclosures. One whose home is unencumbered is rather less likely to lose it than one who is faced with the necessity of refinancing a mortgaged home or have it foreclosed upon."

Honduran Rebels Beaten

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Nov. 21 (US)—An advancing rebel column was beaten back from Guaymas by federal troops yesterday. They retreated toward Yoro, leaving eight dead.

Have to Get Up at Night?

Deal Promptly with Bladder Irregularities

Are you bothered with bladder irregularities; burning, scanty or too frequent passage and getting up at night? Heed promptly these symptoms. They may warn of some disordered kidney or bladder condition. Users everywhere rely on Doan's Pills. Recommended for 50 years. Sold everywhere.

Doan's Pills

A Diuretic for the Kidneys

News and Gossip of Society Activities in and Around Greater Boston

MISS GERTRUDE SPELMAN AND CHARLES B. GULICK, JR., TO WED

BEACON HILL

—by—

Betty Alden

THE LIGHTER SIDE of Beacon Hill as heard by Betty this past week.

"Did you enjoy The Du Barry, Eloise?" asked one matron with the Swampscott figure to another with same. "Oh, it was Dee-vine, my dear, I never enjoyed an operetta so much. But I loathe singing. I wish they had talked all through it."

Another comment on this production: "How did you enjoy the music of The Du Barry?" was asked in the lobby. "Oh, fairly well," replied the blase one, "but it was such a STEAL on Victor Herbert and Gilbert and Sullivan. Didn't you GET it?" (Betty does not need to add that the musical score for The Du Barry was written in 1850, probably before the above named composers were born.)

ANNE MIXTER

What the wardrobe mistress said behind the scenes: "I hope the blankety-blankety play will have a long run so we can have beer and skittles for at least a year."

* * *

Many Yarns Spun

"MISS MOORE HAS to wear that horrid gold costume in the last act to show the VULGAR taste of the little milliner. It is HER conception (The Du Barry's) of what a court dress should be," was overheard among those "in the know." If you have seen the gown, you will get a smile out of this.

Seated around the luncheon table at the Touraine the other day many yarns were spun . . . among them the one about a couple of cynics who were apparently no lover of cats. It was cat show week; the two chaps in question went out one dark and starless night, cat hunting. Up one alley and down another, until a fine large TOM was sighted on a back fence. Tiptoeing nearer to him, meowing as they went, Dick and Harry finally bagged their cat.

They took him back to their apartment, gave him a bath and a quart of milk, tied on a huge red bow and went forth to the cat show. Mr. Alley Cat was accepted as an entry and put up for exhibition. He WON the prize for being a fine cat . . as no doubt he was.

After the prizes were awarded, Dick and Harry, in the presence of the judges and onlookers, tied the medal on the cat's neck, gave him a swift kick and shouted, "Now get back to your alley, cat!" Skat! The alley cat was never seen again as our practical joking friends gave the committee the Ha! Ha!

* * *

The Story of a Landscape Painting

WHICH REMINDS US of the painting of an Algerian sunset which was placed in the salon in Paris as the best landscape of the season in the modernistic manner. Later, it was revealed to us that two disgruntled painters, whose works had been ignored, had tied a donkey in their studio before a large canvas, placed several pots of paint under his long tail and the swish and swing of that extremity across the canvas completed the prize Algerian sunset. It don't seem possible . . . but WE never question the verity of good yarns, do you?

* * *

In a light moment, the beautiful and charming Mrs. Charles S. Mixter promised debutante daughter Anne a trip to Europe IF she would consent to make her debut this season . . . Anne is not social-minded, she likes a good time but piling it on simply BORES her. Anne came out a few weeks ago, picked up a case of appendicitis in the interim, went to the hospital, recovered, and is now going to realize her heart's desire . . . she will sail for the England, France, Italy and way stations in a short time. Clever Anne.

* * *

Elected President of Class

LUCY BOWDITCH STONE . . . in this case the middle name means much . . . has been elected president of her class at Bryn Mawr. Boston girls frequently take signal honors at distant colleges. Babbette Morison's mother received a telegram the other day reading, "Babs made treasurer of her class. Thought you'd like to know," signed by two of her college mates at Vassar.

* * *

Invitations are out for the Beacon Hill neighborhood moving picture show . . . the subject will be the South Sea Islands as expounded by Sidney Shurcliff of Mt. Vernon st. The proceeds will be used toward a new steeple and clock on the historic old Mt. Vernon Meeting House. The date is Friday evening, December 2, and we understand they are discussing having a deacon go about among the audience with a feather on the end of a stick to arouse those who use such places to take a quiet nap. We warn you that the following patrons and patronesses think this show will be good enough to keep you wide awake . . . The Romney Springs, Talbot Aldrichs, Arthur Shurcliffs, Mark deWolfe Howes and Stanley Parkers.

Mrs. Stanley Parker

* * *

The well-remembered hit of Vincent Club shows and one of the most popular of her set, Sally Wambolt Barney, has presented Philip C. with a darling daughter, born on the 16th.

Chatty Notes of Social Circles

OWING TO ILLNESS IN THE family, Mr. and Mrs. William James Davidson of Auburndale and Cohasset, announce the postponement of the presentation luncheon which they had planned to give at the Algonquin Club for their debutante daughter, Miss Mary Davidson, early in December. Mrs. Davidson hopes to introduce her charming daughter towards the end of next month or early in the New Year. Miss Davidson was graduated from the Beaver Country Day school last year, and is now attending Miss Garland's school in Boston.

MR. AND MRS. CARROLL ROPES BROWN of Bradlee ave., Swampscott, are giving a small luncheon at the Women's City Club on Dec. 5, when they will present their debutante daughter, Miss Mary Brown, to society. Miss Brown was graduated from the Brimmer school and also took the graduate course at Miss May's school.

AMONG PROMINENT BOSTONIANS visiting New York over the weekend were Miss Nell T. Baldwin of Chestnut Hill, who registered at the Waldorf-Astoria; Mrs. Bayard Warren, at the Weylin Hotel; Mr. and Mrs. George Peabody Garner, who took rooms at the Berkshire Hotel; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Gray of Goddard ave., Brookline, and Mr. and Mrs. Sears B. Condit of Chestnut st., who put up at the Ambassador Hotel. Others were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gardiner of Needham, who registered at the Barclay, and Mrs. John S. Ames of North Easton, who stayed at the Savoy-Plaza Hotel.

A POPULAR TRIO WHEREVER THE LEADERS GATHER

MRS. WILLIAM GRAY MRS. F. A. HARDING MISS LESLIE BLAKE

MRS. WILLIAM GRAY, Mrs. Francis Appleton Harding and Miss Leslie Blake, snapped at a recent social event, are popular members of Greater Boston society circles and take active parts in the many charitable and social activities the whole year round. The Boston social season has been an exceptionally busy one since society returned from the country and sea shore.

Books---And a Number of Things

By CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

It is impossible in any brief review to give an adequate sense of the monumental character of Burton Rascoe's volume "Titans of Literature" (Putnam). It is a colossal task which the distinguished critic has set himself to do, and he has accomplished it magnificently.

From Homer down to our time he goes through the whole history of literature, shattering some of our illusions, as they deserve to be shattered, setting forth his own reactions to certain writers, always brilliantly expounding his theories, never once boring us. One can imagine, in future years, young students taking this book to their hearts, dipping into it excitedly, finding themselves passionately devoted to it; being amazed, perhaps, at the daring point of view of Mr. Rascoe, yet hypnotized by the scholarly tone of the thing as a whole.

• • •

Fine Analysis

Mr. Rascoe is not afraid to speak out his mind. He is an iconoclast first and forever; but of his deep love for literature there can be no doubt. He has an uncanny way of dissecting an author, of completely understanding him. His chapter on Marcel Proust is about as fine an analysis of this strange, grotesque figure as could be written. He lashes George Moore, and praises him, and he sees through the insipidities and stupidities of Henry James; and he causes us to understand some of our modern poets as we perhaps have never before understood them. His style is rich, but never ponderous.

He has a youthful love of the beautiful, and he stands firmly on his own critical legs, unafraid to speak the truth that is in him. Every now and then, in one flashing ironic sentence, he gives us a jolt that upsets all our preconceived convictions.

It is the essay on Proust that will give you a completer understanding than you have ever had of this great writer, and drive you back to a re-reading of him. Of him he says:

"Every class of French society, down to the dregs depicted by Zola and Carco, had been treated in fiction, except that strange, sick society of curious beings, descendants of the nobles of France, who inhabited the Faubourg Saint-Germain and to whom the only realities and values left in life were in the childish game of excluding people from their houses and their acquaintance. It was a gossipy, idle, eccentric, pitiable set, thrown in so much upon themselves that they had developed complexities strange vise and [illegible] of [illegible] turing one another [illegible] an elaborate cheveaux-de-frise of codes, customs and manners as a protection from the outer world and to create for themselves an illusion of the importance of living."

And again:

"He was not exercising a too conscious control over what came out of the reservoir of his feeling, judgments and impressions, a control always regarded by the French as necessary to preserve the classic purity of the language. He got away from the literary formula. He often said he would have preferred to write in German as a language more resourceful than French, or failing German to write in English, which he also considered more flexible, [illegible] tive and capable of expressing shades of meaning impossible in French. He therefore wrote a French more like German in its syntax than like classical French, often placing the verb at the very end of a very long sentence, as being the logical place for it for the development and emphasis of what he was saying, and stringing out an idea to prodigious sentence lengths with subordinate clauses, parentheses, qualifying phrases and explanatory hesitancies (a practice often found in English literature, but almost never in French literature)."

• • •

Reading Suggestion

He tells us that he has a suggestion for those who have never read Proust:

"In the first place, even if one reads French easily, it is best not to read him in the original, but in the superb transfusion into English made of the first six parts of Remembrance of Things Past, by the late C. K. Scott-Moncrieff. In Scott-Moncrieff's translation Proust reads better than he does in French, as Proust himself realized."

Of Henry James he has this to say, and you will doubtless, through the flight of time since James had his little day, agree with his caustic summing up:

"Henry James, a fat, wistful remittance man with a passion for elegance to obscure the affront to his delicacy that was borne in on him by the fact that his grandfather was a highly successful merchant (or man in trade) in Syracuse, New York, and by the hauteur of Boston Back Bay society too flagrantly contemptuous of his origins, shook the dust from a 'vulgar' America and removed himself to England, where through a long period he braced English aristocratic society and, in novels, gave a profound psychological significance to the manner in which a duchess accepted a cup of tea from a younger, remote cousin of a son of a man with whom she had, in her dim past, an irregular affair. Through several novels Henry James rationalized, in an absurd and idiotic manner, his own flight from an America in which his healthier and brainer brother William, had not only found himself perfectly at home and at ease, but had written some works on psychology which even today place him among the great psychologists of all time."

The whole volume sparkles and shines. It must be read slowly and attentively.

(Copyright, 1932.)

Barbara Dean to Wed on Dec. 9

Miss Barbara Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Stuart Dean of [illegible] Cove [illegible], Cohasset, whose engagement to Mr. Charles Raymond Hunt, son of Mrs. James Henry Hunt of Duxbury, was announced on the 11th of this month, has now completed preliminary plans for her wedding.

Owing to the recent death of her grandfather, the late Mr. Joshua Saxton Raynolds, the wedding will be a very quiet family event to take place on Dec. 9 at her home.

Miss Dean studied at St. Timothy's School at Catonsville, Md., and was graduated from Smith College with the class of 1931. She is a member of the Boston Junior League.

Teele-Hughes Bridal Takes Place Dec. 26

[illegible]

SOCIETY NOTES

[illegible]

Junior Leaguer Plans Spring Wedding

[illegible] announcement this week-end [illegible] Mrs. Henry M. Spelman [illegible] of the [illegible] Miss [illegible] Mr. Charles [illegible] Philadelphia [illegible] her fel- [illegible] in her [illegible] the Back [illegible] school [illegible] Prof. George [illegible] of the Yale School [illegible] the son of Prof. [illegible] Burton Gulick [illegible] father is pro- [illegible] are [illegible] spring.

Bridge Benefit Is Planned

[illegible] Copley Plaza [illegible] will be [illegible] form [illegible] Mrs. Fran- [illegible] Miss Eliza- [illegible] Miss [illegible] Miss Evelyn [illegible] Miss [illegible] Miss Virginia [illegible] Mrs. Kenneth [illegible] from [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Alden, [illegible] Mrs. West- [illegible] this [illegible] are unable [illegible]

S. S. PIERCE CO.

Thanksgiving Delicacies

The S. S. Pierce stores are just filled with delicacies and better groceries for the holiday. And, needless to add, prices are low!

Good Things
a few among the many

Combination of Cluster Raisins, Epicure Dates and 3 crown Figs, regularly 80c. For Thanksgiving... 75c
Overland Brandied Plum Pudding—rich with fruits and nuts—1 lb. jar.... 75c
Brandy Sauce—delicious with the holiday plum pudding. Hester Price, 8 oz. jar 49c
Brandied Mince Meat, Olives, Relishes, Cheeses, Beverages, Appetizers, Fruit Cake, etc., etc.

Candies and Favors
a few of our many varieties

Chocolate "Roosters," each 15c
Chocolate "Turkeys" 20c
"Turkey" Lollypops, each.... 5c
Orange Nut Cups, ea. 8c to 15c
Assorted Chocolates, per lb. $1
Assorted Hard Candies, lb. 80c
Glace Cubes, Orange, Mint (green) or Clove (red) lb. $1
Assorted Salted Nuts,
No. 1 Selection, ½ lb. 60c
No. 2 Selection, ½ lb. 45c

PHONE ORDERS: Ken. 7600 or Reg. 1300 SIX CHEERFUL STORES

NOYES BROS
127 Tremont St. Boston

PRE-CHRISTMAS SALE of TIES

Noyes Bros. Neckwear is famous for quality. Every tie is of surperlative quality at the price. Newest patterns and colorings. Imported and American Silks. Each tie expertly cut so as to make a perfect knot.

65c regularly 1.00 — A wide variety of patterns in selected fabrics and fashionable colorings

95c regularly 1.50 — Selected failles, satins, moire, stripes, brocaded, figures. Hand tailored

1.35 regularly 2.00 — Best imported fabrics and careful hand tailoring make these ties of QUALITY

SHIRTS

Noyes Bros. Shirts at prices seldom quoted for such quality. Patterns fresh and new. A variety of selected fabrics; careful tailoring to give the perfect Noyes Bros. fit. Buy now—and feel sure you have some of your Christmas gifts safely chosen.

BROADCLOTH — White and colored with collar attached, neckband in white only; absolutely fast colors; fully shrunk. Unusual value at $1.00

MADRAS — Woven Madras shirts with two collars to match. Many new neat patterns; plenty of blues. Regularly $1.65. Now (3 for $3). $1.15

MADRAS — Extra quality woven Madras with two collars to match; including fine stripes on white ground and dark patterns. Regularly $1.95. $1.35

MADRAS & BROADCLOTH — Aristocratic shirts featuring selected new British stripes and jacquard weaves. Two collars to match. Regularly $2.50 and $3. $1.65

HOLEPROOF HOSE for MEN
"The world's best hosiery." Fancy lisle and wool........ 35c and 50c

A PAGE FOR WOMEN

Edited by MARGARET MATSON

How to Stay Married---Ten Rules by Beatrice Fairfax

Rule Ten—Keep the Home Fires Burning

SOMETIM[illegible] pictures of old peop[illegible] and t[illegible] [illegible] given to their worn faces a[illegible] beauty of the d[illegible]

[illegible]

H[illegible] H[illegible]

Men and w[illegible] [illegible]

A Ha[illegible] T[illegible]

In spite of this, marriage is more of a hazard today than it was even a generation ago. One [illegible] in every six goes on the [illegible] in these United States. The country is a melting pot, and couples of different races, religions, convictions, aspirations and temperaments have a child-like belief that in making the [illegible] out [illegible] antag- [illegible] thousand years in the hearts of their ancestors. [illegible] our shores that [illegible] the average of di- [illegible] freedom [illegible] expect to get people with too much leisure on their hands, too

[illegible] be created [illegible]

M[illegible] to Se[illegible]

[illegible] of the court [illegible] wedding ring [illegible] and celebrate the divorce [illegible]

[illegible] They are the [illegible] Dean Gauss of Princeton University [illegible] terized the child from a home broken by divorce as a Lone Wolf, unsocial, difficult to handle in schools and colleges.

On the other hand it is from homes where the old-fashioned decencies are respected that the torchbearers of the race have come, homes such as the log cabin where Lincoln's kindly stepmother saved the fat pine logs [illegible] read after his day's work. The lives of Woodrow Wilson, Thomas Edison, Michael Pupin, Mark Twain, who owed much to his gifted and hard working mother; Charles Augustus Lindbergh, and hundreds of others, stand for the influence of homes that really [illegible].

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American

Today's Pattern

New Smock to Save Your Dresses

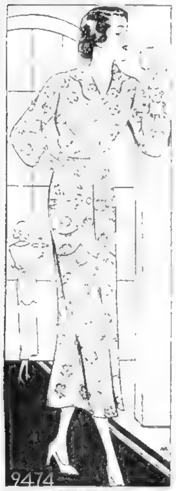
By MARIAN MARTIN

WHEN IT COMES to being "covered up" there's no doubt th[illegible] [illegible] and new sleeves.

Pattern 9474 may be ordered [illegible] or stamps (coins preferred). Please write very plainly your Name, [illegible] and [illegible] of each pattern ordered.

The Marian Martin Pattern Catalog [illegible] beautiful [illegible] evening, sports [illegible] frocks, lingerie and pajamas. Exquisite items for [illegible] too. Send for your [illegible]. Price of catalog Fifteen [illegible].

[illegible]



PATTERN 9474

Advertisement

Marry Go Round

Some Sidelights on Men

By HELEN ROWLAND

WHEN A MAN [illegible]

* * *

[illegible] woman's greatest d[illegible] the only thing on earth he wants to be forgotten.

* * *

Helen Rowland

[illegible] age a lottery for w[illegible] matter of a husband [illegible]

* * *

A man is not [illegible] to get old [illegible] discovers that a perfect dinner satisfies the long [illegible] more completely than [illegible] kisses.

* * *

A woman [illegible] they are both [illegible] the person they [illegible] in the world.' The ma[illegible]

* * *

Sooner or later every man would make a fool of himself over some woman if she would only give him time and not beat him to it.

* * *

If you have to analyze your emotions in order to know whether or not you are really in love, then you are NOT. Love is something as unmistakable as a hunger, rheumatism or a sprained ankle.

* * *

Bridge, like marriage, seems to bring out all the worst in the best man's disposition.

* * *

It's hard to [illegible] married a [illegible] masterful man, after she has watched a salesman high-hat him into buying a car that he can't afford or flatter him into buying a hat that he doesn't like.

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American

Your Health

Interesting Facts of 'Parrot Fever'

By DR. R. S. COPELAND

YOU HAVE [illegible] known as psittacosis [illegible]

Dr. Copeland

Caused by the diseased bird th[illegible] is transmitted to man. [illegible] rabbit fever. It is rarely found in domestic animals but in [illegible] birds that have recently been shipped from South America and other tropical countries.

[illegible] within fifteen to twenty days.

Psittacosis is a serious disease in persons over fifty years of age. It is particularly dangerous when it afflicts undernourished and weakened individuals. [illegible] It may be confused with [illegible] common cold, grippe or [illegible]. [illegible] unfortunate [illegible] persons afflicted with psittacosis require immediate and intelligent care. Neglect is dangerous.

Fortunately psittacosis is a disease that can be prevented by strict quarantine rules. The officials of our countries provide special methods of inspection of all birds in shipment. The birds must undergo careful health inspection before they are allowed to [illegible] roughing of feathers, cough or diarrohea are barred.

Health Queries

A Daily Reader. Q—I am annoyed with a kind of soft callus under one of my finger nails which seems to be spreading slowly. What can be done for this?

A—Consult your doctor or go to one of the skin clinics.

Mrs H R R. Q—How can I [illegible]?

A—Eat very sparingly of [illegible] and sugar. Reduce the amount of food taken at each meal. For further particulars send self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.

Household Hints

COFFEE STAINS can be removed from delicate materials by brushing the spot with pure glycerine. Rinse in lukewarm water and press on the wrong side.

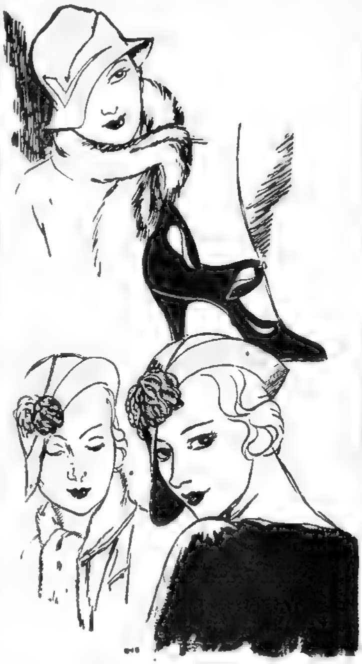
A TEASPOONFUL of ammonia added to a bowl of warm water removes fruit stains from the fingers.

How Do Nurses Manage?

[illegible] can be [illegible] pains? That is the reason [illegible] so many nurses use Midol. They know it blocks all possibility of such pain for hours — and nurses know that it is not a [illegible] safe to [illegible].

Midol [illegible] a measure of relief [illegible] lets women work or play in absolute comfort regardless of the time of month. All pain subsides in seven minutes! All dread of your periodic discomfort ends with this happy discovery. Any drug [illegible]. Ask simply for Midol.

Sketched in Paris



Color Combinations Favored More Than Ever in Paris Styles

By CABLE FROM THE PARIS BUREAU

Paris, Nov. 21—Probably never before have color combinations been so important in Paris fashions as they are right now. Not that there are more combinations than usual—although some houses show hardly a frock that does not show at least two colors—but in the original way that color is being used.

There are in general, two types of color plans, the one a repetition [illegible] color such as a tweed coat in multi-color, with hat, [illegible] repeating two or three of the tweed colors; the other a [illegible] dress, coat or suit with contrasting accents in [illegible] or bag.

There is for example the type of costume which is all black or [illegible] which is worn with light colored furs, hat and gloves. The grege hat at the top of today's sketches is designed for just such a costume. It is all one color, not a touch of contrast mars the [illegible] surface of the felt which makes brim, crown, trimming [illegible] and [illegible]. It is worn with a grege fox.

The hat below, sketched [illegible] angles, is on the contrary, a mixture of colors—brown, red and beige—to be worn with a brown dress with red and beige trimming. The hat itself is of brown felt, with tufts of feathers at the front combining beige and red. Both are models from Heurtet.

The shoe sketched is one of the American fashions to be adopted [illegible] the French capital, oxford variation tying on instep, and with the back coming up to a distinct point at the back of the leg. It is done by Ceci in blue kid with blue lizard trimming.

Grooming

How to Freshen Up Your Tired Eyes

EYES TIRED and the merry evening due on the [illegible]? Here's what to do [illegible] them [illegible] dip a [illegible] cloth in hot water, place on the eyes, repeat five or six times, use cold water the same way. Dip pads of gauze in witch hazel, place over the eyes leaving them there until the flesh is steaming warm, repeat.

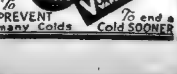
Graceful Figure

TALK TO A WOMAN about good posture and she turns a deaf ear. Yet a graceful, resilient figure can't be had without it.

The trick is so simple that any girl should be ashamed to trot about with a slouchy shape, shoulders forward, back curved the wrong way. All one has to do is to carry the spinal column stretched to its full length, draw in slack abdominal muscles, keep the chest cavity expanded. Functions of the body improve when the body is carried beautifully—digestion, breathing, circulation.

For Eye Shadow

IF THE WHITE HAIRED sister is looking for a heavenly eye shadow, let her try out mauve and silver. Only for evening, of course.



SAVE Money, Time and Health with the new VICKS PLAN for better Control-of-Colds.

use

To PREVENT many Colds

VICKS Nose & Throat DROPS

VICKS VAPORUB

To end a Cold SOONER

Martha Lee

Fruit Cakes, Both Light and Dark

By MARTHA LEE

From Martha Lee's Monday Morning Broadcast Over Station WAAB

HAVE YOU A WHITE fruit cake?" asks Mrs. W. N. H. of Hyde Park—and we're glad she reminded us of a white southern fruit cake that's the most delicious ever and would make a nice change this year from the regular spiced fruit cake.

Whether your fruit cake is to be white or dark, however, remember that raisins and currants should be picked over very carefully and cleaned.

White Fruit Cake

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
¼ cup milk
½ tsp. soda
2 cups pastry flour
1 tsp. cream of tartar
1 tsp. vanilla
½ cup citron, cut small
2-3 cup white sultana raisins
2-3 cup small, dark, seedless raisins
1-3 cup glace cherries, cut small

Melt the butter. Add the sugar gradually, beating well. Add the beaten egg yolks and the milk mixed with the soda. Next add the stiffly beaten egg whites and the pastry flour mixed with the cream of tartar. Now add the vanilla, citron, the raisins and cherries. Pour into a well greased paper-lined loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 325, about one hour.

For the Opera Frosting for this cake, put 2 cups of powdered sugar, ½ cup of milk and 2 tbsps. butter in a saucepan. Heat slowly to dissolve the sugar and boil for 2 minutes. When a little of the mixture is dropped in cold water, it should just hold together like fudge. Remove from the fire and beat until ready to spread.

English Fruit Cake

¾ lb. butter (1½ cups)
1 lb. granulated sugar (2 cups)
7 eggs
½ cup brandy or light cream
¾ lb. bread flour (3 cups)
1 tsp. grated nutmeg
1 tsp. cinnamon

Reserve ¼ cup flour to dredge the fruit. Cream the butter and add the sugar gradually, then the well beaten egg yolks, then the brandy or cream. Sift the bread flour with the spice, holding out ¼ cup for fruit. Add the remainder to the first mixture alternately with the stiffly beaten whites of the seven eggs. Beat well and stir in ½ lb. each of raisins and currants and ¼ lb. of thin cut citron. Bake in a moderate oven about two hours.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST
Stewed Apricots
Whole Wheat Muffins
Orange Marmalade
Coffee

LUNCH
Veal Hash
Cole Slaw
Hot Rolls
Canned Pineapple

DINNER
Noodle Soup
Cube Steak
Parsley Potatoes
Celery and Olives
Lettuce with Dressing
Pineapple Upside Down Cake
Coffee

Daily True Story

After Midnight

WHEN IT HAPPENED Alice was propped up in her bed in the room at the rear of the Maguires' flat, a reading lamp clamped to the iron framework and a new detective thriller in her lap.

She had heard a sudden scrambling noise on the fire-escape. The next instant there appeared at the half-open window the frightened face of a youth who could not have been more than twenty at the outside.

Now Alice wasn't twenty herself yet but everybody down at Donner's department store, where she worked as an assistant cashier, had realized that she was much older in courage than in years for she was the only one in the store who didn't try to crawl under a counter or behind a door on the morning when a trio of gangsters strode in and held up the place. In fact, it was Alice who had the nerve to step on the button that set off a gong outside and brought the police in time to trap all the bandits.

So on this night, after the midnight hour when she saw an invader at her window she did not scream.

A CLOSE CALL

For an instant he stood gazing at the girl in the bed, breathing like a tired runner. Then, with a prayer in his brown eyes, his words hoarse with alarm, he made his plea.

"For the love of Pete, where can I hide? If I can't get help, miss, it's all up with me."

Alice had no time to question him; she realized that, but there was something boyish about him that seemed to say that he wasn't as bad as she might imagine that perhaps she should give him the benefit of a rather fragile doubt.

"They're after me!" he exclaimed desperately as the girl looked him over. "It's a close call."

"Police?" asked Alice, as her judgment fought against her spirit of mercy in the impulse to shield the fugitive.

"No," gasped the intruder, and she believed him.

"Get behind those clothes in the corner," she ordered quickly.

The youngster made a dive for the shelter of Alice's few little gowns, but as he did so he tossed an automatic on the bed beside her.

"God bless you," he gasped, which gave Alice the comfort that he at least was not one of those cheap scoffers. Whatever he might be he still had a fragment of belief in something higher.

The fugitive was none too soon. Alice had scarcely gripped the gun and thrust the hand that held it beneath the covers when two more figures appeared on the fire escape and peered with ratlike eyes into the open window.

"Let's take a look in here," said the taller of the duo. But as he was about to throw a leg over the sill the voice of the girl stopped him.

"Don't you come in here," she commanded sharply.

The pair laughed at her, but their chortling stopped as she flashed the gun from its hiding place. "Get out," she said. "I give you my word I'll shoot if you don't."

"We want a guy that came in here," said the short one. "An' we're gonna get him."

"Oh, you mean the one that went up the fire-escape to the roof," said Alice.

Grumbling, the pair resumed their hurried journey up the iron ladders and Alice heard their grinding footfalls die away.

"Come out," said Alice five minutes later.

The youth came rather sheepishly from behind the curtain of gowns and stood like a schoolboy culprit before her.

"Thanks, miss," he said, with a suspicious huskiness in his voice. "You saved my life. They was tryin' to jam me into a car; said Mike wanted to see me out on the road, but I knew—I knew they had it all set to take me for a ride on a one-way ticket."

"What are you going to do now?" asked Alice.

GOING TO "BEAT IT"

"I'm gonna beat it out of this man's town and take a new road, believe me," said the youth earnestly.

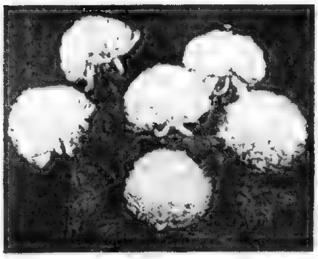
"Well," she said finally, "I'm believing you. I'm giving you another chance. When you strike a new town, keep away from the kind of people you've been tied up with here."

She gave the gun a little toss toward the foot of the bed and the shamefaced youth picked it up.

"Now, go out the way you came, and don't make any more noise than you can help. The folks are tired and I don't want them awakened. Good-bye—and good luck—and be a better boy."

The youth took off his cap to her and smiled for the first time as he backed out of the window into the night.

All names of characters in this story are fictitious.



Penn's Thanksgiving Special

a box of SIX Golden Yellow Chrysanthemums $2

LAST YEAR'S PRICE $3.00

• • •

For Those Who Always Choose Roses

TWELVE LONG STEM ROSES $2

SEND FLOWERS BY WIRE—even at the last minute—anywhere in the U. S. or Canada

124 Tremont St

Penn The Florist

Pennphone LIB 4317

Deerfoot Farms . . . the aristocrat of milk . . . pasteurized in the bottle.

Deerfoot Farm Sausage

A THANKSGIVING BREAKFAST!

Here's a meal that will start Thanksgiving Day right—easy to prepare and economical

DEERFOOT farm SAUSAGE

The links and patties are marvelous, alone! But wait till you taste them with golden-brown, fluffy

GRIDDLE-CAKES

You'll want some syrup, too, and a good, fragrant cup of steaming

HOT COFFEE

AND LISTEN! If you want a wonderful stuffing for your turkey, mix one pound of Deerfoot Farm Sausage Meat with half a cup of chopped celery, two tablespoons minced parsley and three or four cups of toasted bread, crumbled and moistened, or enough to make the amount of stuffing required. The result will be delicious, due to the matchless flavor of Deerfoot Farm Sausage.

Leading dealers have Deerfoot Farm Sausage fresh from our farm in New England. Linked sausage in pound and half-pound cartons; sausage meat in one and two pound bags. Economical to use! Deerfoot Farm Sausage is served in leading hotels, restaurants, and on dining-cars. Deerfoot Farm, Southborough, Massachusetts.

Deerfoot Farm Bacon too. Sliced Fresh . . . Delivered Fresh

THREE WOMEN :-: By Faith Baldwin

Louisa Invites Girl Cousin for Visit

"I have invited Elizabeth Howland for an indefinite visit," said Mrs. Sheldon to Lennox.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

The first of the THREE WOMEN—Mrs. Louisa Lennox Sheldon, wealthy widow, idolizes her only child, Lennox, who is now (in the early part of this century) a Columbia student. She is obsessed with him since birth, fearful lest he become the good fellow type his father was. The latter had died when the boy was 9 years old. The mother makes every effort to safeguard her "god's" morals. He lives at home when going to college and is not allowed to have a latchkey. His old nurse secretly provides him with one . . . he attends a merry stag party . . . tiptoes into his house after 2 a. m. . . . his mother's door opens suddenly and she starts questioning the tired youth. She learns of his night life and decides that he must be married to be saved.

NOW CONTINUE

Mrs. [illegible] went to [illegible] and sat at her secretary, the old one which she had brought with her from her father's house. She stared at it thoughtfully, drew a sheet of paper toward her, took up her pen.

For over an hour she sat there making no marks upon the fine, crested linen. Then she dipped her pen in the ink and wrote unhurried but without hesitancy.

"My dear Ella,

"I have been thinking of you so much during the past months, wondering how you are and why I have not heard from you. I write you to ask something of you. I want you to send me Elizabeth. As you know, Lennox is attending Columbia. He is away a great deal, he is busy with his friends, his studies, his social recreations. I am lonely in this great house. Henrietta is still with us but she is not growing younger, she is ailing much of the time. I have always regretted that no daughters came to bless my middle years. If I may have Elizabeth I promise you she shall be as my own. I will provide teachers for her, I will travel with her, she shall have every advantage culturally and socially. On my death she shall be independent. I have always been fond of her. Her last picture shows me a sweet, innocent face, charming and lovable. Think it over, talk with her, see if she is willing to come to me, if you are willing to part with her. We would come to see you, you would not be wholly cut off from her. I feel that it will be a great happiness to me to have her, that it will be happiness for Lennox, too, to have a little sister in the house.

"Let me hear from you soon. If you decide to let her come I will send my maid to Boston to bring Elizabeth to me. Do not bother about clothes, I will provide everything.

"I know I am asking a great sacrifice of you, but I feel that you will never regret it.

"Affectionately your friend,

"Louisa Lennox Sheldon."

SEALED ENVELOPE

She reread the letter, set it aside. After a time she sealed it in the envelope, addressed it and sat back in her chair, her eyes resting thoughtfully on the small white square.

Ella Howland was a very distant connection of Louisa's. She was a sister of the improvident, well bred man who had married Louisa's sister Emmeline. Emmeline was dead, her husband was heaven knew where. But Ella remained in Boston, a widow with three daughters and a very little money—a small income safely invested, enough perhaps for one but not for four. The two eldest daughters were public school teachers. Elizabeth, the baby, was now 18. Mrs. Sheldon had seen her a year and a half previously while on a visit to the Lennoxes. A simple child, graceful, docile.

Louisa smiled. She had no doubt of the answer. Ella would read the letter through tears of pious joy. And she would write gushing with gratitude—my little girl this, my little girl that.

GLAD TO GO

The child herself would be glad to come. It was not in nature that she would not be. Louisa remembered the small, moth-eaten house in the unfashionable district, the made-over clothes. Elizabeth had probably never owned a new dress in her life.

Mrs. Sheldon rang for the butler, gave him the letter to mail. She watched him out of the room and rose stiffly to her feet, and went to the windows. Her room faced the square. After a time she saw him emerge from the house and cross the street. Her fancy could hear the metallic, final sound of the letter-box flap dropping into place.

For an instant she had an impulse to run after him, to bid him, by any means, reclaim the letter.

Too late.

Well, she must submit to having her household upset, the even tenor of her ways disturbed, must be resigned to the intrusion of something young and thoughtless not her own.

Lennox and Elizabeth Howland. With care, it could be managed.

CONVENTIONAL PHRASE

Suddenly she was aware that she had lied in her letter to Ella. She had written, "I have always been fond of her." A graceful conventional phrase. She had never examined into the state of her feelings toward the girl. Now she knew that she disliked her cousin's child. Curious she had not realized it a few minutes ago. Had she been hasty?

She turned from the windows. Not accustomed to facing fear she did not recognize it when she encountered it.

Elizabeth's coming occasioned no apparent upheaval of nature, no stars strayed from their courses, the heavens did not cry out in warning.

Elizabeth's mother, upon the arrival of the letter was tearful and triumphant. Her thoughts and speech were as [illegible] as guinea fowl, as [illegible] undirected—my little girl to leave me, I cannot possibly [illegible] good of Louisa—of course the girl will be company for her. Lennox now such a nice boy as I remember him, handsome [illegible] the advantages my little Betty [illegible] a thing fit to wear—where did we put the good packing trunk—telegraph no, write first—I can't bear to think of the house without her, we mustn't stand in her light.

ELIZABETH EAGER

Elizabeth herself was an animated exclamation mark. New York! Away from this stuffy house and the slippery horsehair furniture and Fanny's last year's dress and Alice's year-before-last coat. Out of it! Theaters! Dances! Frocks and slippers! She talked, questioned, answered, at random. "I don't remember Lennox, Mother. Was he dark or fair?" No, of course, Alice, Columbia isn't Harvard!"

"But I'll miss them," she thought lying awake through the long last nights. She tried to see with her eyes shut her mother's harried face. She thought lovingly of her sisters, she cried a little and laughed a little more and was genuinely horrified to mark how the features of her own people blurred into the dark.

What did Lennox look like? How had Cousin Louisa ever come to send for her? What relation were they really? Not cousins. Oh, it was all too complicated. Mrs. Sheldon was her mother's brother's sister-in-law, cousin then for courtesy and simplicity. How many days between herself and the great adventure. Oh, she couldn't go—countrified, awkward, young, young Elizabeth! Could she leave her mother? Could she endure to wait?

SO FAR, SO GOOD

Louisa, folding up the telegram which had followed Ella's agitated, incoherent, acquiescent letter, smiled, with her lips. The girl would come. So far, so good. She cast a dismayed glance about her room, about, mentally, the entire house. An intruder, a stranger, a stupid, emotional girl. She asked herself, "Have I done wisely?"

She told Lennox after the plans were made and very casually.

"I've invited Elizabeth Howland for an indefinite visit."

"Elizabeth?" He knitted his brows. "Oh, of course. But I don't remember her very well. Long legged kid, wasn't she, when I saw her last?"

His mother winced. She disliked slang fastidiously and legs intensely. She answered, carefully.

"I do not imagine that you would remember her. She was very young the last time you were in Boston."

After a moment he asked, not caring particularly, "Indefinite visit you said? But why, exactly?"

EXPLAINED PATIENTLY

Mrs. Sheldon explained, patiently.

"Ella Howland is very badly off, indeed. Three daughters and so little money. I have been thinking for some time that I would like a companion. Cousin Henrietta is not at all well. And you are away all day. Soon you will be taking your place in your father's business, and you will be even more away from me. You will marry, will set up your own establishment. It occurred to me that I would not only be benefiting Ella but myself if she permitted me to take the responsibility of her daughter. I had even thought of adopting her, but that can wait until we see how things work out. I think we can find interests and amusement for the child. I live quietly, of course, but it will be a complete change from her very limited surroundings."

Lennox [illegible]. He had not seen his mother [illegible] in some time. [illegible] he thought it [illegible]. Since the episode of the latchkey she had been very noticeably withdrawn from him. Perhaps with a [illegible] he [illegible] it [illegible].

ALWAYS SO KIND

"You're always doing things like this. I don't mean adopting children, of course, but being, oh, awfully kind and generally benevolent in a quiet way. I wonder if you'll like her?"

[illegible] softened at the [illegible]. It was quite true her purse was always open to the [illegible]. She did not commit [illegible] charity but she was a rock of strength to distressed people. Not sympathetic [illegible] but [illegible] with her money [illegible].

She [illegible] she [illegible] the [illegible]. She obeyed the [illegible] of the law.

"Ella Howland's daughter could not be anything but likable," was all she answered.

[illegible]

Lennox and Elizabeth become great friends. Will it ripen into love? See tomorrow's installment.

SOUPS are so much better when seasoned with LEA & PERRINS Sauce

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By Louis Sobol

Down Memory Lane!

(By Molly Picon)

Those familiar East Side faces jammed the pier as our liner was being moored at the end of our 38,000-mile tour through 17 countries. In other words I was home again after a 15-month tour. And again I heard the words they shouted during my first appearance at the [illegible] when I was on the [illegible] with Sophie Tucker and [illegible]: "Molly, come back to our East Side!"

I played for 21 consecutive weeks in Buenos Aires, where [illegible] a new [illegible] on the main stem [illegible] Times Square [illegible].

[illegible] a Jewish [illegible] in the Argentine founded by the late Baron Hirsch the [illegible] is the sounding of a gong which is heard on all farms for miles around and informs the farmers that there is something doing at the theater that night. The announcement [illegible] followed a series of items which the farmers had for sale.

The Yiddish gauchos (cowboys), who predominate in South America, sit around their campfire singing "Yiddishe Momma" and other Jewish favorites in the same manner as our U. S. cowboys render "Giddyap Little Dogies," etc.

I remember very vividly the fortitude with which the Jewish farmers near Mosesville bore the catastrophe of a locust plague when millions and millions of the pests descended on the crops en masse and within a few minutes left a farm as bare as the backs of May Wirth's horses.

I witnessed the revolution in Brazil when a brother fought against a brother and a father against a son, and thanked God that at home we never have anything more severe than the few-and-far-between riots at Union sq., which by comparison are as fleas to elephants. Nevertheless, in all the strife I was accorded the utmost courtesy by leaders of both factions in the revolution and the armistices during my performances.

Two more memories I brought with me from South America—the eruption of a volcano spouting fire and molten lava rushing down its steep sides, clearing everything in its path, and the [illegible] while they [illegible] in Buenos Aires. [illegible] wonderful dancers but [illegible] and they taught me to do the tango.

The wife of one of the Presidents of Buenos Aires, an actress, started to build a beautiful [illegible] for retired actors. [illegible] was put [illegible] half [illegible] the most beautiful home for [illegible] actors and actresses [illegible].

At the Osado (barbecue to you) the Spanish Press gave us at Flores they stewed a whole cow on a spit and had their best Spanish actors and actresses perform for us.

The beautiful women in Brazil have their bodies half exposed doing a Rebecca, but each one of them has her hair very carefully permanently waved. There's only one barber in the town of Ancra dos Reis, a town of 2000, but he's the busiest barber in the world. Every place in South America and in Spain is a living setting for Carmen, but the girls in the Latin countries emulate Clara Bow and Greta Garbo and their other movie favorites.

My first appearance at the [illegible] in Vienna was attended by the President and they warned me not to sing a single [illegible] Yiddish. I sang one number in English and asked the audience if they wanted to hear a Yiddish song. They cried yes in [illegible] and from then on my programs were Jewish.

A [illegible] tour [illegible] revealed that all the [illegible] are Hindu, Indian and Negroes but all the business men are Jews.

I was barred out of Budapest during the Christmas holidays, because, as one manager explained it, it might cause a lot of race hatred if I took business away from the other theaters.

The English audiences resented my singing of "How You [illegible] to Me" during my first performance in the Palladium in London. They thought it was an [illegible] to describe the type of audiences assembled in the music halls. However, I find the reaction of the New York audiences vastly different.

But long before that there was the time they threw coins at me in Philadelphia during the amateur performances at the Casino Theater. I was five years old then.

It was the late Jacob Adler who taught me how to act, and the same season everybody in the company [illegible] something to wear for my first grown-up role.

Being made love to in six different languages by Jacob Kalich led up to a quiet wedding in Philadelphia and a three years' honeymoon in Europe. On our way to Europe on the S. S. Majestic fire broke out and everyone was ordered to put on life-belts. It took six sleeping powders to put me to sleep that night.

Blanche Yurka, Edward Everett Horton and Thurston Hall were my colleagues in the Philadelphia Stock Company's presentation of "Broadway Jones."

When my first starring vehicle "Yonkele" [illegible] in Latin America they pronounce the Y as J and it doesn't sound the same. [illegible] natives [illegible] Vienna the people shouted for Yonkele and Our Molly just as if it were Second ave. After the performance I was carried by students from the theater to the hotel until they got too tired and placed me in an automobile.

I got my [illegible] of the opening of Yonkele in New York from the [illegible] shock of seeing my name over the theater where one week contract became an eight year stand.

So far I've had but two "command" performances. One was before Queen Marie and King Ferdinand, of Rumania, and the other was before Al Capone in his Cicero cabaret.

There is a theater which is on the border line of Poland and Czecho-Slovakia. One portion of the audience paid in Polish currency at so much a dollar and the other in Czech currency. Regretfully enough there were capacity audiences but no money.

And finally there is the present contract which made me hasten back from South America. Am I going back there? I should say so!

Amateur Radio Is to Speed Red Cross Call

[illegible] and suburban chapters of the Red Cross will enlist the aid of U. S. Army amateur radio communications system at the Army Base, South Boston, to make their report on the annual roll call to Washington Red Cross headquarters.

The same system of communication with headquarters will be adopted by the [illegible] of the Red Cross throughout the country. Each chapter will give the nearest Army amateur radio station a report of the enrollment on Friday. The Army operators will transmit the messages to Washington. In the New England area there are 87 Army amateur radio operators.

DIANA CHURCHILL TO WED

MISS DIANA CHURCHILL

JOHN MILNER BAILEY

From London comes this picture of Miss Diana Churchill, eldest daughter of Winston Churchill, M. P., former chancellor of the exchequer, and her fiance, John Milner Bailey, eldest son of Sir Abe Bailey, South African millionaire. The couple was photographed on the Churchill lawn. Their engagement was announced on Nov. 9. Their wedding will be a brilliant event of the London social season even though they are commoners. (International News Photos.)

For Roast Turkey and other Poultry and Roast Meats Use BELL'S SEASONING 10c Wrapped in moisture-proof Cellophane

Established 1835 PAINE Furniture Company 81 Arlington Street

This Week's HEADLINER

Gift searchers see these

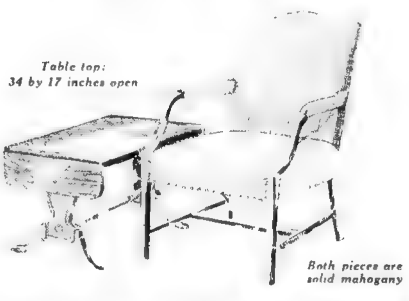

Table top: 34 by 17 inches open

Both pieces are solid mahogany

MARTHA WASHINGTON TYPE CHAIR $19.50

Dropleaf Coffee Table $12.50

THE frame is solid mahogany, staunchly constructed; coverings of attractive tones of green or rust novelty cloth; finished with brass nails. We thought our $22.50 Martha Washington a marvel. Now we have outdone even that. The solid mahogany table has hand rubbed Colonial finish and is a charming design. Here are two pieces fine enough for any home, yet priced for the most modest.

Deep Stuff!

LOVE!! SCIENCE!!

Dinah Mow—the most dangerous woman in the world! Strong men are but clay in her hands—will POP EYE'S name be mud, too, when she gets through with him?

WHAT Happens When a Man of Iron Meets a Magnetic Woman?

follow POPEYE EVERY DAY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN

New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper

BOSTON AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

MARKETS

BUSINESS

SAW-TOOTHED RECOVERY IS SEEN IN PROGRESS

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Nov. 21—Saw-[illegible] recovery.

Stocks and bonds [illegible] week. So did wheat [illegible] gains were registered in copper, gasoline [illegible] other [illegible].

October [illegible] failures make the [illegible] bank clearings make [illegible] months ago, registered this year.

The Department of Labor reported the first weekly advance in commodity prices since September. Dun's says:

"Further evidences of a greater degree of stability in general business is reported."

On the other hand railway traffic is falling off [illegible] the steel [illegible] have not materialized [illegible] none [illegible] er consu[illegible] tial [illegible].

[illegible] demand.

DEFINITE IMPROVEMENT

It is noteworthy [illegible] several [illegible] representatives [illegible] P. Morgan & Co., the Chase [illegible] Guaranty Trust Co. [illegible] conviction that [illegible] ment has set in and that there will be no return to the conditions prevalent around midyear.

In view of the [illegible] of the financial world [illegible] pressions of confidence [illegible] the Democratic landslide can be regarded as [illegible] and encouraging. The [illegible] among other [illegible] to co-operate [illegible] istration [illegible] sentiment [illegible].

Several [illegible] poration [illegible] tion in [illegible] faith in the [illegible] speak [illegible] also [illegible].

With [illegible] The Eur[illegible] "gentlemen [illegible] at Lausanne [illegible] "Uncle Shylock [illegible] Santa Claus [illegible] perturbed [illegible] anti-[illegible] hibited [illegible].

But [illegible] pectations [illegible] drop to new [illegible] came [illegible].

DEBT SETTLEMENT

[illegible]

LOFT SALES UP; 1000 HIRED

New York, Nov. 21—Increased sales and increased customers have forced Loft Inc. to put 1000 new employes to work [illegible] day.

George M. O'Neil [illegible] the company [illegible] expen[illegible] by the company [illegible]:

"Since directly after election day our sales have shown an increase of 25 per cent. Loft stores reported an increase in customers of over 55 per cent.

"This is due, of course, in large measure to our newspaper advertising.

"As a result of this increase in sales volume we have engaged 1000 additional employes since Nov. 10."

Dividends

Imperial Tobacco of Canada declared an interim [illegible] per cent [illegible] $5 par, payable [illegible] stock of record November [illegible].

* * *

General Candy Corp. [illegible] dividend of 25 cents on the class A stock on account of accumulation payable December 15 to stock of record December 1. Similar dividend was paid October 1.

* * *

Directors of the [illegible] Water & Power Company [illegible] declared the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents per share on [illegible] no par value [illegible] January 3 [illegible] to stock of record December [illegible] 1932.

* * *

Boston & Albany [illegible] declared the [illegible] of 2.25 a share due at [illegible] payable December 1 to [illegible] of record November 30.

* * *

Directors of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 5[illegible] cents a share on the common stock payable December 5 to stock of record November 30.

* * *

Boston & Albany Railroad today declared the [illegible] quarterly dividend of $2.25 a share, payable December 31 to stock of record November 30.

* * *

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. declared regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the $7 first preferred stock, payable January 1 to stock of record December 1.

Foreign Exchanges

Demand sterling, $3.2[illegible]. Lire 5.11⅛ cts. Franc, 3.91½ cts.

New York Bank Stocks

	Bid	Asked	[illegible]
Bankers Tr	6[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Brooklyn Tr	16[illegible]	17[illegible]	16[illegible]
Cent Hanover	1[illegible]8	1[illegible]6	1[illegible]
Chase Nat	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chem Bank & Tr	3[illegible]
City	4[illegible]	4[illegible]
Continental	18
Cor Exchange	71	76	[illegible]
Empire	2[illegible]	27	[illegible]
First Nat	16[illegible]	180[illegible]	1[illegible]
Guaranty Tr	318	[illegible]	31[illegible]
Irving Tr	25¾	27¾	2[illegible]
Manhattan	30¼	33	3[illegible]
Manufacturers	28½	31½	2[illegible]
N Y Trust	93	108	95
[illegible] Nat	29½	31½	29½

ADVERTISING AT A NEW PEAK

Detroit, Nov. 21—[illegible] policy [illegible] where Kelvinator [illegible] representatives are located. In commenting on this statement, Mr. Mason says:

"Our field surveys show that public buying is steadily increasing and that there are approximately 8,000,000 live prospects for electric refrigeration which may be reached by our outlets. We are going after this business in earnest and we plan to spend more money in advertising than ever before in the history of the corporation.

"The fact that Kelvinator set an all-time record in unit shipments during October indicates that conditions have built up a great reservoir of orders. This record reflects public demand for electric refrigeration as a modern necessity and proves the ability of the public to find cash for such a convenience."

Transamerica Bank Loans Are Lowered

Transamerica Corporation bank loans, which stood at $20,599,068 at the end of 1931, approximate $12,500,000 currently, Dow, Jones & Co. state in an article on the company's fiscal position.

"Earnings thus far this year have been at a rate slightly in excess of those in 1931, despite the more unfavorable conditions prevalent throughout industry and finance. Economies in operation have been a factor benefiting income."

Work for 1500 Men Provided by Central

New York, Nov. 21—Fifteen h[illegible] [illegible] week in its car shops [illegible] Buffalo, N. Y., and [illegible] Beech Grove [illegible] beginning Dec. 1, the New York Central Railroad has announced. Of the three plans suggested in its application to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan of [illegible]500,000 to increase employment the road has selected that one which calls for repairing 10,000 50 and 55-ton steel box cars and [illegible] automobile box cars.

Cotton Ginnings of New Crop Smaller

Washington, Nov. 21—The U. S. Bureau of Census reports 10,532,7[illegible] running bales of cotton ginned from the crop of 1932 to November 14, against 14,207,613 in the same period a year ago and 11,962,827 two years ago.

WASHINGTON AGAIN LOOMS IN MARKET

By FRANK H. MELOON

Washington again looms as th[illegible]

[illegible]

Chairman Andrew W. Robertson [illegible]

A. W. Robertson

* * *

As chairman of the National [illegible]

* * *

Mr. Robertson's list of co-opera[illegible]

* * *

Other large modernization pro[illegible] [illegible] Southern [illegible] & M[illegible] amounted to [illegible] of $1[illegible] [illegible] Co. Bogalusa [illegible] $1,500,000, National Steel Corp. [illegible] Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. $350,000 and Co[illegible]

* * *

Montana Power Co. will expend [illegible] Others [illegible] Newport [illegible] Crosley [illegible] $15[illegible]80. The Pittsburgh industrial area reports so far [illegible] undertakings in business and industry to cost $2,693,100 [illegible] will be expended by 16 companies including Pittsburgh Plate Glass, National Steel and Westinghouse.

Norwalk Tire Has Profit of $119,734

Norwalk Tire & Rubber Co. reports for year ended Sept. 30, 1932 (certified by independent auditors) net profit of $119,734 after depreciation, provision for doubtful accounts, [illegible] taxes, etc., equal, after allowing for annual dividend requirements on the 9,75[illegible] shares of [illegible] preferred of $50 par outstanding at the close of the year, to 43 cents a share on the 1[illegible] shares of common [illegible] compares with net profit in the preceding fiscal year of $98,508, which, computed on the above share basis, is equal to 33 cents a share on the common.

Kemmerer Balks at Debt Default

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 21—Edwin W. Kemmerer, internationally known financial adviser, has joined seven other prominent members of the Princeton University faculty in opposing outright cancellation of war debts owed America by European powers.

Prof. Kemmerer, a member of the Princeton economics department, recommended that a new American debt commission be appointed to consider each nation's case for revision separately.

Foreign Trade of Poland Declines

Washington, Nov. 21—Polish exports for the first nine months were valued at 793,705,000 zlotys and imports at 643,396,000 zlotys, leaving a favorable balance of 159,309,000 zlotys. (Zloty equals $0.1122.) As compared with the like period of 1931, both exports and imports declined around 45 per cent.

STATE ST. Hears:

That market opinion continues to be equally divided as a new week opens. Both bull and bear advocates stubbornly contend that their ideas are best. Out of such a deadlock it is only natural to expect a fairly rapid movement. It is not unlikely that the breakaway will come this week. The foreign debt discussions may provide a major piece of market news. Such an idea is predicated on the thought future discussions will be recommended on a basis of debts for trade.

Heard in the Street

There is one obstacle facing the [illegible] the United States [illegible] would still [illegible] who guarantee to buy our goods.

To circumvent this question of all payments, it would be necessary to tear down our tariffs to a [illegible] extent. If this is regarded as the logical step, we might just as well let the debts owed us abroad stand as they are. In other words, our buying would supply the gold to pay the war debts.

England is apparently determined to continue her efforts to scare this country with a depreciating pound. She feels her [illegible] costs have [illegible] and she can afford such a [illegible]. Possibly, but England is [illegible] working against her plan.

Odds and Ends

[illegible] Pacific [illegible] larger short interest than many suspect. The issue was bulled by a crowd that advertised its withdrawal all over the tape as well as by word of mouth. It begins to look as though they had neglected to inform the "district" of their intention to get in again.

The farm implement shares have [illegible] better than the majority of the list. There is [illegible] taking in the minds of the [illegible] that these issues will show the way when the anticipated rally [illegible] full stride. International [illegible] is the favorite.

The copper conference is viewed with mixed emotions in State Street. There have been so many conferences expected to help the [illegible] industry that it is about time one of them made some real headway. But skeptics say it is impossible with present surpluses.

Ticker Talk

First National Stores continues to show earnings that put it in the blue ribbon class ... This well-managed New England chain is attracting scale buying on setbacks ... On the other hand, the yields on some chain store issues [illegible] large enough to excite suspicion.

The soap makers are not out of the woods yet, according to the gossip ... Colgate Palmolive is now said to be considering a reduction of the dividend ... As one market letter writer points out, the management believes advertising more important than the dividend.

The gossip on Montgomery has run to "all" stories of accumulation for some time now ... And the tape has lately borne every indication of real buying ... On setbacks when general activity dries up usually informed brokers recommend its purchase. H. E. B.

Boston Stocks

	High	Low	2.50	Chg
Am Can	55¼	5[illegible]	5[illegible]	[illegible]
Atchison RR	43½	42	42	[illegible]
Am Tel	110	108	1[illegible]	[illegible]
Am Woolen pf	24½	24	24
Anaconda	10	9	9	[illegible]
Balt & Ohio	12¾	12	12	[illegible]
Bendix	11¼	10	11	[illegible]
Beth Steel	17¾	17	17	–⅛
B & M B stp	12½	12	12½	[illegible]
Cal & Hecla	3½	3	3
Chrysler	16	16	16½	–
Comnwlth So	3	2¾	3	–⅛
Con Gas	59½	58	58	–
Cop Range	2¾	2⅝	2	–
Curtiss W	1	1	1	–
Edison	181	181	181	+1
Elec B & S	23	22	22	–
First Nat St	50	50	50	–1
Gen Capital	14	13	1[illegible]	–
Gen Elec	16¾	16	16⅝
Gen Foods	26	25	26
Gen Motors	14¼	13	13
Gillette	18¼	18	18
Int Tel	9	9	9
Mont Ward	1[illegible]	13½	14
Nash	13	13	13	⅛
N E P Ser	2½	2½	2½
N E Tel	96	96	96	—1
New Haven	15⅞	14⅞	14⅞	—
No American	29⅞	29⅝	29⅝	—⅛
North Butte	30c	30c	30c	—5c
Packard	2⅞	2⅝	2⅞	..
Penn R R	14½	14⅛	14⅛
Radio Corp	7	5½	5½	—1
Reece B H	5	5	5	..
Shawmut	6½	6	6	..
Std Brands	15	15	15	..
Stone & Webs	9	9	9
Torrington	31	30½	30½	+
Un Aircraft	28	27½	27½	—
Un Carbide	26½	24⅞	24	—
Un Corp	9⅛	8⅞	8	..
Utd Founders	1	1	1
Utd Fruit	23	23	23
Utd Shoe	34	33⅞	33⅞	—
U S Smelt pf.	41	41	41
Westinghouse.	29¼	28⅞	28⅞	+ ⅛
BONDS
Chic Jct Ry 5s	97	97	97	..
P C Poc 7s	90	90	90	..

LIVE NEWS OF WALL STREET LEADERS

[illegible]

Foreign Buying in Kennecott Reported

[illegible] foreign buying in Kennecott has been reported. The stock was on a previous occasion [illegible] up from London. If President-elect Roosevelt next March should elect to recognize the Soviet it would be [illegible] bullish on the red [illegible].

Would the Soviet Buy Farm Machinery?

[illegible] the [illegible] would [illegible] States [illegible] considered [illegible] Farm machinery [illegible] and the Soviet may [illegible] to make some of [illegible].

Transamerica Due for Work by Pool

Transamerica is said to be due for work by a new pool. This time [illegible] group [illegible] coming forward with the full [illegible] pool position in Transamerica [illegible] proved [illegible] but the [illegible] money was returned [illegible].

Baltimore & Ohio Borrowing Largely

Baltimore & Ohio has been borrowing on a major scale. The R. F. C. stepped into the latest breach with a $31,6[illegible]5,000 loan. Next March there will be the [illegible] of a $63,250,000 maturity. Then [illegible] the $5,000,000 [illegible] of the Cleveland [illegible] Wheeling out of the way [illegible] path of the B. & O. [illegible] even if G. B. [illegible] doesn't pick up as hoped.

Legalized Beer to Aid Cap Makers

Street statisticians believe legalized beer would be a help to the makers of bottle caps among others. One such company, Crown Cork International Corp., in the first [illegible] months of 1932 showed earnings after adjustments for fluctuation in foreign exchange greater than in the first half of 1931 although actual volume of business done in the period was 11.44 per cent less than in the 1931 period.

Foster Wheeler and Its Brewery Trade

Foster Wheeler Corp. (FWC on the ticker tape) used to have a good volume of business from the manufacturers of beer and liquors. This was in addition to its important turning out of power plant and oil refinery equipment. Included among products today made by Foster Wheeler which can be (and maybe are) used in manufacture of beer and liquors are boilers, brass and copper tubing and pipes, condenser tubes, coolers, cooling towers, heaters, heat exchangers, pipe coils, steam generators, superheaters and vacuum refrigerators.

Thatcher Mfg. Put in Beer Bottle Class

About everyone in the United States must have heard by this time that Owens-Illinois Glass is ready to make beer bottles on a large scale as soon as the Volstead ideas are definitely scrapped. But now there's another. Wall Street hears Thatcher Mfg. is ready to make beer bottles on short order. Its half interest in General Glass is cited.

Wheat Movements and the Railroad

Prospects of a large deferred wheat movement are beneficial to some of the grain carriers, particularly those in the Northwest, but much depends on wheat prices. With low prices prevailing the wheat will not move until farmers are forced to sell. The carriers in the Northwest were confident in the early summer that they would get a good movement of grain at the normal time this year. Their hopes were dashed, however, largely due to the fall in price. For several roads the deferred movement of grain which must be shipped later than usual, will afford some backlog of traffic in coming months.

Closing in Paris Trading Is Firm

Paris, Nov. 21 (AP). Prices today on the bourse showed a good reaction to the better tone of foreign markets and French and international shares showed gains. French rentes also improved, and the closing tone was firm.

A quiet but cheerful tendency prevailed on the Berlin boerse throughout the session and continued after official closing hours.

Boston Curb

Sales		High	Low	Close
500	Black Hk Cns	20c	20c	20c
100	Castype Cp Am	4	4	4
300	Cons M & P Ltd	90c	88c	90c
50	Dollar Inv Tr	1½	1½	1½
200	Living Mng Co	87c	87c	87c
200	Ohio Cop	18c	18c	18c
200	Old Hanover Br.	2¼	2	2
100	Un Verde Ext.	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
300	Yukon Gold	16c	16c	16c

SPECTATOR Says:

The Thanksgiving spirit is abroad in Wall Street as a new week opens, and everyone is hoping the market will join in the coming festivities.

Stocks were cheerful in the last session, the first time in the week they closed on a better note.

In view of the poor railroad traffic report this was constructive and suggests that stocks would like to go up if given half a chance. However, there must be a break in the news to bring about any sustained rally.

Gold Stocks

[illegible] people in the street [illegible] strength in the gold stocks [illegible] end of last week [illegible] operators [illegible] in the [illegible] past.

If [illegible] get away with it this time.

It is well to remember that the better earnings of these Canadian gold mining companies this year is due primarily to the fact they are benefiting from the depreciated Canadian dollar. It is reducing their costs compared with this country. This won't last under control.

United Aircraft

One analysis of United Aircraft brings out the interesting fact that the manufacturing end of the [illegible] tion industry will be hurt by disarmament since the military is still the big outlet for planes.

The analysis also states the near term earnings outlook isn't nearly as rosy as some would make it.

Rubber Stores in Britain Are Lower

London, Nov. 21—Crude rubber stocks in London as of November 1[illegible] totaled [illegible] tons, a decrease of [illegible] tons from the preceding week. Stocks at Liverpool were [illegible] tons, a decrease of 308 tons.

Columbia-Warner Contract Is Signed

Columbia Pictures Corp. has signed a contract with Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., which provides that the Warners will show all Columbia's pictures in their 650 theatres from coast to coast.

Boston Bank Stocks

	Bid	Asked	Prev close
Fa[illegible] N[illegible]	30	32	30
Merch Nat	260		260
Nat Rockland	60	65	60
Shawmut	28½	30	29
Second Nat	84		82
U. S. Trust	9½	11¼	9½

New York Curb

	High	Low	Last
Alum Co of Am	51¼	51	51
Alum Co of Am pf	40¼	40	40
Am Commonw A	3-16	3-16	3-16
Am G&E	28¾	28¼	28
Am Laund Mach	13	12½	13
Am Mfg	10	10	10
Am Maracaibo	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Am Superpow	4⅞	4	4
Anglo Chil Nit	¼	¼	[illegible]
Ark Nat Gas A	2	2	2
Asso G&E 5 pf	12½	12	12
Asso G&&E A	2⅛	2	2
Atlas Corp	6⅞	6⅞	6
Bourjois Inc	3	3⅛	[illegible]
Cel of Am 1st pf	54	54	51
Cities Service	3⅞	3⅛	3⅛
Comwl & S war	½	⅛	..
Cons Gas Balt	62⅞	62	62
Cons Retail St	⅝	⅝	⅝
Creole Petrol	3	3	3
DeForest Rad	½	½
Elec B & S	23½	22	22½
European El dbr rts	7-16	7-16	7-16
Evans Wall P pf	4	4	4
Fed Metals	17⅛	17	17⅛
Ford Motor Ltd	3	3⅛	3⅛
Ford of Can A	6	6	6⅞
Gen Aviation	3	3¼	3
Goldman Sachs vtc	2	2¾	2
Gulf Oil	30½	30⅛	31½
Hollinger Mines	5	5	5
Hudson Bay	3⅛	3	[illegible]
Internat Pet	10	10⅛	10
Italian Sup A	2	2	2
Lake Shore Mines	27⅝	27⅝	27
Mayflower Assoc	29	29	29
Middle West Util	¼	¼	¼
Nat Bellas Hess Inc	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
New Eng Pwr pf	51½	50½	51½
New Mex & Ariz	1	1	1
Niag Hud P A wr	15-16	15-16	15-16
Nitrate Chile B	⅛	⅛	⅛
Nome Electric	2	2	2
Parke Davis	16¼	16¼	16¼
Pilot Radio A	2	2	2⅛
Pioneer Gold	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
Roan Antelope	7½	7½	7
St Anthony Gold	1-16	1-16	1-16
Selected Indus	1¼	1⅛	1¼
do prior	42	42	42
Shatt k Denn Min	1¼	1⅛	1¼
Sherwin Williams	20⅝	20	20
S Cal Ed pf B	23	23	23
Spiegel May St pf.	28	28	28
St Oil of Ind	22⅞	22⅝	22
St Oil of Ky	11⅜	11⅛	11⅛
St Oil of Ohio	22½	22½	22½
Sun Investing	2¼	2¼	2¼
Sunray Oil (Del)	⅝	⅝	⅝
Swift Internat	18	18	18
Swift & Co new	8⅝	8¼	8¼
Tastyeast "A"	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Teck Hughes G	3⅛	3	3⅛
Texon Oil & Land	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Todd Shipy'ds	10	10	10
Un Found Corp	1½	1½	1½
United L & P A	4⅞	4⅝	4
United Shoe M	34½	34¼	34¼
U S Eelectric	1	1	1
United Verde Ext.	2⅞	2⅞	2⅛
Utilit's P & L	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Wayne Pump	2⅜	2¼	2⅜
Woodley Petr	2	2	2
Wright Harg Min.	2⅞	2⅜	2½

STOCKS DOWN MODERATELY IN BOSTON

[illegible] shares were at moderate [illegible] today's late dealings [illegible] the Boston Stock Exchange. Trading continued light and [illegible] were for the most part of fractional proportions. Edison Electric reversed the general trend and moved a point above its last closing price.

American Telephone converted an early fractional gain into a loss of about a point. New England Telephone sold a point below its final price of Saturday.

R[illegible] shares were soft, and Atchison and New Haven showed slight [illegible]. Boston & Maine B stamped dropped 2 points. Pe[illegible] managed to show a [illegible].

American Woolen preferred [illegible] First National Stores dropped a point. Gillette was firm and showed a gain of almost a point.

Losses of minor importance were recorded for such issues as Shawmut Association, United Shoe and United Founders.

50 Stock Leaders Lowered for Week

New York, Nov. 21—Market value of 50 representative stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange at the close of business for the week ended November 19, 1932 was $9,271,565,125, a decrease of $5[illegible],193,250, or 5.38 per cent as compared with the market value of $[illegible]708,758,375 at the close of the previous week, according to a compilation by Paul H. Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange.

At the close of the corresponding week a year ago, the same 50 stocks had a market value of $12,418,202,265, indicating a decrease during the year of $3,116,637,140, or 25.34 per cent.

New York Bonds

U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS
[illegible]	101 25	101 [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	1[illegible]	102 6	10[illegible]
[illegible]	10[illegible]	10[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas [illegible]	10[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas [illegible] 41 54	104 [illegible]	1[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas [illegible] 48 [illegible]	10[illegible] 7	102 7	[illegible]
Treas [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas [illegible] June	101 5	[illegible]	101 [illegible]
Treas [illegible] 49	[illegible]	9[illegible]	96
Treas 3s [illegible]	[illegible]	96 [illegible]	[illegible]
DOMESTIC BONDS
[illegible]	[illegible]	11	1[illegible]
Am T & T [illegible]	105	1[illegible]	1[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	70
All G [illegible] & W I 5s [illegible]	18	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	9[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	66	6[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	10[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] Man T [illegible] A [illegible]	56	[illegible]	56
[illegible]	10[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] 51	84	8[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] 60	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] ref 4s [illegible]	8[illegible]	[illegible]	8[illegible]
[illegible] & Oh [illegible]	10[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ch & [illegible]	1	1[illegible]	1
Chi P & P [illegible] 34	3[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chi Un Sta [illegible] B [illegible]	10[illegible]	1[illegible]	1[illegible]
Cin Un Term [illegible] B 2020	101	1[illegible]	10[illegible]
Cleve Un Term 4 [illegible] C 77	66⅞	66	66⅞
C [illegible] R P & [illegible] 12	101	10[illegible]	101
Con Gas N Y [illegible] 51	96	96⅞	96⅞
[illegible] 57	1[illegible]	10[illegible]	10[illegible]
Del & Hud ref 4s 43	80⅞	8[illegible]	8[illegible]
Den & [illegible] 36	[illegible]	3[illegible]	8
Den & R G We[illegible] 5s 55	17	16	17
Den & R G ref 5s 78	2[illegible]	23	23
[illegible] deb 6s 40	55	59	55
Erie ref 5s 67	29	29	29
Ernesto Breda [illegible]	[illegible]	6[illegible]	[illegible]
Fram Ind Dev [illegible] 42	101	100	1[illegible]
Gen E[illegible] Ger 6s 48	[illegible]	34	3[illegible]
Gen [illegible] 49	64	64	64
[illegible] 45	52	[illegible]	51
[illegible] D 76	[illegible]	48	[illegible]
Harpen M[illegible] 6s WW 49	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hud [illegible]	1[illegible]	1[illegible]	10
[illegible] Cent 4½s 6[illegible]	37	[illegible]	3[illegible]
IC [illegible] St L & NO ref 5s A 63	1[illegible]	1[illegible]	4[illegible]
[illegible] deb 4 [illegible]	1	1[illegible]	10[illegible]
[illegible]	1	1[illegible]	4[illegible]
Int [illegible] 6s 55	17	16	16
K [illegible] Term 1st 4s 60	88⅞	88	88
K [illegible] 97	12[illegible]	1[illegible]	12[illegible]
Loews [illegible] 41	83	83	83
La & Ark 5s 69	32	32	32
Mead Corp [illegible] 45 ww	49	1[illegible]	49
Mil E [illegible] Ry [illegible] 61	79	79	79
M K & T adj 5s 67	31	31	31
Mo [illegible] RR gen 4s 75	14	13	13
Mo Pac RR ref 5s A 65	26	26	26
Mo P RR 5s F 77	2[illegible]	25	2[illegible]
Mo P RR [illegible] G 78	2[illegible]	25	[illegible]
Mo P RR 5s [illegible] 81	[illegible]	2[illegible]	2[illegible]
Mo P RR [illegible] A 49	12	12	12
Mor & O 5s [illegible]	1[illegible]	4[illegible]	1[illegible]
N [illegible] of M 1st [illegible]	1	1	[illegible]
N Y C & St L 1st [illegible] 37	7[illegible]	7[illegible]	7[illegible]
N Y C & St L [illegible] 78	16	1[illegible]	1[illegible]
N Y C [illegible] ref [illegible] A 74	20	20	20
N Y C [illegible]	[illegible]	31	[illegible]
N Y Edison ref 6 [illegible] 41	11[illegible]	1[illegible]	11[illegible]
N Y N H & H 6s 48 cv	77	77	77
[illegible] deb 5[illegible] 50	62	62	62
No Amer Ed 5s 69 C	81[illegible]	81	81
No Pac 6s 2047	78	78⅞	78⅞
O [illegible] P Ser 7s 47	96	95	95
[illegible] P G 5s 39	98	98	98¾
Pac Pub Ser 5s 38	84	84	84
Pan A P Cal 1st cv 6s 40	37	37	37
Penn P & L 4½s 81	91	90⅞	90⅞
Penna 4½s D 79	83¼	82⅞	83⅞
Peor & E Ry inc 4s 90	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Philippine Ry 4s 37	23⅞	23	23⅞
P C C & St L gen 5s A 70	84	84	84
Port Gen El 4½s 60	60	58	58
Pressed St Car 5s 33	65	65	65
Pure Oil 5½s 40	78	75⅞	78
Rhine W El P 6s 53	47½	47	47
Roch G & E 5½s 48	104	104	104
St L SW ref 5s A 90	25	25	25
Shell Un Oil 5s 47	81	80	81
Siem & Halske 7s 35	83⅞	83⅞	83⅞
Sinc Con O 7s A 37	98	98½	9[illegible]
South Bell T&T 5s 41	10[illegible]	105½	10[illegible]
So Pv 6½s 56	30⅞	30	30
Stand O N J 5s 46	1[illegible]	1[illegible]	10[illegible]
Texas Corp 5s 41	93	93	9[illegible]
Tex & Pac 5s D 80	4[illegible]	45[illegible]	4[illegible]
Tob Prd 6½s 22	95	9[illegible]	9[illegible]
Tokio El Lt 6s 53	30⅞	29⅞	29
Un Pac 1st 4s 47	97	97	97
Un Pac 1st & ref 4s 2008	85	84	8[illegible]
Util Pw & Lt ef wr 5s 59	31	31	[illegible]
Util Pw & Lt 5[illegible] 47	33	32	[illegible]
Wabash RR 4½s 78	6	6¼	6
West Pa P 1st 5s G 56	105⅞	105⅞	105⅞
W'ph [illegible] 1st 6s A 53	39	39⅞	39
FOREIGN BONDS
Argentine 6s Oct 59	49	48	48
Australia 4½s 56	70	69	69
Belgium 7s 56	103⅞	103	103
Braz [illegible] 1927 57	17	16	17
Budapest 6s 62	24½	24	24
Buenos Air 6s 51 Prov	21½	24	24½
Caldas 7½s 46	11	11½	11
Canada 4s 60	94	94	94⅞
Canada 4½s 36	98⅞	98	98
Chile Mtg Bnk 6½s 57	11	11	11
Denmark 4½s 62	73	73	73
Denmark 6s 42	91	91	91
French Govt 7½s 41	12[illegible]	123	12[illegible]
French Govt 7s 49	117	117	117
Ger C Ag Bk 7s 50	5[illegible]	56	56
Ger C Ag Bk 6s 60 Oct	47½	47	47
Ger C Ag Bk 6s 60 [illegible]	47	47	47
Ger Gov Intl 5½s 65	4[illegible]	4[illegible]	4[illegible]
German Rep 7s 49	70	70	70
Graz 8s 54	47	4[illegible]	47
Italy 7s 51	97	97	97
Norway 6s 43	9[illegible]	9[illegible]	[illegible]
Poland 8s 50	6[illegible]	59	59
Rio Gde Do Su 6s 68	9	8	8
Rotterdam 6s 61	99	99	99
SanPaulo State 7s war	55	55⅞
Sweden 5½s 54	98⅞	98⅞	98⅞
Tokio 5½s 61	43⅞	43	43⅞
Un King G B & I 5½s 37	104⅞	104¼	104¼
Vienna 6s 52	51	50½	50⅞
Warsaw [illegible]	40⅞	40⅞	40⅞

Money Big Problem of Business

By LEWIS HANEY

(Professor of Economics, New York University)

New York, Nov. 21—Last week the stock market reflected disturbance over the foreign debt situation and some realization that business is showing a letdown after its fall spurt.

Stock prices registered an average decline of between two and three points.

The bond market, too, sagged persistently and closed about 80 cents lower than a week ago.

* * *

Despite all the confusion of thought and the many cross currents which now exist it is perhaps as well to regard the stock market as reflecting the general business situation. We may regard the late summer rise in stocks as anticipating the August-October rally in business activity. The market hit top in September and now it seems clear that business did the same in October.

Or if you prefer to lay the emphasis on the so-called "Lausanne settlement," you may say that the market was helped by hopes that the foreign debt situation would be cleared up satisfactorily. But this column pointed out at the time that little was settled at Lausanne except that we would be asked for concessions and that the interests of the American taxpayer would be jeopardized.

Now the Lausanne chickens are coming home to roost and Wall St. is not so enthusiastic.

* * *

If we insist on the payment of debt instalments and interest, foreign finances will be strained and our export markets be unfavorably affected. If we extend the moratorium our budget will be in worse shape and the burden of taxes be increased.

Or again you may wish to reason that stocks in July were much too low and that relief of fears concerning the gold basis and of dread of a final liquidation crash was the cause of the rise. In that case we now find dividend and surplus reserves lower than in July. What good has our increased gold supply done us?

On the one hand, our burden of debt, both public and private, is no lighter. On the other hand the money question looms as serious as at any time in the depression. More people are talking of devaluation of the dollar than ever before, and we are right up against new schemes of "farm relief" which are bound to be financially disturbing.

These are all plain facts and we might as well look them in the face.

* * *

It is very plain that the stock market was pushed up from July bottom by a wave of "better feeling" and "improved sentiment" which carried it about twice as high as warranted. It has since tended to settle down to the plateau of last April, at about 60 for the Dow Jones industrials or 83 for 100 stocks of all kinds.

The market stays above that level because there is so little "selling pressure." That is not a very strong basis, and it certainly suggests the thought that only a little selling pressure would be required to put the market down.

* * *

My thought is that I would not buy stocks anywhere above that level except possibly for short trading turns. I would not be surprised at some mark-up today or tomorrow, but whatever little sentimental rally may be engineered on the basis of tomorrow's conference at Washington, can hardly go far. The probabilities continue on the side of the lower prices.

Just ask yourself, why are commodities and the bond market so weak? What is the matter with the steel industry and railway car loadings? In the absence of a public following, where do the "pools" go from here?

Harvester Will Add About 4000 Workers

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—International Harvester Company will add about 4000 part-time employes in its plants during the winter and early spring months, half of these in the Chicago plants.

"Our purpose in increasing factory operating forces," said George A. Ranney, vice-president, in making the announcement today, "is to provide supplies of goods which we hope and expect will be required during the coming year."

Mine Shares Boom Staged in London

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—A miniature boom in West African mining shares was experienced on the stock exchange today and liberal buying improved prices. Oil shares and transatlantic issues were firm, but gilt-edged securities declined one-half to two points on realizing, owing to the obscure outlook and decline in sterling through the war debt uncertainty. The closing was irregular.

Bar Silver Unchanged

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Bar silver steady, unchanged, at 28¾.

Legal Notices

NOTICE. United States of America, District of Massachusetts, Boston, Nov. [illegible] 1932. Pursuant to the Rules of the District Court of the United States for the District of Massachusetts, notice is hereby given that MORGAN T. RYAN of Boston, said district, has applied for admission as an Attorney and Counsellor of such District Court. JAMES [illegible] ALLS, Clerk. By EDITH G. ROLLINS, Deputy Clerk.

LEADERS DRIFT OFF WITH DULL DEALINGS

New York, Nov 21—Leading shares drifted off a little in dull dealings on the New York Stock Exchange today. Just enough selling appeared to give the general list a soggy appearance.

The market opened a little higher, but the radio consent decree brought considerable selling into Radio Corp., and with steel production showing some slackening, sentiment was easily dampened.

RADIO TAKES A DIP

Radio lost more than a point, dipping well under 6. Miscellaneous issues off major fractions to more than a point included Allied Chemical, American Can, American Tobacco "B," J. I. Case, Atchison, U. S. Steel common and preferred, Union Pacific, New York Central and Liggett & Myers "B."

The selling of Radio was regarded as partly for short account. Wall Street, in the main, had been expecting the consent degree, under which General Electric and Westinghouse Electric will dispose of their holdings of Radio Corp. stock and the patent pooling arrangement will be discontinued.

In a number of quarters, belief was expressed that the long-pending anti-trust controversy had at last been composed. Another development in anti-trust actions of interest to Wall Street was the decision of the Supreme Court to review the decision against the soft coal operators in the lower court, in the case of Appalachian Coals, Inc., in which they sought to pool their sales efforts.

Most of the week-end surveys of investment services stressed the impending war debt controversy as injecting an element of uncertainty, with the prospect that developments might bring a further drop in sterling exchange, with consequent unsettlement of commodities.

PARING U. S. EXPENSES

Among the developments in Washington, one which was viewed hopefully was the discussion of paring government expenses. The United States Chamber of Commerce published a survey showing that a good start had been made in cutting state and local taxation, with savings of nearly $500,000,000 a year already made.

A slight increase in freight movement on the Santa Fe was reported for the week ended November 19, leading to the hope that the sharp drop in loadings in the week ended November 12 may have been in part due to election day. An upturn in loadings in November, however, for carriers generally, would be in sharp contrast to the usual seasonal trend.

Atchison's loadings of 25,644 cars in the week ended November 19 compared with 25,182 in the preceding week.

Cotton lost 50 cents a bale and wheat was lower. Bonds were irregular.

Du Pont was aided by declaration the regular dividend.

Activity in the gold mining shares petered out on weakness in Alaska Juneau and failure of the pools to attract a public following. Farm implement and mail order shares were lower with grains. Motors were steady and coppers neglected despite the approach of the copper curtailment conference.

Drug Production Is Restricted in Year

Washington, Nov. 21 (US)—Economic conditions restricted the output of manufactured foods, medicines and drugs last year, but did not lighten the task of enforcing the National Pure Food and Drug Law, W. G. Campbell, chief of the Food and Drug Administration, states in his annual report.

The administration collected 38,815 samples of food and drugs. Prosecutions under the act numbered 1307; seizures of violative goods, 1260—a total of 2567 actions. The administration examined 10,316 samples of imported foods and drugs and detained 3741 of the shipments.

Ungerleider Given Suspension by Curb

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The New York Curb Exchange today suspended dealings in the capital stock of the Ungerleider Financial Corporation, an investment trust. The suspension was due to the company's failure to maintain a transfer office and registrar here as required under the exchange's rules.

Action was believed to be largely a formality in connection with the Ungerleider Company's absorption by Atlas Corporation. Later early this year acquired more than 80 per cent fo Ungerleider's capital stock.

U. S. Tire Inventory Is Sharply Reduced

New York, Nov. 21—United States automobile tire inventories on Oct. 1 were 700,000 lower than at the same time last year. Stocks in the hands of independent dealers were approximately 4,991,000 this year, as compared with 4,214,00 a year ago. Mass distributors' stocks also weres lightly higher at 2,450,000 against 2,300,000.

Tire manufacturers' inventories, according to reports of the Rubber Manufacturers' Association (Inc.) were 4,873,000, as compared with 6,527,000.

Rights Offered by Virginia-Carolina

Virginia Carolina Chemical Corp. 7 per cent prior preference stockholders of record December 7 will be offered the right to supply stock to the corporation at $75 per share to the extent of 40 per cent of their holdings.

BANK STATEMENT

Boston balance $14,000,000
[illegible]

NEW YORK STOCKS ~ NET CHANGES

Saturday's sales 400,000
Week ago 1,300,000
Year ago 873,568

1931 to date 517,879,832
1932 to date 396,139,785
1930 to date 458,644,375

1932 High	1932 Low	Div in $		Sales	Open	High	Low	3:00	Net Change
			—A—
9½	1⅝		Adams Ex....	100	6	6⅛	6	6⅛
30⅝	12	2	Adams Millis..	100	16½	16½	16½	16½
14	9½		Addressogph ..	100	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼	+ ⅜
63½	30⅞	3	Air Reductn..	400	56½	56½	56½	56½	+ ½
3½	..		Airway Elec..	400	1½	1½	1½	1½
16⅝	7⅜	50	Alaska Juneau	8300	12¼	12¼	11⅝	11⅝	− ¾
3⅝	⅝		Allegh Corp..	1100	1½	1⅝	1½	1½
88¼	22½	6	Allied Ch & D	6300	79⅜	80¼	78½	79¼	− ⅝
15⅜	4		Allis-Chalm ..	100	8½	8½	8½	8½
2⅛	¼		Amal Leather.	100	1	1	1	1
22¾	12	2	Amerada Corp	300	20¼	20¼	20¼	20¼	+ ¼
73⅛	29⅝	4	American Can	5800	55⅛	55¾	54½	55¼	+ ⅜
37⅝	18	2.25b	Am Chicle....	300	36¾	36¾	36⅝	36⅝	− ⅜
27	11		Am Com Alco	100	21¼	21¼	21¼	21¼	− ⅜
15	2		Am For Pow.	2800	8	8⅛	7⅞	8
51⅝	25	4.20	Am Home Prod	100	38	38	37½	37¾	− ¼
21⅝	7½	1	Amer Ice......	600	7	7	7	7	− ⅛
33	14	1.50	Am News Co..	30	23	24	23	24
17¼	3		Am Pw & Lt	300	9	9	9	9
49¾	10	5	Am P&L 5pcpf	100	25	25	25	25	+ ½
58	15¼	6	Am P&L 6pcpf	100	29⅛	30	29⅛	30	+1¼
12¼	3⅛		Am R & St S	2400	7½	7⅝	7⅛	7⅜	− ⅜
18½	3		Am Roll Mill	100	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	+ ¼
29¼	13⅝	3	Am Saf Razor	200	20½	20½	20½	20½	− ⅛
27¼	5⅛		Am Sm & Ref	200	15⅞	15⅞	15½	15½	− ⅛
36½	21⅜	2.25b	Amer Snuff..	200	31	31	31	31
36⅜	20	2.50b	Amer Stores..	100	30¾	30¾	30¾	30¾
39¼	[illegible]	2	Am Sugar Ref	100	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾	+ ⅜
137⅝	70¼	9	Am Tel & Tel	12800	109⅞	110¼	108½	109½	+ ⅛
86¾	40½	6b	Am Tobacco	100	63	63¼	63	63¼	+ ¼
89¾	44	6b	Amer Tob B	6200	66½	66½	64⅝	65¼	−1¼
118½	95¼	6	Amer Tob pf.	200	114¾	114¾	114¾	114¾	+1¾
34½	11	2	Am Wat Wks.	400	21	21¼	21	21¼	+ ¼
39⅞	15½		Am Wool pf..	500	24⅝	24⅝	23¾	23¾	−1½
19⅝	3		Anaconda Cop	3800	9⅞	9⅞	9½	9¾	+ ⅛
15½	7	1	Archer Dan M	100	11	11	11	11	−1
61	24	7	Armour Del pf	100	42¼	42¼	42¼	42¼	+1
2¾	⅝		Armr of Ill A	200	1½	1½	1⅜	1⅜	− ½
2	⅝		Armr of Ill B	100	1	1	1	1
3⅝	1		Arnold Constb	100	1¾	1¾	1½	1½	− ½
5⅝	2½		Art Loom Corp	100	3	3	3	3
3	⅝		Assoc Ap Ind.	100	1¾	1¾	1¾	1¾
94	17⅞		Atch T & S F	4200	43	44	42⅛	43	− ⅛
86	35	6	Atch T&SF pf	100	62½	62½	62	62	−1
21⅞	8⅝	1	Atlantic Ref.	*1200	17	17⅛	16⅝	17	+ ⅜
151¾	28⅜	4d	Auburn Auto..	2300	45¼	47	45	45	− ¾
1⅛	½		Austin Nichols	100	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
18½	11⅜	1	Austin Nich pf	100	18½	18½	18½	18½	+ ¼
7⅜	1½		Aviation Del..	1400	5½	5¾	5½	5¾	+ ⅛
			—B—
12	2		Baldwin Loco.	100	6½	6½	6½	6½
13⅛	3⅜		Balt & Ohio..	2200	12½	12½	12	12
41½	6		Balt & O pf..	1200	14	14½	14	14	− ⅜
35¾	5½	2	Bang & Aroos	100	21	21	21	21	−2
91	50	7	Bang & Ar pf	10	70	70	70	70	−5
7	3⅛		Barnsdall Co.	2800	4⅜	4⅝	4⅜	4½
18¾	4½		Bendix Avia.	1200	11	11⅛	10⅞	11	− ⅛
29⅝	7¼		Bethlehem Stl	400	18	18¼	18	18¼	+ ¼
74	16¼		Beth Stl 7pc pf	200	35⅜	35⅜	35	35	− ½
43½	20	2	Borden Co....	1300	26	26⅛	25½	26
14¼	3⅜		Borg Warner.	6200	9⅜	9⅞	9	9⅜	− ⅛
11⅜	2⅞		Briggs Mfg...	200	5½	5½	5½	5½
50¼	11⅛		Bklyn Manhat	2400	22	22⅜	21¾	22½	+1¼
78⅜	31½	6	Bklyn Man pf	100	63	63	63	63	+ ⅜
10¼	2⅞		Bklyn Queens.	200	3½	3½	3½	3½	−1¼
58	23¼	6	Bklyn Qun pf	100	42	42	42	42	−2¼
89½	46	5	Bklyn Un Gas	200	78½	79	78½	79	+1⅜
3⅛	½		Budd Mfg.....	200	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼	+ ⅛
13¼	6¼	40	Burrghs A Mch	100	8½	8½	8¼	8½	− ⅛
65	7¼		Bush Ter deb	100	12	12	12	12	−3½
24⅝	7		Byers (AM) Co	400	16	16⅛	16	16	− ¼
			—C—
7⅛	1½		Cal & Hecla..	100	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅛
15	6	1.20	Can D Gin Ale	100	11	11	11	11	+ ⅛
20⅝	7¼		Canadian Pac	1500	14	14	13⅞	13⅞	+ ⅛
65¾	16¾		Case Th Mach	8300	44½	45	43	44	+ ¼
15	4⅜	50	Caterpillar T..	330	8	8⅛	8	8⅛	+ ⅛
12⅝	1¼		Celanese	2400	10⅝	10⅞	10⅝	10⅞	+ ⅛
20¾	4⅞	2	Chesapeake C	300	15½	15⅝	15½	15½	+ ¼
31½	9⅜	2.50	Ches & Ohio	6500	24⅝	24⅞	24⅛	24¼	− ¼
5	½		Chi & E Ill pf	100	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	− ⅛
5⅝	1¼		Chi Gt West	300	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
15½	2½		Chi Gt W pf	200	8½	8½	8½	8½	+ ½
4½	¾		Chi Mil & St P	100	2	2	1⅞	1⅞	− ⅛
8	1⅛		Chi M & StP pf	2200	3⅛	3⅛	3	3	− ½
14½	2		Chi & Northw	700	6	6	5⅝	5¾
31	5		Chi & North pf	400	8⅛	8⅜	8⅛	8¼	− ½
6¾	1		Chi Pneumatic	400	4⅛	4⅛	4	4	− ⅛
12¼	2½		Chi Pneu pf...	100	7½	7½	7½	7½	− ½
16⅝	1½		Chi RI & Pac.	400	5½	5½	5½	5½

1932 High	1932 Low	Div in $		Sales	Open	High	Low	3:00	Net Change
			—C—
24½	2		CRI&P 6pc pf	200	7	7	7	7
27½	4¼		CRI&P 7pc pf	100	9	9	9	9	+1
8	1½		Childs Co.....	800	4½	4½	4½	4½	− ⅛
21¾	5	1	Chrysler Mot.	9600	16⅛	16⅛	16	16⅛	− ⅛
8⅛	3¼		Clark Equip...	100	6¼	6¼	6¼	6¼	− ⅛
120	74⅛	7	Coca-Cola	1400	81½	82⅛	81½	82⅛	+ ⅛
31½	11	1	Colgate Palm	400	13¼	13¼	13¼	13¼	− ½
95	65	6	Colg Palm pf	100	82⅜	82⅜	82⅜	82⅜	− ⅜
12½	9		Col Beacon O	100	12	12	12	12	+ ½
30	8		Colo & So 1 pf	20	11¼	11¼	11	11
41⅛	13½	2	Columbia Carb	900	28¼	28¼	27⅞	28	− ⅛
21	4¼	1b	Col Gas & El	1500	13⅜	13½	13⅜	13⅜	− ⅛
79⅞	40	6	Col G&E 6pc pr	100	65	65	65	65	+1½
75	40	6.50	Comm Cr 1 pf	20	74	74	74	74	−2
27⅞	10⅛	2	Com'l Inv Tr	100	19½	19½	19½	19½
13⅜	3½	60	Com Solvents	*3800	10	10⅛	10	10	− ⅛
5⅛	1⅝		Com'wlth & So	1700	3⅛	3⅛	3	3
68½	27⅛		Comm & So pf	500	49⅞	50	49⅞	50	+4¼
12¼	6½	.60	Congoleum ...	100	8⅛	8	8⅛	8⅛	− ⅛
11½	2⅛		Consol F I pf	600	7⅜	7⅜	7½	7½
68¾	31½	4	Consol Gas..	3100	59⅛	59⅛	58	58½	− ½
98¼	72½	5	Consol Gas pf	500	95⅛	96	95⅛	96
10⅛	4½	1	Consol Laund.	200	5⅛	5⅛	5	5	− ½
9	[illegible]		Consol Oil..	2400	6¼	6⅜	6¼	6⅜	− ⅛
101	79	6	Consol Oil pf	100	98	98	98	98	−1⅛
11½	2⅞		Cons RR C pf	200	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
8	2⅞		Cont'l Bak A.	100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	− ¼
1⅜	½		Cont'l Bak B.	400	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
47¾	24⅞	8	Cont'l B pf....	100	40	40	40	40
41	17⅜	2	Cont'l Can.....	1200	35¼	35⅜	35	35½
25¼	6¾	1.20	Cont Insur....	200	15½	16	15½	16	+ ½
6⅜	⅝		Cont'l Motors	900	2	2	2	2
9⅛	3⅜		Cont'l Oil.....	1200	6⅛	6¼	6	6¼	+ ¼
55⅜	24¾	3	Corn Products	1400	53	53	52	52⅝	− ⅞
20½	13½	2	Crm of Wheat	100	24¼	24¼	24¼	24¼
7⅛	1½		Coty Inc......	500	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	+ ⅛
7⅛	2		Crosley Radio	200	3½	3½	3½	3½
23	7⅞		Crown C & Sl	1200	20¼	21¼	20¼	21¼	+ ¾
[illegible]	6		Crucible Steel	400	11¾	12	11¾	12	+ ⅛
49⅝	15		Crucible Stl pf	20	23	23	23	23
3½	½		Cuba Co......	200	1	1	1	1
3¼	⅞		Curtiss Wright	1700	2	2⅛	2	2⅛
			—D—
9¼	1		Davison Chm	100	4	4	4	4	+ ⅛
15¼	6¼	.40	Deere & Co pf	500	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	− ¼
45⅞	8½		Del L & West	2100	28¾	29	28	28¼	+ ¼
19⅛	12	1	Diamond Mat.	100	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞	17⅞
12¼	7½	1.10e	Dome Mines..	2400	12	12	11⅞	11⅞	− ½
18⅝	5	.75	Douglas Aircft	400	12	13	12	13	−1
57	23	4	Drug Inc.....	2400	34⅛	34½	34	34⅛	−1
59¾	22	3	Dupont DeN..	5500	37⅝	37¾	37	37½	+ ¾
105⅛	80¼	6	Dupont DeNdb	100	101½	101½	101½	101½	+ ½
			—E—
87⅞	35¼	3	Eastman Kod	1600	55	55⅛	54	54	−1
32⅞	8½	1.20	Elec Auto Lt.	900	19½	19⅝	18⅞	18⅞	− ⅛
4	⅞		Elec & Mus...	100	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	− ⅛
16	2¾		Elec Pw & Lt	1700	8	8	7⅞	8	− ⅞
64	10¾	7	El P & Lt pf	100	24⅛	24⅛	24⅛	24⅛	+ ⅛
37⅛	16	3	Endicott John	200	31¼	31¼	31¼	31¼
57	18	5.50	Eng P S pf ww	350	38	38	38	38
19	12	1.50	Equit Office..	100	13½	13½	13½	13½	− ¼
11¾	2		Erie R R.....	200	6⅛	6¼	6⅛	6¼
			—F—
10⅝	3		Fed Water S	100	4	4	4	4
27⅜	[illegible]	1.20	Fidelity-P F I	200	15½	15⅝	15½	15⅝	+ ⅛
18⅞	10½	1	Firestone T&R	100	12¼	12¼	12¼	12¼
54¼	35	2.50	First Nat St	900	50½	51	50	51	− ⅛
2⅜	¼		Fisk Rub 1 pf	200	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	− ⅛
10	4¼		Florsheim Sh.	500	7½	7½	7½	7½	+ ¼
97½	63	6	Florsheim pf..	410	97½	99	97½	99	+1½
5⅞	1		Fox Film A...	600	3	3	3	3
28⅜	10	2	Freeport Tex.	3400	26¼	26⅜	26	26⅜	− ⅜
			—G—
5½	½		Gen Am Inv..	300	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	− ¼
35⅜	9½	1	Gen Am Tk Cr	600	17	17	16⅛	16⅛	− ⅛
15½	4⅜		Gen Asphalt..	200	8¼	8½	8¼	8½	+ ½
19⅝	10½	2	Gen Baking..	100	12½	12½	12½	12½	− ¼
25¾	3¾		Gen Cable pf.	30	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	− ⅛
38⅜	20	4	Gen Cigars...	34	31⅜	31⅜	31⅜	31⅜	+ ⅛
26⅛	8½	.40	Gen Electric	6100	16⅝	17	16⅛	16½	− ⅛
2¾	⅜		Gen G & El A	800	1⅛	1⅛	1	1	− ¼
40½	19⅝	2	General Foods	3100	25⅞	26	25¼	25½	− ⅜
48½	28	3	General Mills.	200	41	41	41	41
95⅛	75	6	Gen Mills pf..	400	94½	95	94½	95	+ ½
24⅛	7⅝	1	Gen Motors...	5500	14⅛	14⅜	13⅞	14	− ⅛
87¼	56¼	5	Gen Mot 5pc pf	100	75⅞	75⅞	75⅞	75⅞	− ⅜
2¼	¼		Gen Realty...	200	⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞	− ⅛
24¼	10⅜	1	Gillette Saf R	110	18⅛	18⅛	17⅞	18	+ ½
72½	45	5	Gillette pf....	100	68¼	68¼	68¼	68¼
3¼	⅞		Gimbel Bros..	300	2	2	1⅞	1⅞	− ⅛
[illegible]	8		Gimbel Bro pf	200	8	8	8	8	−2
76	35	7	Glidden pf....	30	67	67	66½	66½
8	2⅜		Gobel Inc....	900	5	5	5	5
20⅜	8¼	1.60	Gold Dust....	1500	16	16⅛	16	16⅛	+ ⅛
[illegible]	2¼		Goodrich Rub.	1400	5⅝	5¾	5¼	5¼	− ¼
29¾	5½		Goodyr T & R	4400	17	17	16⅛	16¾	− ⅛
30⅜	7¼		Gotham Silk H	700	21½	21¾	21	21	− ½
4⅝	1		Graham Paige	1800	2	2⅛	2	2
25	5½		Gt North pf..	400	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜	10⅜	− ½
12	3¼		Gt West Sugar	100	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜	6⅜	− ⅜
2¾	½		Grigsby Grun.	200	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
			—H—
83	43½	6	Hershey Choc	200	54	54	54	54	−1
12½	6¾		Holland Furn	200	6¼	6¼	6¼	6¼	− ½
159	110	10b	Homestake Mi	200	155	155	155	155
57⅛	42¼	4.20	Hsld Fin pf..	100	54½	54½	54½	54½	+ ¼
28¼	8¼		Houston Oil.	2300	16⅛	16⅜	16⅛	16⅛	+ ½
5⅝	1⅝		Houston Oil n	200	3¼	3¼	3¼	3¼
11⅜	2⅞		Hudson Motor	200	5	5⅛	5	5	− ⅛
			—I—
24⅞	4¾		Illinois Central	1200	14⅛	14⅝	14¼	14½
40	7⅛	2	Industrial Ray	100	26¾	26¾	26¾	26¾	+ ½
44⅛	14½	2	Ingersoll Rand	200	28¾	29	28¾	29	−1
27⅛	10		Inland Steel..	200	14	14	14	14	− ½
8⅛	3¼		Insuran Shrs..	800	5	5	5	5
14⅜	2¼		Interbgh R Tr	100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
7¼	1⅝		Interlake Iron	300	3½	3½	3½	3¾	− ¼
34⅛	10⅞	1.20	Int Harvester	4300	23¼	23⅜	22¾	22⅞	− ½
11⅜	2⅜		Int Hydro El	1200	6¼	6¼	5¾	5¾	+ ¼
4¼	⅞		Int Mer Mar..	300	2	2	2	2
12½	3½		Inter Nick Ltd	4300	8½	8¾	8⅛	8⅜	− ¼
44⅜	20¼	2	Inter Shoe....	100	25½	25½	25½	25½	− ⅜
15¾	2⅝		Internat T & T	6400	10½	10½	9¾	9⅞	− ⅛
52½	18	7	Inter D Str pf	20	27	27	27	27	−2½
			—J—
33⅜	10		Johns Manville	6200	23½	23½	23	23	− ¼
			—K—
9¼	3		Kaufman D St	100	4¼	4¼	4	4	− ½
4¼	⅞		Kelsey Wheel	2900	1⅛	1⅛	1	1	− ⅛
10⅜	2⅜		Kelvinator Co	100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
19¼	4⅛		Kennecott Cop	4300	11½	11⅝	11⅜	11⅝	+ ¼
19	6⅝	1	Kresge (SS)..	1200	10⅞	11⅜	10⅞	11⅛	+ ⅜
18⅛	10	1	Kroger G & B	200	16	16	15¾	16	+ ⅜
9⅛	⅛		Kreuger & T.	2100	⅛	¼	⅛	⅛
			—L—
11	3⅝		Lehigh P Cem	200	6	6	6	6	−1
75	47	7	Lehigh P C pf	260	52	52	52	52	−1
29¼	6		Lehigh Valley	200	13¼	13¼	13¼	13¼
4⅜	1		Lehigh Val Cl	200	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
51⅛	30½	2.40	Lehman	100	42⅜	42⅜	42⅜	42⅜	+ ⅜
67¼	34⅛	5	Liggett & M B	4200	57	57	56¼	56½	− ½
22	9		Liquid Carb	1200	16½	16¾	16	16	− ¼
37¾	13¼	3	Loew's Corp..	4200	26⅞	27	26¼	26¼	− ¼
5	1⅞		Loft Candy...	3200	4⅛	4⅛	4	4⅛
36⅛	16¼	2	Loose W Bisc	100	22¾	23	22¾	23
18⅜	9	1.20	Lorillard Tob.	200	13⅜	13⅜	12⅞	13	− ⅜
23⅜	8½	1.75	Louis G & E A	200	18½	18½	18½	18½
38¼	7½		L'ville & Nash	200	19⅜	20	19⅜	20	+ ⅞
			—M—
28¾	10	1	Mack U Truck	100	22¾	22¾	22¼	22¼	− ¼
60½	17	2	Macy (RH) Co	200	36½	36¾	36¼	36¼	−1¼
46⅜	9		Man'tan Guar.	40	13⅜	14	13⅜	14
20⅜	4		Man'tan M Gu	400	6½	6½	6¼	6¼	− ¼
14⅜	6½	.80	Marine Mid	200	10	10	10	10	+ ⅛
22	⅝		Mkt St R 2 pf	100	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
13½	3		Marshall Field	100	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	− ⅛
21	10	2	McCall Corp.	200	17½	17½	17½	17½	+1
20⅞	13	1.50	McIntyre Por	2300	20⅜	21⅛	20½	20⅞	+ ⅜
62¼	28	4	McKeesport T P	300	47¼	47⅜	47¼	47¼	−1
4	⅜		McLellan Strs	100	1⅜	1½	1⅜	1½
19½	5¼	1	Mesta Mach..	200	9	9	9	9
8⅞	3⅜		Mid-Cont Pet..	100	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	+ ¼
65	25	8	Midland Pd pf.	100	45⅛	45⅞	45⅛	45⅛
3⅝	⅜		Minn Mol Pw	100	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼	+ ⅛
⅝	4⅝		Min St P&SSM	100	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
13	1¼		Missou K Tex	1200	7¼	7¼	6⅜	7¼	+ ⅜
24	3¼		Misso K Tx pf	400	15¼	15⅞	15¼	15⅜	− ¼
11	1½		Missouri Pac	100	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	+ ⅛
26	2½		Missou Pac pf	200	7	7	6⅞	7	− ¼
16½	3½		Montgom Wd	13100	14⅛	14¼	13⅜	14	− ⅛
29⅜	7⅜	2	Motor Prods..	100	14	14	14	14	+ ½
			—N—
19⅜	8	1	Nash Motors..	600	13¾	14	13⅝	14	+ ⅜
46⅞	20¼	2.80	Nat Biscuit...	1500	40½	40½	39¼	40	+ ½
18⅜	6½		Nat Cash Reg	100	10	10	10	10
31⅛	14⅜	2	Nat Dairy Pro	1500	19	19	18½	18⅝	− ½
27¼	13		Nat Distillers	400	20¼	20⅜	20	20	− ⅜
92	45	5	National Lead	200	64	64	64	64
20⅜	6⅜	1	Nat Pw & Lt.	1200	14½	14⅝	14¼	14¼	− ⅛
23⅝	13¼	.50	Nat Steel.....	300	21	21	20⅜	20⅜	− ⅜
10¼	[illegible]		Nev Cons Cop	200	5⅝	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	+ ⅛

1932 High	1932 Low	Div in $		Sales	Open	High	Low	3:00	Net Change
			—N—
36⅝	8¾		N Y Central	5000	24½	24¾	23½	23⅝	− ⅜
15⅝	2		NY C & StL pf	100	4	4	4	4	+ ½
31⅝	6		NY NH & H	800	15	15	14⅝	14⅝	− ⅜
15⅝	3⅝		NY Ont & W	100	8½	8½	8½	8½	+ ¼
6⅛	1⅜		NY Ship Bldg	100	2½	2½	2½	2½
21⅜	10⅜	1.10	Noranda Min	1200	18⅛	18⅛	18¼	18¼	− ¼
135	57	8	Norf & Westn	200	104⅜	104⅝	104⅜	104⅝	+3⅛
79¾	65	4	Nor & West pf	200	77⅝	77⅝	77⅝	77⅝	−2⅜
43¼	13⅜		No American	6500	29⅜	29⅝	29¼	29⅜	− ⅛
5⅜	1¼		No Am Avia	600	4¼	4¼	4⅛	4⅛
25⅝	5½		Northern Pac	400	15½	15½	15	15	+ ¼
			—O—
11	5	.40	Ohio Oil.....	600	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛
10¼	2½		Oliver F pr pf	100	6	6	6	6	− ⅜
22½	9	1	Otis Elevator	400	12½	12⅝	12⅛	12⅛
9¼	1¼		Otis Steel.....	400	4¼	4⅛	4¼	4¼	− ⅛
20⅛	3⅛		Otis Stl pr pf.	20	9¼	9¼	9	9	− ¾
44⅛	26	4	Outlet Co.....	30	33¼	33¼	33¼	33¼	−6¾
42¼	12	2	Owens Ill Gl.	1200	37¼	37¼	36	37
			—P—
37	16⅝	2	Pac G & Elec	2500	28¾	29	28¾	28¾	+ ⅜
5⅛	1½		Packard Mot	2000	3	3	2⅞	2⅞
11½	1½		Paramt Publix	8000	3½	3½	3⅛	3⅛	+ ⅛
2	¼		Parmelee	100	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	− ⅛
9½	3⅛		Patino M & E	800	6½	6½	6¼	6¼	− ¼
32⅜	18	2b	Penick & Fd	800	31	31¼	31	31¼	+ ¼
34½	13	1.80	Penney	1200	23⅜	23⅜	23¼	23¼	− ⅜
2½	½		Penn Dix Cem	200	1	1	1	1	− ¼
23⅜	6½		Penn RR.....	1200	14⅝	14⅝	14⅜	14⅝	+ ½
26	3½		Pere Mq pr pf	60	10¼	10¼	10	10	− ⅛
7⅜	3		Pet Corn Am.	100	5	5	5	5
11⅝	3⅝		Phelps Dodge	100	6	6	6	6
7⅜	2		Phil R C & Ir	100	5	5	5	5
8⅛	2		Phillips Petrol	1500	5⅞	6⅛	5⅞	6	+ ⅛
17½	1¾		Postal T&C pf	200	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾	−1¼
42¾	19	2	Procter & Gam	1000	31	31¼	31	31
60	28	3.20	Pub Serv N J..	600	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	45½	+ ¼
90⅛	62		PS of NJ 5pc pf	300	65	65	65	65	+1
28	10½	3	Pullman Inc...	100	20¼	20¼	20¼	20¼	+ ½
6½	2⅛		Pure Oil......	1500	4⅛	4⅛	4	4
15⅝	4⅝	1	Purity Bakerie	300	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾	+ ¼
			—R—
13½	2½		Radio Corp....	46000	7⅜	7½	5⅝	5⅞	−1½
32⅞	10		Radio pf A....	200	25	26	24	26
23⅜	3⅜		Radio pf B....	2500	13⅜	13⅞	10½	11⅛	+1⅞
7¾	1½		Radio Keith..	200	3⅛	3⅛	3⅜	3⅜	− ⅛
38	15	2	Reading 2 pf..	500	24⅜	24⅜	24¾	24¾
8½	2⅛		Real Silk Hos.	200	6½	6½	6¼	6¼	− ⅜
3⅞	1½		Reo Motor....	100	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	− ⅛
13⅞	1⅞		Republic Steel.	200	7⅝	7⅝	7	7	− ¼
40¼	26½	3	Reynolds T B.	5500	29⅞	29⅞	29	29⅛	− ⅛
1⅜	¼		Richfield Oil..	100	⅜	⅜	⅜	⅜
23¾	12⅛	.80	Royal Dut NY.	200	19½	19⅝	19½	19⅝	+ ½
			—S—
59¼	30⅛	5	Safeway Strs..	600	51⅛	51⅛	50½	50½	− ⅞
17¾	4⅜		St JosephLead	300	8⅝	8⅝	8½	8½	− ⅜
6⅛	⅝		St L-San Fran	100	1½	1½	1½	1½
9¼	1		St L&S Fr pf	200	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	− ⅛
42	18	1.40	Scott Paper..	30	30	30	30	30
1	⅛		Seaboard AirL	100	⅜	⅜	⅜	⅜
18½	6⅝	.40	Seaboard Oil.	12500	18⅛	19⅛	18⅛	18¾	+ ¼
37⅞	9⅝		Sears Roebuck	4000	20⅞	21¼	20¼	20⅞	+ ⅜
5⅝	1½		Servel	100	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
7	1⅞		Sharp&Dohme.	400	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	− ⅜
21¾	5	.50	Shattuck F G.	100	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛	8⅛	− ¼
8¾	2½		Shell Union O.	500	6	6	5⅞	6
13⅜	2¾		Simmons Co..	800	8½	8½	8½	8½	+ ¼
7½	3¼		Simms Petrol..	100	6	6	6	6
5¾	2½		Skelly Oil.....	500	4	4	4	4	+ ½
7½	2⅜		Snider Packin.	100	3	3	3	3
12¼	5½	.40	Socony Vacum	3500	8¾	8¾	8½	8½	− ¼
32¾	15¾	2	Sou Calif Ed..	800	26	26½	25½	25½	+ ¼
18¾	4½	40	So Porto R S.	400	16	16¾	16	16¾	+1⅛
110½	86½	8	S P Rican S pf	10	108	108	108	108
37⅝	6½		Southern Pac.	4000	19½	19¾	19	19⅛	− ⅜
18½	2½		Southern Ry..	1900	7½	7⅝	7⅜	7½
5	1		Sparks With..	1200	1½	1⅝	1½	1½	− ⅛

1932 High	1932 Low	Div in $		Sales	Open	High	Low	3:00	Net Change
			—S—
[illegible]	[illegible]		Spiegel May S.	100	3⅝	3⅝	3⅛	3⅝	+ ⅜
[illegible]	[illegible]	20	Stand Brands	1600	15⅛	15⅜	15⅛	15⅜
24⅛	7⅜	2	Standard Gas.	700	17	17	16¾	16¾	+ ⅛
31⅛	15⅛	2	Std Oil of Cal	2400	25⅝	26⅛	25⅝	25⅝	+ ⅛
16½	7		Std O Kansas	1100	12	12	12	12	− ⅛
37⅞	19⅝	1.45b	Std Oil N J	2700	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	31½	+ ⅛
17¾	4⅝		Stone & Webst	1400	9⅛	9⅛	9⅝	9⅝	− ⅜
13¾	2½		Studebaker ..	2500	5⅛	5⅛	5	5	− ⅛
2	⅜		Superior Oil..	200	1	1	1	1	− ⅛
			—T—
13¾	6	1	Telautograph	800	9⅛	9½	9⅛	9⅛	− ⅛
18¼	9¼	1	Texas Corp.	4200	16	16½	16	16⅛	+ ⅛
26⅛	12	2	Texas Gulf Sul	1400	23⅛	23⅛	22⅛	23	+ ⅛
8½	2½		Tex Pac L T n	400	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	+ ⅛
10	2		Thatcher Mfg	1200	9	9	8⅜	9	+ ⅛
14	3⅞		Third Avenue	800	6	6	5⅜	5⅜	− ⅛
5⅝	2		Tidewtr Asso.	1100	4⅛	4⅛	4	4
23	7⅜	1	Timken Roller	500	15	15	14⅛	15	+ ½
7⅛	2⅛		Transamer Cn	800	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	5½
5½	1½		Tri Cont Corp	600	3⅞	4	3⅝	4	+ ⅛
			—U—
3⅛	[illegible]		Ulen & Co....	100	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
[illegible]	15½	1.20	Union Carbide	4500	26	26⅛	25	25¼	− ½
94½	27½	6	Union Pacific	9900	71½	72¼	70	71½	− ½
19⅛	11½	1.40	Union Tank..	200	13	13	13	13
35⅜	6½		Unit Air & T	28200	28	28½	27⅛	28
1⅜	¼		United Cigar.	2300	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
15	3½	40	Unit Corp Del	5500	9	9	8⅜	9	+ ⅜
39⅜	20	3	Unit Cp Del pf	1000	34	34	34	34	+ ⅝
32⅝	10¼	2	United Fruit	1500	21½	23½	22⅛	23⅛
22	9¼	1.20	Unit Gas Imp	1400	18⅛	18⅜	18⅛	18⅜	+ ⅛
96½	70	3.50	Un Gas Imp pf	400	95⅛	95⅛	95	95⅛	−1⅜
11⅛	3⅜		Uni Piece Dye	100	5⅛	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	− ⅜
18⅛	7¼	2	U S Pipe & F	500	11⅛	11¼	11⅛	11¼	− ¼
16⅝	11	1.20	US P & F 1 pf	100	14	14	14	14
6	2		U S Hoffman	500	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
36¼	13½		US Indus Alc	300	28⅛	29	28⅛	28⅛	− ⅛
7⅛	1½		U S Leather..	100	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	− ⅛
11⅞	2		U S Realty...	600	6	6⅛	6	6⅛	+ ⅜
10¼	1⅛		U S Rubber..	600	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
52⅝	21¼		U S Steel....	18200	36⅛	36⅜	35⅛	36	− ⅛
113	51½	7	U S Steel pf	3700	72⅛	72⅛	70⅝	71½	− ⅝
1	⅛		United Stores	200	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
10⅜	1½		Util P & L A.	100	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜	4⅜
			—V—
23¾	5¼		Vanadium	1000	14⅜	14⅝	14	14
2⅜	½		Va Car Chem	100	1	1	1	1	− ⅛
11¼	3⅛		Va Car C 6 pf	100	6	6	6	6	− ⅛
69¾	20		Va Car C 7 pf	400	64½	64½	64¼	64¼	+6¼
			—W—
4⅛	⅛		Wabash	100	2	2	2	2
[illegible]	7½	1.50	Waldorf Syst.	300	9	9	9	9	− ⅛
2⅝	⅜		Ward Bak B..	200	1	1	1	1
4½	½		Warner Pict's.	1300	2	2⅛	2	2	− ⅛
8⅜	1¼		Warren Bros..	1000	4½	4½	4⅛	4⅛	− ⅜
[illegible]	8⅛		Wesson O & S	100	13½	13½	13½	13½	− ¼
111	80	7	West P P 7 pf	20	108	108	108	108
50	12⅛		Westn Union	1500	32⅜	33	31⅜	32⅜	+ ⅜
18⅛	9¼	1	Westn Air Br	1400	14½	15¼	14½	15
[illegible]	15⅝		West El & Mfg	6600	29⅛	29⅞	28½	29⅜	+ ⅛
12⅛	7		Westvaco Chl	100	7	7	7	7	− ⅜
8¼	2⅜		Wilcox O & G	200	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
3⅜	⅝		Willys Overl'd	400	2¼	2⅛	2¼	2¼
4⅞	1⅝		Wilson & Co A	400	4	4	4	4
45⅞	22	2.40	Woolworth ..	2500	38½	38⅛	37½	37⅝	− ⅜
57	25½		Wrigley	200	25⅝	26⅜	26⅜	26⅜	+ ⅛
			—Y—
7⅜	1⅜		Yellow Trk B	100	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	− ⅛
7	4		Youngstown S	200	12½	12½	12½	12½	− ⅛
[illegible]	½		Zenith Radio.	100	1	1	1	1
3½	1		Call Money....		1	1	1	1

(a) Optional stock or cash. (b) Partly extra. (c) Extra stock and cash. (d) Extra in stock. (e) Including extras. (f) Payable in scrip. (g) Paid when earned. (h) 10 per cent in stock. (j) 5 per cent in stock. (k) 6 per cent in stock. (m) 4 per cent in stock. (y) 2½ per cent in stock. (wa) Warrants attached. (ww) Without warrants. *Ex-dividend. †Ex rights.

Rail Situation Arousing Interest of Nation

New York, Nov. 21—Everybody seems today to be trying to help the railroads. The trouble with the help, however, is that most of the helpers have axes of their own to grind.

The railroad men themselves were the first to start helping the railroads. They chose to do it through unification. Over a decade ago the rail heads and the Interstate Commerce Commission, armed with the Transportation Act of 1920, decided that consolidation of the railroads of the country into a few great trunk lines would bring about substantial economies, do away with duplication of service, destroy destructive practices and solve the whole problem of obtaining for the carriers "a fair return" on property investment.

Somehow, more than 10 years have passed, and consolidation of the carriers has not been effected. There was tedious details to be worked out and obstacles to be overcome, of course, which made progress slow. But some of the larger roads slated to be the key lines of the conolidated systems made a few mistakes. They began buying up the smaller roads, for one thing, at the high prices of the balmy days of prosperity a few years back. Surplus funds, which should have been conserved, were so used, says Interstate Commerce Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman of Boston, adding:

"There are better ways of putting railroads together than by acquisitions of stock equities at high prices coupled with an increased burden of debt."

To foster "harmony instead of open warfare" between the rail and motor interests, the Joint Committee of Railroads and Highway Users was organized. General Atterbury of the Pennsylvania and Alfred H. Swayne, vice-president of General Motors, are joint chairmen.

The United States Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring another transportation investigation, and the Marine and Commerce Division, American Bankers Association, has just completed one.

Unemployment Relief Is Gaining, Says Teagle

New York, Nov. 21 (INS)—"We're moving in the right direction; we're making progress."

Quietly Walter C. Teagle—"Teagle of Standard Oil"—said it today in an interview in his new offices in the Federal Reserve Bank building in the Wall st. district. He wasn't talking about oil. He was talking about jobs—jobs for America's 10,000,000 unemployed.

For Teagle, the most powerful executive in the oil industry in the United States and perhaps the world, isn't working at his regular job of president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, a giant holding corporation with branches all over the globe.

He has taken "time out" to fight the depression—to get the unemployed back to work, part time, at any rate. Not for himself or for Standard Oil is he doing this—but for the good of the country.

"The oil business?" he repeated the question." "I don't know anything about it. I haven't been there in 13 weeks.

By "there" he meant his own offices in Standard Oil. He rolled down the top of his desk at Standard Oil on August 29. On that date he became head of the share-the-work movement which is captivating the imagination and enlisting the support of many industrial leaders. It's a great job, this new one which Teagle has tackled. And his absence from Standard Oil isn't helping that corporation. But when Teagle does anything he does it whole-heartedly. Nothing else matters.

"The downward trend of unemployment has been halted," Teagle told International News Service. "The situation is better than it was in May and June. This is shown by the September figures."

Asked what, in his opinion, was the big economic problem before the country, he unhesitatingly replied:

"Putting men back to work."

WILLARD LOOKS FOR RECOVERY

Baltimore, Nov. 21 (AP)—In his statement at the annual stockholders' meeting here today, Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, asserted he has:

"The firm conviction that the condition of growth and expansion which has been obtained in the past will be restored in large measure, if not completely, in the not-distant future."

He pointed out, however, that:

"Because of the greatly reduced volume of business which the Baltimore and Ohio Company is handling during the present year, it has unfortunately been necessary to discontinue temporarily all payments upon our capital stock, and we will probably fail to earn our fixed charges during the period by $4,000,000 or $5,000,000."

"Fortunately," he said, "through the medium of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Railroad Credit Corporation, a situation which otherwise might furnish cause for serious concern becomes less disturbing and I have no doubt, through arrangements to be made, that we will be able to meet satisfactorily all our financial obligations.

"The railroads ask only for equality of opportunity that they do not now have. We should have in the United States, under suitable legislation and regulation, a co-ordinated system of transportation embracing, so far as economically justified, all transportation agencies, using each in the field for which it is best adapted."

Nevada Copper in Red for 9 Months

Nevada Consolidated Copper Co. reports for the three months to September 30 operating deficit of $820,126 before depreciation, compared with deficit of $1,564,682 in the third quarter of 1931.

For the first nine months of this year operating deficit was $1,817,725 before depreciation, compared with deficit of $1,982,712 in the corresponding period of 1931.

Building Awards in New York Greater

New York, Nov. 21—Construction contracts awarded in the metropolitan area of New York during the first half of November showed a total valuation of $6,131,600, according to F. W. Dodge Corp. In the corresponding period of October a total of $4,587,200 was reported.

Production of Shoes Larger in Canada

Washington, Nov. 21 (US)—Canadian shoe factories are speeding up production, the Commerce Department is advised. September production was 1,723,202 pairs, compared with 1,708,359 in August and 1,672,437 in September, 1931.

Trade Situation Is But Little Changed

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER

New York, Nov. 21—General business remains in the deeply subnormal zone, subject at present to adverse seasonal trends in industry.

The continuance of the depression level reflects meagreness of consumer buying power. This goes back to the virtual pauperization of the 8,500,000 workers on the farms resulting from prevailing agricultural prices, which are not only low absolutely but which give farmers an inadequate exchange value for the products of industry. This in turn greatly depresses the factories and adds significantly to the adverse factors making for industrial unemployment.

Urban labor, with the blight of 10,000,000 unemployed, many millions on part-time employment only and others employed at greatly reduced wage rates, is likewise in no position to consume effectively on a scale commensurate with the productive power of the American business machine.

With these adverse factors at work, hopes of a significant upturn in business, after the rally from the extreme lows of the summer, have been dashed to the ground.

The immediate trade situation is little changed, and is therefore not especially discouraging. Commodity prices, though greatly depressed, have shown resistance to further declines. Consumption of electric power and of coal have held their own. Buying by automobile companies preparing their new models, has maintained the steel industry at its present level of operations.

Carloadings, construction contracts and individual bank debits, however, have fallen off rather sharply—probably a little more than the customary seasonal dip.

First National's Profit for Quarter Is $1,107,327

First National Stores, Inc., reports for quarter ended October 1, 1932, net profit of $1,107,327 after all charges, depreciation and taxes, equal, after preferred dividends, to $1.26 a share on the 811,786 shares of common stock. This compares with net a year ago of $1,189,294, or $1.35 a share on 815,786 common shares after preferred dividends.

For six months ended October 1, 1932, first half of the company's fiscal year, net income was $2,245,831 equal to $2.56 a share on 811,786 common shares after preferred dividends. This compares with $2,429,649 net a year ago, or $2.76 a share on 815,786 common shares after preferred dividends.

Income account for September quarter compares as follows:

	1932.	1931.	1930.	1929.
Net bef dep & & fed txs....	$1,539,477	$1,584,888	$1,419,077	$1,589,195
Depreciation	255,227	232,572	207,863	145,676
Fed taxes	176,923	163,022	138,903	179,759
Net profit	1,107,327	1,189,294	1,072,311	1,263,760
Per com share*	$1.26	$1.36	$1.20	$1.51

Income account for the six months ended October 1, 1932, compares as follows:

	1932.	1931.	1930.	1929.
Net bef dep & fed txs	$3,099,890	$3,231,256	$2,941,563	$3,080,453
Depreciation .	499,125	443,453	385,010	285,418
Fed taxes	354,934	358,153	304,944	342,776
Net profit	2,245,831	2,429,649	2,251,609	2,452,268
Per com share*	2.56	2.76	2.53	2.93

*Based on stock outstanding at close of respective periods.

Balance sheet as of October 1, 1932, shows total assets of $29,087,907; current assets, $14,432,157; current liabilities, $4,284,638, and working capital, $10,147,519. This compares with working capital of $9,854,388 on September 26, 1931, and $8,351,335 on September 27, 1930.

Employment Gains in Detroit

Detroit, Nov. 21—Employment index of the Detroit Board of Commerce on Nov. 15 was 40.8, against 41.6 on October 15 and 50 on Nov. 15, 1931.

GAS FIGHTING HOLDER'S SUIT

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Associated Gas & Electric Company, billion dollar public utilities holding corporaton, filed an order in Supreme Court today requiring Philip Newbold, a stockholder, to show cause on Wednesday why he should not be permanently restrained from pressing a receivership action against the company in this judicial district.

The company contends that a motion for appointment of a temporary receiver filed here by Newbold last Saturrday should have been filed in Tompkins County since the company's principal office is in Ithaca, N. Y.

In papers filed with today's order, which was signed by Supreme Court Justice Albert Cohn, John M. Daly, vice-president of Associated Gas & Electric, quoted the civil practice act and the corporation laws to the effect that suits to sequester property of a corporation may only be brought in the county in which its principal office is located.

Daly filed excerpts from the company's certificate of incorporation to show that the principal office is in Ithaca. He said the New York office is merely maintained as a convenience in financial matters.

In filing his motion Newbold, who owns 100 shares of preferred stock of Associated Gas & Electric, asserted that the company had been "grossly mismanaged." He asked appointment of a receiver pending outcome of an accounting suit he has brought against the company.

M-K-T- Lines' Cash Total Is $2,965,602

Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines, in the lines' balance sheet, reported current assets of $11,162,121, including $2,965,602 in cash and current liabilities totaled $4,249,606, as of Sept. 30, 1932. On Sept. 30, 1931, current assets totaled $13,562,950, including $4,416,880 in cash, and current liabilities were $6,330,946. Investments in stocks and bonds of other than affiliated companies on Sept. 30 last totaled $619,169, against $617,140 a year ago. Funded debt due in six months was $184,100, against $94,100 on Sept. 30, 1931.

Atchison Loadings for Week Increase

Chicago, Nov. 21—In the week ended November 19 Atchison handled 25,644 revenue freight cars, against 25,182 in the preceding week and 30,972 in the like 1931 week.

Decrease from a year ago was 17.2 per cent, contrasted with a 22.2 per cent decline from a year ago in the week ended November 12.

Canadian Pacific Calling Back 8000

Montreal, Nov. 21—After conferences between Canadian Pacific Railway officials and representatives of shops-craft employes, the Canadian Pacific Railway will open its main shops Wednesday, giving employment to 8000 men.

COOK—COOS

By TED COOK

Hsieh Kai-Shih, foreign minister of the new State of Manchukuo, is described as "a rheumatic user of snuff."

He'd have to use snuff if he ever wanted to pronounce his own name.

* * *

And guys who look on gals as playthings
Should use the telephone to say things.

* * *

ONE ON ADOLPH

(Lamar, Mo., Democrat)

Tom Means and Harry Lawson went into the White House Grocery Saturday afternoon and called Adolph Ulrich to the cigar counter. We've made a bet, Adolph, they said. Give us the cigars, take down the bet and when we find who wins the loser will come in and pay. Adolph got out his pencil and said, all right, what is it? I bet Tom when the court house fell down, said Mr. Lawson puffing his cigar, it would fall South. Tom bets it will fall North.

* * *

Booms Genevieve, the kitchen cynic—

"This is an age when a perfect husband is a sap who pays his alimony regularly."

* * *

Proclaim the wife a perfect mate
Who never says "Don't come home late."

* * *

The new statesmanship—

"Candidate Schuler bought three sacks of onions for 90c in the San Joaquin Valley. 'I'm going to take them to Washington,' he said, 'eat 'em, and blow my breath all over the Senators until they pass laws to allow farmers to make money.'"

* * *

Simile:

Inevitable as the shot of a setting sun at the end of a travelogue movie.

* * *

PUZZLE

(Interview)

"The drama of politics is far more exciting than the theater, because it is closer to life."
—Rosamond Pinchot.

* * *

THE BEGINNING OF A BEAUTIFUL FRIENDSHIP

(Classified Ad)

WANT to contact readers of Ouspensky's Tertium Organum & New Model of the Universe. Box N. 8.

* * *

Half the nervous and mental cases in hospitals, says psychiatrist, are due to the mistakes of parents in training their children.

And the other half are due to mistakes of children training parents.

* * *

Most gals spend their time in gloating
Over bozos who are doting.

TRIBUTE

My pocket is my only friend
Unchangingly inclined.
All other variable no end,
Possess the fickle mind.
Today they're true; tomorrow chill,
They linger or they flit.
My pocket remains constant still—
There's never change in it.
Garth Bentley.

* * *

Gals who guard their reputations
Can't support their poor relations.

* * *

THE GIRL'S CLEVER

(News Item)

"When Marlene Dietrich wants to go shopping incognito, or to spend an evening on the pleasure pier at Ocean Park, she always wears men's pants."

* * *

Headline says—

DUCE SEES ITALY LEADING WORLD

You get just three guesses to figure out whom he sees leading Italy.

* * *

Q. and A. DEPARTMENT

Dear Aunt Bella—
What is your attitude toward the class struggle? Militant.

Ans.—
If you haven't got it, buddy, there's no use struggling for it.
Aunt (These & Those) Bella.

* * *

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

"Just kick the right rudder and pull the stick back."

* * *

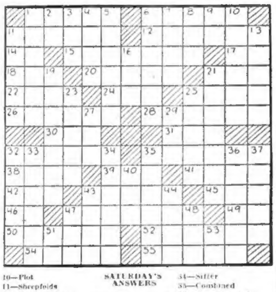
How about the next schottische?

* * *

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.

Daily Crossword Puzzle

By EUGENE SHEFFER



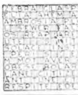
HORIZONTAL

1—Accumulate
6—Gaelic descendants.
11—A swinging crib
12—Girl's name
14—Correlative of either
15—To fully satisfy
17—Exclamation
18—Beverage
20—Carried
21—In law, a thing
22—Discover
24—A pouch
25—Identical
26—To pack (Scotch)
28—A smooth, glossy surface
30—Girl's name
31—A tree
32—A garment (pl.)
35—Annoy
38—Sharp
39—Suffix
41—One of the Great Lakes
42—Possessive pronoun
43—Eerie
45—Ocean
46—French conjunction
47—Barbarians
49—Right side (abbr.)
50—Part of a garment
52—Nation ruled by an emperor
54—Compound ether
55—Goddess of hunt

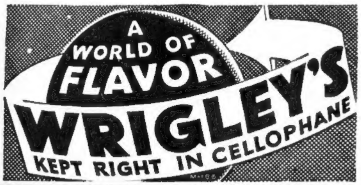
VERTICAL

1—Check
2—Parent
3—Advertisements
4—A thick plate
5—Bristly
6—A session
7—Cunning
8—Unit
9—Note of scale
10—Plot
11—Sheepfolds
13—Artist's stand
16—Man's name
19—Mimicries
21—Tool for compacting material (pl.)
23—Desire
25—A ball (Fr.)
27—Veteran (colloq.)
29—Prefix, new
32—Region of the clouds
33—A pot
34—Sifter
35—Combined
36—A mountain range
37—Vex
40—By way of
43—Sway to and fro
44—Prefix, half
47—Determined
48—Mineral spring
51—Floral ending
53—Within

SATURDAY'S ANSWERS



Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American

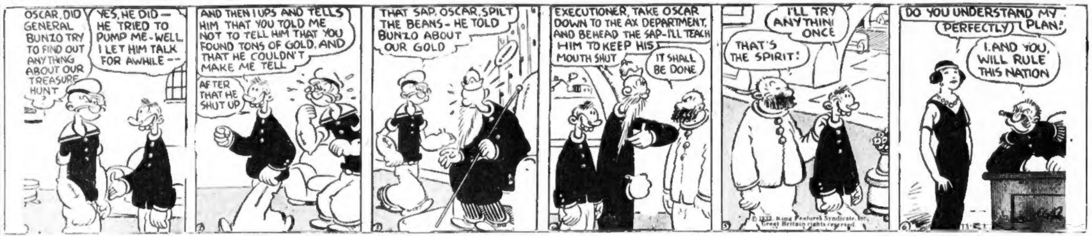


A WORLD OF FLAVOR
WRIGLEY'S
KEPT RIGHT IN CELLOPHANE

LANDLORDS and AGENTS
Let The FREE Rental Bureau Help You
To Find Tenants
ASK ABOUT THIS CO-OPERATIVE SERVICE TO ADVERTISERS.
Phone Marion Crosby, LIB. 4000
BOSTON AMERICAN
New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper

THIMBLE THEATRE, Starring POPEYE

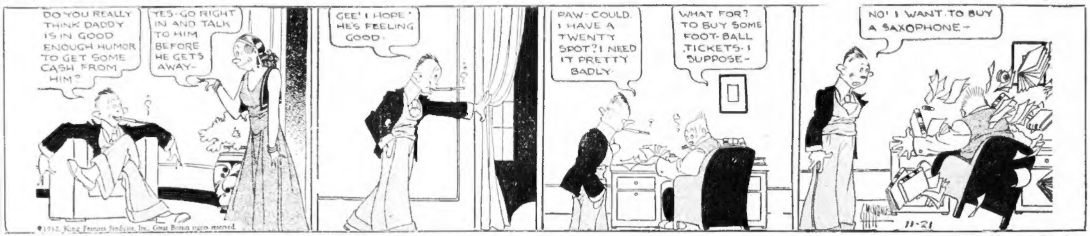
Now Showing—"Two Heads Are Better Than One"



OSCAR, DID GENERAL BUNZO TRY TO FIND OUT ANYTHING ABOUT OUR TREASURE HUNT ?
YES, HE DID—HE TRIED TO PUMP ME-WELL, I LET HIM TALK FOR AWHILE—
AND THEN I UPS AND TELLS HIM THAT YOU TOLD ME NOT TO TELL HIM THAT YOU FOUND TONS OF GOLD, AND THAT HE COULDN'T MAKE ME TELL
AFTER THAT HE SHUT UP
THAT SAP, OSCAR, SPILT THE BEANS—HE TOLD BUNZO ABOUT OUR GOLD
EXECUTIONER, TAKE OSCAR DOWN TO THE AX DEPARTMENT, AND BEHEAD THE SAP—I'LL TEACH HIM TO KEEP HIS MOUTH SHUT
IT SHALL BE DONE
THAT'S THE SPIRIT!
I'LL TRY ANYTHIN' ONCE
DO YOU UNDERSTAND MY PLAN?
PERFECTLY
I, AND YOU, WILL RULE THIS NATION
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

BRINGING UP FATHER

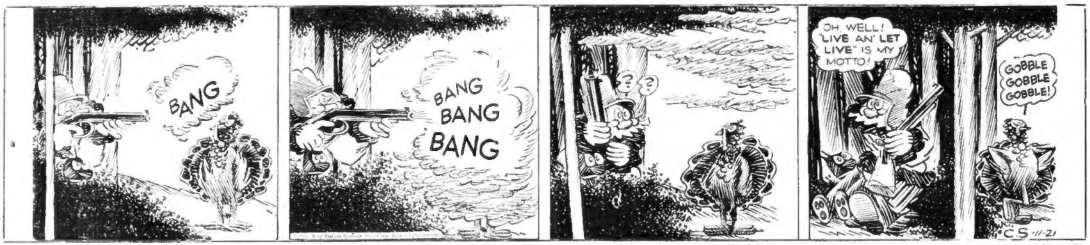
The Boy Wants a Saxophone



DO YOU REALLY THINK DADDY IS IN GOOD ENOUGH HUMOR TO GET SOME CASH FROM HIM?
YES—GO RIGHT IN AND TALK TO HIM BEFORE HE GETS AWAY—
GEE! I HOPE HE'S FEELING GOOD—
PAW—COULD I HAVE A TWENTY SPOT? I NEED IT PRETTY BADLY—
WHAT FOR? TO BUY SOME FOOT-BALL TICKETS—I SUPPOSE—
NO! I WANT TO BUY A SAXOPHONE—
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
11-21

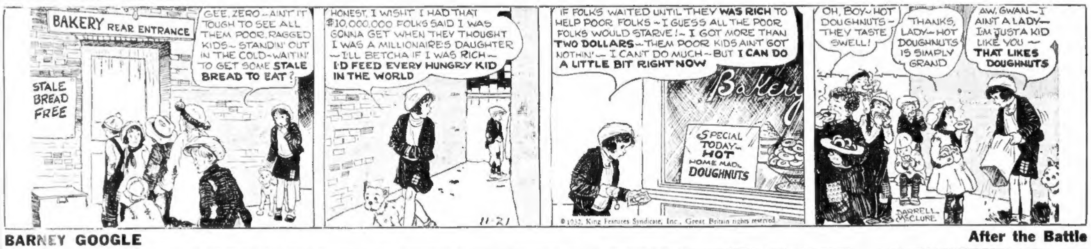
POLLY AND HER PALS

The Humanitarian



LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

Actions Speak Louder Than Words



BAKERY REAR ENTRANCE
STALE BREAD FREE
GEE, ZERO—AIN'T IT TOUGH TO SEE ALL THEM POOR, RAGGED KIDS—STANDIN' OUT IN THE COLD—WAITIN' TO GET SOME STALE BREAD TO EAT?
HONEST, I WISHT I HAD THAT $10,000,000 FOLKS SAID I WAS GONNA GET WHEN THEY THOUGHT I WAS A MILLIONAIRE'S DAUGHTER—I'LL BETCHA IF I WAS RICH—I'D FEED EVERY HUNGRY KID IN THE WORLD
11-21
IF FOLKS WAITED UNTIL THEY WAS RICH TO HELP POOR FOLKS—I GUESS ALL THE POOR FOLKS WOULD STARVE!—I GOT MORE THAN TWO DOLLARS—THEM POOR KIDS AIN'T GOT NOTHIN'—I CAN'T DO MUCH—BUT I CAN DO A LITTLE BIT RIGHT NOW
Bakery
SPECIAL TODAY—HOT HOME MADE DOUGHNUTS
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
OH, BOY—HOT DOUGHNUTS—THEY TASTE SWELL!
THANKS, LADY—HOT DOUGHNUTS IS SIMPLY GRAND AW, GWAN—I AIN'T A LADY—I'M JUST A KID LIKE YOU—THAT LIKES DOUGHNUTS
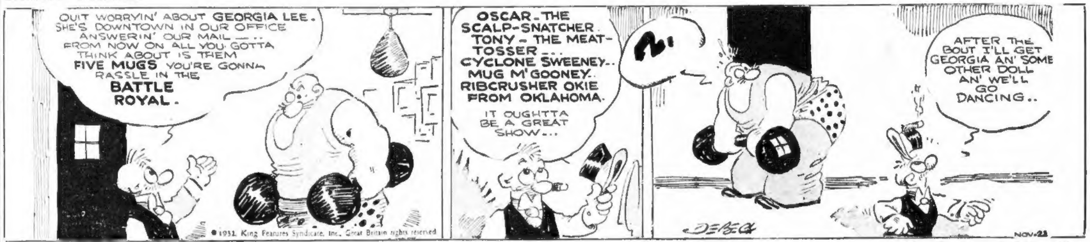
DARRELL McCLURE

BARNEY GOOGLE

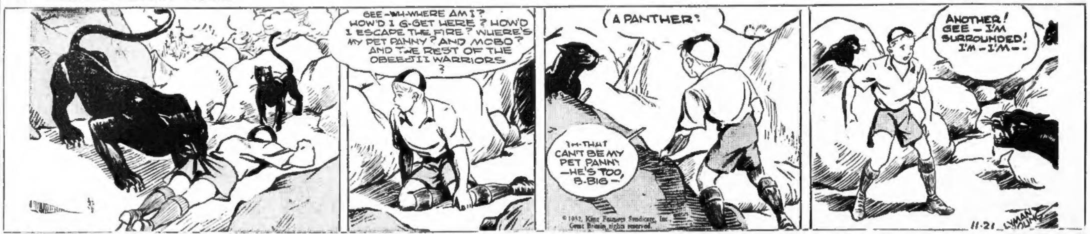
After the Battle



QUIT WORRYIN' ABOUT GEORGIA LEE. SHE'S DOWNTOWN IN OUR OFFICE ANSWERIN' OUR MAIL—.. FROM NOW ON ALL YOU GOTTA THINK ABOUT IS THEM FIVE MUGS YOU'RE GONNA RASSLE IN THE BATTLE ROYAL.
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved
OSCAR—THE SCALP-SNATCHER. TONY—THE MEAT-TOSSER... CYCLONE SWEENEY.. MUG M'GOONEY. RIBCRUSHER OKIE FROM OKLAHOMA. IT OUGHTTA BE A GREAT SHOW...
AFTER THE BOUT I'LL GET GEORGIA AN' SOME OTHER DOLL AN' WE'LL GO DANCING..
DEBECK
NOV-21

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

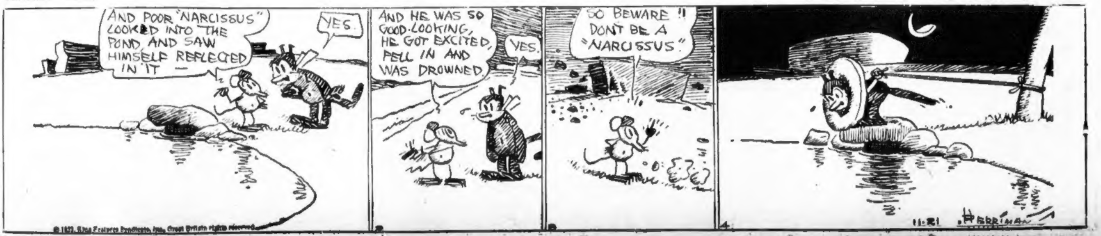
The Center of Attraction



GEE—WH-WHERE AM I? HOW'D I G-GET HERE? HOW'D I ESCAPE THE FIRE? WHERE'S MY PET PANNY? AND MOBO? AND THE REST OF THE OBEEJII WARRIORS ?
(A PANTHER?)
I-I-THAT CAN'T BE MY PET PANNY—HE'S TOO B-BIG—
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
ANOTHER! GEE—I'M SURROUNDED! I'M—I'M—
11-21 LYMAN YOUNG

KRAZY KAT

"River Stay Away From My Door"



AND POOR "NARCISSUS" LOOKED INTO THE POND, AND SAW HIMSELF REFLECTED IN IT—
YES.
AND HE WAS SO GOOD-LOOKING, HE GOT EXCITED, FELL IN AND WAS DROWNED.
YES.
SO BEWARE!! DON'T BE A "NARCISSUS."
© 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
11-21 HERRIMAN

READY TO GREET SANTASON

Santa and two of his little aids at their headquarters at Jordan Marsh Co., where they are making the final plans for the rousing welcome which will be given to Santa's son, Santason, when he arrives in Boston on Thursday morning after a plane trip from the frozen north.

A great burden of anxiety was lifted from the shoulders of Santa Claus at Jordan Marsh Co. today when he received a long night telegram from his son, known to thousands of New England boys and girls as Santason, stating that he had arrived at Upernivik, Greenland, safe and sound after an 800-mile dogsled trip from his home at the North Pole. The trip was fraught with hardship and danger, according to the dispatch.

The special wire further stated that the airplane in which Santason is to make his trip to Boston is in excellent condition and ready for the first 1200-mile leg of his Boston flight of over 4000 miles.

According to information secured from Santa Claus during today's interview at Jordan's, Santason was slated to take off from Upernivik, Greenland, at 8:10 a. m. tomorrow morning. The amphibian plane in which Santason is traveling to Boston and Jordan Marsh Co. is a specially designed ship, capable of landing on the ground or the water.

Deaths

ADAMS—In Dorchester, Nov. 19, John S. (Saul), husband of the late Mary E. Lowell Adams, formerly of East Boston. Funeral services at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Catharine Grant, 53 Mt. Vernon St., Monday, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

BISHOP—In Melrose, November 19, Agnes C., wife of J. Lawson Bishop, aged 48 years. Funeral from her late residence, 244 West Wyoming Ave., Monday, Nov. 21, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

BOND—Nov. 18, at Waltham, Martha A., daughter of the late Alfred and Catherine (Buckley) Bond. Funeral Tuesday at 8:30 a. m., from the Funeral Home of Edward E. Lynch, 263 Main St., Woburn. Requiem high mass at St. Charles Church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited. Interment at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

COLE—In Randolph, Nov. 19, Edgar Freeman Cole, age 81. Services at home of daughter, Mrs. Frank W. Belcher, 22 Union St., Randolph, Tuesday, Nov. 22, 1932, at 1:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

CONLON—In Jamaica Plain, Nov. 19, Thomas, beloved husband of Mary Quinn. Funeral from his late home, 1 Arcola St., Tuesday morning at 8 a. m. High mass of requiem at the Blessed Sacrament Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends kindly invited.

CONNOLLY—At Newton Hospital, Nov. 18, Alan C., beloved husband of Jean C. Girvan Connolly. Funeral services at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Newton Lower Falls, Monday, Nov. 21, at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

DORGAN—In Somerville, Nov. 19, Mary T. (nee Moran), beloved wife of the late John J. Dorgan. Funeral from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Catherine T. Watson, 28 Partridge Ave., Tuesday at 8 a. m. Requiem high mass at St. Ann's Church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited.

GILLOON—In Roslindale, November 19, Margaret T. Kelleher, beloved wife of Owen J. Gilloon. Funeral from the residence, 46 Brookdale St., Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 8 a. m. Solemn requiem mass at the Sacred Heart Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

HAGERTY—In Somerville, Nov. 19, Margaret (nee Meaney), widow of Michael Hagerty, formerly of Nashua St., West End, Boston. Funeral from her late home, 26 Stone Ave., Tuesday, Nov. 22, time of funeral later.

HAMANT—In Medfield, Nov. 19, Daniels Hamant, aged 59 years. Funeral services from his late home, South St., Medfield, on Monday, Nov. 21, at 2 p. m. Friends kindly invited.

JORDAN—In Paris, Nov. 2, Robert Jordan, son of late Eben D. Jordan, Jr. Funeral services at Trinity Church on Monday, Nov. 21, at 2 p. m.

KELLY—In Dorchester, Nov. 19, Mary E. Killroy, beloved wife of Michael J. Kelly, formerly of Woodward Park St. Funeral from her late residence, 2 St. William St., Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 8 a. m. Solemn mass of requiem at St. William's Church at 9. Relatives and friends respectfully invited. Interment will be in New Calvary Cemetery.

WANT AD CONTEST
WINNERS
Loew's State or
Orpheum Theatres
Guest Ticket Contest
on November 18

1. Ida Bergmueller, 10 Freeman St., Arlington, Mass.
2. Eileen Brennan, 50 Worthington St., Roxbury, Mass.
3. James Esposito, 69 White Pl., Brookline, Mass.
4. Ruth Knapp, 96 Walter St., Roslindale, Mass.
5. Mrs. Gladys Lind, 103 Malden St., Malden, Mass.
6. C. Ryan, 6 Monument St., Charlestown, Mass.
7. Doris R. Gibbons, 6 Dartmouth St., Everett, Mass.
8. Charles J. Keohan, 611 Adams St., Dorchester, Mass.
9. Louise F. Nagle, 19 High St., Stoneham, Mass.
10. Mrs. Mina Currier, 386 Mass. Ave., Boston, Mass.

Deaths

O'BRIEN—In Dorchester, Nov. 19, Agnes C., beloved daughter of John and Catherine (Roche) O'Brien. Funeral from her late home, 54 Richfield St., on Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 8:15. Solemn mass of requiem at St. Peter's Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

O'MALLEY—In Dorchester, the 19th, by accident, Kathleen M., beloved daughter of Austin F. and Kathleen G. O'Malley (nee Ennis), age 3 years. Funeral from parents' residence, 9 Lythgow St., on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, thence to Mt. Benedict for interment. Relatives and friends invited.

PLUMMER—In Gillingham, England, Nov. 2, Samuel M. Plummer, of Boston. Funeral services at his late residence, 29 Appleton St., Boston, on Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

POITRAST—In Watertown, the 19th, Mary (nee Parks), beloved wife of Ferdinand Poitrast. Funeral from her residence, 1024 Belmont St., on Tuesday morning, followed by a solemn mass of requiem at St. Luke's Church, Waverley, at 9:30 o'clock. Thence to St. Patrick's, Watertown, for interment. Relatives and friends invited.

Funeral Directors

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS
SINCE 1832
FUNERAL SERVICE
Local and Suburban

Florists

PENN THE FLORIST
124 Tremont Street, Boston

Lost and Found

DOG—Lost; gray and black Schnauzer (size Irish terrier), very timid, rough coat, monkey face, heavy whiskers and eyebrows. Reward. Capital 2362. Asp 4047.

LOST, Nov. 1a, near Metropolitan Theatre, white gold wrist watch, marked Virginia A. Simmonds. Call Jamaica 3090. Reward.

LOST—Short-legged mongrel Spitz dog, buff, white. Virginia Elder, 17 Independent St., Newburyport; tel. Amesbury 480. Reward.

LOST—Between Dudley and Kneeland Sts., small black loose-leaf notebook containing accounts valuable to owner only. Liberal Reward. Cal. Asp. 9137.

LOST YOUR DOG?—Phone Animal Rescue League, 51 Carver St. Han. 9170.

Fuel

COKE $10
BRIQUETTES $10
Egg stove or nut size. Also selected certified anthracite, guaranteed quality $12.50
(Metropolitan Boston Deliveries)
WESTERN COAL CO.
GENEVA 6060-6020

GUARANTEED COAL $12.50
(NUT STOVE and Egg)
COKE — Highest Grade, $10
LAMARTINE COAL & OIL CO.
Tel. Jamaica 2991-3590

Coke $10 Egg $12.50 per ton
Stove 12.75 per ton
Nut 12.50 per ton
Phone Jamaica 0747

HARD COAL BRIQUETTES $9.25
Anthracite Heater Coal $11.75, Arl. 4040

COKE $10 Briquettes, $9.75
Lumps Soft $7.50, Com. 8553

HIGHLAND COKE $10.50 per TON. All sizes. Call PARkway 2341.

Help Wanted—Female

APPLY TUESDAY ONLY

10 Women between the ages of 25-35 years. Special Christmas Campaign. 2 months' guaranteed employment. Good pay. Apply 3 to 4 P. M. only. Employment manager, 327A Columbus Ave.

Get a good piece of real estate, buy it wisely, pay for it, keep it, and later it will keep you. See the sound values listed today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

WHERE TO DINE Thanksgiving Day

Back Bay's Smartest Restaurant
Ye Piccadilly
1122 BOYLSTON STREET
Now Making Reservation For Our SPECIAL
THANKSGIVING DINNER
$1.25 per person
Featuring quality food
Prices to meet the times
Newly renovated—under personal direction of Carroll J. Burns
Specially selected musical program every evening.
Phone Kenmore 8545

PURITAN ICE CREAM
FOR YOUR
Thanksgiving Dinner
NATURAL FLAVOR AND GUARANTEED SUPREME QUALITY
IN BRICK OR BULK
LET US HELP MAKE YOUR DINNER A SUCCESS
PURITAN ICE CREAM CO.
OF BOSTON
3895 Washington St., Jamaica 5123

THE BEST DINNER IN TOWN AT Steuben Restaurant
DUTCH DINING ROOM
114 BOYLSTON STREET
Near Colonial Theatre
THANKSGIVING DINNER $1.25
Musical Entertainment—DEV 0163

Ramona Restaurant
Full Course
Thanksgiving Dinner $1.25
Chicken or Steak Dinner 75c
Blue Plate Luncheon 45c
SPAGHETTI—RAVIOLI
70 CROSS ST., BOSTON
Phone LAFayette 7810

SPECIAL
Thanksgiving Dinner
AT Hotel Minerva
214 Huntington Ave.
from 11:30 A.M. to 9 P.M.
$1.50 per person
Special Musical Program
Phone KENmore 6380
H. C. DEMETER

Splendor Cafeteria
Thanksgiving Dinner 65c
Roast Vermont Turkey
Turkey Soup, Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Turnip, Mashed Potato
Celery, Grapes, Plum Pudding
Mince or Squash Pie
Tea or Coffee, Cider
4195 Washington St., Roslindale, Mass.
Phone PARkway 4278

The Ole Plantation
87 St. James Ave., Copley Square
Southern Fried Chicken, Steak, Virginia Ham, Chops and Scallop Dinners $1.00
Served Daily 11:30 to 9
Make Your Reservations for Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving Dinner $1.50—Roast Chicken $1.00

Money to Loan

—HAVING TROUBLE— MAKING ENDS MEET?

An "INDUSTRIAL BANKERS" loan will solve your problem quickly. Our service is courteous and friendly. The cost is low. Convenient repayment terms arranged to fit your income. Phone—Write—Or Visit the nearest "INDUSTRIAL BANKERS" office

BOSTON OFFICE
73 TREMONT ST., Tremont Bldg. Phone Lafayette 5337. License No. 22

CAMBRIDGE OFFICE
552 MASS. AVE., Pearl St. at Central Sq. Porter 2870. License No. 71

CHELSEA OFFICE
445 BROADWAY, Chamber of Commerce Bldg., License 195. Chel. 2264

DORCHESTER OFFICE
781 DUDLEY ST., Uphams Corner 2nd Fl. Columbia 5379. License No. 66

EVERETT OFFICE
471 BROADWAY, Howard Bldg. 2nd Fl. License 197. Everett 2144

LYNN OFFICE
21 CENTRAL AVE., Security Trust Co. Bldg. Room 201. License 122. Breakers 5120.

QUINCY OFFICE
1100 HANCOCK ST., Granite Trust Bldg. 2nd Floor. License 136. Pres. 9210

ROSLINDALE OFFICE
765 SOUTH ST., Sullivan Bldg. 2nd Fl. License 201. Parkway 6089

SOMERVILLE OFFICE
90 DOVER ST., Parke Snow Bldg. Davis Sq. License 33. Somerset 3534

WOBURN OFFICE
416 MAIN ST.
License 205. Woburn 1436

OTHER OFFICES IN
Brookline, Newton, Malden, Waltham, Medford
See Phone Book for Address and No.

Industrial Bankers, Inc.

LET THE PILGRIM
Solve your money problems
LOANS on AUTOS and FURNITURE ($50 to $1000). $300 or less under state supervision. Rm. 401, 4th Floor, Pilgrim Accept. Corp., 24 School St. CAPital 7243-44. License 85.

$50 TO $5000 ON FURNITURE
Only husband and wife need sign.
Loans under $300 supervised by State.
ALSO NOTE LOANS
BOSTON FINANCE CO.
119 SUMMER ST. LICENSE 126
Telephone LIBerty 9360

LOANS FURNITURE AUTOMOBILES
No Endorsers. 20 Months to Pay.
CAPITAL FINANCE CORP.
118 State St., Rm. 708. Capitol 9560
Opposite Custom House. License 37

AUTO and FURNITURE LOANS
ON YOUR OWN SIGNATURE; COLLATERAL REMAINS IN YOUR POSSESSION
OPEN SATURDAY UNTIL 4 P. M.
GLOBE PLAN
Liberty 7368 LICENSE 142 437 Park Sq. Bldg.

AUTO LOANS While in Your Possession. Cars Refinanced. Auto Owners' Finance Co., Inc., 20 Columbus Ave., Boston. License 214.

LOANS ON HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE OR SIGNED NOTES. SMALL REPAYMENTS. N. E. EQUITY CORP., 453 WASHINGTON ST., RM. 403. LICENSE 57. LIB. 1731.

Clothing

MEN WANTED

To clear out bankrupt stock. Men's clothing, tremendous values. Overcoats 4.95, Suits 4.95. Plenty of blues and greys, trench coats 1.95, vests 39c, 1000 pair men's pants 1.45, coats and vests 2.39.

CAMEL PILE COATS values up to $35, $7.95. $45 Tuxedoes for $6.95. 100 Topcoats $1.95—values up to $25. Mail orders filled.

GOLDMANS, 4 GREEN ST.
Next to Waldorf Lunch at Bowdoin Sq., 2 minutes from Scollay Sq.
Also 2073 WASHINGTON ST., ROXBURY

SUITS TOPCOATS $3.98 up
$30 & $40 SUITS, TOPCOATS, OVERCOATS Now 4.98, 7.98, 9.75, 12.75
$3 and $5 PANTS Now 98c, 1.69
UNITED CLOTHIERS, Inc.
103 WASHINGTON ST. 103

Professional Services

ANGLO-SWEDISH massage, 580 Commonwealth Ave., suite 26; hours 9-5, or by appointment; licensed. Kenmore 1983.

Dentistry

$75 UNBREAKABLE PLATE NOW ONLY $12
FINEST QUALITY UNBREAKABLE PLATE
This is that beautiful pink life-like plate that so many dentists are charging high prices for. Fully guaranteed.

Good Set $5
Lightweight Set $10
Gold Dust Rubber Set .. $15
Gold Crowns $5
Bridgework, per tooth .. $5
Painless Extraction $1
Cleaning $1

BROKEN PLATES REPAIRED $1.00
Examination FREE. Estimates FREE. All work FULLY GUARANTEED.
ONE DAY SERVICE. Come in our office in the morning, have your dental work completed the same day.
AVERY DENTAL PARLORS
DR. W. F. BURNS, MGR.
578 Washington St. Cor. Hayward Place
Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. OPEN EVENINGS Phone Han. 7049

Help Wanted—Male

JUNIOR SALESMEN
3, under 22, of neat appearance, with high school or college training, for special salework; good chance for advancement; small weekly salary. Apply HEARST ORGANIZATION, 73 Tremont St., Room 720.

NATIONAL Mfr. wants men. Steady income. Mr. Doyle, 31 Bedford St., Rm. 206.

WANTED—Young men to know that the best way to be on time is to wear one of the Bulova watches sold for $1.00 a week by J. S. Round & Co., 734 Washington St., Boston. Goods sent for inspection. Write or phone Hancock 4569.

Agents

OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE TO MEN AND WOMEN SELLING CHRISTMAS CARDS
Call or write without fail at our office during the next four days to consider a proposition of immediate and vital importance to you.
PHILLIPS CARD COMPANY
"Publishers of exclusive Christmas Cards."
Dept. 19, 11 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

AGENTS—EARN $25.00
Weekly selling a combination of best Xmas sellers. Hosiery, Lingerie, Handkerchiefs, Socks, Ties, Shirts, and Xmas cards. Prices under stores. Ladies hosiery may be sold for 39c per pair. Commissions up to 50%. Also large bonuses. ROYAL CROWN, 76 Summer St., Boston.

CHRISTMAS card salespeople should first see our complete line. Palmer Craft Publications, 7 Water St., Boston.

Beauty Aids

Genuine Realistic Permanent
$3.50
Just for Two Weeks Only!
Special Offer and Won't Be Repeated.
WESLEY MITCHELL
7 Davis Square, Room 6, Som. 2270-R.
M. Jane Mitchell, Prop.

Special Permanent $1.50
THIS WEEK ONLY
Done by Experts
Regular $5
Shampoo and Finger Wave Extra
25c BEAUTY SALON
453 WASH. ST., DEXTER BLDG. Rm. 308, DEV. 6513

HAIR On ladies' faces permanently removed. No pain or scars. Physicians' references. Molly Rapport, 125 Tremont St., Boston. Rm. 510. Han. 7286.

PERMANENT WAVE $1.89
REALISTIC $6. LANOIL $4.50
Self Winder. Requires No Finger Waving.
6 WINTER ST., RM. 710. LIBERTY 8282.

$1 SPECIALS EVERY DAY $1
Hair Cut, Shampoo, Finger or Marcel Wave
HARRY, 453 Wash. St. Rm. 817. DEV. 8047.

STUDLEY Beauty School—Thorough training in every branch, expert teachers. 8 weeks' course, $50, easy terms. Send for circular. We help place students. 125 Tremont St., Rm. 503. DEV. 7634.

REGULAR $5 PERMANENT NOW $2.50
For Limited Time. No Extra Charges.
ANNETTE, 8 Winter St. Rm. 910. Dev. 7265

100 Girls Wanted to Have Beauty Work Done ABSOLUTELY FREE. Hub Academy, 161 Mass. Ave., Rm. 209.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

REAL ESTATE

Houses for Sale

South Boston Single $1500
$350 cash, balance bank mortgage payable $12.86 monthly. This property is in A-1 condition. Shown daily, evenings and Sunday. Bluehills 2225.

BRAINTREE—Sacrifice, $4000, new 5-room bungalow, garage, Spanish finish. Braintree 1581-M.

MALDEN—$100 down, near square, 2 family, good condition, $3,500. Cap. 8449.

Farms and Land for Sale

EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances; catalog free. Strout Agency, 813B Old South Bldg., Boston. Lib. 7135.

Houses for Rent

ASHMONT—Furnished or not, 10-room house, oil heat, garage. Talbot 1816.

ARE you looking for a single house? Call MISS CROSBY. LIBERTY 4000.

Furnished Apartments

BROOKLINE—Small furnished bachelor house keeping suites, $40-$80. Also unfurnished, $35-$50. 208 Winthrop Rd. Reg. 2901.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Modern, sunny furnished 4-room apartment, $6 week. Jam. 4297-R.

ROXBURY — 3 rooms, bath, impts., steam heat. 37 Woodville St.; High 3979.

SOMERVILLE—Near Sullivan Sq., modern, 2-3-room suites, separate entrance. Som. 5141-W.

Rooms for Housekeeping

BEACHMONT — 2 heated furnished rooms, kitchenette, $6.50. 17 Agra Ter. Rev. 1219-W.

BEACHMONT—Furnished 3 rooms, electric, private bath; near cars, $8.50. Rev. 3132-R.

BOSTON—68 Appleton St.; front furnished rooms with kitchenette, $6.50. Hancock 7091.

BROOKLINE—Housekeeping room; also other rooms; parking. 175 Winthrop Rd.; Reg. 7276.

CAMBRIDGE — Furnished 2-3-room kitchenettes, gas, heat, electric included. Near cars; reasonable. 8 Centre St. Porter 1187.

CAMBRIDGE—Nicely furnished room, well heated, kitchen privileges, $4.50. Porter 6394-J.

CAMBRIDGE—Kitchenette suites; other rooms, $4.50 up. 71 Hammond St., Uni. 5673-J.

CHARLESTOWN—Furnished, heated rm. and kitchenette, $6. Tel. Chas. 2028.

DORCHESTER—18 Ashmont St.; 1-2 rooms, everything furnished; adults. Tal. 2181.

ROXBURY—18 Rockland St.; furnished room and kitchenette, $5. Gar. 1739.

SOMERVILLE—Heated, large housekeeping room; everything furnished, $4. Som. 2107.

556 Newbury St.—Minute Kenmore station, housekeeping rooms; other rooms, $4 up.

NEAR Tufts College, large unfurnished room, kitchen privileges. A. Teele; Som. 0925-M.

669 TREMONT ST.—Front room, $4.50; side room $1.50; also 2 unfurnished rooms.

451 MASS. AVE.; furnished basement suite; other rooms, $2.50 up; car space.

ARE you loking for a room? Call MISS CROSBY. LIBERTY 4000.

Rooms Without Board

ALLSTON—Pleasant room in private family; business girl; reasonable. Sta. 2339.

BACK BAY—In the Fens, attractive rooms; single, double; gentlemen. Gar. 8309.

BEACON HILL—18 South Russell St., nicely furnished, well heated rooms, $4-$5.

BOSTON—Newly furnished, well heated room, privileges; parking. Circle 8084.

BROOKLINE — Attractive, large, sunny room, kitchen, privileges, private home. Asp. 3644.

BROOKLINE—2 Euston St., Suite 2, attractive rooms; kitchen privileges. Long. 5561.

BROOKLINE—Pleasant St., warm room for business person, $3.50. Asp. 0751.

CAMBRIDGE—1679 Mass. Ave., Suite 2, near Harvard Sq., furnished well-heated rooms, reasonable. Univ. 3244-M.

CAMBRIDGE—360 Harvard St., large furnished, heated room, $5. Uni. 4212-R.

DORCHESTER — Furnished, well-heated rooms; running water. 231 Ashmont St., Gen. 9024.

HOTEL BELMONT — 116 Huntington Ave.; daily, $1.25 up; weekly, $6 up. Circle 5917.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Near pond, comfortable room, hot water heat, $4. Jam. 0846-R.

SOMERVILLE—Furnished heated room; home privileges; reasonable. Pros. 2131-M.

UPHAMS CORNER—Well heated large room; business people preferred. Col. 1871.

16 WESTLAND AVE.—Suite 27, furnished room, $5; gentleman; shower. Ken. 5459.

37 W. NEWTON ST., $5, $6, $8 week. Same rate for 1 or 2 persons. Twin beds. Tourists $1 per person 1 day with bath.

ARE you looking for a room? Call MISS CROSBY. LIBERTY 4000.

Personals

MARY CORSO having left my bed and board, I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by her from this date.
PETER S. CORSO.

Dancing

LERNER
"BOSTON'S SCHOOL OF AUTHORITY"
$1 Newest Ballroom and Stage Steps. "400" Paradise Waltz, Collegiate, Tap, Exhibition, Tango, Reducing. $1
Classes Nightly 9 to 12; 25 Lady Teachers, Orch.
385 MASS. AVE. CIRCLE 9218

LEARN "400," FOX TROT, WALTZ, etc. $1
ADULT BEGINNERS OUR SPECIALTY
MODEL SCHOOL—Modern Dancing
MISS FAWCETT - MISS HOYT
Now—166 Huntington Ave. Cir. 9426

MY REPUTATION IS YOUR PROTECTION
PROF. RITTER 177 TREMONT ST. DEVonshire 7330
BALLROOM GUARANTEED IN 4 LESSONS
TAP DANCING ALL STYLES TAUGHT

The MODE SCHOOL Located at 177 Huntington Ave.
SPECIALIZES in Adult Beginners. Private Lessons $1
EDNA HUNT EVELYN JACKSON

15 PRIVATE LESSONS—UPTOWN SCHOOL $5
330 MASS. AVE. TEL. CIRCLE 9068
LATEST STEPS, FOX-TROT, WALTZ, "400" ETC.
BEGINNERS GUARANTEED TO LEARN HERE

IF YOU WANT TO LEARN TO DANCE
Go to LOOMIS 240 Huntington Ave. Ken. 0733. Public Dancing Sat. Eve.

2 PRIVATE LESSONS, SHIRLEY HAYES $1
330 MASS. AVE. TEL. CIRCLE 9068

Oil Burners

QUICK MEAL
Oil Burners and Oil Heating Stoves
STOVE RANGE REPAIRS FURNACE BOILER
WAVERLY, 52 UNION ST., BOSTON

RANGE OIL BURNERS, guaranteed 5 years, $8.00. Direct to dealers. COHEN SALES CO. 40 Washington Ave. Chelsea 0032

Better Grade Range Oil Burners Complete—Guaranteed $8.00
Factory Office 31 Summer St., Lynn. BRE. 6702

Hygrade Burner, $9.95; 5-year Guarantee
UNION ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.
92 High St., Boston. Lib. 2337

Get a good piece of real estate, buy it wisely, pay for it, keep it, and later it will keep you. See the sound values listed today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

Unfurnished Apartments

3 ROOMS HEATED $25
South End, 4 rooms, $30. 42 Genesee St., cor. Albany. Garrison 4731-Liberty 1703.

722-728 COMMONWEALTH AVE.
Unfurnished 2-3-room apartments, heated; free refrigeration; reasonable rents; janitor service. East Boston 2711 or Com. 9050.

BROOKLINE
5 rooms, in 2-family house, modern improvements. Phone Longwood 2503.

ALLSTON—Lower 5-room suites, $35. Apply 28-32 Raymond St. Sta. 0473.

ARLINGTON — Reduced $60 to $40, 6 rooms, steam heat, garage, central. Arl. 1919.

ARLINGTON—6 rooms, 2d floor, fireplace, porches, near cars, $40. Arl. 3345.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Florence Ave., 48, 5 rooms, different from average apt. See to appreciate, $40; heated $48. Arl. 2425.

BOSTON—667 Mass. Ave., 3 rooms, bath, heated, continuous hot water, $8 week.

BROOKLINE—6 rooms, 2 family, stucco, refrigerator, oil burner, garage. Parkway 2828.

CAMBRIDGE—63 Norfolk St., near Central Sq., 3 large, sunny rooms suite, gas, heat, electricity supplied, reasonable.

CAMBRIDGE—15 Leonard Ave., $35; 5 rooms, steam heat, 1st floor. Uni. 6455-W.

CAMBRIDGE—1st, 2d floors, 15 Acorn St. 4-7 rooms, impts., $21-$26. Por. 0880.

CHARLESTOWN—Heated 5 rooms, 2d floor, $35. 83 Green St. Cha. 2064.

DORCHESTER — 14 Pleasant St.; 5 rooms, steam heat, excellent condition. Columbia 9845.

DORCHESTER—Ashmont section, heated, renovated, 5 room apartment, $45. Talbot 8651.

DORCHESTER—4 large, heated rooms, all improvements, $35. Highlands 2443.

DORCHESTER—25 Olney St., 5 sunny rooms, bath, furnace, $35. Gen. 6227.

EVERETT—Modern 5-6-room apartments, good neighborhood, $28-$30. Mystic 5650.

FOREST HILLS—Modern 5 rooms, hot water heat, parking. 81 Wenham St.

JAMAICA PLAIN—6 rooms, hot water heat, newly renovated, $28. Jamaica 3637-J.

JAMAICA PLAIN—4-5-6-room apts., near Green St. Station, $34-$40. 25 Forest Hills Circle or call Endicott 6694.

JAMAICA PLAIN—22 St. Rose, 6 large, modern, sunny rooms, steam heat.

MASS. AVE.—4 rooms, kitchenette, heated, continuous hot water; $35-$38. Ken. 5089.

MATTAPAN—56 Rockdale St.; 5 rooms, modern, garage; A-1 location. Bluehills 3639.

NORTH CAMBRIDGE—Modern 5 rooms, $33, near schools and cars. 35 Washburn Ave. Key at 29. Arl. 2483-W.

QUINCY—New 4 rooms, bath, $30; minute depot. Granite 1607-R. Braintree 1805.

ROSLINDALE — 5 rooms, all improvements, $35, near stores and schools. Call Parkway 3094-R or 0097-M.

ROSLINDALE—Modern, 4 rooms, garage, $35. 44 Conasset St.

ROXBURY—3-4-room apartments, heated, $29-$38. Apply Mrs. Clark, 3 Sunderland St., or telephone University 1285.

ROXBURY—Heated 5-room apt., bright, sunny location, only $35 to desirable people, references required. Highlands 3880.

ROXBURY—Lower 6 rooms, large, modern, $35. 36 Stanwood St.; High. 0816.

SOMERVILLE Near Davis Sq., 6 rooms, steam heat, reduced, $30. Som. 1922-J.

WEST ROXBURY—New modern 5-6-7 rooms, reasonable. Parkway 3733. 5 Meshaka St.

WEST SOMERVILLE—5 rooms, steam heat, with garage, $40. Mystic 2262-J.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN FREE RENTAL BUREAU will gladly assist you in finding the apartment you most desire. We have on file complete information concerning apartments in all parts of Greater Boston. Let us furnish you with a list of available apartments in whatever section you desire. This service is free. Call MARION CROSBY. LIBERTY 4000.

Homes for Invalids

GOOD home for elderly people or invalid; good food and care; practical nurse in attendance; reasonable. Melrose 1793.

IDEAL home for bed patients, invalids; graduate nurse $10 up. Bluehills 2605.

Rooms With Board

CAMBRIDGE—Steam-heated room with board. MacKinnon, 29 Bigelow St. Uni. 9277-M.

DORCHESTER—Large room, board optional; $10. 33 Algonquin St. Col. 1847.

SOMERVILLE—Room for business people, board optional; child cared for. Som. 7789-J.

Children to Board

NURSE wants infant or child to board; excellent care; references. Eve. 3015-M.

WANTED—Child to board, private family, country surroundings; reasonable. Mystic 3038-M.

WANTED—Children from birth up, $4-$5. Private home. Weymouth 1500.

WANTED—Child to board, over 2; private family, near schools. Everett 2748-M.

WANTED—Child to board, any age; good care given. Somerset 0825.

WANTED—Infant or small child, good suburban home; reasonable. Woburn 1807-J.

Building Materials

DOES YOUR ROOF LEAK?
LOWEST PRICES ON ASPHALT SHINGLES
Underwriters Label. Choice of colors, all first quality (no seconds).
Reroofers, per sq. $3.00
11½" Hex Strip, per sq. 3.50
10" Four-in-One, per sq. 4.75
12½" Four-in-One, per sq. 5.75
We bought over 20 cars of Asphalt Shingles when prices were much lower and are giving our customers the benefit of this big saving. Let us recommend expert shinglers for your work.
FRIEND LUMBER CO. Tel. Mystic 5650
424 Riverside Ave., MEDFORD
Mt. Vernon St., Cor. Rock St., LOWELL

ACTION SALE
A SALE YOU WILL LONG REMEMBER
FALVEY PURE PAINT .. Now $2.19 Gal.
WATERPROOF VARNISH .... $1.00 Gal.
QWIXET QUICK DRYING ENAMEL, 74c Qt., 49c Pt.
Wellington Flat White .. Now $1.29 Gal.
Kyanize Leather Top & Seat Dressing, 44c Pt., 24c ½ Pt.
Falvey Paint Co 80 CANAL ST. 15 HIGH ST. Boston

Furniture

VACUUM CLEANERS
New Vacuum Cleaner Guarantee!
All Leading Makes $8 And Up
(Parts and Service for Any Make)
New Bag ....
New Brush (Ex.) $1 EACH
New Cord, 25 ft. ..
Your Cleaner Completely Renewed, the Above Included. $5
Free Inspection Call and Delivery Service
Liberal allowance on old cleaners. 10% discount on cash and carry
MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS FILLED
Vacuum Cleaner Exchange
Near North Sta. Auto Parking Allowed
216 Friend St., Boston Lafayette 8901

Furs

MAX'S LOAN OFFICE
FUR COATS LADIES AND GENTLEMEN
Also Jackettes $9.75 up
183 BROADWAY, Boston, NEAR WASH. ST.

Automobiles

AUTO OWNERS, ATTENTION!
REPAIRS and PAINTING
ON TIME PAYMENTS
SERVICE FIRST!
Reasonable Prices—First-Class Workmanship
ATLAS MOTOR SALES, Inc.
620 Commonwealth Ave. Ken. 0343

See These Cars
MONDAY
'30 Ford Roadster $195
'29 Buick Sedan 395
'30 Plymouth Sedan 245
'28 Franklin Conv. Coupe 295
'30 Olds Coach 295
'29 Chrysler Sedan 295
'29 Chrysler Rdstr. 365
'30 Buick 58 Coupe 565
'31 Ford Town Sedan 315
'31 Nash Conv. Coupe 645
Small Down Payment, Bal. Easy Terms
The HENLEY-KIMBALL Co.
650 Beacon St., Ken. Sta.
KENmore 4010
Open Fri. Eve.

1929 REO SPORT SEDAN
Master Model
Six wire wheels and trunk rack. Exceptionally clean throughout. Special for Monday only $165, trade and terms.
J. ROY HILTZ, INC.
1037 Commonwealth Avenue
Open Evenings Tel. Algonquin 2321

SPECIALS
Chevrolet Coupe $95
Packard Sedan 40
Peerless Coach 85
Nash 6 2-Door 65
Chrysler Coach 120
J. C. HARVEY
971 Commonwealth Ave.
Stadium 7140.

AUTO LOANS, 1-HR. SERVICE
EDWARD F. LEONARD
248 Washington St., Boston. Street floor, plenty of parking space. Open evenings. Hancock 7365.

FORD SPORT COUPE 1930
LIKE a new car, excellent tires, mechanically O. K. Must be sold for $195. HAYWARD MOTORS, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave.; STA. 3400.

DODGE 4-DOOR SEDAN
Splendid mechanical condition. A lot of unused transportation, $45. Clark Crowley Motors, Inc., 22 Brighton Ave. Stadium 0780. Open Evenings.

FORD TUDOR, 4 CYLINDER 1932
Low mileage (1800), not a scratch or mark on it. New car guarantee. $450. Liberal trade or terms. Hayward Motors, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave.; Sta. 3400.

1930 FORD COUPE
Upholstery and finish like new, 4 new tires, $195. Easy terms. Clark Crowley Motors, Inc., 22 Brighton Ave., Stadium 0780. Open Evenings.

FORD TUDOR 1929
GOOD mechanical condition, excellent tires and finish, $85 for quick sale. HAYWARD MOTORS, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave., STA. 3400.

Autos Wanted

We pay spot cash. See us before selling. 1182 COMMONWEALTH AVE. Tel. LONgwood 8507

NASH USED CAR DEPT. Open Evenings 636 COMM. AVE.

FORD SPORT COUPE, 1929
5 NEW tires, nice finish and upholstery. Bargain $95. HAYWARD MOTORS, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave.; Sta. 3400.

100 CARS—$20 TO $500
281 Mystic Ave., Somerville; Pros. 9655.

CARS WANTED—SPOT CASH
963-965 Commonwealth Ave. Alg. 9519

SAVE MONEY. Buy a REPOSSESSED Car. On display at 94 Mass. Ave., Cambridge. Open Evenings. Uni. 4640. Opp. Technology.

1932 ESSEX Sedan, positively like new, $499; terms. Olds Motor Works, 961 Commonwealth Ave. Open eves. STAdium 8220.

1930 PONTIAC Coach, $245; a clean little car; painted black with silver stripe; fine motor. Tel. Dedham 0355.

OPEN house and annual display, bargain used trucks all this week. General Motors Truck Co., 103 North Beacon St.

Sale—29x4.40, $2.85; motor oil, $1.49 5-gal. can. Fields, 1030 Commonwealth Ave.

'29 ESSEX CHALLENGER COACH, $115. 2566 Washington St., Roxbury. Gar. 6323.

Dermatology

LATEST FACE LIFT
Dr. Reid's Scientific FACE LIFT makes your skin fit your face. All featural irregularities, Defective Noses, Ears, Superfluous Hair, Freckles, Wrinkles and all Blemishes corrected. Consultation Free. HANcock 1389. Estab. Over 25 Years. Hrs. 10-6. Sun. 11-2.
E. P. REID, M. D. 100 Boylston St. Boston, Rm. 829

Medical

FREE, X-RAY
Examination, consultation and trial treatment absolutely free to all who call before Nov. 27th. The X-ray and mercury quartz light treatment are accomplishing wonders in disease of every description. No matter what your disease may be Daniel J. Walsh, M. D., 18 Boylston St., Boston, Mass., fulfills the above offer. Office hours, Mon., Wed., Thurs. and Sat., 10 to 1, 2 to 4, and 5 to 8; Tues. and Fri., 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Closed Sundays and Holidays.

ECZEMA—PSORIASIS
BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASE
TREATED BY THE LATEST METHODS
VARICOSE VEINS TREATED. NO DETENTION FROM BUSINESS
W. MULCAHY, M. D.
32 Boylston St. Hours: 9 to 8
TELEPHONE HANCOCK 5938

DR. JENSEN—Surgeon-Chiropodist; foot treatments, elastic goods, arch supports. Free examination. 31 West St., Boston.

Tuxedos for Hire

CABBY'S
$1.50 New Tuxedos For Hire $1.50
20 CHAUNCY ST. DEV. 6812

NATOLI'S
New Tuxedos For Hire $1.50
18 Boylston St. HAN. 7646

Furriers

FUR COATS glazed, relined, $10 (including material). Coats remodelled from $35 to $50. New fur coats made to order! Parker Bros., 110 Tremont St. Dev. 8243.

WHO WILL BUY 12 CARS!
For Reasons We Cannot Advertise These Cars Will Be Sold at Great Loss.
'31 Auburn Conv. Coupe $586
Custom; 6 wire wheels.
'31 Buick 8-91 Rdstr. 795
De luxe; 6000 miles.
'30 Pontiac Coupe 179
'31 Series Chevrolet Rdstr. 226
'29 Packard 5-Pass. Sedan 397
'29 Packard 7-Pass. Sedan 307
303 LaSalle Conv. Coupe 348
'29 Chevrolet Coupe 96
'29 Ford Rdstr., new tires 49
Late Packard (6) Sedan 42
'29 Hupmobile Cent. 6 Sedan .. 265
'31 Hupmobile 5-Pass. Coupe .. 694
De luxe. Cost $2200.
10—OTHERS—10
SEE MR. HOLZ, ROOM 210
457 Stuart St. Com. 0631

Today's Best Buys!
1930 Chevrolet Coach. A real good buy. Terms. $165
LATE Auburn 8 Cent. Sedan. 6 wire wheels. Trunk. Very snappy car. $365
LATE Cord Convertible Coupe. Cannot be told from new. $785
CONNOLLY'S GARAGE, INC.
165 Chestnut Hill Ave., Brighton
Stadium 6700-6701-6702

FORD PHAETON 1930
EXTRA clean, nice tires. Motor overhauled. If you want a good car at a real saving see this one. $125. Terms. HAYWARD MOTORS, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave., STA. 3400.

MONDAY SPECIALS
'32 Hudson Stand. Sedan $925
'32 Essex Pace. Coach 695
'31 Hudson 4-pass. Coupe 545
'31 Essex Coach 363
'30 Hudson "8" Brougham 515
'31 Essex Coupe, R. Seat 315
Other Hudson-Essex Cars ...... $75 up
Our "MONEY BACK" Guarantee Is Your Protection
The HENLEY-KIMBALL Co.
650 Beacon St., Ken. Sta.
KENmore 4010
Open Fri. Eve.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR. Highest price paid. 1219 Tremont St., Rox.

ASK About NO CASH DOWN. Plenty of Cars $195 $225 up. THE HENLEY KIMBALL CO. 650 Beacon St. Kenmore Sta. KEN. 4010

FORD DE LUXE ROADSTER 1931
6 wire wheels, fender wells, very smart-looking color scheme. Mechanically O. K. $250. Terms. Hayward Motors, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave.; Sta. 3400.

DEAD STORAGE $3.00
With Battery service in heated garage. Call Algonquin 9847.

FORD ROADSTER 1929
Very clean, low mileage, complete equipment. Original finish good. $95. Hayward Motors, Inc., 1019 Commonwealth Ave.; Sta. 3400.

Automobile Storage

WINTER STORAGE
Garage is heated 24 hours a day. Cars are kept clean and available at any time.
$4 Monthly rate for Heated Dead Storage
UNITED GARAGE
22 BRIGHTON AVE., BOSTON
Just Above Jct. of Comm. Ave.
Phone Mr. Reid for particulars at STAdium 4611

Automobile Schools

Complete License Course $5 Modern Auto School
781A TREMONT ST., at Mass. Ave. KEN. 3825

$5 COMPLETE LICENSE COURSE $5
117 Berkeley St. HUB. 4339

$10 guarantees to teach till you get a license. 406 Tremont St. Hub. 4339.

Jewelry and Diamonds

DIAMONDS RESET While You Wait. See it set.
18 Karat Gold $5. Platinum. Lowest Price.
Sager Bros. & Co. 333 Washington St., 6th Floor, Room 616
CASH for Gold, Silver & Diamonds.

Exterminators

Roaches, Bedbugs, Rats
Safety Fume Destroys Moths, Germs. For Sale or service furnished. Safety Fumigant Co., 31 India St. Hub. 8270.

Legal Notices

IN BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, November 17, 1932.

ORDERED: That due notice be given, that this Board is of the opinion that, in said city, public improvements should be made, consisting of:

The laying out and construction of an extension of Dickinson road, Brighton district, as a highway, southwesterly for a distance of approximately ten feet;

The laying out and construction of an extension of Greymere road, Brighton district, as a highway, southwesterly for a distance of approximately ten feet;

The laying out and construction of an extension of Belden street, Dorchester district, as a highway, over and including the private way known as Holden street, to Humphreys street;

Substantially as shown on plans in the office of this Board, that it intends to pass orders for making said improvements, and that it appoints 11 o'clock A. M., of December 1, 1932, and the office of this Board, 401 City Hall Annex, as the time and place for public hearings in the matters.

A true copy of an order passed by said Board on said day.

Attest:
CORNELIUS A. REARDON, Secretary.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879, also at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

Published daily except Sundays, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston 8, Mass., by NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY

Domestic rates (Subscriptions by Mail), Postpaid: One Month 50c. Six Months $3. One Year $6. Foreign rates. One Month $1. Six Months $6. One Year $12. One cent extra per copy in the Boston Postal District. Subscriptions payable strictly in advance.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical errors occur. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION BY MORE THAN 75,000

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1932

Mr. Gandhi's Three Graces

An English Woman, a Hindu and an American, Devote Their Lives to India's "Saint"

No famous man would have been famous without some woman to make him so.

MISS MADELEINE SLADE

Usually the woman is his mother.

Sometimes it is his wife.

In certain instances it is neither.

Among mothers who have profoundly influenced their sons' careers, you remember at once who gave Napoleon to the world, Laetitia Ramolino. You also can name the wives of several great men who helped to make them great.

As for women who were not the wives nor mothers of the men they sponsored, you immediately think of Lady Hamilton, the friend of Lord Nelson. She told Nelson he could beat anybody at sea. Nelson believed her, and did.

In our day Mr. Gandhi is one of the world's most famous men. You are interested to hear that he has had not only a mother and a wife, but is now provided with three other ladies who are deeply concerned with his welfare.

MRS. SAROJINI NAIDU

The mother and the wife seem less important in Mr. Gandhi's career than these three.

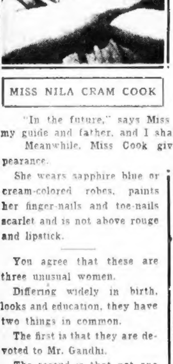
In Cosmopolitan Magazine for December Patricia Kendall writes about Gandhi's "Three Graces," pictures of whom you see here.

The story of these ladies appeals to everyone—American women in particular, since the most beautiful of the three is an American herself.

You learn that Miss Slade, Gandhi's British Grace, is forty years old, that she is the daughter of an English Admiral and that she is descended on her mother's side from Hungarian gypsies.

Miss Slade's Hindu name is Mira Bei.

The original Mira Bei was the patron saint of the courtesans of India.



MISS NILA CRAM COOK

Miss Slade's choice of the name did not please her British relatives.

She waits on Mr. Gandhi, hands him his false teeth and launders his somewhat scanty clothes.

Mrs. Naidu is 53.

She is short, fat and eloquent.

She gives Gandhi political advice and calls him "Mickey Mouse" behind his back.

Miss Cook is 22.

Her father founded the famous Provincetown players in America.

She has been married and has a three-year-old son.

Mr. Gandhi has not yet received her into his household.

However, she has hopes.

"In the future," says Miss Cook, "the Mahatma shall be my guide and father, and I shall be his daughter."

Meanwhile, Miss Cook gives much thought to her appearance.

MAHATMA GANDHI

She wears sapphire blue or cream-colored robes, paints her finger-nails and toe-nails scarlet and is not above rouge and lipstick.

You agree that these are three unusual women.

Differing widely in birth, looks and education, they have two things in common.

The first is that they are devoted to Mr. Gandhi.

The second is that not one of them has taken the slightest interest in improving the horrible condition of the millions of other women in India.

Mr. Gandhi, as far as his Three Graces are concerned, will have to attend to that by himself.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Oaks may fall when reeds brave the storm.

Promises fill no sack.

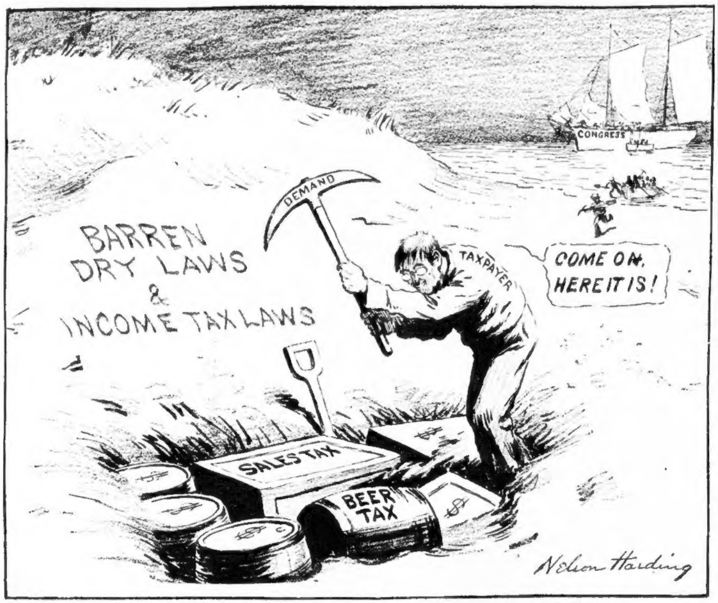
All that is said in the parlor should not be heard in the hall.

Drunkenness calls off the watchmen from their towers.

Two captains sink the ship.

Buried Treasure!

By Nelson Harding



In box and barrel, there it lies,
  Far too long hidden from the eyes
By barren, unproductive sand:
  But now its salvage is at hand.

The barrens can no longer keep
  The treasure that was buried deep.
We hear the treasure hunters shout:
  "It's here! Come on, and dig it out!"

O. O. McIntyre

New York Day by Day

Dairy of a Modern Pepys

New York, Nov. 21—Diary of a modern Pepys: Arose and merry persiflage from Frank R. Adams in Michigan, who wrote a favorite musical play, "The Time, the Place and the Girl." Arthur Somers Roche on the telephone, highly to bespeak the book, "Too Many Mizners," and we exchanged a ribald story or two.

At my annotations, and with my wife, in her brown knit suit, for a drive. Halcoing to Fay King, the limner, and carrying her to her home at the Commodore. Then to Earl Benham's tailoring shop, and two of my favorite persons, Flora Zabelle Hitchcock and Bertha Case there, and we had tea with cinnamon cakes.

In the evening with Molly Woods, the tennis man's sister, to a dinner, and Dudley Field Malone there. Also Lois Long and Esmond O'Brien. Afterward to a play and talked to George S. Kaufman, Clare Booth Brokaw, a lady pretty to see, and others. Thence home, and skiving a great slice of cheese from the ice box.

* * *

That somnolent, squattering square, St. Luke's Place, offers sober dignity to Greenwich Village fakeries. On its north side is the three-storied brick house at No. 6, the home of ex-Mayor Walker. The green booth opposite has been carried away. Only the blaze of mayors' lamps at the steps remains. They grace homes of all former mayors. St. Luke's has the old and gentle dignity of the aristocrat fallen on evil days. Rookeries of pigeons coo in back yards and faintly there is the smell of hops, the vague solace of amber. Loose dogs nap on steps studded with foot scrapers. The fenced-in square seems more a sand lot or wagon yard glorified. Noisy boys play afternoon games, but otherwise the square drowses.

* * *

In contrast to St. Luke's Place calm are the two-by-twice magic and souvenir shops in building crannies of Broadway's wild fantasia. Their proprietors are models of patience. Everybody prowls, but few buy. I pastured in the fascinating aisles of one next to the Broadway theater last night—reveling in trick plate lifters, wax soap, itch powder dribble glasses, rubber candy, spirit cups, Houdini's Siberian chain escape—75 cents—squirt ash trays, exploding card decks and Hindu rope tricks. I came away with all coat pockets bulging, and a wife who was a Botticelli of boredom.

* * *

Personal nomination for the smoothest—next to Norma Terriss—of the female mimics—Sheila Barrett.

* * *

And the waggish Jack Osterman discovers the origin of the name Staten Island. It seems Henrik Hudson, discovering the river that bears his name, saw a low-lying piece of land on his left. "Iss dat un island?" he inquired.

* * *

Joe Weber and Lew Fields, in life's sunset, go down the hill arm in arm. There was a time when a rift resulted in their speaking only on the stage, a family ruckus, that healed 15 years ago. Today the valiant old-timers play pinochle and pal around together. Weber is now white-haired and save for his failing eyesight, in good health. Fields, too, is tip-top, but not quite so fortunate in his investments as "Mike."

* * *

I sat directly behind Miss Constance Bennett's lacquered Marquis at a theatrical inanity the other night. The play offered a 1-2-3-turn humdrum, so I relieved the tedium with closeups of a noble, relaxing. The Marquis is a fellow for daintiness in dress, affects a faintly discernible mustache, has tightly drawn parchment skin, and thin, graceful hands of the exquisite. While others exited to the lobby at the ent'r-acte, the Marquis boggled that newest toy of juvenila—a yo-yo on a string.

* * *

L'Echo de Paris: "McIntyre came out of the wild western plains, completely uncolleged, to New York."

The rough, untutored plainsman in spats!

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.

Listen, World!

By Elsie Robinson

Secret of Popularity

YOU WANT to be popular, don't you?

All your life you've wanted to be popular. Worked and worried ceaselessly to make yourself magnetic. Watched with bitter envy the success of other people who seem to succeed without an effort, where you fail in spite of all your hard labor.

Elsie Robinson

And your longing hasn't been born merely of conceit. It has come from something far deeper than personal vanity. You've felt that you needed popularity; needed it as you've needed food and water and clean air.

For what's life worth if one can't win affection and admiration—if one hasn't some power over other lives?

Yet, how to get it?

How do other people get it? You wonder bitterly. What mysterious charm have they, in themselves, which you lack? What trick of gesture? What "line" of talk? And where can you learn the same tricks, the same line?

Is it because those popular people have something in themselves which you admire?

OR IS IT BECAUSE THEY GIVE SOMETHING TO YOU WHICH YOU DESIRE?

It's because they give you something, isn't it? Because they do something to you, provide you with something you need; fulfill some secret dream.

POPULAR PEOPLE MAKE YOU FEEL AT EASE.

That's a wonderful sensation. You need, terribly, to feel at ease. For you're always a bit bewildered, and afraid of showing it. But some people make you forget your self-consciousness. They're strong and quiet in themselves. If they have personal problems, they don't show them. Their easiness quiets your own edginess. Soon you're talking without effort, enjoying yourself, acting at your best.

POPULAR PEOPLE AMUSE AND EXCITE YOU.

You need that, too. Life has become a dreary and discouraging affair. You're sick of your monotonous job. You want to get out of your rut, but you haven't the money to go away, either.

But they know how to find fun and drama in the common scene around them, and they pass it on to you. Life sparkles when you're with them. You see things differently. Your imagination comes awake. You have new curiosity, new desire to live. You feel warmed and stimulated.

AND POPULAR PEOPLE MAKE YOU BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

You need that most of all. You've lost confidence. So many people have criticized you, doubted your ability. But here's someone who doesn't! Here's someone who treats you as if you were wonderful. Once you, too, believed that you were wonderful. And when you believed that, you could do almost anything. Now that old, fighting faith comes back. You're grateful! You're so grateful you'd do anything for that kindly, believing soul who has restored your faith in yourself.

Why are people popular? That's why..

Not because they are anything in themselves. Not because they are pretty, or handsome, or smart, or sassy, or successful, or wear lovely clothes, or have gone to romantic places.

PEOPLE ARE POPULAR, NOT FOR WHAT THEY HAVE IN THEMSELVES, BUT FOR WHAT THEY GIVE TO THE OTHER FELLOW.

WHAT HAVE YOU TO GIVE THE OTHER FELLOW?

How much do YOU ease his confusion, relieve his boredom, strengthen his faith in himself? Answer that and you'll know the extent of your own popularity—or the secret of your unpopularity.

Copyright, 1932, for the Boston Evening American.

By Edgar A. Guest

Just Folks

Dads

Oh, I've a fearful taste in hats,
  And cannot choose a tie.
But one thing I am sure of. That's
  A foolish man am I.
And all I do and all I say
  Old-fashioned is and queer;
But that appears to be the way
  Of every father here.

They wink at me behind my back.
  They think it just too bad
That there should be so plain a lack
  Of wisdom in their dad.
The clothes I choose are sad to see—
  Too plain or too severe—
But that appears the case to be
  With all the fathers here.

The mother and the children sit
  And talk my follies o'er.
They confidentially admit
  I need them more and more,
For surely I should go astray
  Were they not watching near;
But that, I fancy, is the way
  Of every father here.

I like the tales they like to tell,
  The jokes they like to spring;
Upon my various whims they dwell
  With gleeful whispering.
For youth at age will poke its fun,
  With every passing year,
Which, after all is said and done,
  Suits every father here.

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

A Belated Plan; The Tariff and Debts

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Boston Evening American PRESIDENT HOOVER HAS WORKED OUT A PLAN, in conjunction with his cabinet, for a saving of $700,000,000 a year in the cost of government, according to the press. This is interesting, and important, if true. It provides, it seems, for the elimination of bureaus and jobs. Four years ago Mr. Hoover promised something of the sort and for years nothing was done. It would have required courage during these four years to have eliminated these jobs, for the President's party wanted them for "deserving Republicans." But there has been an election. The men holding these jobs will go out anyway. And the elimination now means that no Democrats shall get them. It requires no courage to eliminate now. Some, with cynical minds, will conclude that since President Hoover has known all the time for four years how to save $700,000,000 he should have acted within a year after his induction into office.

However, the financial condition of the government calls for drastic reductions in the personnel of government wherever possible, and the taxpayer is interested more in saving money than in serving the politician will conclude that he will gain more by offending a few office seekers than by offending an entire people. It was because the present administration offended the entire people by its failure to reorganize the government in the interest of economy that so many went against it.

* * *

Seeking to Undo Mischief of Speech

Now that the election is over it becomes more and more apparent that when President Hoover momentarily destroyed confidence in our financial fabric with the statement that we had been within two weeks of being forced off the gold standard, he was mistaken. Thomas W. Lamont has just pointed out the absurdity of that statement. We have just read the masterful pamphlet by Benjamin M. Anderson, economist of the Chase National Bank, showing conclusively that the gold standard here has not been in danger for 36 years. These reassurances have been necessary to undo the damage done by the President's astonishing statement.

The one impossible way to restore prosperity is to destroy confidence in our financial structure. Happily the attempt to destroy confidence was speedily attacked and is now being conclusively shown to have been utterly without justification.

* * *

No "Debt Problem" Left to Discuss

We are unable to share in the feeling expressed in some quarters that the meeting between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt on Tuesday will settle anything in regard to policies. The President-elect will scarcely formulate his foreign policy off the bat in conference with the leader of the opposition to his forthcoming administration. As far as the debts are concerned that has been settled by the American people and the American Congress voicing the overwhelming sentiment of the American people. The future administration position was quite unequivocably defined in the formal party pledge. On other matters affecting international relations there can be no agreement between the out-going and the in-coming Presidents unless the former is prepared to change his position radically.

These differences made some of the outstanding issues of the campaign.

It is clearly understood that Mr. Roosevelt believes that there are a number of things that enter into the explanation of the stoppage of foreign trade. One of these is the prohibitive tariff wall for which Mr. Hoover stood stauncnly during the recent campaign. Mr. Roosevelt just as stoutly insisted that something must done in reference to these artificial barriers against trade.

There can be no agreement this week upon that unless President Hoover is prepared to change his position.

And since these various things, explanatory of the stoppage of trade, are interwoven, we cannot join in the jubilation based on the assumption that out of the conference we shall emerge with a general policy to which both the participants have subscribed. We may be foolish, but this seems to us the acme of absurdity.

* * *

Tariff Walls Wrecked Trade

Senator Cordell Hull, with his usual perspicacity, has analyzed the situation. He puts his conclusion in a nutshell when he says:

"Without the slightest reference to the merits of the foreign debts, however important that may be, they were not a major cause of the panic, nor are they a major remedy. The most important factor toward recovery is the liberalization of exchange and other trade restrictions, including the lowering of excessive tariffs by important countries simultaneously.

"This destruction of foreign trade was brought about on the initiative of this country when we built an insurmountable tariff wall. Other nations retaliated. And this trade war has done more to bring about the depressed conditions in all countries than any other one cause.

"Among other things, it enormously has increased the difficulty of our debtors in the payment of their debts. But our economists, or some of them, brushing this aside, would concentrate upon the debts. Transfer all the debts to the bowed backs of American taxpayers and continue this stupid tariff war and still there would be, could be no restoration of foreign trade."

* * *

"Leaders'" Muddling Brought on Misery

Some of the by-products of the movement to transfer the debts from the people who borrowed the money to the people who loaned it are even less impressive and pleasing than the plan itself. Thus the hue and cry has been raised against Democratic institutions. Solemnly we are told that it is just too bad that two or three men cannot get together, decide upon a plan, and hand it down with the gesture of a Romanoff to the people who must pay the bills. We are invited to sneer and jeer at the idea that the people have any rights in the matter at all. How much better it would be if two or three men could decide and could enforce their decisions on the people!

Of course, the burden of the decision would rest upon the people. They would pay the taxes—of which all other nations are to be relieved. But in the good old days, before the "vulgarities" of democracy, this sort of thing was done. And how beautiful it all was too!

But, unfortunately for the reasoning, we do have democratic institutions and the mass of the people have observed in the miserable muddling of the "leaders" the very reason for the misery of the people now. Who are these super-men? Where have they been during the last four years?

* * *

"Vulgar Inferiors" Want Query Answered

This "vulgar democracy" of ours, of course, is crude in its reasoning. It finds that their "betters" in the seats of the mighty forced upon the world a war the people who did the fighting did not will. It finds that this war all but wrecked our civilization. It knows that the present human misery is the fruit of that insane struggle. It knows it was promised an end to that sort of thing, and the radical reduction of armaments.

It knows that the world is more armed today than it was in the spring of 1914—that it has been betrayed.

It knows that the debtor nations' budgets provide 75 per cent and more for war purposes in these days of peace.

It wants to know why it will wreck civilization for these nations to reduce their appalling war budgets by 1½ to 3 per cent to get the money to pay the debts?

Crude stuff, of course, to be expecting from "vulgar democracy"—but the wise and the good should humor their inferiors by answering that question.

(Copyright, 1932.)

AMERICAN'S HOME COLLEGE

Questions and answers prepared by members of the faculty of the College of the City of New York outline what they consider a well-educated person ought to know.

TODAY'S QUESTION

How is the temperature of a star measured?

This question will be repeated and answered tomorrow by Dr. F. E. Null, instructor in physics.

SATURDAY'S QUESTION

What is a trade acceptance?

By MYRON L. HOCH

Department of Economics

A trade acceptance is a "draft or bill of exchange drawn by the seller on the purchaser of goods sold, unconditionally accepted in writing upon its face by the latter." The standard acceptance has printed on its face a statement to the effect that the obligation of the acceptor arises out of the purchase of goods from the drawer of the instrument. The acceptance may be made payable by the acceptor at any bank which he may designate, or at his own place of business.

Usually, however, the draft will be made payable at the customer's own bank. The draft, after its acceptance by the purchaser of the goods, is returned to the seller, who may hold it until maturity or secure current funds by discounting it at his bank.

In the latter case he is shifting the financial burden to the bank instead of carrying it himself. If the bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System it may rediscount the acceptance with the Federal Reserve bank provided that the maturity of the acceptance at the time of rediscount is not more than 90 days.

Daily Bible Text—

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, thy soul, thy strength, thy mind, thy neighbor as thyself."—St. Luke x, 27.

By the Rev. Carl Schultz, Ph. D., Federated Church, Hyannis. Next text by the Rev. Norman O. Scribner, Methodist Church, Berkeley, R. I.